SOMERVILLE NOTES

THREE GET OFF WITH PROBATION

Sentence was suspended in the case of Thomas Winsor, Jr., James Rooney and Eugene Titus, of this borough, by Judge Daniel H. Beekman in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday. The three young men were implicated in the theft of linotype metal, the property of the Unionist-Gazette Association. Winsor and Rooney pleaded guilty to the theft of the metal and Titus, who is a negro, admitted that he had received the stolen goods from the young men.

In suspending sentence in the case of Winsor, the court declared that it had procured a position for him and that freedom was given him only in consideration of his promise to abstain from intoxicating liquors, to take care of his wife, and to stay at home nights. Rooney and Titus also promised to end their relationship with Demon Rum.

Exclusive Styles

And in eight body styles.

Each body is exclusive—designed by our artists, built in our own shops.

Unique Features

There are 31 features in the Mitchell most of which all other cars omit. Things like a power tire pump, dashboard engine primer, reversible headlights, Batecantilever springs.

This year we add 24 per cent to the luxury cost, which means stunning cars. Savings made in our new body plant pay all this extra cost. And this year, for the first time, we announce 100 per cent over-strength in every vital part. Our old margin of safety was 50 per cent.

A Lifetime Car

The result of this double strength is a lifetime car. Over 440 parts are built of toughened steel. All safety parts are vastly oversize. All parts which get a major strain are built of Chrome-Vanadium.

Gears are tested for 50,000 pounds per tooth. Engines are tested for 10,000 miles without evidence of wear. And several Mitchells have already run over 200,000 miles.

No Extra Cost

All these advantages cost you no extra price. They will cost us, on this year's output, about $4,000,000. But they are paid for by factory savings.

John W. Bate, our great efficiency expert, built and equipped this mammoth plant to build this one type economically. His methods have cut our factory cost in two. These factory savings—unique to Mitchell—pay for all these extras.

New $1150 Size

To meet a wide demand we now build two sizes of the Mitchell Six. But the smaller—Mitchell Junior—has a 120-inch wheelbase. See which size you like best, and which style of body. All new models are now on show.

WILSON MOVES TO AVERT STRIKE

Defense Council Heads Plead With Men.

MAY USE MILITARY POWER.

Both Sides Stubborn While Country Faces Prospect of Huge Transportation Tie-up—Railroads Place Embargoes on All Freight—President and Cabinet Study Way to Prevent Transportation Paralysis While International Crisis Is On.

Washington, March 17.—In a determined effort to prevent the strike of 400,000 members of the four big railroad brotherhoods, President Wilson sent two of his cabinet members, Secretaries Lane of the interior and Wilson of labor, Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to New York with his personal plea that they prevent or at least delay the strike.

The president based his appeal to the chiefs of the warring factions on the broad ground of their patriotic duty to their country in this critical period of its international relations. In a personal communication he stressed the crisis due to the submarine warfare and pointed out how important it was that nothing should weaken at this time the nation's transportation facilities.

All of the president's mediators are members of the advisory committee of the Council of National Defense. They hurried to New York and went into conference with the brotherhood chiefs. The parley lasted for hours.

President Acts Strongly.

President Wilson left his sickroom to act to avert the strike. He called a meeting of the cabinet, the situation was carefully scrutinized and the following steps taken:

The Council of National Defense, with the approval of the president, ordered Secretary of the Interior Lane, Secretary of Labor Wilson, Chairman Daniel Willard of the advisory commission of the council and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and a member of the advisory commission, to New York, with instructions to represent to the brotherhood chiefs and the railroads the "grave peril" in the situation.

In a personal telegram to the four brotherhood chiefs and the chairman of the railroad managers President Wilson urged the reopening of negotiations to settle the controversy. He said that the safety of the country against manifest perils affecting its own peace and the peace of the whole world made accommodation of this question absolutely imperative.

Under the direction of the president Attorney General Gregory and his assistants undertook an exhaustive review of the legal phases of the situation, with particular attention to the legal steps that were taken by President Cleveland in 1894 to combat the strike of railroad employees.

Situation Caused Alarm.

Administration officials made no effort to disguise the apprehension with which they viewed the situation. There was apparent a grim determination to go to almost any lengths to the halting, even for a short time, of the transportation facilities of the nation. The war and navy departments and the Council of National Defense, which have been hard at work on plans for the mobilization of the commercial and industrial resources of the nation to prepare the nation for a possible war, saw in the threatened strike the doom of their comprehensive defense proposals. It was to meet the disastrous effect of a nation-wide strike that the defense council selected its mediation commission.

The fact that the president had chosen to move through the military establishment to deal with the strike situation was accepted in Washington as significant. The defense council mediators were given their instructions by Secretary of War Baker as chairman of the council in a letter which directed:

"That you present to the representatives of both sides the grave peril involved in such a situation at this time and that you request them so to adjust their differences as in any event to lead to a postponement of any acute difficulty during the present national emergency."

May Take Over Roads Also.

The department of justice pored over the precedents connected with the railroad strike of 1894, when President Cleveland used the regular army to prevent interference with the mails and with interstate commerce. The attorney general reviewed in detail the proceedings by which the then attorney general, Richard Olney, obtained injunctions restraining the strikers from halting mail or interstate trains. It was to back up these injunctions that the army was called on.

The clear determination of the president to prevent a railroad tieup led to serious discussion of the possibility of his taking over the railroads and operating them under government control. Some members of the cabinet even suggested an announcement by the president to the effect that he would take over the railroads unless the strike was called off.

ANSWERS STONE'S REQUEST.

Redfield Says Only Two Ships Got American Registry Since Feb. 1.

Washington, March 17.—Secretary Redfield, replying to Senator Stone's resolution asking for the number of transfers of ships from foreign to American registry, told the senate that between Jan. 1, 1916, and March 15, 1917, thirty-nine ships were so transferred. Among them were seven admitted as wrecked ships which were repaired at American shipyards.

If the purpose of the resolution, as reported, was to show British ships coming to American registry since the opening of the new submarine campaign it failed to do so.

Only two ships, the report says, have been transferred since Feb. 8. One of these was of Argentine registry, the other British. The transfer of the steamer Algonquin, recently sunk by a submarine, from British registry was made Dec. 18, 1916.

PATTEN IS CONFIRMED.

Senate Ends Controversy Over New York Postmastership.

Washington, March 17.—The long controversy over the New York postmastership ended when the senate shortly before finally adjourning its special session confirmed the nomination of Thomas G. Patten to be postmaster. The nomination was sent to the senate at the last session. There was no opposition to it, but its confirmation was delayed by the fight over the promotion of Dr. Cary T. Grayson to be medical director of the navy.

Model's Slayer Unknown.

Philadelphia, March 17.—A coroner's jury, after listening to the testimony of nearly fifty witnesses, rendered a verdict that Mazie Colbert, the model who was found dead in her apartments here on Dec. 30 last, was strangled by a person or persons unknown.

ESSEX TO WORK COUNTY FARMS

FREEHOLDERS PLAN REFORMS

Prison Labor to Cultivate Sixty or More Acres at Penitentiary and Supply Staples For Inmates Instead of Paying High Prices Outside—Soil Expert to Make Tests.

Newark, March 17.—Essex is to set a good example to the other counties of the state. Cultivation of land at the penitentiary will be quadrupled this summer under the direction of an expert. This is the plan of campaign outlined by the prison committee of the board of freeholders to wage war upon the soaring food prices. All facilities under the control of the freeholders will be put to the work of raising foodstuffs for county institutional use.

About fifteen of the sixty acres of ground at the penitentiary were under cultivation last year. During that time the county has purchased about 150 additional acres of ground and will have forty-two acres more if the city agrees to sell the Verona sanitarium property. Considerable of the ground is susceptible to cultivation, and nearly twenty acres of the new ground has been already plowed in addition to the farm land used last year.

Freeholder Martin suggested that before further increasing the amount of farm space one of the experts from the State Agricultural college at New Brunswick be called in and requested to make soil tests. In this way the best scientific information could be obtained as to the best manner of clearing and fertilizing the ground and as to what crops were best suited to the various soils. Chairman Clark, the warden and farmer were authorized to confer on this.

The freeholders hope to have at least sixty acres under cultivation. In another year this will probably be doubled. It is the intention to have all short term prisoners usually kept at the jail removed to the penitentiary so that as much help as possible can be obtained to farm and run the quarry. The completion of the women's wing now under construction will permit of room for the added inmates.

BOTTOM OUT OF ROAD.

Improvements on Highway at Pennsville Held Up.

Pennsville, March 17.—Freeholder Edward Heron of this township has notified the board of chosen freeholders of Salem county that the township committee of Lower Penn's Neck had declined to grant the county's request to pay 10 per cent. of the cost of improving the road from Salem to Pennsville, less the amount contributed when the road was improved under state aid several years ago.

The board of freeholders has instructed Engineer Keasbey to stop further survey of the highway and ordered him to proceed with a survey of the third, fourth and fifth sections of the Malaga-Pennsgrove state road.

Users of the Salem-Pennsgrove road will regret the action of the township committee, for no road in the state has been worse this winter than this one. Had it not been for the trolley service workmen going to and from the powder plants at Carney's Point would have been subject to great inconvenience, for at one time travel almost was abandoned. The road was originally of shells, but the bottom has dropped out.

"SCIENCE" WILL SUSTAINED.

Vineland Woman Left $25,000 to Aid New Cult.

Vineland, March 17.—The court of errors and appeals has sustained the will of Miss Ellen M. Dyer, who died here about twelve years ago. She was the daughter of S. D. Dyer, a pioneer merchant, who made a fortune. She was an only child and at the age of forty years became interested in mental healings. During the ten years of her studying and teaching she conceived the idea that her "estate should go to the furtherance of the kindest interpretation of metaphysical thought."

Several nieces and nephews contested the document. The court sustained the will, and the court of errors and appeals construed the decision.

The estate is in Vineland real estate and bonds and amounts to about $25,000.

Firemen Entertained at Newfield.

Newfield, March 17.—The Gloucester County Firemen's association was entertained here by the local company. Edward Martin, county fire marshal of Woodbury, made another appeal to companies to get supplied with a uniform system so that when help is needed at a fire in nearby towns quick work could be accomplished.

His Back Hurt When He Stooped

"Just the one box of Foley Kidney Pills relieved my backache."—D. W. Ellis, Ellis, Ga.

"Last year I was suffering with a terrible backache," writes J. W. Ellis of Ellis, Ga. "Every time I'd lean or stoop over or to rise side, I'd have a painful catch in my back just over my kidneys. I tried medicines with no good results. I bought a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and just the one box entirely relieved my backache. It has been some time since I took them, so I think I am well."

Weakened, overworked, stopped-up kidneys cause stiff joints, sore muscles, rheumatism, sleep disturbing bladder ailments, biliousness and various other ills. Foley Kidney Pills are a scientific medicine, compounded to clear the kidneys and restore them to healthy action by dissolving and driving out of the system the waste products and poisons that cause kidney trouble and bladder ailments. They will like their name implies, give active action, ready effect and quick good results.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly six ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated each day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood, causing headache, biliousness, ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink before breakfast each day a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.—Adv.

RUSSIA WILL BE A REPUBLIC

Romanoff Dynasty Ended With Czar's Abdication.

ALSO ACTS WITH CZAREVITCH

Sweeping Changes In World's Largest Empire Come Rapidly as Interior Cities Join Movement That Transforms an Uprising For Bread Into a Tremendous Revolution — Abdication of Grand Duke Michael, Czar's Younger Brother, Also Announced.

Petrograd, March 17.—The republic of Russia looms large as the most probable outcome of the great revolt.

The monarchy has been suspended.

No regent has been or will be appointed until the people of Russia have spoken their will. It will be spoken at a popular convention in the near future. It will decide what form of government the people of Russia have hereafter.

Meanwhile the affairs of the huge country will be conducted by the ministry formed as the result of the overthrow of the reactionary government. Everything indicates that it has the great masses of the people on its side. The elements instrumental in forming it were labor and the soldiery. Out of the several hundred delegates who voted at the council which elected it only fifteen dissented.

Revolt Over, Storms Ahead.

Russia's revolt is over, but its evolution has only begun. Stormy days are ahead.

Occasional rifle cracks, hunting police spies from their hiding places, are the sole reminder that a few days ago there was rebellion and bloodshed in this historic capital. Unbounded jubilation by throngs ceaselessly parading the streets, wild and unending shouts of joy, tell the story over and over again—the story of a victory crowned fight for freedom and food.

Where is the "Little Father?" No one knows; few care. What is known is that he did not abdicate; that he let slip what now seems to have been his last great chance to save, if not himself, his dynasty.

There are many conflicting reports of the whereabouts of ex-Emperor Nicholas. Some say he is still in hiding "somewhere at the front," surrounded by a group of loyal generals. Others have it that he perished in a shot 100 miles from Petrograd; that his train was held up by soldiers, but no violence offered. Other rumors are that he is at the imperial palace at Tsarskoe-Selo.

Only one thing is whispered everywhere and will not down—that he is dead, the victim of an assassin during the three day revolt.

The czarina is in hysterics in the Tsarskoe-Selo palace, guarded by a strong bodyguard of loyalists. With her is the little czarevitch, ill with scarlet fever.

Of Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, brother of Nicholas, nothing further is said. The report of his appointment as regent was merely concocted to calm the populace and help restore order.

Food Prices Drop.

Comparative order has been restored. Food prices dropped overnight, making a starving populace happy. Huge stocks of foodstuffs were found hidden in many warehouses, and methodical distribution has been set in motion by the provisional government.

But those who hid these stores and told the country that "there is no food" are facing the penalty that is the indispensable part and parcel of revolution.

"The former ministers responsible for these crimes will pay the cost," announced the new minister of justice, M. Kerenski. At the same time he informed the country that the former duma members whom the reactionary government sent into exile in Siberia because they "talked too much" will be immediately released.

Three men stand out as the commanding figures of the hour—Kerenski, who is a Socialist and was a duma member from Kiev; Professor Paul N. Milyukoff, leader of the "cadets," now foreign minister, who was the guiding genius of the revolution, and Grand Duke Nicholas, the czar's uncle, to whom may be intrusted the supreme command of the army.

But to this latter plan there is widespread opposition. There are thousands who look upon him as an autocrat, and the days of autocracy in Russia are over if the people retain their control of the situation.

Say War Will Go On.

While the provisional government is swiftly and energetically effecting and enforcing measures to adjust the whole internal upheaval, it is at the same time bending every effort to show a solid front to the foreign foe.

"The war will go on until victory is won" is the motto of the hour.

Whether this aim will be fulfilled depends, however, largely upon the army, and among the Russian army the revolutionary element, particularly among the officers, is strong and numerous.

The powers in control have not the slightest doubt that Russia's soldiery is behind them and will prove its loyalty by fighting on with redoubled bravery and vigor.

What happened in Russia during the week past is briefly this: The spirit of democracy, the craving for government by the consent of the governed, quickened the rebellion. The duma had set out to remove the reactionary government. Having achieved that, it was willing to stop. Only at the outset, the watchword for the future was "Liberal constitutional monarchy."

Of Interest to Plainfield Readers.

For months Plainfield citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by Plainfield residents. Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement? The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Plainfield reader.

Andrew K. Mattis, carpenter, 124 W. Fourth St., Plainfield, says: "You may continue to publish the recommendation I gave Doan's Kidney Pills before. Everything I said in praise of them holds good. Although I fell and injured my back, Doan's Kidney Pills gave me lasting benefit and helped my kidneys wonderfully."

Hailed as the Man Who Started Russian Revolt.

That was the furthest the insurgents dared hope to dream. But the spirit of freedom, freed from its chains after centuries of struggle, flew futher than the leaders' boldest dreams. Today the monarchy is no more. And, though nominally it is only suspended, the omens are that there will be no resurrection.

To the realized dream of universal suffrage and an equal voice of the people was added the great hope that the national "urge" suddenly set in motion will reach its greater goal—government of the people, for the people, by the people.

Already the voices of the new leaders are becoming bolder. Kerenski, the Socialist, has made it known that he became a member of the new government only upon the condition that there will be "absolute freedom of speech and of the press and a political amnesty."

News Puzzles England.

London, March 17.—News that the czar has not abdicated and that his whereabouts are unknown, announced in the house of commons by the chancellor of the exchequer, Bonar Law, struck London like a bombshell, for it could mean only one thing—that the plan of the revolutionary government was to depose him. It is beginning to dawn for the first time upon the public how far reaching in its consequences is the revolt that has shaken Russia.

All England talks of nothing but the events in Russia. Even the continued British advance in the west has dwindled into insignificance alongside the Muscovite revolt, and the speculation as to its possible consequences for the allies' cause.

The optimism that swept the country when the theory was spread broadcast that the Petrograd rebellion means the overthrow of the Germanophiles and consequent vigorous prosecution of the war by Russia subsided considerably when the true extent of the revolt was learned.

No one in England now believes that the storm has been certainly weathered—that all is now well in Russia.

NEW AIR RAID ON BRITAIN.

Aeros Drop Bombs in Kent and Southeastern Counties.

London, March 17.—An air raid on the southeastern counties of England took place last night and was still in progress early this morning, according to an official communication. Bombs were dropped in Kent. The official statement says:

"Hostile aeroplips attacked the southeastern counties last night. Bombs have been dropped in Kent county. The raid is still in progress. A further communication will be issued during the morning."

The war office announced earlier that at 5:30 a. m. Friday a hostile airplane dropped bombs at Westgate-on-Sea. There were no casualties, and the material damage was reported as slight.

Urges Food Production.

London, March 17.—The British government regards the production of food of greater importance at the present time than the sending of additional men into the army. Chancellor Bonar Law said in response to questions in the house of commons that the cabinet had informed the war office and the board of agriculture that this was its view.

CHICKEN CROQUETTES

The chicken croquette is a mixture called food. It wears a sawdust mask to hide its real identity. Chicken croquette is just a restaurant proprietor's excuse for using up scraps he would otherwise throw away. There's about as much chicken in it as there is in a chunk of chilled steel. It is glorified hash of the worst type. It sits around in delicatessen cones, looking like a Fourth of July snake. You know, the kind you touch a match to and the snake boils out. But don't ever try to boil anything out of a chicken croquette. The chances are ten to one you'll produce worse things than snakes. The chicken croquette is enough to make a self-respecting hen ashamed of herself.

"Weather or No"

Not even a St. Patrick could drive the snakes out of delirium tremens. —Old Man Sage.

CHIPS FROM THE CLAYS

There are over 4,500 trapshooting clubs in the United States and Canada, with an average membership of more than 50.

Preparation for war tasks may present the annual trapshooting championship of the United States Navy from being held at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, in April.

A California chapter of the Indians—a national trapshooting organization—is being formed.

The trapshooter who goes to the Grand American Handicap this year will have the pleasure of shooting at the traps of the finest country club in the world—the South Shore Country Club of Chicago.

The Illinois State championship will be held at Streator on May 21 to 25, inclusive.

The Inland Empire shoot this year will be held in the stadium at Seattle ,Wash. The stadium, by the way, is in the heart of the city.

With the Patriots' Day shoot of the Boston A. A., the Eastern Handicap in Hartford, Conn., and the Mid-summer Handicap at Maplewood, N. H., New England will have its share of classics this summer.

Fred Clarke, former manager of the Pittsburg Pirates, was a competitor in the recent mid-winter trapshoot in Kansas City, Mo.

The Oregon State championship shoot will be held in Salem May 6, 7 and 8.

George Nicolai, of Kansas City, pulled down the individual trapshooting event in the mid-winter shoot and won $1,575.

Every rifle club should be a member of the National Rifle Association and every trapshooting club should be a member of the American Amateur Trapshooters' Association.

The Portland (Ore.) Gun Club has expended $2,000 in improving Everding Park until now it is one of the finest trapshooting parks in the world. Concrete trap houses, concrete stands for the shooters, cement walks, flower beds, permanent benches have been put in.

RIFLE CLUB NOTES

HONUS WAGNER, MARVEL OF BASEBALL HISTORY

So much has been written of Hans Wagner, his record, his habits and his all-round sterling qualities that it seems futile to add to the miles of columns that have been used in his favor. Wagner, however, is getting ready to enter his twenty-sixth season of baseball, and the marvel of it is he is counted on to play a most important part in the hopes of the Pittsburg Pirates.

Wagner is a wonder. His remarkable ball playing isn't the only thing that holds him up to fandom on a fickle pedestal few players ever have reached and none surpassed. Wagner began to be a ball player before many men now in the game were born. It was in 1891 that he did his first work for the Mansfield, Pa., club. He branched from there to Ohio, finally getting his name into the records for the first time in 1895, when he played with Steubenville as an outfielder. He hung up a mark of .402 for forty-four games.

Wagner spent a couple of seasons in the Atlantic League, playing with Paterson, and then went to Louisville, which then boasted of a club in the National League. He played three seasons in Louisville and then was taken with the club when it was transferred to Pittsburg. He played first base, third base and in the outfield for Louisville, hammering the ball each year for averages far ahead of .300, once attaining .379.

Wagner first dropped from the charmed circle of batmen when he hit only .252 in 1914, just after he had barely stuck in the class by hitting an even .300.

Wagner is failing. He isn't the same old ball player at all. He isn't through because he will not admit it, and his smartness in the field and at bat makes him to be desired over younger players, who probably would cover more ground. He admitted a year ago it was becoming hard for him to see the ball, and this probably means he will be on the bench a great deal of the time this summer.

Indications are he will not be used in his old position of shortstop, but will take care of first base for Jimmy Callahan's outfit.

Westfield, March 17.—The board of governors of the Westfield Golf Club held a meeting this week and elected eight new members. The renewed interest and enthusiasm which have been manifested recently in bearing fruit and many applications coming in from new residents of the town and from others who have heretofore failed to appreciate fully the benefit and enjoyment to be derived from membership in a local club where golf, tennis and social functions of a high order engage the interests of all the people of the town.

The board of governors has called a meeting for the evening of April 2 to hear reports from the various committees now at work in further- ing comprehensive plans of the club for the coming season and especial interest is being displayed in the plans of the committee appointed to canvass the sentiment of the membership and report on the advisability of extending the golf course to 18 holes.

The name of D. C. Arnold has been added to the entertainment committee, and this committee has outlined plans for the spring and summer entertainments. One of the first of these will be a bal masque to be given at the clubhouse Friday night, April 13, at which the hostesses will be Mrs. D. Ward Randall and Mrs. William R. Morrison. Hugh Talbot has completed his subscription list for two handsome silk flags which have been ordered, and Old Glory will continue to wave from the club's flagpole.

NETHERWOOD JUNIORS DROP GAME TO PREPS

Nick Cody, manager, and his crew of Netherwood Juniors, visited New Brunswick last evening, stacking up against the fast Rutgers Prep Junior, coming back with a score of 22-13 against them. Manager Cody was somewhat hot under the collar this morning when he dropped in to see us, complaining bitterly of a half dozen pillars scattered over the floor and the hot steam pipes around the walls.

However, the locals put up a fair game against their hosts and managed to make the Brunswick lads step some for the final verdict.

HELFIN'S TUXEDOS IN ODD GAME VICTORY

The Ramblers lost again last night. While this fact is no surprise and merely consumes valuable space on this page in making note of it still readers of bowling news might possibly be interested in a few details.

The match was the third of a series between the Ramblers and Tuxedos, the teams having tied in the previous games. Last night's pinning made it five for the Tuxedos and four for the Ramblers. Duke was unable to appear in the Plainfield line-up and his place was taken by Donnelly.

The only bowler who had the good games was Rambler Davenport, the other nine having scores from 109 to 158. Worrall bowled well until Sutton told him he needed a shoe polish in order to continue. What effect the remark had on Harry's bowling thereafter is attested by his last two scores. Anthor Hyslop was also shy on big scores, due perhaps to the tension under which he was laboring in an endeavor to hang it on his opponent, Searl, who was hitting 'em right and left in his first two games. Another bowler worthy of "praise" is Heflin, who entered the fray puffing away on a pipe of pressed rope, and not until the finish turned his lips did he do any real bowling.

INDOOR TRACK MEET FOR SENIOR TITLES

New York, March 17.—Track stars from every section of the country arrived here today for competition tonight in the annual senior indoor championships of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States. The meet will be held in the armory of the Twenty-second Regiment, New York National Guard.

For the first time in the history of the championships Cornell will be represented by a team of athletes. Ezra Wens and Alma Richards, the latter the all-around star from the Ithaca College, will compete. Sensational performances are expected to be recorded. Joie Ray, the distance running marvel, doubtless will take some more cracks at long-established records, while the sprints are certain to develop some extraordinary performances.

Jack Eller, the local hurdler, probably will be barred from the meet. He was suspected of wearing shoes with spikes when the metropolitan championships were held in the armory last month, and Colonel Vanderbilt, commanding the regiment, has asked that the athlete violating armory rules be barred from further competition in that building. Secretary Frederick W. Rubien of the A. A. U. promised the action would be taken if the man could be found.

The following events make up the program for the national championships: 60-yard run, 300-yard run, 600-yard run, 1,000-yard run, two-mile run, two-mile walk, five-mile run, 70-yard hurdles, six hurdles 2 feet 6 inches high placed 10 yards apart, standing high jump, standing broad jump, 16-pound shot-put and a relay race for teams of four men each, first man to run 440 yards, second 220 yards, third 880, fourth one mile.

Gold medals will be given first place winners, silver for the second and bronze for third. A silver cup will be given to the college or athlete club team scoring the highest number of points. Five points will be scored for first place, three for second, two for third and one for fourth.

NEWARKS ARE NO BEARS

The nickname "Bears" has been officially adopted for the Newark International League Club with the approval of both the club owners and the league president. The players will sport a small bear emblem on both home and traveling uniforms. The Newark club in the past has gone under the nickname of the Indians, Tigers and Sailors.

The Newark squad will leave today for Charlottesville, Va., where the University of Virginia field will be used for training.

TABS WIN IN ONE GREAT, FAST GAME

It was a great game and no getting around that. The St. Patrick's hailing from Jersey City, Hudson county, came last evening into what they were pleased to call a "nine o'clock town" to visit the local St. Mary's T. A. B. Society basebull aggregation. When they left on the 11.28 they took with them the small end of a 28 to 25 score.

The contest was a fast one from one end to the other. Both teams showed considerable inside and team play, and the score was close throughout. At the conclusion of the first half of the tilt the score stood 16 to 14 in favor of the visiting aggregation, but it was not long after the opening of the last half when the locals started in to come back strong, taking enough baskets unto themselves to take the title to the final score.

During the intermission between halves Rev. Father Mahoney, formerly of the Jersey City parish, from which the St. Patrick's aggregation comes, but at present curate of St. Mary's church, of which the Abstainers are members, was presented a token of esteem on the part of the visiting team.

PAT MELVIN GETS AN IRISH FLAG

The cash patrons of Melvin's restaurant, North avenue, remembered today that the proprietor's Christian name is Patrick, and that his birthday anniversary occurs tomorrow.

They thought it would be entirely fitting for them to bestow their favors upon him today, when all Irishmen are celebrating St. Patrick's Day. Accordingly they met at the restaurant at noon and presented Mr. Melvin with a handsome Irish flag. Walter I. Firstbrook made the presentation speech. He began by telling Mr. Melvin that he was fortunate in being the owner of a restaurant and not a bird carrier. He lauded Ireland's Patron Saint, and expressed the hope that Mr. Melvin and all others who have taken the name of the great saint, will emulate the example of his life, and if so the world will be better because they have lived, he declared.

Mr. Melvin responded in a few appropriate words, and the regular business of the restaurant was resumed with "Johnny" Gaub singing "Die Wacht am Rhine."

PIERSON'S BILL SIGNED BY EDGE

Special to the Courier-News:

Trenton, March 17.—The bill by Assemblyman Pierson, of Union, increasing the fees to be paid for licensing of motor trucks, House No. 58, and a series of motor vehicle bills by Mr. Oliphant, of Mercer, have just been signed by Governor Edge, making them laws. The Pierson measure fixes a sliding scale of license fees for commercial motor trucks, based upon the gross weight of the vehicle and carrying capacity. Such trucks now pay a flat fee of $10 each, in addition to the fee required under horsepower rating.

The increased fee begins at $15 per year for each truck of 4,000 pounds or less, the scale increasing at the rate of $2 for each additional 1,000 pounds weight, the maximum being $59 a year for trucks of more than 25,000 pounds. This act does not take effect until January 1, 1918.

IRISHMEN CELEBRATE ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Great Saint Was Born in 372 —Christianized the Irish Race

Irishmen in all parts of the world, including the battle lines of France, are celebrating today, for this is St. Patrick's Day, when the memory of Ireland's patron saint is paid the homage that is due the memory of a great man.

France, which gave Rochambeau and La Fayette to the American colonies in the war of the Revolution, also gave St. Patrick to the Irish. He was born in 372, and spread the Christian faith among a race of men who cherished his teachings, transmitting them to their descendants, and they have carried them to all parts of the world, for there is no land where white men live that hasn't its quota of Irishmen.

Ireland's sufferings have been brought about through her adherence to the faith which Patrick brought to the Irish race, and no matter how severe the persecution, the Irish people, or a majority of them, have steadfastly refused to yield the right to worship God in accordance with the dictates of their own conscience.

When St. Patrick went to Ireland he found a highly intelligent people with universities of learning which have been classed by historians as the greatest in Europe.

At the disruption of the Roman empire, when the vandals destroyed all that the Roman civilization had developed, it was Ireland that taught the people of the devastated countries the way back to higher civilization than they had ever known before.

Ireland had a representative form of government one thousand years before the birth of Christ, and in the days of St. Patrick, the clansmen gathered in yearly sessions at Tara Mall, where governmental affairs were adopted, musical and literary festivals and religious devotions of an impressive character were held.

It was with the little shamrock that the great saint illustrated the Blessed Trinity. Ireland has been ravaged by wars for many years. The country was invaded by the Danes in the eighth century and they remained for nearly three hundred years, before they were finally driven into the sea. After their expulsion there came the Norman invasion in 1169, and there has been a state of warfare most of the time ever since, attended by various forms of persecution.

BOROUGH PRINCIPAL ADDRESSES MEN'S CLUB

Principal Earley of the borough high school, gave his lecture last evening, on the "Caverns of Virginia" at the meeting of the Men's Association of the Watchung Avenue Church. There were about thirty-five slides thrown upon the screen giving an interesting description of these wonderful caves.

The caverns which are world-renowned and which underlie about 100 acres, were discovered in 1878, and contain hundreds of chambers, many of which to this day have not been explored, the speaker said.

The entertainment committee of the Association is planning for a series of lectures on "Eminent Men" that will be held later. Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen has promised to speak before the organization in June.

Dr. E. L. Fisk, the director of the Life Extension Institute, under whose auspices experiments were made with the "Diet Squad" in New York, will address a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Plainfield high school on Tuesday night, March 27, in the school auditorium.

Dr. Fisk's address will be directed to the timely subject of the cost, preparation and relative values of foods, and as he is said to speak with authority on these subjects, his address, it is believed, will be of particular value and interest. Members of all Parent-Teacher Associations are invited to attend the meeting.

ANNIVERSARY OF CLEVELAND'S BIRTH

Grover Cleveland, twenty-second and twenty-fourth President of the United States; born at Caldwell, New Jersey, March 18th, 1837; died June 24th, 1908. The son of a clergyman. Mr. Cleveland received a fair education, studied law, and entered upon its practice at Buffalo, New York, in 1859. He was assistant district attorney of Erie county, 1863-65; was defeated for district attorney in 1865; and was sheriff of Erie county, 1871-74. A reform movement made him Mayor of Buffalo in 1881 and his efficient administration made such a favorable impression that in the summer of 1882 he received the Democratic nomination for Governor of New York. Republican disaffection contributed to his election by a majority of 192,000. His administration, following such an unprecedented victory, was such as to give satisfaction and in 1884 he received the Democratic nomination for President and was elected over James G. Blaine, the Republican candidate. His administration was marked by his support of civil service reform, of hard money, and especially of tariff reform, which he advocated in a message to Congress in December, 1887. He was again the candidate of his party in 1888 but was defeated. He retired from office, resumed the practice of law, and settled in New York City. In 1892 he was the third time nominated by the Democrats and was elected over Benjamin Harrison, his opponent in the contest of 1888. In 1893 President Cleveland convened an extra session of Congress, which repealed the purchasing clause of the so-called Sherman Silver Bill.

HELPS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

VIRGINIA CARTER LEE

In connection with this department Miss Lee will gladly answer any Luxury relative to domestic science, a stamped envelope being necessary for a personal reply. Address care of Courier-News.

There are but very few housekeepers who realize the possibilities contained in a bunch of fresh mint, or who know how its piquant flavor will entirely change the character of the dish to which it is added.

Fortunately, mint is again coming into favor, for not only is it enjoyed by the majority of people, but physicians tell us it is a most healthful herb, with a beneficial effect on the digestion and nerves. It is also cooling to the blood, with the approach of the spring season.

Mint is a very ancient herb. The bitter herbs of the Paschal Feast, of Bible times, is said to have been a mixture of mint, dandelion, tansy, chamomile, etc. Mint is now seldom used as a salad, but a salad vinegar is made from it that is very popular. It may be used alone, like mint sauce or in place of plain vinegar, in the making of salads.

To prepare this delicious vinegar, mint alone can be used, or a combination of mint, chives, tarragon and summer savory. Use one ounce of each for a quart of vinegar and bruise the green herbs so that the flavor is easily extracted. Put the mixed herbs in a jug or bottle, that can be tightly corked, fill up with vinegar and place in the sun. Leave for six weeks and then strain and bottle for use. It will keep indefinitely and has a delicious, aromatic flavor. Cider or white wine vinegar may be used in connection with the herbs, as the housewife may prefer.

Formerly, mint was used exclusively in combination with spring lamb and green peas, and while these are still favorite ways of utilizing it, others are now being tried with excellent results.

To make a delicious sauce to serve with lamb, chop fresh mint finely and place three tablespoonfuls of it in a saucepan. Add two tablespoonfuls of sugar and eight tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Let the sauce scald, but do not boil. It is ready to use as soon as it cools.

Dried mint may also be used for sauce, by soaking in cold water to extract the flavor. This is generally used in winter, when the fresh is not obtainable, but it cannot be as highly recommended. An improved sauce, to serve with boiled mutton instead of the usual caper variety, is to prepare the desired quantity of cream sauce, and when it boils and thickens add a handful of mint, that has been slightly bruised. Stir the boiling hot sauce until well flavored. Then strain and add the usual amount of capers.

When cooking green peas to serve with roast lamb, try adding a few sprigs of mint while cooking and remove them just before the seasoning is added. The novel flavor is decidedly pleasing.

Mint butter is also in great favor for making sandwiches, in combination with finely minced meat of any kind. To prepare the butter, take a handful of fresh mint leaves and the same of parsley and let them simmer in boiling water for five minutes. Then drain and dress dry. Reduce to a pulp, by either chopping or pounding them, and to each four tablespoonfuls of the combined herbs allow half a tablespoonful of lemon juice. Work this well into five tablespoonfuls of butter and keep cold until ready to use.

For a delicious green pea salad, take one cupful of canned French peas, drain and rinse with very cold water. Then drain again and expose to the outside air for twenty minutes. When ready to make the salad, add to the peas half a head of crisp lettuce, finely shredded, and one tablespoonful of chopped mint leaves. Sprinkle very lightly with salt, moisten with a French dressing and heap in a mound on a platter. Surround with a border of heart lettuce leaves and serve the salad very cold.

Apple jelly, delicately seasoned with mint, is especially good when served with roast duck, lamb or goose. It is made in the usual manner. If possible select juicy, tart apples. To each cupful of the strained apple juice, add one tablespoonful of strong mint water (strained) and then proceed as for ordinary jelly, using equal quantities of juice and hot sugar.

LITTLE MARY'S PRISONER

May was only 5 and every one called her the baby yet. But she resented the title. For was she not able to go down to the big gate alone and ride on Dixie to the cow pasture? So one particular August morning she sat on the top step of the porch alone, pouting.

The bees were humming around the honeysuckle, and the white hen led one chicken by the porch, but May would not notice them. The big, tall clock back in the wide hall ticked loudly. Presently grandma came out and sat in a big chair.

"I wonder if the clock ever gets tired?" said May as she climbed into grandma's lap. Grandma smiled.

"I will tell you a story about that clock," she said as she patted the golden head nestling against her shoulder. "It was that very clock that saved your father's life. It was this way:

"A long, long time ago before you were born and when your mother, May, was a tiny girl like you, our lovely Virginia valley was not green and peaceful as it is now. Two armies tramped over its grass and cannon roared from mountain to mountain. I lived here then, just as I do now, and your mother was the only child at home.

"I remember so plainly—it is just fifty years this month—I went off for the afternoon to visit a friend and left May, your mother, at home in care of her nurse, Judy. Judy started down to the spring to get some fresh water, but did not return, and when May got weary of waiting she wandered out into the yard.

"Just as she struggled to unlatch the gate there was a clatter of hoofs down the road and four Union cavalrymen came tearing by, while after them rode about the same number of Confederates. A bullet struck one of the men in blue, he tumbled, but had enough presence of mind to roll out of the way into the bushes. On sped the Union riders and by swept the Confederates in hot chase.

"Under the big hollyhock hedge the young soldier—he was but a boy—lay. May crept down under the branches to where he was, with his face white and eyes shut.

"'Water, water,' he said, feebly. May tottered to the kitchen and came back with a big glass of milk. The boy drank it and seemed to feel better.

"'Come up to the porch,' said May. 'You can rest in the big chair and I will bring you some dinner.'

"So the lad crawled up to the house and waited on the porch while May went through the cupboard for cold bread, jam and ham. And the boy ate like one famished. In half an hour he was much better. Then again there came the clatter of hoofs beating back down the pike. Over a distant hill came the four Confederates again, this time with the three Union soldiers as prisoners. The boy turned white again.

"'They will look for me here!' he cried, startled, to his feet. 'I must hide.'

"He looked at May—could he trust her? 'Little girl,' he said, tenderly, 'you don't want anyone to see me and take me away, do you?'

"'Of course not,' laughed the child. 'You are sick and I am going to get you well.'

"'Those men rating here are trying to find me,' he said, hurriedly, 'but you must help me; you must hide me and not tell anyone where I am till they are gone. Where can I get?'

"Just then the big clock in the hall chimed two.

"'Oh! get in the clock,' cried May in delight. 'It is plenty large. I will not tell anyone, not even if mamma whips me.'

"'All right now,' replied the boy, as he stepped into the clock. 'Remember, not a word—and when I get out I will send you the biggest doll in New Hampshire. If those men in gray come, keep still—and say nothing.'

"Hardly had the clock door shut when there was a rush of men in front door. May, hidden behind the sofa, did not hardly dare breathe. The men searched the house from room to room, opening closets and peering into the cellar. But not a soul could they find. At last they mounted and rode away.

"May ran and opened the clock door—and out bobbled the lad, unconscious. He had been shut up too long and there was so little air. But in a few moments he opened his eyes.

"'Well, sister,' he remarked, 'that was surely a close call.'

"'Come up to mamma's room and take a nap,' said May, and she led the way upstairs to the bedroom. In a few moments the tired, sick boy was sleeping on a lounge by the window. When I came home May met me at the door and ran before me to open my door.

"'Oh, mother,' she said, 'I have found a poor, sick boy, and I am going to get him well and he is going to send me a big doll.'

"There was nothing for me to do but nurse the lad. And when in about a month he went back home well, but crippled, he did send a big doll by the next train. Then in a year he came himself—and stayed—for he married your mother. There he is now walking up the path with your mother."

TWO NOTED STARS APPEAR AT PROCTOR'S TODAY

Monday and Tuesday at Proctor's Theatre

Two noted stars, Pauline Frederick in "Ashes and Embers" and Ethel Barrymore in "The Awakening of Helena Richie," appear at Proctor's tonight.

On Monday and Tuesday Mary Pickford will appear in "A Poor Little Rich Girl," as Gwendolyn, the "poor little rich girl" who had all that money could buy but scarcely knew her parents. She is left entirely in the care of nurses and servants as a result of the social and business "duties" of her parents, but the selfish parents are brought to realize that each is travelling in the wrong direction, and that their real goal is happiness rather than wealth. The children will adore it and the older folks cannot but appreciate its entertaining qualities.

In addition on Monday and Tuesday, Mrs. Vernon Castle appears in "Patria," the latest Hearst Pathe News is shown, and an added feature will be exclusive motion pictures of the ceremonies attending the laying of the corner stone for Plainfield's new City Hall. This picture will prove of great interest to all the members of the societies who took part as well as the hundreds of individuals who were interested spectators.

GORGEOUS GOWNS WORN BY BON TON GIRLS

At the Plainfield Theatre Monday, March 19, a genuine treat will be furnished by the "New Bon Ton Girls," who contribute to the amusement world one of the slickest and most diverting burlesque shows of the season. The affair is in two acts with superb scenic settings and gorgeous costumes, while the cast is headed by that able trio of funmakers, Leo Hoyt, Lester Allen and Babe LaTour, who have hitherto won the popular opinion of the public at large. Miss LaTour is conceded to be the best dressed young woman in burlesque, her gowns being dreams of beauty and effective-ness, all designed by herself and especially for this tour.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

At the Columbia

Sam Sidman will bring his burlesque company to the Columbia Theatre the week beginning Monday afternoon, March 19, and present a new two-act satire, written by Jean Bedini, called "Welcome to Our City." Mr. Sidman is new to the ranks of burlesque producers although as a player of German comedy characters he is exceedingly popular with patrons of this form of amusement. In the arrangement of his show, Mr. Sidman is said to have departed entirely from many of the customs adhered to in burlesque, notably in the selection of the cast, not one of whom, it is asserted, has ever been seen on the Columbia stage. Also Mr. Sidman is credited with having provided an entirely new selection of musical features whose presentation is totally unlike anything hitherto offered in burlesque. The comedy of the new two-act piece is described as of the rapid-fire sort and is maintained at top speed throughout the entire performance except when some original vaudeville specialty or musical feature is introduced. Mr. Sidman will appear in his well known character creation, Ludwig Meyers, and during the performance he will introduce a completely new specialty that has been specially written and arranged for this production. The production is said to be lavish and uncommonly beautiful in its display of scenery and costumes and a large chorus of pretty girls is featured.

NEWARK AMUSEMENT

At the Broad Street Theatre

Earthquakes, wars, plagues, hurricanes and floods were the order of the day in the creation of "A Daughter of the Gods," the William Fox $1,000,000 picture, beautiful, featuring Annette Kellermann, at the Broad Street Theatre, Newark, with daily matinee, starting on Monday.

Almost any other man in the world might have been discouraged by this succession of adverse elements, but to William Fox they were but an incentive to try harder, and, that he did is best evidenced in the fact that in his picture beautiful, he has given to the world the greatest film fantasy ever produced. This big undertaking never daunted Mr. Fox, instead when he found that to produce a detailed artistic effect it was essential to overcome the work of nature, he engaged a corps of the best engineers in this country and an army of skilled workmen and shipped them all the way to the tropics to accomplish this one result. The cost of this one undertaking alone represented the expenditure of a fortune, but expense was the last consideration with Mr. Fox, in "A Daughter of the Gods."

BELGIAN SUPPLY SHIPS IMMUNE FROM ATTACK

By United Press:

New York, March 17.—Ships carrying supplies to Belgium for the commission for relief in Belgium, are now immune from German submarine attacks, if they follow the northern route, according to a statement given out at commission headquarters.

A cable from London says instructions have been sent commanders of all German submarines to spare the relief ships.

WILL GIVE BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. Barton K. Davis, of 514 West Sixth street, will give a bridge party at her home this afternoon, when she will entertain guests from Newark, Elizabeth, High Bridge and this city.

GERARD PLEADS FOR PREPAREDNESS

Tells Welcoming Audience of Danger of War.

New York, March 17.—An impressive plea for preparedness, following his warning that the United States is on the brink of war, was made by Ambassador James W. Gerard in his reply to his "welcome home" to New York. In part he said:

We are standing today very near the brink of war, but I want to assure you that if we should be drawn into the conflict it will only be after our president has exhausted every means consistent with upholding the honor and dignity of the United States to prevent the front war.

I left Berlin with a clear conscience because I felt that during all my stay there I had omitted nothing to make for friendly relations and peace between the two nations.

I want to indorse every word that your mayor said about the necessity for preparation. When I came back to this country it was a position to find that in two years in which the world has been on fire that we have done nothing to prepare for even a reasonable measure of national defense. There is only one thing—universal military service—to give real training. That nation that stands opposite to us today has probably not less than 12,000,000 under arms. I am glad to see Germania take prisoner in one afternoon more than there are in the entire United States army.

Doesn't it seem to you ridiculous that the two states of New York and New Jersey should have more men on the border than there are soldiers in our army? My companions from the Twelfth regiment that have landed on the other shore today, and more men like them throughout the country, have done what they can, but they can do no more. There must be a public sentiment if we are to maintain ourselves as a nation. If we had a million men under arms today we would not be near the edge of war.

BRITISH KEEP UP GAIN.

Capture Wood on Somme Front Where French Lost.

London, March 17.—The British troops in the Ancre region have occupied almost all of the St. Pierre Vaast wood and 3,000 yards of German trenches north and south of the wood, according to the British official communication.

The St. Pierre Vaast wood lies directly east of Combles. It was here that the French last autumn made several ineffectual attempts to advance after the capture of Sailly-Saillisel, to the north of the wood, and Rancourt to the southeast. The French after heavy fighting got a foothold in the wood, but were held up.

MEXICANS IN CUBA REVOLT.

Many in Band Scattered by U. S. Sailors Near Santiago.

Havana, March 17.—United States sailors from the gunboat Eagle landed at Altrocedo, in Oriente province, and drove a group of insurgents from the town. It was reported that many Mexicans were in the insurgent group, which numbered about 300 men.

The presence with Cuban insurgents of Mexicans caused much surprise and speculation here. There are Mexican colonies in some parts of Cuba, but heretofore any activity of Mexicans skilled in revolutionary and destructive warfare in their own country has not been reported to the government officials here.

NICHOLAS MAY HEAD ARMY.

Grand Duke, Deposed by Czar, Back in Russia.

London, March 17.—The Grand Duke Nicholas is reported in a Reuter's dispatch from Petrograd to have reached the Russian capital. The dispatch says he will probably take command of the troops.

The question of replacing officers who were disarmed by their own troops is one which must be decided most promptly. In the meanwhile the provisional government is doing its utmost to straighten out the numerous tangles. The duma and the zemstvo council are working hand in hand, although issuing separate proclamations.

MRS. GUERNSEY OF KANSAS SEEKS PRESIDENCY

By United Press:

Washington, March 17.—A battle royal for the presidency of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be fought by Mrs. George Tacker Guernsey, of Independence, Kansas, at the national convention of the D. A. R. here the latter part of next month.

Mrs. Guernsey amazed the national organization by the thoroughness with which she came into the race prepared. It was known she sought the place, but it was not known she had secretly secured the backing of 43 States on the basis of her outlined policy.

Mrs. George G. Squires, of St. Paul; Mrs. John Miller Horton, of Buffalo and Mrs. J. Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois are Mrs. Guernsey's opponents for the presidency, which now is filled by Mrs. William Cuming Story, of New York. Mrs. Story is said to favor Mrs. Lewis to succeed her.

Briand to Shif. Cabinet.

Paris, March 17.—The French cabinet will be reconstructed, Premier Briand, it is understood, in addition to replacing General Lyautey, the former minister of war, will have the departments which had been combined under one minister restored to their former status.

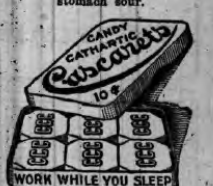
F. W. Roebling Dead.

Trenton, N. J., March 17.—Ferdinand W. Roebling, treasurer and general manager of the John A. Roebling's Sons & Co., builders of the Brooklyn bridge and other great structures and widely known in the wire rope industry, died at his home in this city.

BEST FOR LIVER, BOWELS, STOMACH, HEADACHE, COLDS

They liven the liver and bowels and straighten you right up.

Don't be bilious, constipated, sick, with breath bad and stomach sour.



Tonight sure! Take Cascarets and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Wake up with your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right and feeling fine. Get rid of sick headache, biliousness, constipation furred tongue, sour stomach, bad colds. Clear your skin, brighten your eyes, quicken your step and feel like doing a full day's work. Cascarets are better than salts, pills or calomel because they don't shock the liver or gripe the bowels or cause inconvenience all the next day.

Mothers should give cross, sick, bilious, feverish children a whole Cascaret anytime as they can not injure the thirty feet of tender bowels.—Adv.

GRAND DUKE MICHAEL.

Czar's Younger Brother, Who Also Abdicates.

First reports of the revolution had it that Grand Duke Michael, who was banished from the imperial court because he married a girl out of his rank, had been appointed regent. This, however, was premature, and he has joined with his brother in the Romanoff abdication, thus ending his chances of the throne.

FRESH UPRISING STARTS IN MEXICO

General Obregon Reported as Foe to Carranza.

El Paso, Tex., March 17.—Rumors of a new political alignment in Mexico, with General Alvaro Obregon heading the opposition to General Carranza and the de facto government, are in persistent circulation here and in Juarez, having been brought from the interior by Mexican and foreign refugees.

While the punitive expedition was in Mexico letters were found by American officers which had been written by Villa and addressed to General Obregon offering to form a coalition against Carranza. Other letters were found at the time addressed to Zapata and were of a similar nature. There has been unusual activity recently among the old federals who were known to have been friendly with Felix Diaz.

The band of rebels now operating against General Gomez in Sonora are said to be under a Villa commander and former federal officers loyal to Diaz. The Diaz or Felicista movement has been under way in Sonora for several months. Obregon's friends are said to have had a part in it in that state, which is intensely loyal to Obregon. Fifty-five former federal officers crossed into Sonora recently to join the movement.

Rumors that the Yaqui Indians from Sonora had revolted in southern Chihuahua and declared for the new revolution are denied. They are at Jimines in the command of General Guillermo Chavez. The Yaquis are a part of Obregon's old command. Villa partisans here are rejoicing as a result of these rumors and predicted that the new movement would be in charge of the government within a month.

Must Sing U. S. Anthem Right.

Atlantic City, March 17.—Dr. Walter Reynolds, a school director, stirred colleagues to action by protesting against the "mutilation" of the "Star Spangled Banner" by school children during patriotic exercises in the schools. Dr. Reynolds deplored a tendency to eliminate parts of the anthem, and a resolution was adopted that it be sung in its entirety.

Why our Developing and Printing is satisfactory—In fact, there are reasons: We develop your films carefully and with no hurried work. They are under observation of an expert from the time they enter the dark room until they leave it. This insures the best possible results from your exposures, no matter how widely they vary. You may have negatives of widely varying density—but one of these three grades will give you the best possible print from one negative. Our experts will select the grade of paper and make the print, develop it with the best and most expensive developing agent on the market (expense isn't considered when quality is in the balance) with the result that we have a satisfied customer. The prices for our developing and printing are no higher than any establishment and less than some.

15,000 Tried and Failed to Get a HUDSON SUPER-SIX

Last year, thousands of buyers failed to get a Hudson Super-Six. We were too far oversold. Yet no car above $1100 had so large an output.

More men, we fear, will be disappointed this year. The Super-Six is better known. It holds all worth-while records. Over 28,000 owners are urging friends to get it. And all Motordom must now concede its supremacy.

Look it up now if you think you want the greatest car that's built.

The Economy of It

Men buy the Super-Six because of endurance. Its speed, its power, its hill-climbing ability are all interesting factors. But the greatest of all is economy.

This invention—patented by Hudson—added 80 per cent. to motor efficiency. It nearly doubled a motor's endurance. All by nearly ending friction, the cause of motor wear.

This year we add a gasoline saver in the form of radiator shutters. We add a motormeter. We use a patent pneumatic carburetor, which adjusts itself to every engine speed. And we put an engine primer at the driver's hand.

Then note the price. It is way below many other cars which Hudson has out-rivaled.

You'll Want It

You are bound to want a Super-Six when you know the facts. If you buy a fine car, you want the one which can outdo all others. If you buy a car to keep, you will want one that stays new.

You will want its economy—its super-endurance. It may cost less, in the long run, than a car at half the price.

Remember that this motor is patented. No one else has it.

It has won every record that counts. In the great endurance test it broke all records by 52 per cent.

The whole car, as now built, is worthy of this motor. Every part is an engineering masterpiece. The most artistic bodies ever built have been created for it. Unique devices add to its economy.

A lesser car may bring you long regret. Find out the facts while you can get an early spring delivery.

MOUNT HOLLY RECTOR AT GRACE CHURCH

Rev. H. T. Cocke Talks on Social Barriers—Flag Presented to Church

The Rev. Henry Teller Cocke, of Mt. Holly, in his Lenten sermon last night at Grace Episcopal church, urges a greater movement among the women to assist the girls who had strayed from the path of rightousness. We hear frequently of the "big brother" movement, but very seldom of the "big sister" movement. "What we further need is more men and women who will awake to the situation of uplifting the fallen," said the speaker.

The Rev. Mr. Cocke is a rapid speaker, and his well-chosen remarks were listened to by a large audience. It was his first visit to the Plainfield church, and he gave a most eloquent sermon. He took his text from Chapter viii, verse 35, of the Gospel according to St. Mark: "For whosoever will save his life shall lose it, but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall be saved."

"So many people are building about themselves social barriers," continued Rector Cocke, "principally based upon money and education and fail to see the work that is planned for them by God in the community in which they live. As we read in the New Testament we find certain pages teeming with the principles of life, which God has set for us to follow—'For what shall it profit a man if he gains the whole world and loses his own soul?' It is the struggle of men reaching up that may save lives. We are all pilgrims in our Master's eyes.

"There has never been written in books the tragedies of some of the every-day lives in our homes that are frequently bereft of the love of husband and wife. The lust for gold and worldly diversions have been the ruination of many a home. In the midst of this the heart has been starving for the lost love. The real life is the looking up to the Lord Jesus Christ."

The morning service included the dedication of the two flags that now float over the edifice. This was a very impressive service and conducted by the rector, the Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson. It was announced that on Sunday next Bishop C. E. Woodcock, D. D., would conduct the services both morning and evening.

SEEK MISS PHILLIPS' AID IN RELIEF WORK

The Hoover Commission, which is promoting the movement for supplementary meals for the relief of Belgian children, has, through the subcommittee in this city, of which Mrs. Richard Boardman is the head, requested the trustees of the Charity Organization Society to permit Miss Mabelle C. Phillips, of that society, to spend a few weeks in organizing this work throughout the State. The trustees will meet tomorrow night to consider the matter.

The local publicity committee met last night and discussed plans, which will include advertising and other means for raising money here for this work. All of this work will be under the supervision of the Plainfield Belgian Relief Society.

The Commission for Relief in Belgium, of New York, announces that it has received assurances from the German Government that from now on German submarine commanders would not torpedo Belgian relief ships, provided those ships follow the northern route to Rotterdam. This guarantees safety for the relief ships, six of which are now en route to Belgium.

Captain Beith, better known as "Ian Hay," the author, who had a wonderful experience serving with Kitchener's first army of one hundred thousand during the early period of the war, will speak at the Plainfield high school Friday night, under the auspices of the National Special Aid Society. The announcement of his coming to this city has aroused unusual interest among those who are working for relief and preparedness.

Parliser Photo Studio, of 107 East Front street, have announced that they will dispose of all their negatives taken by the late Mr. Landhorne for the past 40 years by the first of April. Their reason for doing this is the fact that they have no more room for further storage of negatives, and in order to make room for their new plates they are forced to do away with the old ones. Anyone interested in any of these negatives will kindly call, write or phone 1798.—Adv.

EXTRA MEETING OF BELGIAN RELIEF

A Letter Addressed to the Society Which Was Read at Recent Meeting

On account of recent international events it is necessary to call an extra meeting of the Plainfield Belgian Relief Society, to decide some matters of importance. This meeting will be held at 996 Hillside avenue, tomorrow morning, March 20, at 10:30 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

The following is a letter received by the Belgium Relief Society which we announced would be printed at this time:

Mrs. F. W. Wallace, Plainfield, N. J.
Dear Mrs. Wallace:

At the suggestion of Mr. Giddings we are writing you concerning a plan recently put into operation by the commission, which we feel interfere with it an unusually interesting appeal and which has already resulted in a considerable volume of returns. In fact the widespread interest manifested is most surprising.

Belgium, for purposes of administration, is divided into ten provinces, one hundred and twenty regions, and two thousand five hundred and fifty-three communes; the entire country has been platted, and regional maps prepared in our London offices. These maps have been duplicated in an attractive manner, and an appendix added showing the names of the communes, numbered for convenience, together with the child population of the various villages. As an illustration we enclose you a map of the region of Wezemme in the Province of Liege, with a total of eighty-nine communes.

Our ambition is to secure the adoption of these communes for the period of the war by individuals or groups, or societies, or, as is already the case, by colleges and universities. In many communities groups have been formed and others

GIVES THEATRE PARTY FOR HER DAUGHTER

Mrs. Fred Moore, of Somerset street, the borough, gave a theatre party on Saturday for her daughter, Lotta Mae, in honor of her eleventh birthday anniversary. The children were taken in automobiles to the theatre, returning afterward to the Moore home to be entertained with singing and dancing by Lotta Mae.

The supper came when the children entered the dining room, which was in darkness, except for the illumination of a large cake with eleven candles. The center of the table was a pyramid of tulips and carnations from which extended satin streamers to each plate, pulling these by satin heart-shaped box filled with bon-bons appeared. The plate favors were fancy hats. The big surprise for the little folks was the black dolls they found in the ice cream.

CRAP GAME IS RAIDED BY POLICE

Having been arrested at an early hour yesterday morning in a crap game on Park avenue, which was raided by Sergeant Flynn and Patrolmen Dunlap and Rissa, eight negroes were arraigned in city court before Judge DeMott this morning. He disposed of their cases as follows: William Hodges, $5; Vanwick Tucker, $5; Charles Roscoe, sentence suspended; John Johnson, $10; Ferdinand Bowser, sentence suspended; Edward Ellis, $5; Frank Spencer, sentence suspended; Warren Foyas, sentence suspended. Johnson was fined more than the others because he carried a gun.

THE DEATH OF MRS. EDWARD DREW

Mrs. Ruth Emiline Drew, the wife of Edward Drew, of West Fourth street, died yesterday in the twenty-second year of her age, leaving an infant a few days old. The funeral and interment will take place in Williamstown, Pa.

Mrs. Drew came here from Pennsylvania about a year ago. She was a member of Hope Chapel and of its Sunday school. Besides the little child and her husband mentioned above, she leaves four brothers and two sisters and her mother.

ELECTRIC IRONS CAUSED FIRE

The manager of the skirt factory in West Front street sent for the building at 10 o'clock last night and detected the odor of smoke. He went out in the street and summoned Patrolman Kelly. They made an investigation and found that two electric irons had been left with the current turned on and that they had become red hot and burned the cover of an ironing board. The damage was slight.

FASHION DISPLAY BEGINS TOMORROW

Dame Fashion will hold sway in Plainfield stores from Tuesday until Saturday this week. The local merchants have gathered lines of Spring merchandise that are truly representative of the best to be had, and the displays arranged for this week will prove very attractive to all those interested in new things for Spring.

Eastertide is not far away, and the wise shoppers are those who do their buying early, thereby securing first selection. All the scores, including those that sell wearing apparel for women, misses and children, millinery, shoes, men's clothing and furnishings, are filled with complete stocks.

Shopping in Plainfield during Fashion Week will attract many from this and from nearby towns. The weather man promises milder weather for tomorrow, and the attractive displays in the stores will surely bring out every woman who desires to shop for Easter.

A perusal of the pages of this issue of The Courier-News will acquaint shoppers with the merchandise offered by the local merchants.

GEO. CLARK, DEMOCRAT, IS NAMED POSTMASTER

George Clark, a Democrat, has just been appointed postmaster at Scotch Plains, succeeding Miss Rita DeMott, who held the position for two years. The fact that about the first of the year the postoffice was transferred from the fourth class to the third class, taking it out of civil service, necessitated the appointment of a postmaster.

The late Norman Dunn, a Republican, was postmaster at Scotch Plains for many years, and upon his death he was succeeded by his wife. Later a civil service examination was held, but Mrs. Dunn was ineligible owing to her age. Miss DeMott then took and passed the examination, and has held the position until the present time. Mr. Clark will take charge of the office this week.

RAILROADS YIELD ALL; STRIKE THREATS OFF

By United Press:

New York, March 19.—The railroads have met the Firemen's brotherhood's eight-hour law, and thereby definitely averted the threatened nation-wide strike. The railroads surrendered completely, leaving their end of the adjustment in the hands of President Wilson's mediation board. A joint committee is to thresh out the minute details. (Other details on another page.)

TO OUR READERS

The Courier-News, as previously announced, is compelled to advance the price of this paper.

We regret that we are compelled to make this increase, but everybody knows that the cost of making a newspaper has doubled in cost, while many things have trebled. The most serious difficulty is the scarcity of white news print paper. Many newspapers have had to suspend publication, while others have had to adopt strenuous reforms. The Courier-News has been unable to purchase more than 60 per cent. of the quantity of paper actually required since the first of the present year. While it has been necessary to cut down the size of the paper from 16 to 12 pages, and put into effect other methods of curtailing the consumption of paper.

The above measures have not been sufficient to reduce the necessary forty per cent., and for this reason we have had to announce that all subscribers not paying promptly each week will have to be discontinued. The stopping of a paper, just as subscriber owes four or five weeks does not mean that we question that subscription. Forced to reduce the number of copies we are printing, we have adopted the only way open—discontinuing subscriptions not paid to date.

No paid in advance subscriptions have been accepted at the old rate since the announcement of the change in price.

Single copy	$ .02
One week	.12
Three months (in advance)	1.50
Six months (in advance)	3.00
One year (in advance)	6.00

As in the past, to take advantage of the discount rate offered for three months, six months or one year, a subscriber must pay in advance.

PROBASCO CLASS PLAY A SUCCESS

Capacity Audience Enjoys Annual Production at High School

"Too Many Husbands," a farce comedy in two acts by Anthony Wells, which was presented by the Probasco Bible class at the Plainfield High School Saturday night, was the most pretentious and successful effort of this active organization. It was the sixth annual production given by the class and it was enjoyed by a capacity audience which showed its appreciation by frequent outbursts of applause.

The cast was an excellent one, each part being impersonated in a manner that would have done credit to a professional. The play abounds in comedy and amusing situations, which kept the audience convulsed with laughter, and there was much praise bestowed upon the members of the cast for their clever acting.

The fun begins when N. J. R. Chandler, as "Col. Thaddeus Crane," a wealthy old retired soldier, visit his nephew, "Arthur Maitland," a poor author, which part was taken by Randolph M. Stelle. The latter was supposed to be a no-account, but when the colonel hears that his nephew is married, he plans for the visit. Young Maitland, in fact, is not married, but to carry out his part persuades "Harry Brown," a bookkeeper, which part was taken by Bert Ison, to loan him his wife, "Milly," who was Albert Newmiller. In the meantime, the nephew marries the colonel's daughter, "Dorothy Crane," who was Ralph O. Martin, before the colonel learns differently, and, of course, the pair receive the customary blessing. The incidents leading up to and following this part of the play are so complicated that one surprise follows another in quick succession.

The acting on the part of every member of the cast was praiseworthy, reflecting great credit upon Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, the coach, who had so patiently and faithfully supervised the preparation for the production of the comedy itself. The cast was as follows:

"Col. Thaddeus Crane," N. J. R. Chandler; "Dorothy Crane," his daughter, Ralph O. Martin; "Chauncey Chilton," his secretary, Harold Leadbitter; "Arthur Maitland," a poor author, his nephew, Randolph M. Stelle; "Harry Brown," a bookkeeper, Bert Ison; "Milly Brown," his wife, Albert Newmiller; "Reverend Ormsby," a preacher, Clifford Terry; "Mrs. Sheffield," mother-in-law," Irving J. Pratt; "Mollie," a servant, Duncan L. Patterson; "Jones," an expressman, Sullivan; "Cliffjnn," a policeman, Alexis Bouton; "Rudolph Baner," Earl B. Pierson.

Between the acts the class quartet comprising Ralph O. Martin, Karl Wilson, Luther Banks and John Richards, sang "The Rosary," and "Annie Laurie," and the members

WILSON TALKS ABOUT TELEPHONE

The story of the centuries of struggle by mankind to transmit words rapidly and accurately over distances greater than the voice can travel unaided was told by A. B. Wilson, local manager of the New York Telephone Company on Saturday evening at Mrs. Waldorf's residence on Crescent avenue, before a gathering of invited guests.

The lecture, entitled "The History of Communication," described the various methods of communication which have been employed from the time of the Pharaohs to the present, when we have transcontinental wire telephoning and telephoning by wireless over great distances. Mr. Wilson illustrated his talk with more than fifty stereopticon slides.

URGES DEMOCRATS TO PERMIT LOCAL OPTION LEGISLATION

By United Press:

Washington, March 19.—Calling upon the Democracy of New Jersey to support local option, President Wilson's private secretary, Tumulty, has written a letter to Thomas F. Martin, Secretary of State for New Jersey, urging the party to release itself from influences that oppose local option legislation.

U. S. ON E GE OF ACTUAL HOSTILITIES

By United Press:

Washington, March 19.—Immediate announcement by President Wilson of the course of action he intends to take in reply to Germany's latest affront on the high seas was forecasted by officials today.

Some believe he will call Congress to session at once, to have it ready for consultation. Others think he might issue a proclamation empowering Secretary Daniels of the navy to use the emergency fund appropriated in pursuit of a policy more aggressively to protect American shipping.

Secretary Lansing went to the White House today to confer with the President and carried all reports coming to the department on the sinking of the three American vessels yesterday.

"The situation is too serious to discuss," was the only official word from the State Department previous to Lansing going to the White House.

The United States and Germany are on the verge of open hostilities with a virtual state of war existing as a result of the ruthless sinking by German submarines of three American freighters yesterday. It is now believed the first meeting between an American armed vessel and a U-boat will precipitate actual hostilities.

A semi-official view is that Germany's destruction of the three American vessels with probable loss of twenty-four American lives leaves no question that the Kaiser has forced the United States into a state of war.

RUSSIA SETTLING DOWN SATISFIED OVER NEW RULE

By United Press:

Petrograd, March 19.—This city is astir with enthusiasm; its streets are packed with orderly crowds; public utilities are now running as of old.

Today all newspapers were republishing, and with entire freedom of editorial power. Many of them who resumed yesterday commemorated the event by special editions full of eulogies of the new "free Russia," using poems and analytical articles.

All public buildings here have been draped with the red flag of the revolutionists. Dispatches from Moscow say all workmen have resumed their occupations there.

The deposed Czar Nicholas was given a home to one of his imperial palaces in the Crimea. Meanwhile his children are all ill, except the Grand Duchess Marie. The young Grand Duke Alexis, who was heir to the throne, was reported in a critical condition.

THE FUNERAL OF MRS. C. V. SMITH

The funeral of Mrs. Marion Marshall Smith, the wife of Charles V. Smith, who died on Friday, was held this afternoon at her late residence on Greenbrook road, the Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends and there were many beautiful flowers. Two sweet selections were sung and there was a service by Lydia Chapter, Order of Eastern Star. The bearers were: George Berstler, of Millburn; William and Vernon Tigar, of Gladstone; Eric Miller, Leslie Stuart and Walter J. Leveridge, all of Plainfield. The interment was made in Springfield, N. J.

Mrs. Smith's death came as a great shock to her friends. She was a picture of health in the middle of the week and took lunch with Mrs. D. C. Smalley, of East Front street, on Wednesday. On Thursday she had a lunch at her home in honor of a friend and was seized with illness while at the table. She asked that she might be assisted to bed and she never rallied but passed away on Friday night.

PADEREWSKI COMES HERE NEXT MONDAY

Always successful in its choice of musical celebrities to bring before Plainfield audiences, the Plainfield Musical Club has again demonstrated its ability to secure the best by booking the world-renowned pianist, Paderewski, for a recital in the Plainfield High school, Monday next, March 26.

Paderewski was born with musical talent, in the land of musicians, but he had to fight for a place in the musical world, under difficulties, for he had to fight poverty at the same time. When most discouraged in his attempts to develop his art, and about to give up, he met Helena Modjeska, the famous tragedienne, who about ten years ago played Macbeth in this city, and she encouraged him to go to Vienna, and persist in his musical efforts. This was the turning point, and led to a career which the whole world now recognizes. Plainfield is fortunate in having this noted man come here, for his trips to America are far apart, and the great musical centres claim most of his time.

POTATOES, ADMISSION AT PROCTOR'S

At Proctor's introduces an entirely new innovation to aid local charities. On Saturday, March 24, at 10:30 a. m., children will be admitted to a special performance and the admission will be two potatoes to be deposited in barrels which are placed at the door for that purpose. Adults accompanying children will be charged the same.

The management solicits the aid of any ladies who would care to chaperone the children.

The performance will be entirely different from the regular program presented on that day.

MUSIC FEATURES THESE VESPER SERVICES

Mrs. Madden, a noted Pacific coast singer, was the soloist at the Congregational church Lenten vesper service yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Madden's singing was deeply appreciated by the congregation attending the service. Music has been a feature of these Lenten services, and will be continued for the remainder of the series. At the Palm Sunday vesper service, a prominent tenor will be the soloist.

Among those who have volunteered for the service are Professor William Gillespie, J. D. McClanahan, H. Chapin, P. W. Goster, N. D. Jackson, A. Mathiasen, G. T. Purves, D. E. Barbwell, R. F. TEACHING POLICE MANUAL OF ARMS

Police Lieutenant Maurice Higgins has been drilling the members of the police force in the manual of arms and target practice for the last week, and the men are beginning to show a degree of efficiency, which will count for much in carrying out the preparedness program which Mayor Calkins has in contemplation and which he will announce to the Common Council tonight.

Lieutenant Higgins attended the Plattsburg camps for six weeks last summer and acquired a knowledge of military affairs that makes him more valuable as a police officer and enables him to give instruction to the other members of the force.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING LARGELY ATTENDED

Inspiring Music and an Address Features Gathering at Plainfield Theatre

Inspiring music by the Biederwolf choir, with selections by Emil Closs, the well-known bell ringer, and an interesting address were features of a popular meeting held at the Plainfield Theatre yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. The attendance of both men and women was unusually large. Every seat on the main floor was taken and many seats in the gallery were occupied.

Arthur M. Harris, superintendent of the First Baptist church Bible school, presided, and the meeting was opened with the singing of some of the more popular hymns from the Biederwolf song books, interspersed with selections by Mr. Closs. Another feature was the accompaniment by members of the Dutch Arms orchestra. Miss Alice Drake presided at the piano.

The speaker of the afternoon was W. G. Landes, of Philadelphia, State superintendent of the Pennsylvania Sunday School Association. He gave a most practical talk on the subject of "The Mainspring of Life." Mr. Landes was at one time a watch manufacturer, and he likened the watch with its various parts to the human life, emphasizing the point that it is the mainspring that makes the watch go, and so it is with the human life—it is the mainspring or the vision of life that makes a person go.

Mr. Landes contrasted the good and bad visions in life, showing how one might blast one's whole future and the other would make a life useful in so many ways. He referred to the rise of John Wanamaker, describing his vision as a young man for larger things which he has lived to see realized. He then contrasted that life with that of Napoleon, who defied man and God, only to finally meet his Waterloo and an unholy destruction.

Mr. Landes urged everyone to be sure and have the right vision which would lead to a life of happiness, success and eternal salvation. In quoting some statistics, he said that the Protestant church and Sunday School today have about a 20 per cent. asset, 30 per cent. of the people attending either one occasionally, while 50 per cent. never attend church or Sunday school. This, Mr. Landes said, does not look good, but he spoke hopefully for the future, commenting on the increased interest and activity in religious endeavor.

AMERICAN SLANG IN ENGLAND FEARFUL AND WONDERFUL

By United Press:

London, March 19.—American slang in England today is a fearful and wonderful thing. The Britishers struggle with it valiantly, as witness this squib in one newspaper just after the announcement of the German submarine decree:

"Among those seen at the steamship booking office was Mr. Alex Q. Jones of Detroit. He was most indignant in his breezy American way.

"Alex Q. Jones is taking passage for little old Detroit," he declared, "and if the Germans think they can frighten him off the big drink by their methods they have taken a long slide into the wrong guess shop. Maybe President Wilson doesn't think it worth while to protect Alex. Q. Jones, but the Yankee Doodle boys in Congress will let Germany know where she alights and Alex Q. Jones will jolly well take his chances."

The paragrapher of the Pall Mall Gazette did a little better in discussing what he said was recent news from the U. S.:

"They are now calling Count von Bernstorff a Spanish athlete," he said. "To understand this you must know that the very latest American slang is 'throwing the bull.' Wherefore one who throws the bull would be a Spanish athlete."

EGGS TAKE A DROP MAY GO HIGHER

Eggs have come down in price during the last two or three weeks, and are now bringing from 35 to 40 cents per dozen. But not the optimism of the housewife run away with her, however, for George L. Gillingham, of Moorestown, a professional lecturer on agricultural subjects, while addressing the Pennsylvania State Horticulaural Society last week, predicted that eggs will reach $1 per dozen within the coming year. He based his prophecy upon the ever-increasing price of feed and the lack of scientific handling of the chicken business.

WANT "NEGRO" USED AS PROPER NOUN

Representative Negroes of this community have joined the nation-wide movement to have writers regard their race with the same dignity that is accorded other races and to use the word "Negro" as a proper noun instead of as an adjective, "negro." It is pointed out that the Negro as a race are entitled to the same distinction as any of the other races which are referred to by writers as proper nouns.

REPORTS SHOW MUCH WORK ACCOMPLISHED

Review of Activities of National Special Aid Given at Public Meeting

The general reports of the work accomplished and contemplated by the Plainfield branch of the National Special Aid Society since the inauguration of its recruiting campaign, shows that this active "preparedness" organization will be a valued one in case of emergency.

Mrs. J. M. Charles, chairman of headquarters, announces that since the latter were opened at 175 East Front street, on March 1, 220 workers and 175 visitors had been there. A great deal of literature had been asked for, and the increasing interest was encouraging. She stated that headquarters will be open on Tuesday evenings, as well as Thursday evenings, from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Frank Osmun, chairman of the junior branch, reports a growing membership, now so large that it was impossible to keep up the order of having regular officers, and in the future this branch will be under the officership of the parent organization. She said that the girls are rapidly becoming as proficient as the older members in making surgical dressings.

Mrs. Austin Andrews, chairman of motor service, states that since the recent recruiting campaign her motor squad had doubled in membership, and the work of taking infantile paralysis sufferers to and from Muhlenberg Hospital is being done by these members. She also said that she was endeavoring to obtain the services of an instructor for the motor service, one who would teach the members of the squad how to meet any emergency while on duty, such as a break-down, tire trouble, etc.

Mrs. W. C. Corlell, chairman of first aid, reported the formation of a class of twenty-five members to take a course under Dr. H. D. Corbuiser for the emergency care of the wounded.

Letters of acknowledgement were received from Governor Walter E. Edge and Mayor Leighton Calkins, thanking the society for its offer of service in case of emergency.

It was announced by Mrs. Walter L. Righter, chairman of the entertainment committee, that the tickets for Ian Hay's lecture, at the High school Friday night, were selling rapidly, and she urged an early selection of tickets before the best ones are sold. Mrs. F. W. Goddard, president, closed the meeting with a pleasing address, thanking the members for their interest and enthusiasm.

The following are the letters referred to:

My dear Miss Fleming:

Governor Edge directs me to acknowledge your favor of March 3, and thank the National Special Aid Society, of Plainfield and North Plainfield Chapter, for their very kindly offer of services in case of either local or national emergency.

The Governor is deeply grateful for this evidence of a desire for patriotic service on the part of the members of this chapter, and he directs me to assure you and the members that in case of necessity the State will be glad to avail itself of your splendid offer.

Sincerely yours,
F. E. CROASDALE,
Sec. to Governor.

Dear Miss Fleming:

I have yours of the 9th inst. and greatly appreciate the action of the Board of Directors of the National Special Aid Society of Plainfield and North Plainfield in placing the services of the members of the organization at my disposal, in case of emergency.

Yours truly,
LEIGHTON CALKINS,
Mayor.

EDGE IS TOO BUSY TO THINK OF FUTURE

While in Newark Saturday night for an hour's rest between speeches in Philadelphia in the afternoon and in Orange and Montclair in the evening, Governor Walter E. Edge smiled over a story published about his political future.

"Just say that I'm too busy being Governor of New Jersey just now to even give a thought to political movements of the future," he said. "No other answer seems necessary to the fact that some of my newspaper friends seem to find pleasure in connecting my name with the next election for United States Senator."

THE STORE OF SERVICE

A story is told concerning a visit of Paderewski to an English country house, where one afternoon a countess remarked to the famous pianist: "Oh, Mr. Paderewski, you play, don't you?"

"Yes, madame," the master replied.

"Then," said the countess, "would you mind turning my daughter's music?"

MAKE URGENT APPEAL FOR HOOVER FUND

United Effort Being Made to Save the Lives of Millions of Starving Belgians

Plainfield women who have become interested in the Hoover Fund which is being raised to prevent so far as possible the starvation of the Belgians, and especially the one million children of that country who are in great need of food, are making an urgent appeal for help. A meeting held in this city last week which was addressed by Mrs. Vernon Kellogg, of New York, resulted in arousing considerable interest and plans are now being formulated whereby the support of a certain number of children will be pledged.

The appeal cites the fact that the million Belgian children must have an extra ration each day or they will die of slow starvation. One dollar a month will supply this extra ration and save a child. The appeal comes to the United States to furnish the money and save these children. It comes from Herbert Hoover, chairman of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, from the Pope in a letter to Cardinal Gibbons and other influential men. Through the combined efforts of American people it is hoped to raise $1,000,000 a month for this work.

Theodore Roosevelt, in a letter written to the Rocky Mountain Club to aid in the raising of its Hoover Fund for Belgian Relief, says that "the nation that turns a deaf ear to the sufferings of ten million people, including a million and a quarter children, is committing moral suicide.

"I should like to see every school house in the west a collecting agency for this fund. I should like to see every Sunday school interested. I should like to see in every city and village a central agency collecting and forwarding relief. I should like to see every social gathering wind up with a Belgian collection. I cannot say more. I should be ashamed to say less."

LOCAL RESIDENTS ENJOYING FLORIDA

A Little Account of Their Sojourn at Florence Villa, in Tropical Surroundings

Writing from Florida, Alfred Zimmerman, of Park avenue, gives an interesting account of his trip with Mrs. Zimmerman, mentioning some sights that travellers often miss. He says:

"From a trip of the Oklawaha river, with its striking scenic features, in a fifty foot launch, where alligators and wild birds are in the native haunts; the river being about as wide as a street, making a thousand turns in its course of 137 miles, the visitor ends a day's journey at Silver Springs, where fish can be seen through glass-bottomed boats.

"We are located at Florence Villa, where a colony of northern people is located. This is delightfully situated in the lake region of the State, and a better managed hotel would be difficult to find. Fruit is seen on every hand. The trees in this locality were not affected by the cold snap that destroyed much fruit elsewhere in Florida, and the trees bend under their burden of luscious grape fruit, oranges, tangerines, and the like.

"The temperature is about 85, and the bathers have great sport at the lake just at the foot of the hills near the Villa."

Mr. Zimmerman will continue his journey to the East Coast resorts, and return home from Key West.

On the register of the Florence Villa were several Plainfielders, including Mrs. L. DeGraff, Mr. and Mrs. James W. DeGraff, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Howell, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGee.

ADVENTURE IN AIR BEFORE GERMAN LINES

A letter to F. H. Andrews gives a most thrilling adventure in the air before the German lines. The following is a part of the letter:

"I want to tell you about something which happened here recently. We had three machines on patrol long portions of our lines. I was the second machine. When we were a little nearer than usual they fired several shots at us. I saw the second burst just between the booms of the car ahead, cutting the control of the machine. The result was that the machine started off in a great spiral dive, hopelessly out of control. Watching it go down, and wondering how it would land, was one of my most thrilling experiences.

The pilot's only chance of a safe landing was to get it out of the spin, so as to glide safely down. The spin was caused because one wing was higher than the other, and the controls to rectify this were gone. Watching from above we saw him get out of the spin and glide straight down. He did this by having his observer leave his seat, and climbing over him, crawl out on the wing. This sounds simple, but, in fact, no one who has not flown can know what it means. It requires courage and coolness of the highest order. The slightest slip meant death, while success meant that they both landed safely. He certainly deserves decoration of some sort. He has earned it."

The Poor

By WALT MASON, The Peel-Philosopher

"I cannot give the poor a cent," remarks the portly, stallfed gent, who's just consumed a pie; "it turns my auburn ringlets gray to make ends meet from day to day, all prices are so high. Just glance along that bill of fare, and note the prices ruling there, on canvasback and teal; mark how things cost to beat the band, and then perhaps you'll understand why I can't spare a wheel. Planked steaks with French imported peas, and all such staple things as these, that every man must eat, are costing now so many wheels the woe-begone consumer feels a coldness in his feet. Without such things as mushroom sance my victuals are a total loss, and they've gone up in price; I shudder, too, as well I may, recalling what I have to pay for bottles on the ice. A man must feed before he thinks of handing out to needy ginks a portion of his kale, and he has little left, I swear, when he has paid for Belgian hare, for oyster stews and quail. I'd help the poor, as well as you, if lofty sentiments would do, instead of silver dimes. Now I must eat a slab of beef, while I deplore the woe and grief of these outlandish times."

On the Wagon

A legion recently swore off; they said, "We've had a-plenty; no more we'll crowd up to the trough, and guzzle S. Frumenti." And now, while yet the pledge is young, they suffer every minute, and from a cask they'd knock the bung, and drink the liquid in it. Cheer up—this epoch is the worst, the first few weeks of striving to curb a million dollar thirst, and keep the pledge surviving. That thirst, by years of effort built, is not at once dejected; but in a little while 'twill wilt, when finding it's neglected. The day will come, as from the dump you keep on gallivanting, when water from the village pump will seem to you enchanting. Though water seems upon the blink, until you're on the wagon, you never poured a better drink into a cup or flagon. When you're as glad to see a mug of undiluted water, as you were glad to see a jug of booze that made you totter, your million dollar thirst is tanned, your troubles all to bliss turn, and you will join the gladsome band that whoops around the cistern.

QUESTION WHO WILL BE ARTILLERY MAJOR

"Who will be the major in command of the field artillery battalion of New Jersey?" is a question asked frequently, in military circles since the return of Battery C from the border. New Jersey has had a battalion of artillery—three batteries—since last spring, but the rush for the border and the separation of the troops has prevented any election being held for major. Now that C is back in quarters with Battery A in East Orange and Battery B is at its home station at Camden, the call from the adjutant general for an election is being awaited.

That New Jersey has a battalion of artillery is principally due to the efforts of Captain Claude E. Lantesman, commander of Battery A, who worked and planned until he succeeded in getting permission to split Battery A into two batteries, thus creating C.

Battery A was ordered to Douglas, Ariz., with Battery B. C went to Tobyhanna, Pa., and then started for the border when the other batteries were on their way home.

Thus the officers of the three batteries were not together and for some reason the adjutant general used this as an excuse to postpone an election. By virtue of seniority of commission Captain Samuel G. Barnard of Battery B was commander of the two batteries.

BRITLING'S GOD IS DISCUSSED

Dr. Herring Compares Him to God of Scripture in Sermon Last Evening

Dr. Herring, preaching in the First Presbyterian church, took for his theme, last night, "Mr. Britling's God and the God of the Scriptures," saying in substance:

"Who is Mr. Britling and what care we for his idea of God? Is not the God of Scripture good enough for us? Yes, but it has been suggested that half a million people will adopt this kind of a god.

"Well, here is Mr. Britling's faith: He has worked it out of his experiences of Europe's great war.

"My God is not the Maker of heaven and earth—that is the Jew God the Christians took over—not my God. My God is limited and human like ourselves. A finite God, who struggles in His great and comprehensive way as we struggle in our weak and silly way. He is not almighty, but struggling to be almighty. Get into the fight with Him.

"If I thought there was an omnipotent God who looked down on battles and death and all the waste and horror of this war, able to prevent these things, doing them to amuse Himself—I would spit in His empty face.

"What is the matter with this religion?

"I—If Mr. Britling all through his life had been a man of a deeply religious life, he would not have uttered such a creed. He cared nothing for the church, and when the crisis comes and he loses his son, he finds he has laid up for himself no religious experience and he suddenly shapes a creed for himself not based on the Bible, but on Henri Bergson's 'Creative Evolution.' Perhaps those eight mild heart affairs after his marriage stood in the way of his being deeply religious.

"2—When Mr. Britling speaks of a God who has brought on this war for his own amusement, he sets up a Deity which no sane man believes—and which is embodied in no church creed. God is not indifferent to the world's suffering. Jesus Christ and His message is the evidence of that. It is the sin, the indifference and the greed of men and nations which have brought on the world this sad condition of things, and we believe that out of it all there will come a better order of things—that these agonies are but the birth throes of a new and higher social order."

WEAK FROM GRIPPE

Home Missionary Tells How She Restored Her Strength.

"I am a Home Missionary, was weak and run-down after a hard spell of LaGrippe. I had headaches, indigestion and pains in my chest, and was tired all the time. A friend asked me to try Vinol and the result is I am free from those troubles and I feel well and strong and able to go to work again." Mrs. Hattie Johnson, Towanda, Pa.

The reason Vinol was so successful in building up Mrs. Johnson's health is because it is a constitutional remedy which contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, all combined in a delicious native tonic wine.

We wish every person in Plainfield who is suffering from a weakened, run-down devitalized condition, would try Vinol on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to benefit them.

MARY PICKFORD TWO DAYS AT PROCTOR'S THEATRE

Miss Mary Pickford, Famous Players-Paramount Star.

Today and tomorrow Proctor's Theatre presents Mary Pickford in the foremost motion picture favorite her latest subject, "A Poor Little Rich Girl." It is a tale of particular heart appeal, offering many smiles and situations of humane charm. "A Poor Little Rich Girl" affords the incomparable Mary Pickford in a screen play which allows ample opportunity to portray touching situations as only she can. Gwendolyn, the "poor little rich girl," is so called for her wealth and material comforts and her poverty in the happiness and affection she craves, who is denied the actual pleasures of childhood through her selfish parents who are too busy with their own ambitions to realize their child is unhappy.

In addition to "A Poor Little Rich Girl" these two days, Mrs. Vernon Castle will appear in "Patria," also the latest Hearst Pathe News and exclusive motion pictures of the cornerstone laying of Plainfield's new city hall. The latter shows remarkable views of all the societies and individuals who were present on that occasion.

BON TON GIRLS TONIGHT AT PLAINFIELD THEATRE

There is said to be more class and dash to the performances of the "New Bon Ton Girls" than to any other organization which will be seen here this season. Devotees of high-class burlesque will have an opportunity of judging for themselves tonight when this aggregation will hold the stage of the Plainfield Theatre.

There are no better exponents of fun and frolic than Leo Hoyt, Lester Allen and Babe LaTour, who are foremost in the cast. Others who may be depended on to qualify as entertainers of worth include Gladys Parker, June La Veigh and Calhahan and Jackson. The latter do a whirlwind dance that is said to be cyclonic in its swiftness and charm.

The chorus, which is always a potent factor with this show, is composed of young and pretty girls who are especially graceful and accomplished. The management has provided an environment of superb stage settings and elaborate costumes. There are more than twenty catchy musical numbers in the two-act burlesque.

VAUDEVILLE TOMORROW AT PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Amelia Somerville, known to thousands of theatre-goers all over the country, and star in a number of Broadway productions in recent years, occupies the position at the top of the vaudeville bill at the Plainfield Theatre tomorrow and Wednesday. She entertains with a number of the latest song hits, as well as a host of catchy stories.

All through the week special features will provide extra attractions to the usual bill. Tomorrow will be "Country Store," and advance information has leaked out that potatoes and other valuables will be distributed along with the gold pieces. Wednesday night will see the inauguration of something new in the shape of "contest night." Diving for pieces of money in a pan of flour or water is one of the laughable features. On Thursday night there will be nine acts of vaudeville on the "tryout" program. The entire bill will also be changed Thursday.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENT

Annette Kellerman at Hippodrome

Annette Kellerman is one of this year's most ardent skating devotees and Charlotte, who has just returned to the Hippodrome, counts swimming her second best bet in the line of sports—after skating. The fair Charlotte is permitted to use the Hippodrome ice pond two mornings each week for practice and she has invited the divine Venus to share the frozen surface with her. In return, the famous Annette of form divine has said to Miss Oelschlegel, "You may use my private tank."

STATE POLICE NOT NEEDED

Former Assemblyman Anderson Says Every Community Can Take Care of Itself

Having organized a police force of more than 100 men, serving without pay, to preserve the peace in North Plainfield township, of which he was chairman of the Township Committee for many years, former Assemblyman William Delaroche Anderson announces that there is no justification for the Legislature passing a State constabulary bill and creating a police force which can only be used for one purpose, and that purpose is to settle labor troubles.

Mr. Anderson ridicules the survey of the State Chamber of Commerce and its effort to show that large sections of the State have no police protection, and for that reason there should be a State constabulary. He says that the law and order of these communities is just as good as the people want, and if there are no police it is simply because there has been no demand for such a force and indicates that the community is law-abiding. He points out that the sheriff of any county may summon every male citizen above fifteen years of age, who is not infirm, to assist in upholding the law and further declares that there is no more reason why a State police force should be supplied for the rural districts than there is for asking the State to police the city of Plainfield and relieve the community of maintaining a police force by local tax assessments.

Mr. Anderson's statement is as follows:

"The State of New Jersey needs a State constabulary about as much as the full moon needs a coat of lustrous paint. New Jersey is one of the most peaceful Industrial States of the Union and the rare occasions on which such a body would be needed and useful are so rare as to make the cost of maintenance between times prohibitive and uneconomic. The only case of serious disorder that I can call to mind recall that was not effectively handled by local authority was in Middlesex county, where the sheriff called in outsiders as a constabulary with very deplorable results. He could have summoned citizens of the county who would undoubtedly have done better.

"There is certainly no demand in this section of the State for this innovation, and as far as I have been able to observe, the principal demand at Trenton comes from certain corporate interests who, through their attorneys and lobbyists, are urging the passage of legislation on the subject. The solution of law and order is the willingness of citizens to serve law and order and not that method which creates new expense burdens and is unnecessarily cumbersome and formal and one that simply creates another organization to become a political asset and party perquisite.

"I am one of those who believe that under our form of government every citizen has a public responsibility and a public duty which he owes and which I believe he is willing to assume, whether it be military training and service, police duty or any other service. Every community can provide police protection to all within its borders."

NEUTRALS RAISE NO OBJECTION AGAINST ARMED SHIPS

Special to the Courier-News:

Washington, March 19.—The State Department has heard nothing of reported objections by European neutrals, particularly Holland, against armed American merchantmen entering their ports.

Commercial Problems Growing Out of War Conditions

A Non-Technical Explanation of the Big Questions Confronting Business Men at This Time

By SAMUEL WANT

Pending Legislation Affecting Business.

The extent to which the government may go in using business property for public purposes in case of emergency, and also the situations which business men must keep in mind in a crisis like the present in connection with their selling and other operations, is indicated by House Bill 20779, now pending in the House of Representatives.

The Bill provides, among other things, that in time of war, or of national emergencies to be determined by the President, the President is authorized:

(a.) To compel any person or corporation to construct or manufacture any ships or war material which may be required by the Secretary of the Navy, and which are of the kind usually produced or capable of being produced by such person or corporation. Such orders must be complied with to the exclusion of all other business, and at a price to be determined by the Secretary of the Navy.

(b.) To modify or cancel any existing contract for the building, production or purchase of ships or war material.

(c.) To require the owner of any factory in which ships or war material are built or produced to place the whole or any part of the output, of such factory at the disposal of the United States.

When it is borne in mind that war material includes all of the raw and manufactured products entering into the maintenance of the navy organization, including clothing, food, arms, medical supplies, etc., it is readily perceivable that practically the entire business of the nation is subject to call under the terms of the Bill in question.

While the Bill in question imposes startling powers upon the nation's Executive, its constitutionality, as a measure of national protection and emergency, is not open to serious question.

Proper provision is made in the Bill for compensation to all persons whose property, factories, or materials may be appropriated under the terms of the Bill.

ALIENS AND THE VOTE

The attitude of the United States toward children and aliens and their relations to citizenship presents a strange contrast. We spend money by the million to educate children for the protection of republican institutions. We all understand perfectly that a democratic government is not practicable unless popular intelligence exists. Meanwhile millions of aliens have come in, and in most States have acquired the suffrage even though a very large part of them can't read. If it is necessary to educate children for citizenship, why not aliens also? Of course, night schools are kept in many places, but the majority of illiterates are not within reach of these schools. There will never be good government while any considerable element is unable to read the ballot and the newspapers, so as to become intelligent in public matters.

WOULD HASTEN PREPAREDNESS

Congressman Frederick W. Dallinger of Massachusetts believes that Congress should be guided by expert advice from the War Department in allotting appropriations for the army and that it may be exceedingly dangerous for members to attempt economies in directions which may seem to them perfectly safe. "We ought to give the War Department in this crisis everything it asks for," declares Mr. Dallinger, "and then, if it does not give us the guns and ammunition required we can hold it responsible." Government arsenals should be working three shifts, in Mr. Dallinger's opinion, so that we can have an adequate supply of arms and ammunition to meet any emergency that may confront us.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The danger of looking under the bed at night is not so much that you may find a German spy as that you will see considerable dirt left by Mary Ann.

In the selection of Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch as regent, to succeed his brother, Czar Nicholas, who abdicated the throne, it would appear there is one "itch" in the royal family that was not scratched, in making up the list of eligibles for places in the government.

One reason for the high cost of food is the national custom of presenting the pigs, through the garbage pail, a lot of stuff that in other countries would be considered nourishing and appetizing.

The man who takes off his hat the instant the "Star-Spangled Banner" is played is not necessarily the first to enlist when war comes.

Night sessions of Congress and a snore from any member is considered an affirmative vote.

Among the food riots are those that occur in the pantry every 15 minutes after school closes.

The latest crop of food price investigations will come along quite conveniently for politicians who are out of a job.

It is hard lines for public official who merely gives good service and pleases the people without bestirring himself to do political work for those who protect him.

That mysterious diagram that you pick up on the streets is not always some spy's drawing of our fortifications, but may simply be the Chinaman's laundry check.

Still there are said to be 100,000 spies operating in this country, and if they keep on spring you will have to go to the cemetery to count some of them.

It's a mystery why some people will gamble when there is a sure thing in buying up some food supply and then starting a fake scare that it is going to be short.

The decline in the production of meat, corn, wheat, etc., did not worry the girls any, but the effect of the shortage of sugar on candy production must have caused some emotion.

AERIES OF NORTH JERSEY TO MEET

The aeries of northern New Jersey will hold a meeting in the home of Newark Aerie on April 10. The principal object of the meeting is to complete arrangements for the State convention, of the order to be held in Wildwood, July 6, 6 and 7. Grand Worthy Vice President Frederick Hughes will officially represent the Grand Aerie and will address the gathering on the benefits derived from State organization.

Other speakers will be Past Worthy President Fred M. Smith, New Jersey's candidate for grand worthy vice president at the next national convention; State President James E. Desmond, of Elizabeth; State Secretary John C. Coffey, of Passaic; Past Worthy President James W. McCarthy, of Jersey City, and State Conductor Siegler, of Progress Aerie.

A determined effort will be made to make the State convention one of the greatest ever held by the order. Assurances have been received that a committee from Wildwood Aerie will be present to explain in detail the program of events for the convention.

ART ASSOCIATION IS ORGANIZED

A meeting of the Plainfield Art Association, an organization to further public interest in the arts of painting, sculpture and architecture in Plainfield by holding exhibitions, lectures, etc., was held in Miss Edith Van Boskerck's Rookery on Saturday evening, March 17. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. C. B. Tober; vice-president, Mrs. Henry Weltz; treasurer, J. Fred Zerega; secretary, Miss Elizabeth Goddard.

Jonas Lie, of New York, gave an informal talk on the need and value of such an organization in Plainfield. Already there are about fifty enrolled members. Any one interested in such a movement in Plainfield may become an active member by paying two dollars a year and sending his name to any of the officers.

SCHOOL BOARD ISSUES STATEMENT

At the annual school meeting tomorrow night the taxpayers of the district will be asked to vote on the estimated budget amounting to $24,125, a slight increase over last year. Of this the State school funds supply $8,000, also $700 for manual training. This leaves the district $15,425 to raise.

In a statement issued by the Board of Education to be presented to the voters at the meeting will be found the concise report of District Clerk A. J. Hamley. Last year's receipts and disbursements totaled $21,204.87. The question of more school accommodations will be presented the meeting tomorrow night, the board finding that the increase in attendance has made it necessary for additional room to be made for the pupils. The members of the Board whose terms of office expire this year are: Paul Carpenter, Theodore W. Day, Frank R. Wynkoop and W. S. Frederick. They will be candidates for re-election.

NEW HAMPSHIRE FARMER GROWS BEANS

The difference between beans "three quarts for a quarter," and beans at $4 per bushel up, makes the difference between a crop which hardly carries itself, and one which is a money-maker for the farmer. One New Hampshire farmer, this last season, planted three acres of beans. The season was poor, and he got only sixteen bushels per acre. But he sold these beans for $7 a bushel, and after paying for seed and labor for land rent and for fertilizer, he had $70 an acre or a little over $200 from his three-acre field.

WAR ODDITIES

London—A lock of hair of Mary, Queen of Scots, was one of the valued possessions disposed of by the will of Major Sir Foster Hugh Egerton Cunliffe, who met death on the field of honor in France. The will said the bedroom would be found in the Major's safe and was to go to Sir David Kinloch.

London—Asbestos pajamas have been provided for statues in the Duke of Westminster's house as a fire precaution while the food department has its offices there.

London—Professor Gandier of Lille extracted a Bulgarian bullet weighing 16 grams from the heart of a Russian officer who is expected to survive the operation.

Paris, March 19.—Canadian Tommies have introduced the pumpkin pie to France. Grocers are still selling autumn pumpkins at 2 cents a pound for pie.

POSITIONS OFFERED TO PRINCETON MEN

Princeton, March 19.—Princeton Seniors are no longer jobless. As a result of a job-market established on the campus a few weeks ago corporations from many sections of the country are now writing for employes with an eagerness indicating a great demand for college men.

Most of the jobs offered the Princeton boys are at a salary of from $60 to $70 a month, but a number of corporations offer specialized work at considerably higher salaries. The firms who have written to Princeton's job-market include large department stores, railway companies, public service corporations, automobile and other manufacturing plants, brokerage firms and chemical manufacturing companies. It is a notable fact that in several of these instances firms specify that they desire men whose ideals in life are for service rather than personal gain.

The Princeton Committee on Business Opportunities, organized by the Seniors themselves, is now at another angle of the situation, that is, trying to find men to accept the positions.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

THEY WERE RUNDOWN

How often we hear it said of a man or woman that "they were rundown in health," which accounts for their present sickness. For that reason it is important that when you find you tire easily, when your nerves are troublesome or your work is irksome, you should strengthen your system immediately with the blood-enriching, tissue-building food in Scott's Emulsion which contains pure Norwegian cod liver oil and is free from alcohol.

MOVING PICTURES OF PILGRIM'S PROGRESS

A remarkable visualization of a wonderful book, Pilgrim's Progress, is to be presented in moving pictures at the First Baptist Church, Wednesday and Thursday nights, March 21 and 22. Theodore Roosevelt has said it is his favorite work of fiction, and that one of its characters, "Great Heart," is more admired by him than any hero in the whole realm of literature.

It is claimed for this film that it is the only religious movie having a record of continuous presentation in churches for two years with never a word of criticism from those who have seen it, even the most critical about what is proper in a church. This picture is never shown in theatres. It was made in Torino, Italy, with the famous Alexander Salvini as Christian, and a notable cast of over 100 of Italy's best talent.

While the action takes place on the screen and the audiences beholds the various struggles of Christian, a lecture by Elwyn Eaton and special music on the pipe organ, add much to the understanding and inspiration, especially for those who have never read the book.

CLUBS AND CHURCHES MUST PAY TAX

Internal Revenue Collector Duffy, of this district, has given his ruling to the effect that under the provisions of the Act of September 3, 1916, it is necessary for a tax to be paid on pool and billiard tables and bowling alleys by all clubs, even though there is no revenue derived therefrom.

The law, Collector Duffy points out, that it affects fraternities and also applies to churches and other organizations that maintain pool tables in their social rooms for the enjoyment of members. The tax on each pool table is $2.50 for the period of six months from January 1, 1917, to June 30, 1917.

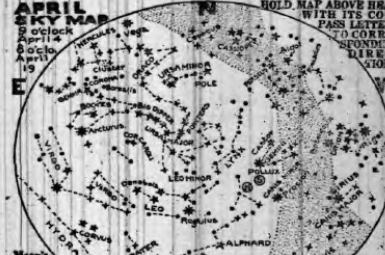
THE HEAVENS IN APRIL

(By C. S. Braisin, of the Columbia University Observatory Staff)



The planets Neptune and Saturn find places on this month's map. Saturn is still in the constellation Gemini, where he has been all winter, but has now taken up his direct easterly motion through the zodiacal groups, which will slowly but markedly change the configuration of that interesting section of the heavens. Neptune is to the east of Saturn, but is so dim that his light is less than that of a star of the seventh magnitude and is therefore hopeless for our style of observation.

April will also afford us another opportunity to view the small planet Mercury, which is the nearest of all the planets to the sun. It is this very nearness to the bright, all-eclipsing disk of the sun that makes the observation of this planet difficult enough so that the most favorable occasions have to be utilized. These occur when the orbital motion of Mercury has brought it as far as possible from the sun as seen from the earth.

On April 24 the planet will be at its greatest eastern elongation, so that for a very short time it will be visible when the sun is below the horizon. The word elongation is the technical astronomical term for angular distance from the sun as seen from the earth; therefore, this phenomenon means that Mercury will be as far to the east of the sun as it can get and will be an evening star.

On the 24th the angle between planet and sun will be about 20½ degrees; with an unobstructed and cloudless horizon we should look near the spot where the sun has just sunk below the horizon and about a fifth of the way up to the zenith. We do not, of course, need to confine our observations to the 24th alone, but should take advantage of the first clear day within a week preceding or following the 24th. Our map can not show the planet's correct location, for it will have set well before nine o'clock.

What We Know of Mercury

The orbit of Mercury is the least of the planetary orbits, the mean solar distance being only about 36 million miles; the next one in order, Venus, is twice as far away from the sun. In accordance with the fundamental laws of planetary motion, Mercury, therefore, has the shortest period of revolution around the sun and completes this in a quarter of a year. For this reason, also, Mercury receives nearly seven times as much heat per square yard as the earth, and this alone would make conditions on his surface impossible for man. Furthermore, we know that the albedo, or reflecting power of the planet is very low, showing the probable absence of any atmosphere or, at most, an extremely slight one. Again, at times when Mercury passes between the sun and our planet the disk of Mercury is seen with good definition and not surrounded by a halo of light, such as an extensive atmosphere would bring about by refraction.

It appears from the best observations so far that the rotation time of Mercury on its axis is the same as its period in the orbit around the sun, so that the same face, approximately, of the planet is always turned to the sun. Of course, observations of Mercury are so difficult to make because of its nearness to the sun that later observers may come to a different conclusion.

An interesting think to be noted about Mercury is that this planet shows phases analogous to those of the moon. When between us and the sun the unilluminated side of the planet is turned toward us, and we have what might be termed "new Mercury; astronomically this configuration of earth, planet and sun is called inferior conjunction of Mercury. The analogous configuration, superior conjunction of Mercury, shows the planet on the other side of the sun from us; this would give us the face of Mercury fully illuminated by sunlight and corresponds in a way to full moon. Between these two positions we can see different gradations of phase.

Lunar Occultations of Stars

The moon on the monthly round of its orbital path about the earth continually interposes its bulk between us and the stars which occupy the projection of its path on the celestial sphere. For a short time, then, the star is eclipsed from our view. However, the number of bright stars which are thus subject to lunar occultation or eclipse is very small and not extremely often do we have a chance to observe this happening to a star which is itself easily observable. This month two stars of good magnitude will be occulted and provide a spectacle for us which is well worth observation.

On April 2 at 10:27 p. m. Eastern standard time, the moon will obliterate from view the 4th magnitude star Leonis, and on April 11, at 2:53 o'clock in the morning, the star Sigma Scorpionis will receive the same treatment. This latter is a third magnitude star just west of the bright star Antares, and the phenomenon will occur when the constellation is about on the meridian, low down in the southern sky. A scientific fact of no small importance can be learned from these occultations: namely, that the moon has no atmosphere, for if it did, the disappearance of the star would be gradual and not so absolutely sudden.

The New Constellations

Among the new constellations for this month are: Corvus, the Crow, and the long Water Snake, Hydra, with the red star Alphard glowing in solitary grandeur in a field devoid of other bright stars; the entire group of Bootes, with Arcturus, and the group of Virgo, the Virgin, with the white first magnitude star, Spica, are well above the horizon; Hercules is a group which covers a great area of the heavens, but contains no very bright stars and is altogether inconspicuous. It contains, however, one of the most wonderful star clusters in the entire firmament, which is made up of not less than fifty thousand stars, each one in itself a glowing sun of no small size. These star clusters differ from nebulae, which are made up of finely divided matter in a state of incandescence and not of such separate large bodies. Of course, many or most of the nebulae contain globular condensations. Between Hercules and Bootes is the beautiful coronet of stars, the Northern Crown, Corona Borealis.

UNIONS CALL RAIL STRIKE OFF

Action Taken at Early Hour This Morning.

MEN WIN EIGHT HOUR DAY.

Details of Settlement Now Being Worked Out by a Joint Committee of Managers and Union Chiefs—Action Taken Regardless of Decision of United States Supreme Court on the Constitutionality of Adamson Law.

New York, March 19.—There will be no nation wide railroad strike. It was called off early this morning after conferences lasting practically all day Sunday and until after midnight today.

The men win the basic eight hour day, regardless of the decision of the United States supreme court on the Adamson law.

The settlement was announced by Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, early today, after the close of conferences with managers and men, which began early yesterday and did not end until after 1 o'clock this morning.

Secretary Lane made this brief announcement;

"Regardless of the supreme court decision on the Adamson law, the basic eight hour day will go into effect.

"Details are being worked out by a joint committee, which will conclude its work by noon today."

The brotherhood chiefs met the president's mediators late in the afternoon. Secretary Lane told both parties that the sinking of three American ships had caused a situation which for patriotic reasons should prevent either the union chiefs or railway managers from forcing the issue at this time. This argument, it was said, had caused a situation which brightened the possibility of a settlement.

Await Court Decision.

Awaiting the action of the supreme court on the Adamson law and possible developments resulting from the sinking of three American ships, the three official groups conferring to prevent the threatened railroad strike practically marked time.

The president's special board of mediators met at the Hotel Biltmore at 10:30 a. m. Sunday and remained in session except for two brief intervals throughout the day and until late at night.

Soon after the opening of the conference the nineteen members of the National committee, of the brotherhood chiefs and the president's committee began at 6 o'clock. It had been called originally for 10:30 o'clock in the morning. It lasted for half an hour without any definite results being obtained and then was suspended.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and spokesman for the brotherhood chiefs, was asked as he left the conference if the sinking of three American ships had anything to do with the action of the union leaders in absenting themselves from the morning and afternoon conferences.

"I have absolutely nothing to say about that," he answered. "Any statement regarding the situation must come from the president's committee."

The four vice presidents of the brotherhoods, headed by George H. Stone of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, left the general strike headquarters at the Herald Square hotel deserted yesterday. It was announced that they had gone to Baltimore and other important points on the Baltimore and Ohio to induce the men who struck in spite of orders to return to work.

President Is Hopeful.

Washington, March 19.—President Wilson and his cabinet were confident that a general railroad strike would be averted. The confidence in the outcome of the efforts of the government's mediators was based largely on full and complete accounts of today's conference transmitted by Secretary of the Interior Lane, who heads the mediation commission. The reports were not made public, but it was stated that they were of an encouraging nature.

Hope for a decision of the supreme court in the test case brought to establish the constitutionality of the Adamson eight hour day is passed not September to meet the demands of the railroad workers also encouraged administration officials to believe the threatened strike would be averted.

It was stated that the postponement of the strike would clear the way for calling off the contest if the highest court should bring in its decision, which it is generally believed will uphold the law.

The government mediators in New York have urged to the railroad heads and the brotherhood leaders that as the court's decision would probably settle the controversy arrangements be made for putting the law into operation just as soon as the decision is handed down. Both men and roads have been told that they should make an agreement under which the disputed points in the law could be easily and properly administered.

Union Chiefs Silent.

The joint conference between the railroad committee, the brotherhood chiefs and the president's committee began at 6 o'clock. It had been called originally for 10:30 o'clock in the morning. It lasted for half an hour without any definite results being obtained and then was suspended.

Notice of Postponement Did Not Reach Men in Time.

Freight traffic over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad was completely paralyzed Sunday by reason of the notification of the forty-eight hour suspension of the strike order not having reached the operatives. At 7 o'clock that night, not having been informed of the tentative agreement, locomotive engineers, firemen, trainmen and conductors walked out, leaving the freight trains of the entire line in and out of Washington completely tied up.

As soon as the state of affairs became known, Vice President G. H. Stone of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was dispatched by special train over the Baltimore and Ohio lines to notify the employees that the strike had been postponed. It was well into the afternoon before his mission was concluded and slowly the men returned to work.

The mistake with regard to the Baltimore and Ohio is a puzzle. The Pennsylvania, Southern railway and other lines converging in Washington all received the notice and continued operations. The belated notice of suspension of the strike order were accepted with grave suspicion by the Baltimore and Ohio men who had walked out. They could not understand why the postponement had occurred.

SEEK WOMAN'S SLAYER.

Police Seek Companion of Mrs. Hilair "Tango Pirate" Victim.

New York, March 19. The police have convinced themselves that the man who garroted and robbed Mrs. Elsie Lee Hilair of jewelry worth $5,500 at the Hotel Martinique last Thursday went to her room at her invitation and that the murder was committed between 3:30 p. m. and sundown on that day.

By questioning the employees of a score of Broadway "tango parlors" and restaurants they obtained additional evidence of the gay life she had led without the knowledge of her husband for three years, but they were more interested in the man Mrs. Hilair met at the Orpheum theater in Brooklyn on March 5 last and who has not been found. They think Mrs. Hilair was the victim of a "tango pirate."

Drowns Herself and Daughter.

New Milford, Conn., March 19.—Mrs. Louis Bayette, thirty years old, drowned herself and year-old daughter in a pond a mile from her home in Bridgewater. The bodies were recovered.

WAR ACTIVITY BY NEWARK WOMEN

Many Are Enrolling For Preparedness Work.

National League For Women's Service and Surgical Dressings Committee Are Also Attracting Scores of New Members—Many Catholic Women Are Taking Courses In First Aid.

Newark, March 19.—Recruiting for the new local branch of the National League For Women's Service, the Newark chapter of the American Red Cross, and the surgical dressings committee is progressing rapidly and beyond the expectations of the most optimistic members of those organizations. A subcommittee which practically represents these organizations is busy at work on plans to have various Catholic resources, such as auditoriums, organizations, etc., available to the government if desired.

The Newark branch of the National League For Women's Service is considering the advisability of cooperating with a men's organization, the details of which will probably be announced during this week. Both the league and the Red Cross chapter received many new members last week. The surgical dressings committee is busier than ever, and the committee on Catholic work expects to open a first aid course during the week.

The opening of the Y. M. C. A. auto school to women to learn automobile care and repair has attracted many women to the special classes for women which are being organized to take the course. Some have already started work. A general program of what Newark's women can offer in personal service is being compiled.

The Red Cross and league quarters at 777 Broad street daily present a busy scene. All women interested in such work are invited to call.

DOG COST ONE LIFE.

Two Other Occupants of Auto Capsized at Milford May Die.

Milford, Conn., March 19.—James T. Patterson, secretary and treasurer of the Cornwall & Patterson company, manufacturers of Bridgeport, is hovering between life and death at the city hospital, the result of his automobile capsizing when he endeavored in rounding a curve on a slippery pavement to save the life of a dog.

Mrs. Patterson also is in the hospital and Ernest Irvin, Jr., 12-year-old son of Rev. Dr. Phillips of New Haven, the third occupant of the car, was killed. The party were returning from a dance at the Brooklawn Country club. Mrs. Phillips had preceded them in her automobile with other members of the party and reached home before the news of the accident.

LID ON IN NEWARK.

No Liquor to Be Sold Between 1 and 3 a. m.

Newark, N. J., March 19.—The excise board clamped the city's lid today. Those with thirsts had to assuage them before 1 o'clock tomorrow morning, for no liquor is to be sold between 1 and 3 a. m. It is said that 1,000 of the 1,358 saloon keepers favor the early closing but cabaret proprietors claim it will interfere with their after theater business.

Fourteen clergymen, headed by Bishop Edwin S. Lines, joined 145 other residents in petitioning the excise board to abandon its original plan to issue all night licenses.

To Install Hamburg Pastor.

Newton, March 19.—The presbytery of Newton has announced that the installation of the Rev. J. W. Bischoff as pastor of the church at Hamburg, this county, will take place Thursday evening, March 29. The Rev. Edgar A. Hamilton of Sussex will preside and propound the constitutional questions. The Rev. O. R. Close of Blairstown will offer the charge to the pastor and the Rev. W. C. Peres the charge to the congregation. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Clarence W. Rouse of Newton.

Madison Will Vote on Budget.

Madison, March 19.—At the school election tomorrow night the voters will be asked to pass on a budget of $25,150. Two separate items will be voted upon. The first is $24,500, the amount agreed upon by the board as necessary for the maintenance of the school, and the other is $650, which is the opinion of Superintendent Godfrey and some of the members of the board for an additional grade teacher. The terms whose terms expire are running for re-election.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, tallow look, dull eyes, pimples, sometimes headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

BERNSTORFF ISSUES PUBLIC STATEMENT

Special to the Courier-News:

Berlin (by wireless), March 19.—Count von Bernstorff, former German Ambassador to the United States, has issued a public statement, defending his action in the transmitting of the Zimmermann note to Von Eckhardt, the German Minister to Mexico.

Count von Bernstorff declared that the note was transmitted to Mexico because in the event of war being declared between the United States and Germany it would have been impossible to transmit it. If there was no German-American war, he asserted, Mexico would never have known of the German proposition.

RETURNED ON GERARD'S SHIP

Elizabeth, March 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Chalfield of 426 Westminster avenue returned from Europe yesterday, crossing on the Infanta Isabel, which brought Ambassador Gerard. Mr. Chalfield made the trip leaving here in November for a New York business house. He visited Italy, Spain and Portugal, and said that the respect of the people in those countries toward the United States increased when news arrived of this country's break with Germany. Before the break he said it was the prevailing idea that this country was willing to stand for anything sooner than raise serious objection to Germany's action.

LIKE ELECTRIC BUTTON ON TOES

Tells why a corn is so painful and says cutting makes them grow.

Press an electric button and you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain.

Instead of trimming your corns, which merely makes them grow, just step into any drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of freezone. This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn stops the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels up so it lifts right out, root and all, without pain. This drug never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin.—Adv.

THREE AMERICAN VESSELS SUNK

Destroyed by U-Boats, All Without Warning.

MANY OF CREWS MISSING.

Washington Alarmed by News, but President and State Department Are Awaiting Official Reports From Consul Generals in Queenstown and London Before Acting—Two Ships Were on Way Here.

Washington, March 19.—The destruction of three great American ships in the German submarine zone has brought the United States a step nearer an actual physical clash with Germany.

According to the information before the president and the state department, all three ships—the City of Memphis, the Vigilancia and the Illinois—were sunk without warning and their crews left to the mercy of the seas in small open boats. All but eight of the crew of the Memphis were reported saved by British patrol boats. The crew of the Illinois is reported to have landed safely. Fourteen men of the Vigilancia are missing.

Await Official Reports.

The destruction of the three vessels added to the gravity and concern which the administration has felt as to the submarine situation, but there was some doubt as to whether the president would alter his carefully considered plans for resting the whole case of the United States on combating the U-boat menace by armed merchant ships.

While the president, Secretary of State Lansing and Counselor Polk of the state department reviewed in detail the meager reports from Consul Frost at Queenstown and Consul General Skinner at London no announcement was forthcoming from either the White House or the state department. Both announced that nothing could be said until full official reports of the sinkings had been received. It was stated that the sinkings materially aggravated the situation, but there was no indication of an immediate change in policy.

The president has up to now refused to make any definite move against Germany until the "armed neutrality" plan has been given a trial. There is feeling in Washington, however, that the continued destruction of American shipping and American lives might force drastic and prompt action.

In this connection it was suggested that the president may find it necessary to hasten the convening of the extraordinary session of the Sixty-fifth congress called for April 16. A new call for an extra session in ten days or two weeks was believed possible if the president decides upon a more aggressive policy.

No Letup by Germany.

In the sinking of the three American ships official Washington saw the doom of the last faint hope that Germany might so modify her submarine warfare as to render an actual clash between the countries unnecessary. The destruction of the City of Memphis, Vigilancia and Illinois was accepted as final proof that American shipping and American citizens must take the same chances in the war zone as all other neutral and belligerent shipping.

The Illinois was on her way from London to Port Arthur, Tex. She was in ballast. She normally carried a crew of thirty-five men. Her home port was New York. She was built in 1913 at Newport News, Va., and was of 5,222 gross tonnage and 380 feet long.

Vigilancia a Former Transport.

The captain, first and second officers, first, second and third engineers and twenty-three of the Vigilancia crew were landed at the Scilly islands. The fourth engineer and thirteen men are missing.

The Vigilancia was formerly a Ward line boat. The present owners are Walker, Armstrong & Co., of Savannah, Ga., who bought her from the Ward line two years ago.

During the Spanish war the Vigilancia was a transport for United States troops, operating between San Francisco and Manila. She was one of the fastest of the transport fleet. She normally carried a crew of forty-four. She left New York for Havre, France, Feb. 28.

The City of Memphis left New York Jan. 23 for Havre with a cargo of cotton. She arrived Feb. 6 at the Free-li port, whence she steamed for Cadiz. She was on her way from there to the United States when torpedoed.

The last vessel was owned by the Ocean Steamship company of New York city. She was under charter by the Savannah line. Her home port was in Savannah. The vessel was built in 1902 in Chester, Pa. She was of 5,852 gross tonnage and 3,500 net tonnage. She was 377 feet long, forty-nine feet broad and had a depth of fifteen feet. Her normal crew was fifty-eight.

Boy Killed at Basketball.

New Haven, Conn., March 19.—Thomas Downey of Wallingford, a seventeen-year-old boy, injured in a basketball game in Wallingford Saturday night between Wallingford and South Manchester high school teams, died at the hospital of St. Raphael in this city. The game was broken up in a rough and tumble fight, and Downey was kicked in the head and knocked unconscious. He was the son of John F. Downey, chairman of the Democratic committee of Wallingford.

Fourteen Hurt In Auto Crash.

Stamford, Conn., March 19.—Fourteen people were injured, three of them seriously, on the Boston post road in the town of Darien, near here, when an automobile in which they were riding turned over at a sharp curve in the road. The driver and part owner of the automobile, Nicholas Mulinchoegtes of Stamford, was driving so fast, it is said, that the car was unable to make the curve.

Annual Exposition

Of Imported and Domestic Cretonnes and of Summer Furniture

Comes Spring—and the desire to renew our homes stirs in us as surely as does the impulse of Mother Earth to adorn herself anew.

Winter draperies become suddenly irksome. We want brightness, lightness, color—and we find that the happiest way to realize these desires is through the use of cretonnes, and of wicker.

Did you ever really study a cretonne pattern? And suddenly realize that there was an idea behind it? The Moon Through the Trees pattern, for instance. You see the golden full moon, its glade glimmering on night blue water, while on either side are silhouetted dark, shadowy clumps of trees.

It was a wonderful pattern, with the personality of the designer behind it. His ideas, his creative power, dominate it. And it is so with all cretonnes that depart from the regulation cluster-of-flower effects.

We introduce a new Pheasant pattern that looks as if its colors had a golden screen over them, and show the old—many think the old one the most beautiful ever created—as well. And the gay little Kingfisher flirts his tail over several colored combinations.

We Have New Jersey's Exclusive Rights to Many of These Patterns

You will find in this exposition the best ideas of both foreign and American designers. Many of the European cretonnes that we found impossible to secure because of conditions abroad have been so carefully copied that only an expert can tell the difference.

Foliage and verdure patterns, colorful, beautiful, are to be obtained at from 50c to 1.50 the yard.

An imported English printed cretonne reveals the dainty cornflower pattern, in 50 inches wide, and costs 5.00 the yard.

The English flamingo pattern, wonderfully printed, is 1.50 the yard, and 50 inches wide. And there is the well known Boy at the Brook design, with its Vase and Flower combination, at 1.50 the yard.

Wicker and Reed Suites Show How These Cretonnes May Best Be Employed

A Chinese blue wicker suite features cushions of Morning Glory cretonne—red and blue tones against a gray ground. And on the blue wicker are faint touches of dark orange. The arm chair costs 34.75; the tea wagon, 25.00; the table (a big one), 31.50; the sofa, 65.00, and a quaint side chair.

The Turtle Dove pattern—a color symphony in black, rose and white against a gray ground—is combined on a soft gray willow suite of graceful proportions. It is priced most reasonably. The big arm chair, 15.00; a big chair without arms, 14.50; the roomy sofa, 36.00.

CHEESE

Cheese is a much-maligned product. It really is not to blame for itself. Responsibility for it rests solely upon the human race. Cheese starts out in life as sweet, amiable milk. It is heartlessly pushed aside by unfeeling humans and allowed to get so lonesome and distracted that it sours on the world. Then, instead of the poor, ruined stuff being put out of its misery as humanely as possible, it is left to get worse and worse until it finally becomes cheese. But don't blame cheese for that. It is more to be pitied than censured.

FULTON WANTS TO KNOW THE REASON

Man From Minnesota Does Not Understand Actions of Big Jess Willard

Fred Fulton, the ponderous plasterer from Minnesota, who has lived up to his trade with considerable vigor in New York performances, wants to know why in Sam Hill Jess Willard prefers the life of the sawdust ring to one with a canvas spread over the soft spots. Fulton figures that a few thousand dollars a minute or some such inducement of an allied nature should at least be sufficient to make Willard put a ten-day claim in his contract, so he could fight once in awhile instead of just showing the circus patrons what a gay he is. "Look here," he said, "there's a champion who isn't, not by no means. He rants around the country showing the curious multitude how he knocked Jack Johnson stiff and then he disappears. He wears a lot of leather breeches and other things that remind the old-timers of the Rio Grande and gets away with it. He don't show 'em how he knocked out anybody since he and Johnson pulled off their little Havana meeting. And the reason is there ain't no other."

Fulton wants to fight. "He's just aching for a chance to get to Willard. He's almost as tall as the big Kansan, and he carries a terrific kick in his left tentacle. He's the right man to fight Willard and it does seem a little strange that Willard isn't willing.

Of course, Willard might dispose of Fulton in a round. If he did he would become a lot more popular than he now stands. If Willard lost—well, the public would just heave one long sigh and hope that Fulton would be more of a champion than Willard has been. Big Jess would just simply slide into pugilistic oblivion, for everyone knows there wouldn't be a chance for him to whip another title holder. Looks like a chance for Jess to die the happy fistic death he's been waiting for, or make himself so solid with the public that he never will be dethroned in popular favor.

It is the inherited duty of a heavyweight champion to defend his title whenever a good man appears. The popularity of many of the old-time brawlers lay in the fact that they willingly vaulted the ropes of a ring and hammered some opponent for a dozen or so rounds. There is just one man who stands out now over the many contenders for Willard's crown, and his name is Fred Fulton. He is the man who must eventually meet Willard. Let's have it.

Target Tips and Hunting Helps by Alfred P. Lane

Send questions to Mr. Lane care of this paper.

1. Would a peep sight be good on a revolver, and how should it be fastened on?

Ans. I do not think that a peep sight would be of any real value because it would have to be far from the eye if you shoot in the usual full arm position. For rapid shooting it would be positively a detriment. A peep sight on a rifle is fine for most kinds of work, but the problem, so far as revolvers are concerned, is not the same because of the difference in the method of holding and the uses to which the short arm is to be put.

2. Is it a good plan to carry a revolver with one empty chamber and the hammer let down on it?

Ans. If your revolver is so made that the hammer rebounds and is so locked that the nose or firing pin cannot be forced against the primer without pulling the trigger, there is no objection to carrying the weapon with all chambers full. Otherwise it is a good plan to have one empty chamber as you suggest.

C. E. S.

I have hunted and shot and owned shotguns all my life—good ones and cheap ones of more moderate prices—and I never could detect such a marked difference in the shooting power. One seems to make about as good a target as another, but in talking to some they will say: "My gun has got the shoot in its way, I can kill pheasant at fifteen rods right along." They they will tell you of the many times they have killed them dead at twenty rods. Does this great difference in power really exist or is it poor conception of distance or just braggadocio?

Ans. Any modern 12-gauge shotgun marked fall choke by a reliable manufacturer will kill pheasants consistently at ranges up to 40 to 45 yards if the barrel is clean and in good condition. If any man tells you he can kill them regularly at 75 rods, which is more than 75 yards, you can put him down as a liar or just "plain ignorant." The next time any one tries to string you along with a tale of that kind take him out and let him shoot—say, ten shots at the outline of a pheasant drawn on a piece of paper placed 75 measured yards from the muzzle of the gun. In chalking up the score remember that it takes three pellets of lead to make a clean kill.

A. R.

What is the cost of a Springfield rifle bought from the Government?

Ans. The present price is $17.37 for the complete outfit, but it has been announced that the price will go up within the next two weeks to approximately $22. The Government rifle is not sold to civilians unless they are qualified by the National Rifle Association as sharpshooters.

W. A. M.

Are ordinary high power rifle cartridges water-proof? I dropped some of my ammunition on my last hunting trip into a puddle of water and I wondered whether they are still good for much.

Ans. High-power rifle ammunition of reliable make is water-proof and I wouldn't hesitate to use those cartridges.

2. How long is ammunition good? What I want to know is, for what length of time can I depend on its being sure fire and powerful enough for hunting?

Ans. If of good make you can depend on it for four or five years.

3. Does black powder last longer than smokeless?

Ans. There is not much difference nowadays, but when smokeless powder was first brought out it didn't keep very well and the bad reputation it got in those days still hangs on to it, although the smokeless made today is very stable.

H. C. OF L. HITS THE SPORTING WORLD LIST

The high cost of living has hit the sporting world, according to John P. Doughty, the sporting goods dealer of North avenue. John put us wise to this over the Sunday dinner table yesterday noon when he let us in on the fact that many baseball goods would this year be sold at least 50 per cent. over their previous prices.

Not only will the baseball clubs be hit, but the fisherman as well. The cost of lumber fishing rods has come near to hitting the skies. They have gone up to the extent of 600 per cent., due largely to the fact that this material is used to a considerable extent in the building of aeroplanes and other airships. At least, this is what is handed out by the wholesalers.

ALL STARS DEFEAT INNER TRIANGLES

"Doc" Kuldoshes' Team Put Crimp Into Speedy East End Aggregation

It was some team that Manager "Doc" Kuldoshes brought to the Netherwood court Saturday night, and a good game resulted, even though the Inner-Triangle Club men were outweighed. At the end of the first half the score stood 18 to 15 in favor of the All-Stars, but in the second half the L. F. C. team started off with a rush and soon made up the difference. The lead could not be held, however, and the All-Stars drew away from their opponents near the end of the game.

Jet Cartwright played a good game in his old position for the Triangles. Dunning was the star of the contest, running up a total of 11 baskets and five fouls.

The score:

CENTRAL LEAGUE TO MEET TOMORROW

The Central New Jersey Baseball League will again hold forth tomorrow evening at the home of Tommy Agar. President Brit Martin has called a meeting, and it is expected that the sixth club to complete the circuit will be admitted at that time. The league is composed of five clubs at present.

If the application from the sixth club is acted upon, plans for the drawing up of a schedule for the season will be worked out immediately in order that the opening of the season need not be delayed. From present plans the opening games will be played late in April.

LOCAL BASKETBALL SEASON CLOSING

Many Plainfield Teams Have Enjoyed Successes Upon the Indoor Court

The local basketball season of 1916-17 has practically passed into history. Both high school teams have closed, Hopes have but a single contest on with the girls team of the Chapel; the Y. M. C. A. first string men have completed their work, and only one game here and there will be played by one or two of the larger teams. The junior teams will carry the season forward to within hailing distance of the first of April.

The season in this city has been remarkable for the number of teams playing on local courts. Inter-club matches galore have been played, where a year ago there appeared to be a scarcity of local teams to sign up games and matches with.

From all appearances the local teams have come through the season on the right side of the financial ledger, each of the teams having a large followings of their own. This applies especially to the Tabs, Hopes, and Inner-Triangles, and the two high school teams.

The Grammar School team has had an exceptionally successful season, both in regards to the sport itself and finances. The Inner-Triangles of Feiring, Moses Gensman, Le Roy Force, A. Harold Livingston, Leslie Daisy, Stanley Burner and Seymour Day. Miss Elsie Campbell, who will coach the production, has called another meeting to decide the cast for tomorrow afternoon.

N. P. H. S. NOTES

On Saturday, Principal Farley visited the Standard Oil plant at Bayonne, N. J.

J. C. Evans of the business department of Plainfield High School will address the students of this high school tomorrow morning. Mr. Evans will talk on "Farming in the Middle West."

The Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, N. Y., has voluntarily offered to accept without examination graduates of the high school who present a certificate from the principal. The reputation of this school is traveling, that's sure.

The pictures of the four classes that were taken last week by a New York concern were received this morning. The Sophomore class withstood the ordeal of getting "mugged," the best, and the Junior class picture was the second in line.

The Boys' Athletic Association held a short meeting this noon and tickets for their annual play to be given in the Plainfield High School auditorium on the evening of April 13th were distributed to all the association members by Business Manager Kenneth Lewris. Mr. Lewris urged that the members make a thorough canvass of the city and borough to insure a financial success for the play.

The Freshman Entertainment Committee recently appointed by the president of that class, Clifford Marsh, have completed arrangements for the dance to be given in the Harrison school, Friday evening, March 23. Music for the affair will be furnished by Venable's string orchestra of this city. The committee in charge are: The Misses Dorothy Keller, Ella Wall, Clifford Marsh, William Fehring and Irving Scarborough, chairman. Invitations were issued last week to many of the students of the high school and a delightful time is anticipated.

The first tryouts for the Junior play, "The Elopement of Ellen," which will be presented by that class some time in May, were held in the high school auditorium on Friday afternoon. The following members of the class were present to try out for the cast: The Misses Adele Demarest, Marjorie Barry, Elsie Kershaw, Mildred Weiss, Emily Pilger, Agnes Jackson, Mabel Soffron, Selena and Florence Cornwall, Dorothy Keewson, Nelson Kenworthy, Douglas Stewart, Jack Cannon, Clifford

MAZIE COLBERG SLAYER IS STILL UNKNOWN

Philadelphia, Pa., March 19.—A coroner's jury, after listening to the testimony of nearly fifty witnesses, rendered a verdict that Mazie Colbert, advertising art model, found dead in her apartments here December 30 last, was strangled by a person or persons unknown.

Witnesses called by the police presented circumstantial evidence tending to show that Bernard W. Lewis, of Pittsburg, had killed the girl, but this evidence was not satisfactory to the Coroner.

Lewis committed suicide in Atlantic City as the police were about to arrest him in connection with the girl's death.

LOWERING COSTS OF POTATO PRODUCTION

Fifty years ago an acre of potatoes yielding 110 bushels required fifty-five hours of man labor. Now an acre yielding 220 bushels requires but thirty-eight hours, thanks to the potato planter and digger. One man with a good planter can open the rows, distribute the fertilizer, drop the tubers and cover them over an acre of three to five acres each day. Planters are now being used in many communities and a greater area covered. Best methods of cultivation and fertilization assists greatly in reducing the cost per bushel of growing potatoes by increasing the yields.

MOTHERS AND TEACHERS DISCUSS PLANS OF WORK

The State Council of Officers, Managers and Club Presidents of New Jersey Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, held an all day session on Saturday, in the Prospect Street Presbyterian church, Trenton.

The object of this State Council was for the purpose of formulating and discussing plans of work as well as for conferences with State Chairmen of Parent-Teacher Associations, Child Hygiene, Country Life and Mothers' Circles in Churches.

NASSAU EATING CLUBS TO START "BICKERING"

Princeton, March 19.—"Bickering" is the period during which the sophomores are elected into the upper class eating clubs at Princeton University, will begin today. This period is usually exciting and with more than a quarter of the sophomore class in rebellion against the club system the fight of the upper class clubs for the sophomores bids fair to be more strenuous than ever.

The latest figures given out by Richard F. Cleveland, son of former President Cleveland, as the number of sophomores who have pledged themselves to remain out of the clubs is ninety-two. This number is expected to increase to 100 by Monday. Cleveland and his co-workers have been campaigning during the last few weeks to swell their ranks and are bringing students to their views more rapidly than the clubmen had bargained for.

The upper class clubs sent out their invitations last evening, so that the sophomores will receive them in the morning mail. Members of the upper class clubs will not be able to approach the sophomores on the club question until today. It is then that the real "bickering" will begin, the club members making a rush for the sophomores to get them to sign up for their clubs. Sophomores will not be allowed to join any particular club until Wednesday noon.

Cigarette reasons for preferring Camels!

As a critical smoker, give Camel cigarettes every tobacco test, every cigarette satisfaction test—purity and wholesomeness—quality and flavor. Prove also that Camels do not leave any unpleasant cigaretty aftertaste! And, you'll understand why men realize the value is in the cigarettes and do not look for premiums or coupons.

Then compare this expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos with any cigarette in the world at any price for the final word in cigarette contentment!

Camels are pure and attractively mild, yet behind every smooth, mellow puff there is "body" that meets the most exacting demands. The flavor is as delightful as it is refreshing!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Don't look for premiums or coupons as the cost of the tobaccos blended in Camel cigarettes prohibits the use of them.

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages, 20 for 10c, or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton for $1.00. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

RID STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS, AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness and certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its quick relief in indigestion, dyspepsia and gastritis when caused by acidity has made it famous the world over.

Keep this wonderful stomach sweetener in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach it helps to neutralize the excessive acidity, then all the stomach distress caused by it disappears. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming such stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.—Adv.

The music for the evening was furnished by the orchestra from the Dutch Arms Band, the musicians donating their services. This was one of the enjoyable features of the affair.

The attractive furnishings for the acts of the play were loaned to the class by John S. Johnston. The play executive committee comprised Karl Wilson, chairman; Earl B. Pierson, Fred E. ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hamilton, of Verdon street, on Saturday evening entertained a large gathering of friends in honor of the thirty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. It proved a very pleasant occasion, and besides the usual happy felicitations from their many acquaintances, the couple were recipients of many beautiful gifts.

The evening was spent in dancing and games. A collation was served toward the close of the social affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton were married in New York city, thirty-five years ago, at the Church of the Sacred Heart, on Riverside Drive. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Father Garding. The couple have made their home in the borough of North Plainfield for several years. They have four children, Mrs. E. K. Kerwin, living in Illinois; Walter, Walter and Robin Hamilton, all of North Plainfield, who were present at the anniversary celebration. Guests were also present from New York City, Newark, Elizabeth and other nearby places.

ATTITUDE OF IRISH IN THIS COUNTRY

Joseph Gallagher Declares Every Man of His Race Will Stand Firm for Old Glory

Joseph Gallagher, of this city, writes as follows concerning the attitude of the Irish in America in the present crisis:

Editor Courier-News:

To the writer it seems peculiarly fitting that just as we have been celebrating St. Patrick's Day, we Americans should make some public recognition of the patriotism of the Irish race in the United States. At this time, the United States is on the brink of war with Germany and the services of loyal Irishmen may be needed. It is well that we recall to memory deeds of Irish valor recorded in the annals of history. When we realise that the population of our beloved country is made up, to some degree, of brave sons of Erin, or their direct descendants, we feel a little more secure because we know that no Irishman will turn traitor and that every Irishman is, instinctively, a fighter when the just rights of civilization are at stake.

Too many of us are prone to forget the part played by Ireland's sons in the war of the Revolution. One glance at the gilded page of history brings back to us the honored names of Jack Barry, Generals Stephen Moylan and "Mad Anthony" Wayne. One-half of the soldiers of the Revolutionary army of the United States were of Irish birth. There were two Irishmen to every native.

Nor did the spirit of Irish patriotism wane during the Civil War. The names of Generals Phil Sheridan, Meagher, McMahon, Ewing and Mulligan, the "hero of Lexington," testify to the fact that the Irish love of country never dies. The Spanish-American war found the Irish ready—just as they are today. The gallant "Sixty-ninth" made a name for itself and upheld a spotless reputation on the Mexican border. Brigadier General M. V. Sheridan and Major General John J. Coppinger, both of whom fought in the war with Spain, were Irish. The 69th regiment of New York, the 9th Massachusetts and the 7th Illinois, during the Spanish-American war were made up in the main of Irishmen.

Our President may rest assured that the millions of Irishmen in this country will rally to the support of "Old Glory." The Stars and Stripes will always float as long as there is an able-bodied Irishman in the land. I thank you.

"JOE" GALLAGHER.

GIVES $4,000,000 TO AID WAR RELIEF

New York, March 19.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., chairman of the board of trustees of the Rockefeller foundation, has issued a statement giving the details of the $8,249,085.96 given by the foundation during 1916. The largest appropriations for the year were for war relief, amounting to $2,500,000. Since the beginning of the war the foundation has appropriated for war relief $4,181,952.64.

The largest appropriation for specific use by one institution was $1,526,626.71 to the Rockefeller Institute For Medical Research. The second largest single appropriation was $1,068,147.17 to the China medical board. The third largest was $1,000,000 to the New York Palisades Interstate Park Commission. The China medical board is forming plans for the building up of medical schools of the first rank in Shanghai and Peking in co-operation with various boards.

The appropriations for war relief during 1916 were: Belgian relief, $40,000; Servian relief, $30,000; Armenian and Syrian relief, $500,000; International Committee of Y. M. C. A., $500,000; Rockefeller Institute For Medical Research, $25,000; American Red Cross, $25,000; Polish relief, $1,000,000; prisoners of war welfare work, $500,000; general relief work, $25,000; war relief commission administration, $40,000.

The secretary refused explanation of the reasons for the original orders or for the cancellation.

GERMANS RETREAT ON 100 MILE FRONT

Evacuate Peronne and Noyon In Big Move.

London, March 19.—All doubt that the Germans are making their big retreat in northern France has vanished. The movement has spread until on a front totaling 100 miles the Teutons have given way to a depth at many places of ten or twelve miles.

The more important towns occupied by the allies were Perrone, on the Somme, and Chaulnes, on the Oise, taken by the French, and Nesle, on the upper Somme, which troops of both armies entered, it being now their junction point. The British alone have taken more than sixty villages. The area of the German retirement stretches from Arras to Soissons, from the Scarpe to the Aisne.

It is now certain that the Germans are evacuating the mole Noyon salient and drawing back to the "Hindenburg line," twenty-five miles to the rear of the front they have held for two years. On this "Hindenburg line," fortified with tremendous strength, it is believed they propose to make a stand. It will be probably several days before the new line is reached.

The German withdrawal has again brought cavalry into the warfare on the western front. With wonderment London hears that British and French mounted troops are actually in open country, riding after the retreating German rearguard in such fighting as has not been known for two years.

There is evidence that the Germans are executing a masterly retirement, leaving no loopholes for the pursuers to cut through and throw them into confusion. The main body of the German troops is apparently far ahead of the rearguards, who are holding up the British and French as much as possible.

Unofficial reports from Petrograd state that the Russians have captured the Turkish city of Van, in southeastern Armenia, on the lake of the same name. The city has been taken by them twice previously, but was reoccupied by the Turks.

DR. C. A. EATON WAXES VEHEMENT IN SERMON

In his sermon in the Madison Avenue Baptist Church, New York, yesterday, Rev. Dr. Charles B. Eaton, speaking of the revolution in Russia said:

"The Czar, the Little Father of all the Russias, is looking for a job. The Kaiser, with his heaven-pointed mustaches, will soon be looking for one, too."

Dr. Eaton blamed the corrupt condition of Russia before the revolution last week largely upon the influence of the Greek Catholic Church. He became vehement in his denunciation of that church's activities in Russia.

"To hell with it!" he shouted, raising his hands and stamping his feet. "Down with it! To hell with it!"

"We may soon expect to hear the crash of internal explosion in Germany," he said, "and the grip of the monster military clique will be destroyed."

Dr. Eaton also sounded a warning for the United States.

"America," he said, "is like an ostrich with its head in the sand, thinking it is safe. Men in the unborn centuries may ask the question, 'What strange corruption killed America?'"

Don't Make Your Home an Ice Box

You know the way the old style, inefficient heater and boiler acts. One minute your house is too hot and the next too cold. Mostly the latter. That's because the heater is run on the wrong principle.

With the Boynton Square Pot Boiler you can keep your house "cozy warm" all the time. The patented square firepot is round at the top and square at the bottom. This feature allows increased radiating surface and more heat on a less amount of coal.

Study the illustration closely. Note the square firepot and the nearness of the interior waterholding sections to the fire. This arrangement gives free and greater steam on little fuel.

Call on our dealer and he'll explain how the Boynton Square Pot Boilers will save you money and worry. Or write us.

HEADQUARTERS FOR Y. M. H. A. IS ASSURED

The Young Men's Hebrew Association movement to take possession of its newly acquired building on West Front St. is gaining by rapid strides, and any further question as to the certainty of the young men obtaining a home for their better development has been removed.

Contributions continue to come in and this morning, Benjamin J. Kline, the treasurer, announces the receipt of a check for $25, from A. M. Harris, of 56 William street, New York City, who writes as follows: "Although not a Hebrew, I am in sympathy with your association's work, and with what you and your co-members are doing and with your effort to secure additional funds."

The campaign committee desires to call the attention of those who are not Jews, that it desires their co-operation, too, and that the results of the Y. M. H. A. movement are aimed to make a better Plainfield by strengthening the bodies and minds of the young Jewish men so that when the time comes they may the better realize their duty to their city and country and serve it patriotically.

Other donations received are from the Junior Boys association of the Y. M. H. A., who yesterday turned over to the chairman $42, as a result of their efforts. Dr. C. L. Moore, $5; Samuel Shipkin, $5; and M. Deutch, $2.

A committee of men representing the association will call on a number of people of other denominations and institutions on Friday of this week, between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., for the purpose of soliciting subscriptions.

M. Stavitsky, of the National Council, is in town today to spur on the work. Will all who can send their contributions to Benjamin J. Kline, treasurer, 926 West Front street, this city?

HIDDEN WHEAT FOUND IN RUSSIA; PRICES DROP

Copenhagen, March 19.—Petrograd is now well supplied with bread and grain and prices have dropped to normal, says the "Dagens Nyheter" Stockholm correspondent, quoting advices received from Hasranda.

"Search by the revolutionary party," the dispatch adds, "resulted in the discovery of thousands of tons of hidden wheat, leading to the belief that the shortage of food was systematically organized by the old regime. The populace of Petrograd held especial animosity toward Minister of Agriculture Rittig, who was killed in the revolution."

PREPAREDNESS PLEA IN BIBLE

Invasion of U. S. Foretold by Prophets, Speaker Says

E. B. O. Alexander, a South Carolina business man, who at his own expense is making a plea for preparedness in cities throughout the country, yesterday spoke on "Warning to the United States that he insists is to be found in the Bible. Mr. Alexander quoted prophecies by Daniel, John and other Biblical characters to prove that Great Britain will be defeated in the present war, that Russia will join forces with Austria and that the war will close in eleven months.

Other deductions prove to him that at the close of the war the powers of Europe will form a confederacy and will invade this country. After severe punishment America will rise triumphant, "ending the reign of the devil, and returning the kingdom of the righteous to the earth."

For these reasons he pleads for an army of 5,000,000 men, more warships and systematic preparation for defence by every citizen.

are forming who obligate themselves to provide $1.00 each per month for the children of one or more specific communes. This makes possible the supplementary school meal, per day, so essential to something like 1,230,000 children. Although these children receive their daily ration at home, which is about 50 per cent of the normal average daily ration, it has been proven to be insufficient for adolescent children amongst whom has been discovered an alarming increase in tuberculosis due to protracted periods of mal-nutrition.

Where these communes are adopted we cannot promise that the gift will hear direct from the children, but our experience with the Belgians makes us believe that as soon as communication is permitted after the close of the war, the benefactors will receive such thanks from the children as will make them most happy.

It seems almost incredible that the sum of $1.00 will provide a single child with an additional meal for the period of one month. Nevertheless it is true. Scientific administration alone has made this possible. For instance, there is no middleman's profit—the millers must return in flour the exact amount represented by the wheat delivered to them for milling; in turn the bakers must produce a corresponding number of loaves of bread from the flour which they receive. They, of course, are paid for their services according to weight, but there is the elimination of a large amount of profit which would necessarily work a hardship on the people themselves.

This supplementary meal; from experimentation and practice, has been found generally to keep a normal child normal; in many cases it will restore a sub-normal child. It is now served in schools or other controlled establishments. Each child is checked with the record as to weight and other evidence of condition; at present our great anxiety is to insure this meal to every sub-normal child.

The supplementary meal itself consists of one biscuit, about four inches square, made with flour, lard and sweetening, and one cup of cocoa, with sugar and phosphatine, and with milk when it can be had. Where the depletion calls for modification, even of this simple ration, the cocoa may be diluted, or even, at times, substituted by a broth.

We would be glad if you could find it within your power to organize a group for monthly payments. We find that once the idea is given, it is only a question of a short time before persons who have become interested in farm interest others, with the subsequent result that many groups develop who take upon themselves the adoption of several communes.

The communes which have been circled in blue pencil on the map enclosed herein already been pledged; the others are still open. We have been confining our efforts in New York and adjoining territory to the Province of Liege in which there are four regions; the region of Liege is almost taken, and we expect to complete the quota of communes within the very near future.

It may be that you will want an additional number of maps; if so, we will be pleased to send them. We realize the strong interest you have always shown in our work, and feel that there is very little we can say further which you do not already know.

There are one or two pieces of literature which it is possible you may not have seen, and we are forwarding the same with the map.

We will be glad to furnish any additional data which might be desired.

Sincerely yours,
GEO. BARR BAKER.

RIBOT NEW PREMIER.

French President Asks Him to Lead Ministry.

Paris, March 19.—M. Ribot, minister of finance in the Briand cabinet, was conferring with members of parliament on plans for the formation of a new cabinet. President Poincare asked that Ribot take up the task of leading the new ministry. The president asked for a cabinet which would represent a thoroughly united people.

President Poincare conferred also with Antonin Dubost, president of the senate, and Paul Deschanel, president of the chamber of deputies. M. Deschanel told the president he could not undertake to form a new cabinet, as he felt he should remain at the head of the chamber of deputies at this time.

NURSE HAD POOR HEALTH

Suffered Much Pain, Yet Had to Work. Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Toledo, Ohio.—"I am a widow and go out nursing, and suffered from a female trouble that caused a great deal of soreness across my back, and through my abdomen. Sometimes it would be very painful after a hard day's work. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it and it has helped me wonderfully, so the soreness is all gone now. I believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the remedy for female troubles." — Mrs. ELIZABETH JOHN, R. F. D. No. 4, Toledo, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today is regarded as the most successful remedy for female ills. There are thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., to prove this fact.

Johnson explained that Mrs. Fishblatt had been delayed in her toilet by a family maid and begged him to get her that she might catch the train. He obliged her. Judge Gaskill said the driver's purpose was commendable, but that he could not sanction "taxicabbing" at thirty-five miles an hour.

VIRGINIA CARTER LEE

Letters with this department bring Miss Lee will gladly answer any inquiry relative to domestic science. A stamped envelope being necessary for a personal reply. Address care of Courier-News.

The cooking of grains, such as mush or porridge, is of comparative recent origin, but the grinding of grains into meal or flour, then mixing the products with water and baking, is almost as old as written history. The most delicate and feathery cake that is baked today is a direct and lineal descendant from the cake of stone ground meal and water, baked on stones made hot in the blazing camp fire of primitive man.

In all flour mixtures the essentials are flour, salt, liquid and leaven, or something to make the mixture light and porous. The leaven may be either carbon dioxide, evolved in various ways, air beaten or folded into the mixture (sponge cake), or the expansion of a cold liquid when heated. Usually all three agents are present and at work in a flour mixture.

In quick breads (time is a necessity, when carbon dioxide is evolved by the growth of a microscopic plant—yeast—introduced into the dough), the carbon dioxide is usually generated by the use of bi-carbonate of soda (an alkali) and an acid like cream of tartar, sour milk, molasses, etc.

Keep in mind that the proportion of flour to liquid determines the consistency of the mixture, and that the quantity of liquid used determines the size of the finished product. Different names are given to mixtures, according to the proportion existing between the flour and the water. For example, when one measure of liquid is used to one or two measures of flour, the mixture is called a batter, and when one measure of liquid is used to three or four measures of flour, the resulting mixture is a dough.

Batter and Dough

When a batter is made of equal measures or parts of flour and liquid, it may be poured from the dish in a continuous stream and it is known as a thin or pour batter. When a batter is made of one measure of liquid to two measures of flour, it heads when being turned from a dish and is known as a thick or drop batter.

Soft and Stiff Doughs

When one measure of liquid is used to three measures of flour, a soft dough is formed—to four measures of flour a stiff dough results. A soft dough sticks to the sides of the bowl. A stiff dough while being mixed, gathers to itself all the particles on the sides of the bowl, and the bowl is clean when the dough is mixed. (A stiff dough, or paste, results when pie crust is mixed).

In practice, there are gradations between these mixtures. The mixture for the baking powder biscuit is neither a soft nor a stiff dough, but intermediate between the two.

Proportions of Salt and Flour

One-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt is needed to each cupful of flour, except when shortening that has been previously salted, is used, in which case a little less will be required.

Proportions of Baking Powder and Flour

Two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder to each cupful of flour is needed, except in mixtures where eggs or much beating introduces too much air into the mixture. (Heated air expands, continued heat hardens the cell walls, and the finished product is lightened to a certain degree). In the beating of butter and sugar to a cream, air is beaten into the mixture, but the greatest quantity of air is incorporated when the whites and yolks of eggs are separated and air is beaten into their full capacity for retention.

Proportions of Soda and Cream of Tartar

Half a level teaspoonful of baking soda and one and a quarter level teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar furnish, in the effect produced a very close equivalent to two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder.

Liquid Used with Baking Powder, Soda and Cream of Tartar Mixtures

When bi-carbonate of soda (an alkali) and cream of tartar (an acid) are used in making baking powder (and the same should be true when we measure these ingredients ourselves), they are so carefully weighed that one exactly neutralizes the other, leaving in the dough in which they are used no excess of either acid or alkali. Thus, no free acid, such as would exist in sour milk, lemon juice or molasses, can be added to the mixture, unless enough alkali to neutralize the acidity be added also.

In the article tomorrow evening will be given additional suggestions for the preparations of flour mixtures, with some simple recipes for quick breads.

OLD WITCH NEDA—Part I

Once upon a time, thousands and thousands of years ago, I think, for no one ever hears of Witch Neda in these days, an old witch named Neda used to jump on her broomstick with another broom in her hand; she used to fly about the sky, brushing away the cobwebs, as she called them.

What she really did was to brush away the little rain clouds that the stars used for veils when they were tired of shining.

"You let our veils stay over our faces," said the little stars, quite angry with old Witch Neda. "We want them, you wicked old witch. Go away, go away!"

But Witch Neda would only laugh a cackling laugh and go on with her broom, sweeping away the cobwebs.

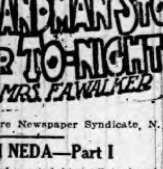
"Silly little stars," said old Witch Neda; "they would have the sky in a most untidy state if it were not for me. I have to sweep every night. If I didn't the sky would be filled with cobwebs. Veils, indeed! Those silly little things do not know the difference between a veil and a cobweb."

One night the stars were all wearing their veils, when along came old Witch Neda with her broom and whisked them off, and the little stars were so angry they forget their nice manners, and many of them rushed at old Witch Neda, darting little sharp points right into her face and making her wink and blink so that she could not see where she was going. She banged right into the moon, who was just coming out from behind the cloud to see what was going on. "Look out where you are going, old witch," he called.

Old Neda dropped her broom and made a grab for the moon, and she caught him, too, right by the nose. "Here, here, here! Let go my nose!" he cried, but old Witch Neda did not let go. She hung on and carried him off to her house on the top of a high mountain.

"I have given those silly stars something to cry about now," said old Neda, as she opened a dark closet and threw in the moon.

"They won't have any moonlight to-night, and if I can get the sun



I can have things all my own way in the sky and make those stars sorry they were so rude to me to-night."

The next day when the sun was shining and not thinking a thing about any harm coming to him old Neda put on her smoked glasses and high-topped cap and a long, black cape.

Then she jumped on her broomstick and flew straight for the sun. Of course, the stars were asleep and could not warn the sun, and he thought it was a black cloud he saw sailing toward him.

"Ah! now I can take a little nap," he said; "there comes a black cloud, which I can hide behind for awhile. I do get so sleepy shining all day," and then the sun gave a yawn just to get ready for his nap.

But something happened; he didn't just know what, but before he could stop the yawn he felt a jerk, and then he was covered with something black and whizzed along at a terrible rate of speed, he did not know where.

"There, I guess I can run things to suit myself now," said Witch Neda, as she took from under her cape the sun, winking and blinking and wondering whatever had happened to him.

Of course, the stars awoke as soon as it was dark, and it became dark right away when old Neda stole the sun, so the little stars, shook and winked all night and all day because the sun did not get up and they did not know when the night was over.

The next night they twinkled and the next day, but then they began to get so sleepy they could not keep their bright eyes open, and one by one they began to nod.

"I wonder what can be the matter with us?" said one star, trying to keep awake. "This is the longest night I ever saw."

"And I wonder where the moon is?" said another. "If we could see him we might find out why the sun is so lazy this morning."

Old Witch Neda was lying about hidden beneath her black cape, and she laughed to herself as she heard what the stars said.

"I can tell you where the sun is and the moon, too," she said, throwing off her cape and showing herself to the stars. "I have them both locked up in a closet in my house," and off she flew on her broomstick, leaving the poor little stars quite speechless with amazement. Tomorrow I will tell you what the stars did to get the sun and moon back in the sky.

BUTTONS WILL BE FASHIONABLE THIS SPRING

(Written for the United Press by Margaret Mason)

Belinda's garments button up,
Likewise they button down.
Some Button together;
The question is whether
She's hooked all the buttons in town.

New York, March 19.—"Button, button, who's got the button?" has ceased to be a thrilling interrogation. It must needs be relegated to its proper place among Goldberg's Foolish Questions. The answer is so painfully and unanimously obvious: Everybody's got it. Not one measly, lonesome little button either, not one, two button my shoe," but three, four and then heaps more.

There's a perfect epidemic of buttons. Like the measles or a spring rash. Every coat, suit, frock, blouse, cape and sweater is rashly broken out with them. No one has an eye for a hook any more. We are all just loking to buttons as a means of fastening on fashion.

"The long, straight lines of the present popular coat seems and shemise frocks are just pie for buttons. They are buttoned up one side and down the other. Some are putting their best buttons forward and others, turning their backs on them, use them nevertheless to back them up. Some have long sleeves and are often trimmed in odd small buttons from the elbow to the wrist, while those that are widely cuffed have two or three large and unique buttons fastening the cuff.

Shirt waists, roll collars and just any kind of collars at all bristle with buttons. They flaunt them openly and above board, and not at all in the usual prethwhile retiring and effacing manner of all good little old-fashioned and useful collar buttons. To be sure collar buttons did used to be a bit bone headed, but some of them were pearls among buttons and indeed quite a few were even pure gold. Anyway, they knew their place and performed a mission in life and a backbone, whereas these present-day collar buttons wander all over the place and the only thing that is really attached to them is fashionable imporiance.

117,000 NEW JERSEY WOMEN WILL ENROLL

Club Federation Takes Steps for Registering Every Member

New Jersey has 117,000 members of women's clubs in its State organizations. That these women may be ready and organized to do their share in any emergency that may come to the country, they are to be registered. The canvass for registering the women regarding their particular fitness for work that may be essential will be started at once. Letters will be sent to each club president, and there are nearly two hundred clubs in the State organization. These letters will contain questions for each member to reply to, and from these a table of statistics will be arranged showing the capability of New Jersey's women.

The State clubs are to devote the entire session of three days at their spring convention at Atlantic City, May 3 to 5 to "America First." Mrs. Daniel Van Winkle, of Jersey City, has arranged this program, and it will contain talks by Dr. George Raiguel, of Philadelphia; Professor W. B. Guthrie, Mrs. E. J. Grant, on "The Loyal League for School Children," and other speakers, all to show the women of New Jersey the need for greater interest in their country's work.

The club women also will choose new leaders at that time. The list of candidates has been announced. Mrs. John R. Schermerhorn, of East Orange, is the candidate for president for two years, to succeed Mrs. Charles W. Stockton, of Ridgewood. Others are: For vice president-at-large, Mrs. William M. Wauters, of Bayonne, and Mrs. C. F. Dewey, of Hackensack; for recording secretary, Mrs. W. G. Moore, of Haddonfield; for corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. W. Bailey, of Leonia; for treasurer, Mrs. C. W. Healey, of Newark.

The federation will go on record as for or against women suffrage, and delegates are to attend instructed from their several clubs. The headquarters will be the Chalfonte, and the meetings are all to be held on the Steel Pier, with evening receptions at the hotels.

A DREAM of TURQUOISES

BY JOSEPH ANOM

"Jacques, if you should fail!"

OUTSIDE the barber shop in Zepata, the tropical sun was beating down upon the hot sand and gray adobe with a fierceness that drove even the listless Mexicans and Mestizos to the shelter of the few straggling buildings of the little village. Torella's shop presented a mingled scene of activity and idleness. White-aproned barbers plied razor and brush energetically, while Creoles, Americans, Mestizos and Indians lounged lazily in the crowded room waiting their turn.

Jacques De Mules, barber in charge of the front chair, talked earnestly, even volubly, while he skillfully lathered the face of his victim, his dark eyes, and white, even teeth flashing with every word.

"You see, monsieur," he was saying, "I know just where they are. Such beauties!—blue like the Heavens—and I—Mon Dieu! Monsieur what misfortune! I have not a penny beyond my board." And he sighed as he wisked the razor over the smooth face of the American.

"What wealth!" he continued; "ah, the riches buried there, and I too poor to go after it! These shiftless Creoles! What do they care for money? Even Señor Torella, the barber, will not listen to me. Day by day, I shave these people—I strike off their beards—you will see presently, monsieur, how smoothly I perform this— all the while I dream of the bed of turquoises."

By this time, having finished, with a flourish of powder—a light puff here and there, he raised the chair and made ready for the next customer, smiling sadly as the first stranger, giving no attention, apparently, to his story, passed out without a word. The American, who took the place, was tall, lean and shrewd looking. As he dropped his head back on the cushioned head rest, he addressed himself to the barber.

"I was interested in your story," he said under his breath. "Tell me all you know."

"What ecstasy, monsieur!" Jacques' face lit up with a boyish smile.

"I had a friend once, who himself had seen the place. He was going up there, when he was prevented by a quarrel. I regret to tell you that the quarrel was over a lady—he was shot, and on his death bed he told me all. He was the soul of honor, monsieur, and I am sure he told the truth. But me! I am a beggar. I should starve on the journey. If someone would advance me the money—a mere trifle—I could go. It would mean a fortune to me. I would make division of the profits of the adventure. Besides, I should be so happy—for I love a lady—who is rich, while I am only a poor barber. I have nothing but my razors: my brushes—and this, my dream of the turquoises. But no one believes—no one will listen to me—no one but the beautiful señorita. We together."

The American got out of the chair and said, with a whimsical smile:

"I too, believe, and will outfit you if you are willing to divide. Meet me tonight at the hotel, and we will make the necessary arrangements."

Even in the pale starlight, the young girl's charm was apparent. One could dimly trace the outline of a well set head, and the shimmering folds of a silken gown. Jacques caught the gleam of a pair of dusky eyes, and his heart leaped to his throat. Petrona turned to her lover with a little cry of delight and together they strolled farther into the shadows.

"What news?" the girl asked anxiously.

"News that will turn our sadness into joy, dear one. I have at last found a patron who will listen to me. He is a rich American, and with the aid of his gold I shall set out to secure the turquoises. When they are mine I shall come back here to your father, and demand your hand in marriage."

"Ah, Jacques," Petrona sighed, "this very day, my father has commanded me to marry the renowned Señor Pedro. I fear your riches have come too late."

"That cannot be," cried Jacques. "It shall not be. In one short week I will return with the turquoises and pour them at your father's feet. He will not favor this rich señor unless you love him. That is impossible. So, I shall return with my treasure and claim my bride!"

And thus he comforted her as they strolled among the shadows of the garden, but Petrona's heart remained heavy and her tones were as mournful as the wind that swept through the tree tops.

"Jacques, if you should fail!"

"Ah, but I shall not fail!" and the assurance in his tones almost awoke a faint, answering echo in her heart.

Sunrise of the next day found Jacques far up the trail—lonely, yet hopeful figure, trudging beside his patient pack-mule.

Meanwhile Señorita Petrona Tesajera was walking in her father's beautiful garden among the flowers. Beside her, tall, dark, with a lazy grace and amorous smiles, paced the rich Señor Pedro. His sleepy eyes were drinking in the rare beauty of the woman in her sweeping crimson robe, and as she idly pulled the petals of a flower apart, letting them fall fluttering at her feet, her fair white arms only half concealed under the lace of her flowering sleeves, the soft whiteness of her full round throat kindled within him a passionate desire.

"I do not love you, señor," she declared scornfully, " and I do not wish to marry you."

"Ah, Señorita Petrona, love will come later. Your father has already consented, the way is clear to our marriage."

"But I repeat I do not wish to become your wife. I love another, whom alas I cannot marry. My father will not give his consent."

Again the Spaniard's sleepy eyes kindled, and the slender dark hand thoughtfully tapped the hilt of a dagger, thrust carelessly through the folds of the grandee's sash, but Petrona's eyes were bent upon the ground, as she still idly cast the petals before her.

"But your father desires the alliance with me. It only remains for you to set the day to become my wife."

"You do not mean that you wish me to marry you when I love another," Petrona cried aghast, "even though my father commands it? Señor Pedro, I entreat you to withraw your suit."

But Señor Pedro, half mad with desire and a new jealousy of this unknown rival, answered coolly: "That cannot be. Your father has promised that you shall marry me."

"I shall make a very loving wife, señor." Petrona returned with a haughty smile. "Can you not guess?" she repeated fiercely, "I shall learn to hate you," and her eyes kindled suddenly with something of the fire of his own.

He folded his arms and stopped before her, baring the path. Then smiling:

"Come, señorita, when shall it be?"

"Oh, since you insist," she answered with a shrug, "if I may but have a little time—two weeks,—a week, even, I will give you a definite reply."

"Ah, you make me happy, señorita! I will meet you here in a week. Now, good-night and pleasant dreams." And kissing the nerveless hand reluctantly extended, Señor Pedro left her.

The week of respite slipped by on rapid wings, and the señorita was in despair, for Jacques De Mules had not returned. She dared make no appeal to her father. Never would he permit her to reject Señor Pedro, unless a wealthier suitor could be found, and among all their acquaintances Señor Pedro was the richest.

Still another day, and Jacques had not appeared! Slowly and sadly the girl stole out into the garden and seated herself in the shadow of the tall palms. Drawing her mantilla about her, for the air was growing chilly, she was creeping sadly back to the house when the tones of a dearly loved voice reached her listening ears.

"Señorita!" She was in her lover's arms.

"The bed of turquoises " she whispered.

"I found them, dear one, I cannot tell you how I suffered in the finding. The mule died on the very day I turned my face toward home, and I had much difficulty returning. But here they are, señorita, and they make me rich—richer even than the Señor Pedro! There are more—many more of them. It is a wonderful mine of treasure. You cannot even guess its value."

"Ah, but you have grown so thin—you are trembling!" and she made him sit down beside her on the stone bench.

"To-morrow, dear one, I shall rest."

Señor Tesajera was sitting out in the patio felicitating himself upon his daughter's marriage with Señor Pedro, when looking up, he saw her coming through the entrance gate with the barber, Jacques. Rage filled him. At the sight his face paled, so that his black eyes gleamed like coals. Although Señor Tesajera had the temper of a demon, his voice was like an angel's. He spoke now, and though his eyes were so fiercely ablaze, his tones were silky and smooth.

"Petrona, you elect to keep strange company."

"Let me present M. Jacques De Mules," Petrona repeated, with a grave salutation.

"Who is Jacques De Mules?" Señor Tesajera's voice was still almost caressing.

"I will speak for M. De Mules," Jacques, worn and haggard, yet quite master of himself, stepped forward into the light, with a box clasped tightly under his arm.

"I have come to ask the hand of your daughter in marriage. She has already given her gracious consent."

"You—Jacques De Mules, the barber! Surely, I recognize you now. Did you not shave me only a week since—and now you have to ask for my daughter? She could have told you that she is to marry the Señor Pedro."

"You, a barber, to aspire to my daughter's hand!"

"But, señor, here are these—my fortune!" and the barber brought forth his box. Opening it the little heap of bluish-green stones flashed their splendid beauty full into the old Spaniard's avaricious eyes.

"These!" he gasped. "Where did you find such a treasure?"

"That is my secret, señor," said Jacques. I have discovered a turquoise mine, I am no longer Jacques—the poor barber. I am M. Jacques De Mules!"

"Ah, very good, but these are not enough. Show me yet as many more and I will believe. I will then give you my daughter. It will be easy enough, surely, since, as you say, you have discovered a mine of these precious stones," and a sneer curved the Spaniard's thin lips.

"Ah, how happy you make me!" cried Jacques. "In just a week I will be here again with turquoises, yes, turquoises enough to satisfy even you."

Turning, they saw Señor Pedro standing in the doorway. Pedro bowed to the señorita, and said in paressing tones that veiled his murderous wrath, "I am not needed, I see. I will call again. Adios."

Two days later, Jacques was once more on his way to the mine.

Night found him well along the trail. He had started to make his rough bed and boil his coffee just as the sun cast its last rays over the distant mountain peaks. Then a something—dark and lithe and sinewy—crept out from among the shadows of the rocks and moved stealthily forward.

Señor Pedro's eyes were not sleepy now. He had come a long journey since day-break to meet his foe. Quickly he measured the distance between himself and poor Jacques, who was standing at the summit of the trail, lost in admiration of the valley at his feet. Slipping lightly along like a panther stalking his prey, Pedro gained the height and crouched low behind his unconscious victim.

"So you would win a double prize—your heap of sea green treasure and the heart of the woman I love? Die, dog!" With one quick lunge Pedro struck Jacques full in the back. He left his jeweled dagger buried to the hilt.

There, under the calm stars, rambling incoherently of the turquoises and the señorita, his American patron found him.

It was many days before he could be carried back to the valley. When he went, the American accompanied him, to see that no harm should come to him and his treasure. In the wretched little adobe house which Jacques called home, he was nursed tenderly back to life and health. Then there came a happy hour of triumph for the humble barber, the hour when, pale and weakened by his long siege of suffering, he made his way to the old señor, and laid a box of gleaming blue stones at his feet. "Here is twice the value you demanded," he said simply, "I have come, as I said I should, to claim your daughter."

The Kind that Mother Made

By Gladys Hyatt Sinclair

HOT doughnuts! Come over!" called my neighbor. And I went; wouldn't you? The delectable odor of hot-fried cakes and coffee greeted me with the smile of my morning hostess; but behind the smile were red eyes and a worried look. As I broke open my cakes of crisp brown, crusted over with flaky deliciousness, and sipped the perfect coffee, we chatted in a friendly fashion. But gradually an odd silence fell between us and my neighbor began tracing the tulips in the table cloth with the handle of her spoon.

"If I could make such brown and golden dreams as these I should dance on air. Why aren't you jubilant?" I asked.

She dropped her pretty head, her lip quivering. "Because i probably shan't have any place to make doughnuts in, after a few months. We had to mortgage this little home two years ago The mortgage was foreclosed yesterday. We have a year to redeem the place of course.

"How heavy is the mortgage?"

"A hundred and fifty dollars."

I traced tulips, too, and swiftly did a little plain thinking. "I know how kind and neighborly you are, Mrs. Brant. How sensible are you?" I demanded. "Are you sensible enough to brave shallow criticism and use your genius to save your home?"

"But I have no genius!"

"Not for painting pictures or sculping statues; but," and I held up the last doughnut that had survived even my capacity, "these are products of absolute genius—genius plus experience. Will you put your false pride in your pocket and sell me two dozen of these every week for twenty cents a dozen? That's very cheap for such delicious doughnuts, cheaper than they ought to be a-id."

"But a neighbor——"

"Neighbor, nonsense! A customer, and only too glad to be able to buy your ability. Will you make me a four-pound beef loaf at twenty-five cents a pound for my company next week? And may I use your telephone to tell our friends that they can get beautiful cakes and a lot of your famous foodstuffs for a price?"

Mrs. Brant hesitated. I knew she was wondering if she could bring herself to take a cake in the morning, and partake of the same cake at a card party in the afternoon. Finally came a firm "I will." It sounded like a marriage ceremony.

I took my doughnuts home victoriously and returned with the forty cents. Mrs. Brant dropped it into a blue china sugar bowl on the buffet. "Wouldn't it be wonderful if I could help enough to make it count?" she said tremulously.

"Not wonderful at all. People will pay good prices for good food, and there are a number of women who live a long way from a grocery or bakery."

"I'll furnish things fresh and on time, if I have to work all night!"

"That's business! And make everything of good material; just as good as it can be bought. Then charge enough to pay for your material and work."

Next morning as I entered the kitchen with a to-be-continued order for doughnuts from a friend who had tasted Mrs. Brant's at my house, the telephone bell rang. Mrs. Brant answered it. "Oh, Mrs. Swift? Good-morning!——Your daughter said you were gone yesterday; she told you, then?—Yes.—Twelve cents a loaf; yes, it does go farther than some kinds of bread——Three on Tuesdays and three on Saturdays? All right. Beans? Ten for the little dishes and twenty-five for the big ones——Oh, yes, plenty for your family! Hot? Why, yes, of course, hot, if you like! Thank you. Good-bye." She wants bread twice a week and a big pan of beans, hot, for supper every Sunday night," she concluded.

"Hot?" I stared. I had never thought of hot beans.

"They shall have what they want, and when they want it! I cook beans Saturday, and bake them hot, on Sunday, for my family; why not for others Home cooking must be home cooking to succeed."

"Good for you! It's the home taste that they can't get, and you can supply it."

Mrs. Brant arranged that Tuesdays and Saturdays should be her bread days." Mr. Brant, when he saw that his eager little wife meant business, rigged a frame for the express cart to hold a twenty-pound cracker box securely. This was lined with white paper and contained two shelves. From it twelve-year-old little John delivered the goods, not called for. He was trusted with the necessary amount of dimes and nickels for change, and Mrs. Brant made it very plain that she meant to keep no books and could not extend credit except, on occasion, from one delivery to the next.

"Can't I have something new in sandwiches?" came a wail over the telephone from an indefatigable entertainer and card player.

"What have you and your friends been serving?" Mrs. Brant inquired, briskly.

"Oh, minced ham—and lettuce, and egg," disgustedly.

Mrs. Brant laughed. "Certainly you can have something new," she replied, cheerily.

"Joyful! I'll leave you to decide what it shall be. I think I should really expire if I had to manufacture a few more ham sandwiches."

Borrowing all my old magazines she curiously left room for a cooler place; sandwich combinations. Her sandwiches became famous among club members and party-givers; and her list of patrons increased by leaps and bounds.

The little woman was sweetly sensible about her work, taking it quite as a matter of course, so that her customers many of them her personal friends, never hesitated to give her orders wherever they happened to meet her.

As the weather grew hotter, many customers left town for cooler places; but those who remained were less and less inclined to bake and roast either meat or themselves. And neighbors and friends, noting their comfortably cool leisure, and tasting their delicious fare, thought of the "cooking expert," as she was laughingly called, all through the hot weather. Mrs. Brant was obliged to buy an extra gas range, a bread mixer and any number of fireless cookers, and hired a girl to come in on mornings to prepare vegetables and wash the dishes. But the little woman stood pluckily up to her hot, tiring work all summer, keeping vigilant voice for the telephone, whatever happened.

Within a week of a year from her start in business Mrs. Brant called to me: "Hot doughnuts! Come over!" I went. With the doughnuts and coffee she brought out a tiny brown bank book for my inspection. "See," she exclaimed in trembling pride and gladness, "the mortgage will be paid when the year is paid by me! The home is ours. I've paid for my gas stove, all my excellent cooking and kitchen labor saving apparatus, and have a large supply of raw material on hand! And I am the proud proprietor of a business that bids fair to last as long as men can eat, and I can cook! I'm so thankful that you asked me, on that never-to-be-forgotten morning, 'How sensible are you?'"

"And I'm so thankful that you have proved how sensible a woman can be," I promptly returned.

FOR those having asparagus ferns that do not seem to grow, try putting a teaspoonful of castor oil around the roots and notice the change in about six weeks.

FOR the Safe Keeping of Oil Rags in the house, and which may be used for floors, furniture or wiping lamps, there should be provided a metal box perforated with holes to admit of good ventilation. Spontaneous combustion is often the cause of "unknown" fire origins, and quite frequently the oil rags tucked in a corner or kept in a closed box may have been the cause. A very simple rag box can be made from a large tin cracker box properly mounted on a wood base with a strip made fast to the base and to the hinge edge of the box so that at no time can the cover be thrown all the way back. The object of this is to allow the cover to be held open long enough to remove or replace rags and if properly set up there is room for the cover must come down of its own weight and at all times keep the rags within a metal box.

A tablespoonful of stewed tomatoes catsup added to the gravy of roast meats is thought to improve it.

FOR cleaning hair brushes a few drops of ammonia are excellent. Put a tablespoonful into the water, having it only tepid, and dip up and down until clean; then dry with the brushes down and they will be like new.

TO clean leather use good sweet cream, dip a piece of cheese cloth into the cream and rub the leather well with it. It cleanses the leather and the fat of the cream is an excellent food for it. Then polish by dipping a piece of cheese cloth into the white of an egg which has been whipped as for frosting.

IN making a baked custard warm the milk before adding the eggs, and there will be less danger of the dessert turning watery.

HEMSTITCHED tablecloths and linens can be nicely mended when the hemstitching breaks by fagoting the edges together with strong thread. This will wear as long as the article.

FANCY Japan tea trays and also lacquered wooden ones, may be cleaned in this method: Rub the surface with a flannel dipped in milk until all marks are removed; dry with a clean cloth, sprinkle a little flour over, and polish with a soft piece of old silk.

FREQUENTLY table cloths and napkins are stained by cocoa. Such stains should be washed in cold water first, and then boiling water should be poured through until the last vestige of the stain is gone. For spots made by coffee or tea, boiling water poured through will prove efficacious.

The Care of Children

By Marianna Wheeler

MEASLES

THE earliest symptoms of measles is a watery discharge from the eyes and nose accompanied by sneezing and a teasing cough. With these symptoms there is also frequently found some tiny white specks on the inside of the cheeks which somewhat resemble sprue. The rash usually follows these symptoms in three or four days, showing first behind the ears or on the neck beneath the chin, in scattered, fine spots. Then it spreads in large, coarse red patches to face and chest, gradually extending down the body to legs and feet, fading in the order in which it came, face first and going off at the legs.

Measles is usually considered a mild disease without serious consequences; this is only partly true, for the dire complications of measles are usually severe, especially the broncho pneumonia of children under two years, and tuberculosis of older children to which there is a tendency among those living in the crowded districts of large cities. It is a disease that is contagious by direct contact, but rarely being carried by a third person; it is always most contagious during the catarrhal stage before the rash appears. For this reason an early diagnosis and prompt isolation of the supposed child is a most important factor in preventing the disease from spreading. I know of a child contracting down with this disease to have access to but once in a room where there were six children and all but one, who had already had measles, became infected. Consequently, whenever a mother, teacher or nurse notice in a child the condition described, take no chances but isolate him at once. If the alarm proves a false one no harm has been done; if measles develops she will have no cause for regret. Be sure to look for the little white spots inside the cheeks; they are not always seen, but if only one or a dozen are discovered they make the diagnosis certain. Children who have been exposed to measles should be kept under observation and away from other children who have not had the disease for three weeks, for while the time between the exposure and the development, of the disease is from two to eighteen days, occasionally cases have been known to develop as late as the twenty-first day after exposure.

Some of the simple complications of measles are conjunctivitis, which is inflammation of the mucous membrane of the eye; laryngitis, an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the windpipe, and earache, caused by inflammation of the little tube leading from throat to ear; all of which may be greatly relieved by good nursing.

The room in which the patient is sick should be large and sunny with plenty of fresh air both day and night. Protect the child from any possible draughts or cold by screens and warm clothing. Hands and feet should be kept warm but never keep the child so warm that it perspires. The eyes should be washed several times each day with a saturated solution of boric acid, also the mouth. An occasional gargle of either hot or cold salt and water will help the throat. Sunlight is desirable, but the light in the room should be tempered by a dark shade and the child's face turned from any bright light. While the rash lasts, usually four days, sometimes a little longer, bathe only face, hands and fingers. As there is usually some discomfort from the eruption, such as burning and itching of the skin, a rubbing of the entire body with olive oil both night and morning is found soothing, but this must be done undercover, without exposing the child. At the end of a week a full sponge bath may be given every day, followed by a rubbing with oil, cold cream or cocoa butter.

For the first few days or while there is fever, the food should be fluid, such as milk, broths and gruels; after the fever subsides dry or milk toast, porridge, soft boiled eggs and simple desserts may be given, and in two or three days more the patient may have the usual diet. At the end of a week if there are no complications most children feel well and chafe at being confined in the sick room, but it is best to keep the child in bed for one week and confined to the room for one week longer, before allowing it the freedom of the house. Fumigation is not necessary after measles, but after the patient leaves the room, it should be thoroughly cleansed and mattress and pillows beaten and brushed and exposed to the air and sun for several hours.

HOME DEFENSE LEAGUE ORGANIZED LAST NIGHT

Mayor Appoints Fifty Men to Act as Special Policemen in an Emergency—Others to be Named—Special Message to Council Outlines Plans

Mayor Calkins sent a special message to the Common Council last night setting forth the object and aims of the Home Defense League which has been organized here for the purpose of acting in defense of the city in case of an emergency.

Accompanying the message was a list of fifty appointees whom the Mayor has designated as the first unit of the league. These men will be sworn in as special policemen to serve without compensation and will be expected to render such service as may be required in any emergency.

They will be fully equipped with firearms and other means of defense.

The council approved the suggestions made in the Mayor's message, and confirmed the appointment of the men designated as the first unit of the Defense League.

A census of the city is now being made with a view to determining the number of people living here and to acquire such other information as may be of value from the standpoint of general protection.

Major William L. Smalley will appoint a Defense League for North Plainfield and both leagues will act in conjunction with each other, should such action be necessary.

Marion S. Ackerman, L. S. Ayer, George G. Andrews, Douglass Anderson, David G. Atwood, J. Whitney Baker, Allen E. Beals, James R. Blake, Frank P. Burke, William M. Beekman, Paul Collier, Charles H. Dutcher, Morris J. Dumont, Edwin M. Daniel, 2nd, Harvey Fisk, Leslie R. Fort, Charles H. Frost, Henry S. Fullerton, William J. Firstbrook, Richard J. Harrigan, Christie P. Hamilton, William J. Hartpence, Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., R. F. R. Huntsman, Guy H. Hillman, Sherman B. Joost, Thomas H. Keller, Joseph J. Kennedy, Charles B. Lufburrow, Elliott C. Laidlaw, Charles M. Lucky, Jeremiah L. Manning, Walter F. Manning, Percy A. McVoy, J. Hartley Mellick, Arthur L. Otterson, A. W. Ransome, Rufus S. Rowland, Joseph H. Sullivan, Herbert B. Smith, Martin H. Stutsman, Thomas Strappe, George J. Tobin, Louis A. Viviano, Thomas R. Van Boskerck, George T. Van Boskerck, Jacob L. Vandeventer, Edward J. Waring, Lewis A. Williams, John E. Watson.

To the Honorable the Members of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

"I wish to inform you, and the public through this message to your honorable body, regarding certain measures which are being taken in this line of uncertainty and general suspense to prepare for whatever emergency may later arise. I have thought it best not to make announcement on this matter until certain plans which I have had could be developed. These have been worked out in the last month and are now sufficiently advanced to enable me to state in a general way what is being done.

"Early last month the Board of Police authorized the purchase of additional equipment for the regular police force, and instructions issued for gun and revolver practice which is now being carried on systematically. In other directions also the police department has made active and thorough preparation for the maintenance of good order, although I deem it inadvisable at this time to make public the details regarding the emergency organization of the regular force. P. S. C. WANTS "Y" AT BUSY CORNER

The Public Service Street Railway Company filed a request with the Common Council last night which is not likely to be granted. It was for permission to install a "Y" at the corner of Somerset and West Front streets. The reason why this request is not likely to be acceded to is that Somerset street at this particular point is very much congested by traffic at the present time, and if the street railway is allowed to install more tracks there it will develop a very dangerous situation for users of the street.

The Street Railway Company desires to lay two tracks instead of one on the easterly side of Somerset street from the main line on Front street and a single track on the westerly side of Somerset to the main line, making a "Y."

This arrangement would permit cars to meet and pass each other on one branch of the "Y," thereby overcoming some of the difficulties now experienced.

The request of the Street Railway Company, with a blue print showing the proposed changes, were referred to the committee on streets, of which Councilman Hylan is the chairman.

C. W. Belter sent a communication to the council in which he insisted that the city was responsible for an expenditure of $15 which he was obliged to make for thawing out water pipes in front of his premises, owing to the fact that contractors repairing the street had failed to properly cover the pipes after repairs were made.

The East End Civic Association sent a petition asking that the railway embankment between Johnson avenue and Terrill Road be removed; that portions of East Second street, Norwood and Hillcrest avenues, Hill street, St. Mary's and Midway avenues be macadamized and sidewalks laid; also that crosswalks be installed and that about fifty more fire hydrants be located in that section.

J. R. Worcester of East street, protested against the condition of a portion of the street in his neighborhood, and asked that property owners were not compelled to lay walks.

The Spicer Manufacturing Company asked permission to install a 1,000 gallon gasoline tank on their property in Madison avenue. The request was granted.

Morris Israel was granted permission to remove a house from 836 to 837 South Second street.

Licenses were granted to five junkmen.

The request of the Allan B. Laing Company for an additional street light in West Second street, and Amos Andrews for an additional light on Leland avenue were refused.

Additional lighting facilities were authorized for Madison avenue between West Front and Second streets; between West Second and Third streets, and on Midway avenue.

An ordinance authorizing the widening of Watchung avenue to a depth of three feet on the westerly side of the street was adopted on second reading. A public hearing will be held on April 9th.

The City Clerk was authorized to advertise for proposals for furnishing 1,000 feet of fire hose and for laying permanent pavement in streets and parts of streets. These proposals will be received on April 9th.

TO FORCE ISSUE ON LOCAL OPTION

Action of Wm. N. Runyon Makes It Necessary That Assembly Go on Record

By United Press:

Trenton, March 20.—Before the Legislature recesses Friday for a week, after which it will return for only a day to act on the appropriation bills and possible executive vetoes of measures already passed, the assemblymen will once again be required to put themselves on record as regards the local option issue.

This was made certain late last night when William N. Runyon, of Plainfield, Union County, one of the Republican members of the judiciary committee, served notice that at the expiration of 24 hours he would file with the clerk a petition signed by himself and fourteen other legislators, calling upon the House to relieve the committee of further consideration of the bill introduced by Senator Kates of Camden county, giving municipalities the power to initiate local ordinances, including home rule on excise matters. The bill has already passed the Senate, and Mr. Runyon acted only after it became apparent that the other three Republican members of the committee, of which the majority floor leader Oliphant, of Mercer, is chairman, did not intend to report the bill unless forced. Mr. Geran of Monmouth, the Democratic leader, is a member of the committee and favors the bill.

IAN HAY'S LECTURE HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

With the subject "The First Hundred Thousand," covering the topic, "The Human Side of French Warfare," Ian Hay Beith, a noted writer, a captain of the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders, will speak in the Plainfield High School Friday evening, of this week, and will bring an interesting story. He was one of the first hundred thousand in Kitchener's army, and his story is graphic and absorbing.

A synopsis of the lecture will include—Warfare from the Retail Point of View; Assembling a Regiment; Arrival in France; Behind the Line; How Supplies are Sent; Night Work in the Trenches; The British Soldier's Domesticity; What Women are Doing to Help; A Few Anecdotes, etc.

Tickets for the lecture are on sale at Miller's drug store. Anyone wishing to hear a real story of the war, and how the whole world is vitally concerned, our own country not excepted, will find a real interest in Captain Beith's lecture.

TO OUR READERS

The Courier-News, as previously announced, is compelled to advance its price to subscribers.

We regret that we are compelled to make this increase, but everything that enters into the cost of a newspaper has doubled in cost, while some things have trebled. The most serious difficulty is the scarcity of white news print paper, and many newspapers have had to suspend publication entirely, while others have had to adopt strenuous reforms.

The Courier-News has been unable to increase its price more than 60 per cent. of the quantity of paper normally required since the first of the present year. This has made it necessary to cut down the size of the paper from 16 to 12 pages, and put into effect other methods of curtailing the consumption of paper.

The above measures have not been sufficient to reduce the necessary forty per cent., and for this reason we are forced to announce that all subscribers not paying promptly each week will have to be discontinued. The stopping of a paper because a subscription is one or five weeks does not mean that we question that subscriber's credit. Forced to reduce the number of copies we are printing, we have adopted the only impossible—discontinuing subscriptions not paid to date.

No paid in advance subscriptions have been accepted at the old rate since the announcement of the change to weekly.

Single copy	$ .02
One week	.12
Three months (in advance)	1.50
Six months (in advance)	3.00
One year (in advance)	6.00

As in the past, to take advantage of the discount rate offered for three months, six months or a year, subscriber must pay in advance.

SAMUEL ROTHBERG CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Plainfield Merchant Made Head of State Retail Clothiers' Association

Samuel Rothberg, of this city, was chosen as the first president of the Retail Clothiers' Association of New Jersey at an organization meeting held in the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark, yesterday, and in addition was selected as a delegate to represent that body at the national convention to be held in Chicago in June. This honor was entirely unexpected by Mr. Rothberg, but was bestowed in recognition of his interest and activity in the retail clothing trade. Isaac Schwed was another representative from this city at yesterday's meeting, and made a few interesting remarks.

The objects of the association are to bring the retail clothiers in closer touch, correct many evils among the trade, protect the merchants, further plans for honest merchandising, to discourage fraudulent advertising, take up national issues, such as the one-cent postage and to eliminate cut-price sales. There were about forty retail clothiers present, representing as many towns and cities of the State.

Charles E. Wry, of Des Moines, Iowa, secretary of the national association, assisted in the organization of the State branch. Others present who made addresses were Nathan Lemlein and Sol. Heller, president and secretary of the New York Retail Clothiers' Association, and Jacob Gumpel of New York.

There was a morning and afternoon session, and at noon the delegates enjoyed dinner at the hotel, when further plans were discussed. It was decided that directors of the association should be chosen according to Congressional districts, thus giving the entire State representation. These officers were elected:

President, Samuel Rothberg, Plainfield; first vice-president, B. H. Arnold, Jersey City; second vice-president, M. J. Bears, New Brunswick; secretary, H. R. Sellner, Newark; treasurer, J. K. Sheehy, Perth Amboy; directors, J. R. Bynum, Asbury Park; W. H. Downs, Morristown; P. J. Morgan, Trenton. A constitution and by-laws were adopted. Another meeting will be held within the next month to select other directors.

THE FUNERAL OF ADELBERT VAIL TODAY

Simple, but impressive services marked the funeral of Adelbert Vail, of 427 East Fifth street, which were held at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, at the Friends' meeting house on Watchung avenue. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends.

Joel Borton, of Woodstown, spoke words of consolation, and Dr. C. Stringham, of Brooklyn, a close friend, told of the unselfish life of Mr. Vail, extending words of comfort and sympathy to the bereaved family. Appropriate addresses were also made by Margaret F. Vail and others.

The burial was made in the Friends' cemetery, near the meeting house. The pall bearers were: William Gary, of Bayonne; Fowler Vail, of Dunellen; Charles E. Vail, Joseph T. Vail and Randolph Vail, of Plainfield.

Resolutions Respecting the Death of Mr. Stebbins

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Plainfield Savings Bank of Plainfield, N. J., held on Wednesday, the 14th day of March, 1917, at 5 p. m., the following resolutions were adopted respecting the death of our late Vice-President, Mr. Albert C. Stebbins:

We do hereby record our appreciation of his faithful and efficient services rendered to this bank, as one of its Board of Managers, and Vice-President since being called to assume the duties of said offices, and the high esteem felt for him by all with whom he came in contact.

That we hereby bear testimony to his efficient and upright services in all the positions of trust and responsibility in which he has been called upon to serve.

Resolved, That we hereby tender to his bereaved relatives and friends our sympathy in the great loss which they are called upon to bear.

That a copy of these resolutions be delivered to the relatives and friends of the deceased, and recorded in full in the minutes of the meeting.

GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS ADDS TO HIS POPULARITY IN RUSSIA

By United Press:

Petrograd, March 20.—The Grand Duke Nicholas cemented his alliance with the people in the Russian revolution, and added to his popularity today, when it became known that he was the one who really induced Czar Nicholas to abdicate the throne. It was revealed that the Grand Duke held an audience with the Czar, and urged him to abdicate, previous to the visit of the revolutionary committee, who came to ask him to abdicate.

THREE NATIONS JOIN TO KEEP SEA OPEN

By United Press:

Washington, March 20.—The United States, Great Britain and France will join in guarding the trans-Atlantic ship lanes against German U-boats, if present Government plans materialize. The administration expected to begin today informally negotiating with these nations through the State Department and the British and French embassies here.

Navy and army departments are busy preparing. The navy bears the brunt of the work, but under the surface the army has made plans to call out the National Guard anew, and also provide enough officers for training a half million men.

The New York navy yard began work today on 40 submarine chasers, hastily ordered. Tomorrow bids will be opened for 200 or more 110-foot speed boats available for coast patrols and submarine chasing.

Mobilization of the Atlantic and naval militia has been considered for two weeks, and it may be necessary to accomplish this before long.

The imminence of international affairs has spurred both army and navy recruiting. The navy now has 60,600 men, but must raise 27,000 more. Early graduation of two Annapolis classes will provide officers for the untrained.

PRESIDENT TO DECLARE NEXT STEP WITHIN 24 HOURS

By United Press:

Washington, March 20.—President Wilson is expected to outline the real status between the United States and Germany within the next 24 hours as his next step in preparing the country for probable hostilities. That a state of war now exists between the United States and Germany is now taken for granted. Few believe the President will fail to acknowledge this in his first utterances.

Having moved rapidly yesterday in speeding up war preparations, especially for sea forces, the President worked late last night. Today he meets his cabinet.

Complete proof of Germany's bold affronts on the high seas is now before the President, in an imposing array of war acts against the United States. The toll in two weeks has amounted to four American ships, and over a score of American lives, a sacrifice through utter disregard of the rights of the United States. From all over the United States telegrams came to the White House today demanding war.

The President's condition was so much improved today that his physician, Admiral Grayson, permitted him to go to the golf links.

ADMINISTRATION REJECTS CARRANZA'S PEACE PLAN

By United Press:

Washington, March 20.—While rejecting Carranza's peace plan and proposal for embargo on shipments to the Allies, President Wilson in his note to Mexico, made public today, renews his suggestion for co-operation among neutrals for halting the war.

"The President regrets that however desirous he may be to co-operate with Gen. Carranza," says the note, "in finding a solution of the world problem that is intruding itself on all countries, he is unable just now to direct his energies toward the accomplishment of the lofty purposes of the President-elect of Mexico, in the way suggested by his proposal."

At the outset of his note President Wilson called attention to the break in relations with Germany, and emphasized the German-Mexican-Japanese plot recently uncovered. The reason for mentioning it is taken to mean that Carranza, despite several requests, has never disavowed his sympathy with or knowledge of the plot.

INTERNED GERMAN SAILORS ESCAPED

Special to Courier-News:

Washington, March 20.—Dispatches received at the Navy Department today show one German lieutenant and nine sailors attempted an escape from League Island navy yard last night. Two of the sailors succeeded; four of them were drowned in the attempt, and four were found in a state of exhaustion in the water.

The whereabouts of the two who apparently have escaped have not been ascertained.

CALKINS TO SPEAK ON JEWISH RELIEF

Mayor and Rabbi Wise to Address Mass Meeting on April 8

At a meeting of the Jewish Relief Committee in the Y. M. H. A. last night, Judge Newcorn announced that Mayor Leighton Calkins will make a brief address at the mass meeting to be held in Columbus Hall on the night of April 8, when Rabbi Stephen Wise, of New York, will speak on the subject and aims of the relief committee.

In addition to these speakers Judge Newcorn announced that the Plainfield Ministerial Association will also send representatives to the meeting.

Judge Newcorn stated thas morning that the sufferings of one branch of the human family, no matter where that branch may be, should appeal to all humanity, and those who are in a position to contribute in any way to the alleviation of the suffering ones should not fail to do so.

"I believe that the people of Plainfield will respond to our petition for the suffering Jews," he said. "They have never failed to feed the hungry, clothe the naked and care for the sick. They will not fail in this emergency. The American people are being called upon by the sufferers of every country and they are responding generously to every call. They are appealed to because America is regarded as the most civilized and progressive country in the world. Because the nation has attained this distinction it is looked to for succor by those who are in need. The Jewish Relief Committee of America expect that we shall raise $10,000 here. We expect that every Jew will do his duty and as a matter of human sympathy we indulge the hope that those who are not Jews will also feel an impulse to contribute to the cause. Checks may be sent to Herman Schwed."

Michael Shapiro, of 125 West Fourth street, who has been in the employ of Rosenbaum Brothers for the past five months, was arrested last night by Patrolman Fred Bader, charged with taking two diamond rings belonging to Mrs. Samuel Rosenbaum, of 420 Madison avenue, some time yesterday.

It was said that he had taken the rings in New York and given them to his sister. Police Captain John J. Flynn went to New York today to recover the stolen property. Shapiro is being held at headquarters until tomorrow morning when he will be arraigned before City Judge W. G. De Mezz.

About five months ago he was released from the Rahway Reformatory. He was committed from New Brunswick.

DRINKING A HANDICAP IN COMPENSATION CASE

Evidence tending to show that Henry Sohn of Brookdale was intoxicated September 7, 1915, when he fell from a wagon he was driving for Robert L. M. Axt, a wholesale vegetable dealer of that town, receiving fatal injuries, caused Judge Osborne in the Common Pleas Court Newark, yesterday to refuse compensation to Sohn's widow, Mrs. Lena A. Sohn. She had brought suit under the employer's liability law.

In the concluding paragraph of his decision, Judge Osborne said: "I am satisfied that this man was very much intoxicated, and in the absence of any other suggestion whatever as to the reason of his falling off the wagon, that the whole case indicates that he fell off because of his intoxication, and therefore, it is the natural and proximate cause of the injury."

REV. URIAH M'CLINCHIE WILL LEAVE IRVINGTON

Rev. Uriah McClinchie, pastor of the First Reformed Church, Irvington, tendered his resignation to the congregation at the close of the morning service Sunday, to take effect the last Sunday in June, when he will have completed fourteen years in his present charge. A desire to devote more time to lecturing is the reason advanced for his withdrawal from the pastorate.

The annual business meeting of the congregation will be held April 10 and the minister requested that the usual steps be taken at that time to have his pastoral relationship dissolved by the Classis of Newark.

SENATOR PIERCE OFFERS SERVICES TO GOVERNOR

Trenton March 20.—Anticipating the probability of war in the near future, Senator Carlton B. Pierce of Union County has tendered his services to Governor Edge. In a communication to the Governor Senator Pierce said:

"I hereby tender my services to the State for the probable coming war and the preparation therefor."

GERMANS STILL RETIRE.

French Occupy Three More Important Towns.

London, March 20.—The Germans are continuing their retreat in France over the eighty-five mile front extending from south of Arras to Soissons, closely pressed at all points by the British and French. According to military critics both here and in Paris, the German armies are now within a short distance of reaching the Cambrai-St. Quentin-Laon line, which the French are fast approaching.

The important town of Ham, twelve miles southwest of St. Quentin, has been reached and passed by the French advance guard, while troops advancing up the valley of the Oise have passed Chauny, seven miles southwest of La Fere. The French are pushing forward much faster than the British, having covered about twenty-two miles since the advance began three days ago. Over 120 villages and towns have so far been recovered by the French alone, the civilians still remaining in them receiving the troops with open arms.

MUTINY ON U. S. CUTTER.

Fire Firemen Arrested on Coast Guard Ship Seneca.

New York, March 20.—Charged with mutiny, five firemen were taken from the United States coast guard cutter Seneca, landed in shackles at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, and taken to the Richmond county jail, twelve miles distant, by trolley. The men are John Odell, James Dingle, Joseph Mooney, John Donovan and Matthew Fields. Sheriff Tilton was asked to lock the men up and keep them pending a court martial for alleged mutiny.

Nothing was learned from officers of the Seneca as to the details of the alleged mutiny. But the men, talking in their cells, intimated the charge grew out of the throwing of an iron bar at an engineer after he had interfered with a fist fight.

5 Per Cent. Interest on Loans

Special to the Courier-News:

Washington, March 20.—The Farm Loan Board announced today that the interest rate on all loans made to farmers throughout the country by Federal land banks would be 5 per cent., A rate of 4 1-2 per cent. on bonds to be issued by the land banks also was officially announced.

"THE PRECIOUS TRUTH" BY REV. C. H. FOUNTAIN

The Sunday School Quarterly for the second year, entitled "The Precious Truth," by the Rev. Charles Hillman Fountain, B. A., B. D., of this city, has just been published by Charles C. Cook, of New York, and is now on sale at Estil's Book Shop, on Park avenue. The issue for the first quarter was quickly sold out, and the book commended itself so highly to teachers and pastors throughout the country that it has become the text book in a great number of Bible schools, and its popularity is increasing daily.

Mr. Fountain and his family are so well known in Plainfield that it might be expected that a review of this book would be colored; but this review is not; it is written as it would be if Mr. Fountain were not known here. The book is a genuine treasure of truth; the exegisis is admirable, clear and convincing; the scriptural references are most wisely chosen, the points of the lessons are pressed home with surprising force and the whole is so intensely interesting that it is hard to put the book down when once it is taken up. To say the least, it is one of the most useful text books for the teacher that has ever been written.

The book may well be recommended to pastors, for it is the result of much study and profound thought, and it presents the fourth Gospel and its difficult problems in a telling and concrete way that will be helpful to even advanced students of theology.

GERMANS CAPTURE FRENCH TRENCHES

Special to Courier-News:

Berlin, March 20.—French trenches on the Verdun front, over a width of 500 yards, were captured by the Germans in strong attacks Sunday afternoon, the War Office announced today. Eight French officers and 485 men were captured. Counter attacks by the French during the night were repulsed.

There was violent fighting on both sides of the Meuse river. Near the North Sea coast and in Artois there has been lively fighting activity.

The War Office admitted a general retirement between Arras and the Aisne, Somme front, saying that the British offered no strong resistance and followed in a hesitating manner.

SOUTHERN GOVERNORS MEET TO PLAN RIVER TRAFFIC

By United Press:

New Orleans, March 20.—Governors of Mississippi Valley States met yesterday to plan the use of the Mississippi river and others to obtain relief from freight rates which tend, they say, to force shipments by lake and rail instead of via this port.

ALLIANCE SPLIT

Milwaukee, March 20.—The Milwaukee branch of the German-American Alliance faces a split as a result of a stormy session, at which it was announced that a manpercher had resigned and that the Militar Verein and the Bavarian Sick Benefit Society contemplated resigning.

It was decided to send a telegram to Senator La Follette expressing the admiration of the society for his recent stand in the Senate, and a letter to the Milwaukee representatives in the State Legislature asking them not to take any part in censuring the Senator.

When the societies' resignations from the alliance were read a lively debate was started. Several of the members, including the State president Leo Stern, severely criticized the leaders. Charles Tlaser, treasurer, said:

"I think it terrible that the council should fight among its members. Germany is putting up a great fight and she will win. No matter if two or three more countries enter the war as her enemies she will still come out the victor."

BEN WELCH'S BIG SHOW COMING

Ben Welch and Florence Rother who will appear at the Plainfield Theatre Monday, March 26, matinee and night

Ben Welch's big show which opens at the Plainfield Theatre Monday, March 26, with usual matinee, possesses so many elements of success that it is little wonder that it has become so attractive and so popular with the American theatre-goers. Music, comedy and extravaganza are so adroitly inter-mixed that the result is an entertainment that is pleasing to all. The book is by Peter F. Carr, entitled "Love Arbor" and "The New Commander," which lends itself admirably to the purpose of burlesque. Every advantage has been taken of the opportunities to provide a performance that can scarcely be described otherwise than extraordinary. The music is by Harry Von Tilzer, one of America's foremost lyric writers. The numbers and ensembles were produced and staged by L. Lubria Hillman, author of several rag-time successes. Besides Mr. Welch, the cast includes Pat Kearney, Frank P. Murphy, Florence Rother, Billy Wild, Vic Casmore, Hilda Silles, Sid Gold, Leona Warl, Freda Florence, Mae Dolby and a singing and dancing chorus of pretty girls, all in a class by themselves.

MARY PICKFORD ENDS PROCTOR ENGAGEMENT

As Gwendolyn, the "poor little rich girl," who had all that money could buy but scarcely knew her parents, Mary Pickford in "A Poor Little Rich Girl," her newest Artcraft picture, closes at Proctor's tonight after playing to capacity houses. Mrs. Vernon Castle in the 10th episode of "Patria," also closes at Proctor's tonight. The latest Pathe News, and motion pictures of corner stone laying at the new City Hall, will be other feafures.

Tomorrow a double feature Fox program includes George Walsh playing a role a la "Douglas Fairbanks" in "Melting Millions," and Gladys Coburn, the beautiful emotional star, is seen in a breezy five-part photoplay of Western life entitled "The Primitive Call." Pathos, romance, and adventure are combined in this stirring story.

On Thursday Valeska Suratt is starred in a powerful dramatic offering entitled "Jealousy." Also the last episode of "Pearl of the Army" is shown, and Hank Mann appears in a two-part Fox comedy creation entitled "His Ticklish Job."

Douglas Fairbanks makes up one-half of the program on Friday in his newest Triangle success "The American," a comedy drama in which he introduces a wonderful array of novel stunts and thrilling escapades.

RUNYON OPPOSES SUNDAY THEATRES

Special to Courier-News:

Trenton, March 20.—With Assemblyman Runyon, of Plainfield, protesting, on the ground that it would result in a desecration of the Sabbath, the House last night reconsidered its action of a week ago and passed the Colgan bill, providing for the opening of moving and other theatres on Sundays in first-class cities, providing the people approve by a referendum vote. The fees from the licenses are to go to the public school fund. The vote was 32 to 23.

Runyon said that more and more is there a disposition to set at naught the day God set aside for rest. Licensing picture theatres was breaking the day and would not enhance either the physical or moral well-being of the people.

HOME DEFENSE IS ORGANIZED

ment an emergency reserve has been created, the retired call men having volunteered for the purpose, and other protective measures taken.

"In order to have ready a reserve body of citizens as an auxiliary to the regular police force I have, with the approval of the Board of Police, organized a Plainfield Home Defense League. The general plan and scope of organization is as follows:

"1. I have appointed the following Commission, which has agreed to act with me in the management of the activities of the League: S. F. R. Huntsman, of the First Ward; Marion S. Ackerman, of the Second Ward; Henry S. Fullerton, of the Third Ward; C. B. Lufburrow, M. D., of the Fourth Ward. The purpose of the League is to organize, drill and otherwise train a body of citizens to be available for service as special police officers. The League will also undertake a general campaign of preparedness for home defense in order to mobilize the resources of the city for the protection of the citizens and their property. All expenses, including those for equipment and drill and the cost of maintaining members as special police officers when called out as hereafter explained, will be met by voluntary subscription to a Home Defense Fund. George P. Mellick has accepted appointment by the Commission as chairman of a Finance Committee of citizens, which will have charge of this matter. The committee will shortly announce where contributions may be sent. It is desired that all residents of Plainfield who would like to have a part in this movement shall feel that the smallest contributions are welcome. The Commission will also name such other citizen committees as may be needed to further the objects of the League.

"2. Membership in the League is wholly voluntary, without dues, and may be terminated by resignation at any time. It is limited to able-bodied men, citizens of the United States and residents of good standing in the city for at least one year, who are not connected with any military organization. Members agree to give so much of their time outside their usual affairs as the Commission may require for drill and other training; also to stand ready for emergency service at any time as special police officers, without pay, regardless of business or professional demands.

"3. All authority of the League will be superseded by that of the Mayor and Police Department from the time and for the period that actual service as a special police officer is required of any member of the League. All members of the League stand ready to be sworn in as special police officers at any time, and as such to be subject to immediate call by the city authorities for police service.

"Otherwise all members of the League will be equipped and drilled, in such units or companies and with such officers and other organization, as the Commission may determine. A. W. Hanthorn has accepted appointment by the Commission as commander of the League and will have charge of this work under the general direction of the Commission.

"4. Fifty citizens have volunteered to serve as a nucleus in the organization of the League and their nominations go to you today for confirmation as special police officers. Until called into service they have agreed to sacrifice their leisure for whatever drill and training may be necessary; and as stated they agree as members of the League to make whatever sacrifice of business or professional interests may be required in an emergency.

"5. The Commission invites applications for membership in the League. Name may be handed to any member of the Commission. Many are now being received and additional units are being organized. These will be equipped and drilled and be held available to be sworn in as special police when needed, or may be sworn in at once and held subject to immediate call for service.

"While the League as an organization is separate from the Police Department, all its services, including the recruiting of a reserve police force, as above outlined, will be at the disposition of the regular authorities in all measures that may be taken for local protection.

"As the plan of organization of the League, so far as special police service is concerned, makes it necessary to limit membership and service to residents of the city, I have conferred with Mayor Smalley of the Borough regarding the organization there of a League along identical lines. I am pleased to announce that the suggestion meets with his cordial approval and that he is already at work on the project. By this means the men of North Plainfield will have like opportunity to show their patriotism. While the two Commissions will exercise separate jurisdiction, they will act in co-operation for the benefit of the community as a whole.

"The Plainfield Council of Boy Scouts has placed all local Boy Scouts at my disposition for such service as they may be able to perform. Already the Scouts have taken a preliminary census of the city. In this matter also I have had the co-operation of Mayor Smalley, who has approved similar action in the Borough. The Scouts will shortly undertake a more detailed survey of the resources of both communities for local and national emergency and we shall expect ready compliance with all requests for information. In addition the Commission is working out with the Scout Council a plan by which the Boy Scouts will be available as messengers, on patrol assignments, and in other ways.

"It now seems probable that our country, despite unexampled effort to safeguard American lives and the nation's vital interests by an appeal to reason and the fundamental principles of civilization, may yet be driven to the employment of force in the defense of life and for the maintenance of right and liberty. Seeking first to establish international right and justice by persuasion and an appeal to moral obligation, we have given an example of sovereign forbearance which has amazed a practical world and will forever redound to the honor of American ideals whether or not it has advanced the security or the separate interests of the republic. No nation has ever given such proof of its devotion to peace. But what we now have is not peace, and if we would have it we may need to be ready to enforce it.

"Therefore in this hour of national crisis I earnestly urge upon the people of our city not only that their loyalty which is known should also be proclaimed, for the encouragement of those entrusted with high responsibility, but that they awake to a realization of the menace which threatens the country and of their own duty in preparing to meet it.

"LEIGHTON CALKINS,
"Mayor."

TRAINING CAMPS WITHOUT EXPENSE

Many people who do not wish to tie themselves down for a long period of time would like, however, to secure some military training under competent officers, more especially if it might be had without expense to them of any kind other than the time necessary to give to it.

These will be interested to know that the War Department has authorized and the Eastern Department of the United States Army will conduct such training camps at Plattsburgs for the Senior Division, and at Plum Island for the Junior Division, this summer.

The Senior Division includes men from eighteen to forty-five years of age, and the Junior Division boys from fifteen to eighteen years of age.

Full details as to these training camps may be obtained by addressing The Officer in Charge, Training Camps, Eastern Department, Governor's Island, N. Y.

CAN FLY TO EUROPE IN FORTY HOURS

St. Paul, Minn., March 20.—Paul Rickel, 23, today claimed that he can fly across the ocean in forty hours by using in his engine a certain oil formula he claims to have perfected. He has sent this formula to the United States Government as a gift. Whether it has been tested is not known.

YOU HAVE CATARRH!

What Are You Doing to Stop It?

If your nose is clogged with air passage swollen and inflamed or if crusts are constantly forming in it, if you suffer from droppings in the throat and are blowing, hawking, spitting all the time you have catarrh.

You may nose and throat catarrh for years and not get an inkling of it. For years to come it you refuse to act. But if you really wish to end it quickly and feel in your best better in every way go to R. W. Randolph or any live local druggist and say, "I want a large package of Hyomei with inhaler." No stomach dosing, greasy ointments, sprays or gargles. You breath Hyomei and as you inhale its pure, wholesome air healing tonic balsams quickly reach all the sore, inflamed membranes of the nose and throat and the catarrhal germs are destroyed. Clears out the head and throat like magic opens up the nose, makes breathing easy and gives speedy relief from every catarrhal symptom. It has done this for years for thousands of people. Your money back if it cannot do it for you.—Adv.

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?—Adv.

Mrs. C. R. Banks of This City Among Those Who Favor Kansas Candidate

The Daughters of the American Revolution in Kansas have presented Mrs. George Thacher Guernsey, as a candidate for the office of president-general of the National Society, and the nomination is backed by nearly one thousand regents and other officers past and present of chapters in the East, West and South. One of those in the list is Mrs. Charles Read Banks, of this city, regent of the Continental chapter.

Mrs. Ellen Hardin Walworth, founder, who died in 1915; Mrs. Donald McLean, honorary president-general, who died in May, 1916, and Mrs. H. S. Chamberlain, former vice-president-general of Tennessee, who died in September, 1916, responded that their names be added to the list of those favoring Mrs. Guernsey for the office of president-general.

A report was circulated in some of the papers that those favoring Mrs. Guernsey had been working secretly for her nomination, but Mrs. Banks states that quite the contrary is the fact, and that the campaign has been very much in the open, and that she sent the list of nearly a thousand names of those favoring Mrs. Guernsey to every chapter in New Jersey.

TUESDAY, MARCH 20, 1917.

RUSSIA BEGINS TO LIVE

With the changes that have taken place in Russia the past week, in the abdication of the Czar, and the democratic attitude of his brother, who accepted the regency until a new government can be formed, Russian people will begin to live. It may seem strange that Russia should be almost the last of civilized nations to overturn autocratic rule, since the autocracy has been so tyrannical, and since that country is one of the largest and most populous in the world. While other monarchies of modern times have been autocratic they have not been obliged to be so tyrannical, nor deal with so many millions of hostile people. This is probably the only civilized country in which its ruler has been obliged to hedge himself about with soldiers, even in the privacy of his room, to avoid assassination from a discontented people. He has escaped the fate of the monarchs of old in whose history has been demonstrated one great feature of human instinct. From the beginning of the world it has been shown that a people cannot govern itself without a ruler into whose hands is given full power of government, but that the moment the ruler becomes a tyrant the people have risen and killed the tyrant, and put some one else in his place. Czar Nicholas escaped the fate of other monarchs by abdicating. The tension was too strong for him to resist longer, with his pro-German affiliations and sentiments that country has given thousands of her people for war, only to be slaughtered for want even of willingness on the part of the monarch to allow them to be prepared to face the enemy. Russia was handicapped from the first, for want of munitions. Despite the fact that great factories in that country had offered to make munitions at a price set by the government, the offers were turned down, and when this secret became known outside the palace the reigning party was blamed for bad faith. The people resented the attitude of a government which would let its people go to battle bare-handed, and face the most deadly of modern armament. Suspicion that a barbaric subterfuge had been used to hoodwink the people of Russia, and wear them out with discouragement, so ultimately they would have to surrender to Germany, needed only a spark to fan it into flame and the Czar saw the sign "This way out," in time to go out voluntarily. Today the sentiment for a republic is crystallizing in Russia, and the people are beginning to draw the satisfying breath of freedom. That the people all except the royal family were ready for the change, is evidenced in the condition of peace that prevails today in Petrograd, and in the resumed industries in Moscow, where the people have returned to work with some heart. Their endeavors will now amount to something. With the freedom of the press, abolition of political censorship, the opening of the hidden supplies of food products which have been held by the royal party, while the people starved are evidences of admitting the people to the class of human beings. These people have only needed a chance, for Russia is blessed with all varieties of climate, and can grow anything from icebergs to pomegranates, and all she needed has been human opportunity and human encouragement.

THE HOME DEFENSE LEAGUE

Three weeks ago a meeting, organized by the Mayor and a group of patriotic citizens, was held in the High school auditorium, which was packed an hour in advance to its greatest capacity. It was estimated that not less than two thousand people were turned away at the doors. The purpose of the meeting was to enable loyal citizens to give open expression to their belief that the President of the United States, who has striven to maintain peace by forbearance and moral persuasion, should be supported by all true Americans to whatever extent he may find it necessary to employ force to safeguard the country and its citizens. But Plainfield is not to rest content with a declaration of loyalty to American ideals and American liberty. We commend to our subscribers a careful reading of the Mayor's message to the Common Council last evening, from which it appears that plans have been under way for several weeks to prepare for whatever emergency may arise. Aside from an emergency organization of the police and fire departments, the Mayor has perfected the details for a Home Defense League, which not only will recruit a large reserve of special police, but will undertake an inventory of community resources to be available for local protection, and as a military census for use by the Government when called for. The League will have the services of the Boy Scouts, and expects in addition to assist the high school boys in carrying forward their plans for military drill. The Home Defense League should have the active and hearty support of all loyal citizens. It will serve not only as an agency for the protection of life and property, but as a means to arouse the public generally to the menace which threatens right and justice the world over, and to the great need of an awakening throughout the country to the duties of manhood and citizenship. Liberty and democracy are at stake. The time has come for Americans as men to stand shoulder to shoulder, regardless of race, creed or position, for the defense of liberty and national honor. In the Commission which he has appointed to manage the activities of the League the Mayor has chosen men of experience in such matters and of recognized standing in the community. He has selected a representative from each ward, thus giving the movement a popular community character. Fifty citizens have volunteered as a nucleus for the League, and we are at fault in our knowledge of Plainfield if the Commission does not find itself overwhelmed with applications for membership and with offers of financial support, each according to what he may be able to contribute. The organization of a similar league in the borough is under way so that the community as a whole will be prepared to safeguard its interests and to take its proper place among the wide-awake and patriotic municipalities of the country.

THE COST OF TRANSPORTING FOOD.

The investigations of the expert in regard to cost of living emphasizes the high transportation charges. Not merely is freight a large item, but with labor costly, the trucking charges, by the time articles have gone through several hands, have added very appreciably. Years ago farmers used to sell more direct to the cities and towns in their immediate neighborhoods, and trucking and freight were not so much of a factor. Now more business is done through jobbers and wholesalers, and one charge is piled on top of another. The farmer sells to the wholesaler because it is the easiest way, with the least bother and time required. Many times by displaying some enterprise, and particularly by advertising in the newspapers, he could develop a line of near-by customers that would take a part, or perhaps all, of his product. Where this can be done, it gives the farmer a better return, and should give the consumer a lower price.

NOW THE ONION PEST

Most people have, perhaps, been reconciled to the various difficulties in raising fruits and vegetables, in the menace from the potato bug, the tomato worm, the plum curculio, the apple worm, the San Jose scale on peaches and pears, the cabbage worm, etc., but in these days when people are thinking of returning to the soil to raise some crop that will ease the cost of living, they perhaps did not know that onions, which are bringing a high price, are another crop that is infested by a menace, a maggot which injures whole fields of onions unless checked. However, as in the case of other crop menaces, agriculturists have found a method of protecting the onions. Anyone wishing to know about it may ask R. W. De Baum, extension specialist on market gardening, at the State Agricultural College, New Brunswick, N. J., free of charge.

CZAR'S COSTLY MOVE

The move which Czar Nicholas made in abdicating the throne of Russia cost him something, but he cannot be said to have sacrificed his wealth for a principle. In abdicating he leaves a fortune of nearly two thousand million dollars, his cash being on deposit in the Bank of England, and much invested in American securities, among them Pennsylvania Railroad stock, and beside that about twelve million acres of land in Russia, with all the mineral resources of the country. All this will probably be confiscated. Once he could have been the richest man in the world, and still held the throne, but he flew in the face of fate, and bumped against something.

AUTOMATIC POWER VESTED

The espionage bills which the administration so strongly demanded and so generously received from Congress carry a larger power to the President than anything this country has ever seen of than most autocratic nations possess. Mr. Wilson may so prescribe the "other places and things" which are interdicted to the citizens that freedom of movement and of speech, perhaps even of assembly, might be variously curtailed. Under this bill, Mr. Wilson, for instance, might be able to deal with Senator Stone and some others more stringently than by refusing to invite them to the White House.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Perhaps the people who started some of these food riots did so not so much because of hunger themselves, as desirous of seeing other people hungry.

It is perhaps natural that the bone-dry law should make many people shiver to the marrow.

Treaties nowadays are the agreements you expect to keep with nations having a stronger military force.

The people of the United States would almost be willing to go without potatoes for six months if all those being held by speculators should rot on their hands.

Of 100,000 visitors in Washington during the inauguration probably not more than 99,000 of them were looking for office.

Our people don't worry much about lives being lost, but wait until some one finds out that he has lost a dollar by the way the war is going.

The Congressmen are scrambling for committee places, and some are ex-officio members of the committee to keep the Congressional Record filled up.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Disagrees With Mr. Sminck

Editor Courier-News:—I noticed in the Courier-News of March 13 an article headed "Sminck's Plans are Presented," in regard to the overflowing of Green Brook every time there is an extra heavy downpour of rain. If I am not mistaken, the part of Green Brook that overflows lies between Faragut road and Leland avenue. I would like to suggest, if suggestions are in order, that before any imported engineer is consulted, the cause as seen by old Plainfielders be removed. The cause from my point of view is, the water is held back by two dams; also the brook is not wide enough to take the amount of water that drains into it after every cloudburst.

My views differ from Councilman Sminck's in this matter, namely, he advocates controlling the brook above the overflowed district. My view is to let the water out below by doing away with the two now useless dams, thereby giving the brook about ten feet more fall in less than an eighth of a mile below the part that overflows. If that is not sufficient widen the brook below enough to take all the water that would ever flow through that district. With ten feet more fall in such a short distance below the overflow part the water can get out as fast as it can get in, thereby remedying the bad state of affairs that happens too often.

WHAT IS "CERTIFIED MILK?"

It is milk whose purity and cleanly production is certified to by a Medical Milk Commission, regulated by State law under the rules of the American Association at Washington. Copy of these regulations mailed on request.

It is like a certified check. When a bank certifies a check, it first looks at the account to know that the check is good.

The five physicians of the Plainfield-Westfield Milk Commission employ experts to watch the daily production of Wood Brook Milk. Then they certify it.

It costs more to make milk so good it can be certified. Yet the price of Wood Brook Certified Milk is only 14 cents a quart.

NO THIRTY CENT REDUCTION BY NEW YORK COAL DEALERS

By United Press:

New York, March 20.—The usual fifty cents a ton reduction in the price of coal will not be made this April 1 by New York dealers, it became known here today. The large operators allied with the anthracite roads may not offer any reduction at all, and those who decide upon a decrease, if they do so, are not expected to make it more than twenty-five cents.

Eight and nine dollar coal is the prospect for New Yorkers this summer. Meantime many of the dealers are preparing to face trial in Federal court here on indictments charging conspiracy to boost prices.

It is barely possible that all men in boat were taken by German submarine, but more probably by some friendly craft having no wireless."

WOMEN IN ATLANTIC CITY WANT HOTEL FOR DOGS

Atlantic City, March 20.—Angry because of Mayor Bacharach's proclamation that all dogs shall be muzzled for six months, and because most of the hotels here refuse to permit dogs, no matter what their pedigree is, to be housed with the guests, society women of New York and Philadelphia filed a protest with the Women's Auxiliary of the S. P. C. A., and have demanded that the city or private capital build a hotel where pedigreed dogs may be boarded while their owners are in the resort.

VIRGINIA CARTER LEE

...ow with this department Miss Lee will gladly answer any Lenuiry relative to domestic science, a stamped envelope being necessary for a personal reply. Address care of Courier-News.

In continuing last night's article, dealing with the making of various flour mixtures, it is well for the housekeeper to remember that occasionally baking powder is used with sour milk and molasses. Sometimes, sour milk or cream is more readily available than sweet milk. Soda can then be added to this to correct the acidity, and the milk may then be used with baking powder, exactly as if it were sweet milk, provided allowance is made for the carbon dioxide resultant from the combination of the soda and sour milk.

Proportions of Soda and Baking Powder to be Used With Sour Milk and Molasses

Use half a level teaspoonful of soda for each cupful of molasses, or thick sour milk or cream. Cut down the quantity of baking powder to one level teaspoonful for each cup of flour. If eggs are used, the quantity of powder may be cut down still more.

Method of Combining Flour Mixtures

When baking soda or baking powder is stirred into a liquid, especially if it be a hot or acid liquid, bubbles of gas begin to appear at once and are lost before the mixture can be stirred into the dough. Accordingly, then, to secure a mixture of even lightness throughout, it is necessary that the dry leavening agents be sifted with the flour two or three times. Then stir the liquid into the dry ingredients and bake as quickly as possible.

How to Add Shortening

When a small quantity of shortening, say one or two tablespoonfuls, is to be added to a mixture, it may be melted and beaten in at the last. When a larger quantity is to be used, it may be beaten until creamy and the sugar beaten into it, as in cake-making, or it may be rubbed in with the finger tips, as in making biscuits, or partly cut in and partly folded in, as in pastry-making.

How to Add Eggs

If a hollow cake, like popovers, is to be produced, add the egg, without separating the white from the yolk, to the milk and beat the two together into the dry mixture. When a spongy texture is desired, beat the whites and yolks separately. Then add the yolks with the milk and, at the last, beat in the whipped whites.

How to Bake Quick Breads

Quick breads are steamed, baked in the oven in individual portions, also in loaves or sheets, and on a griddle on top of the stove. Breads containing sugar and butter, one or both, burn more easily than those without such ingredients. Eggs are cooked at a low temperature, therefore, mixtures containing many eggs must be cooked more slowly than those with no eggs.

Rye Meal Muffins

Sift together, three times, half a cupful of rye meal (not flour), half a cupful of wheat flour, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. Beat one egg until light, add one-third to one-half a cupful of cold, sweet milk, and stir into the dry ingredients. Beat the batter vigorously, add two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, beat again and pour into well buttered muffin cups. Bake twenty-five minutes.

Quick Sally Lunn

Sift together two cupfuls of pastry flour, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar, half a teaspoonful of baking soda and one and a half level teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar. Beat one egg lightly, add half a cupful of milk and beat into the dry ingredients. Then stir in three tablespoonfuls of melted butter and, lastly, one stiffly whipped egg white. Beat the batter hard and bake in a shallow greased pan. Cut in squares and serve hot.

Baking Powder Nut Loaf

Sift together two cupfuls of flour, half a cupful of sugar, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt and a tiny pinch of grated nutmeg. Then work in with the finger tips, as finely as possible, three tablespoonfuls of butter and two tablespoonfuls of lard. Beat one whole egg lightly with the yolk of an additional egg, add one cupful of milk and blend in with the dry ingredients. Lastly, add one and a half cupfuls of nut meats, broken in small pieces. Turn into a greased bread pan, cover and let stand for twenty minutes. Then bake in a moderate oven for forty-five minutes.

OLD WITCH NEDA—Part II

Something must be done and done at once, said one star. "If we let that old witch have the sun and moon, how do we know what will become of us?"

"But what can we do?" asked another star. "Here we are up here in the sky and old Neda's house is on the top of a mountain."

"One of us must go down there and let them out," said the first star. "Now which one of us will go; that is the first thing to settle."

No one answered for a minute, and then a very little star said timidly, "I am willing to go, but I am so small I do not suppose I could do any good."

"You are the very one to go just because you are small," said the first star, "and now I will tell you how it can be done.

"Old Witch Neda will be up here tonight, you may be sure, because she is happy, now that she has the sun and moon and wants to see how unhappy we are.

"When she comes tonight we must make a great fuss and cry, because we are so upset; not knowing when it is night or day and beg her to help us. She will fly around close to us, and when she is very near Little Star we must wail and cry and attract her attention, and then Little Star must jump on the broomstick, right behind old Witch Neda—"

"Oh! oh! oh!" said all the stars. Oh! oh! oh!" for they were afraid of old Neda. But Little Star did not cry out; she just winked and blinked and listened to what the first star said.

"As I said," continued the first star, "Little Star must jump on the broomstick right behind old Witch Neda and then close her eyes until old Neda comes to her house on the top of the mountain.

"Of course, she can only take just one look then, just to see where the old witch goes, and Little Star, must stay very still until old Neda goes to bed, for she usually sleeps in the day time.

"When all is still and you are sure old Witch Neda sleeps, then you must go about very carefully and quietly until you find the closet where the sun and moon are kept prisoners and unlock the door."

"But what good will that do?" asked one star. "They will be out of the closet, but how will they ever get back to their places in the sky; the old witch will never bring them, of course."

"Wait, my dear sister, and I will tell you even how that can be managed," said the first star.

"After you have released the sun and moon, Little Star, you must hurry to the place where the old witch keeps her magic broomstick and jump on it. Smooth it three times one way and then three times in the opposite direction, and it will obey you.

"You must be careful, however, to smooth it but one way until you have the sun and moon safely on it with you. But hush, hush; here comes old Witch Neda."

Old Witch Neda cackled and chuckled when she heard the wailing and crying the stars were making over the loss of the sun and moon.

"Oh, give them back to us; give them back to us," they cried; "we will never be rude to you again, even when you pull off our veils."

"Ah, ha!" said the old witch, laughing loudly, "I guess you won't be rude to me, my silly little star, for I intend to keep the old moon and sun locked in my closet and make you shine all the time until you are so sleepy you fall out of the sky. Ha, ha, ha!"

"Oh! oh! oh!" cried the stars, all together, and Old Neda flew close to them the better to see how they suffered, and then Little Star did as the first star had told her to do, and the next instant she was flying along with old Witch Neda toward her house on the top of mountain.

Little Star just looked once and saw Old Neda go into the house. Then she closed her eyes and waited until she was sure the witch was asleep.

Very, very carefully she opened the door and slipped in. Then she looked around and from under a door she saw a very bright light and knew that behind that door were the sun and moon.

The key was in the door and it took only a second to turn it. "Hush," said Little Star. "I have come to release you. Do not make a sound, but follow me."

Little Star took from a chair old Witch Neda's big black cape and threw it over the sun and moon, so their bright light might not awaken the old witch, and in another minute they were all sitting on the broomstick while Little Star smoothed it three times one way and three times the other, and then said, "Off to the sky. Take us home, good broomstick."

Away they flew, and in a short time the sun was shining in the sky just as if nothing had happened to him, and the stars went to sleep and slept soundly, they were so tired.

Little Star that night took her place in the sky very quietly, but the other stars wanted to know all about her adventure.

"Oh! I just did as the first star told me," modestly replied the Little Star, "and brought back the sun and moon, that was all."

"You were a brave Little Star," said the first star, "and as a reward the broomstick of the old witch has been made into stars, which are to be made into a big cross, and in this cross forever shall you shine, and you will take on more brightness then any of us, brave brave Little Star."

Of course the old witch having lost her broomstick, could not bother the stars by more, so they shone and twinkled happily on, always feeling grateful to Little Star for helping them out of their great trouble.

FARRAR WOULD PROVE HER LOYALTY TO U. S.

Although she is in extremely delicate health, Miss Geraldine Farrar, star of "Joan the Woman," the photoplay which comes to the Proctor Theatre next month under the direction of Frank G. Hall, will prove her Americanism by singing "The Star Spangled Banner" from the stage of a Boston theatre where the production will be shown in the near future.

Miss Farrar has decided to do this against the advice of her physician who has prescribed a complete rest. She was impelled to do so by the reports that have been circulated, especially in this State, to the effect that she had refused to stand while an orchestra played the national anthem and had written a letter to a German newspaper expressing her dislike for America and its people.

COURT RULES HUSBAND MAY SPANK SMOKING WIFE.

Elizabeth, N. J., March 20.—A wife who smokes cigarettes may be lawfully spanked by her husband.

Jersey Justice committed itself to this radical decision yesterday. Its spokesman was Justice Mahon of this city. He was adjudicating the suit of Durka against Durka.

Justice Mahon looked reproachfully at Edmund Durka until he went on the stand and explained that his wife earned the "good old fashioned spanking" he had given her by immoderate smoking of cigarettes.

U. S. WIRE SYSTEM ALL READY FOR WAR

Telegraph and Telephone to Mobilize at Once.

Washington, March 20.—In case of war the nation's telephone and telegraph systems can now be instantly mobilized and a censorship almost automatically established.

This was the result of a conference between Secretary of War Baker, Theodore N. Vail, head of the American Telephone and Telegraph company; W. S. Gifford, director of the Council of National Defense; Brigadier General Kuhn, president of the War college; Brigadier General Squier, chief signal officer of the army, and Commander Todd, director of naval communication service. At the close of the conference Mr. Vail, who represented a committee of wire executives, authorized this statement:

Much has already been done quietly between the wire companies individually and the government, and there is now no question but that the nation and the government are amply equipped with facilities for communications of all sorts for whatever need may arise. The vital things fully realized by both federal officials and the wire companies, has been to perfect a co-ordination to insure complete co-operation not only between the government and the companies, but between the companies themselves with regard to communication and censorship of communications. This has already been arranged for.

Secretary Baker thanked Mr. Vail for the prompt and loyal action of the telephone and telegraph companies. He was especially gratified by the voluntary proposal of the companies to give the government first call on wire service in the event of war.

TOWN FIRE HOUSE ATTACHED FOR DEBT.

New York, March 20.—The fire bell of Street Patchogue, N. Y., may just as well remain silent until a judgment for $84 against the fire department is settled. The fire house is padlocked, and Sheriff Alvah Bates has gone off with the key. Former Treasurer William L. Underwood of the fire department, who holds the judgment, claims he lent the department the money and never got it back. He sued and, when the case was decided in his favor, told Sheriff Biggs to do his duty.

Unless the judgment is satisfied by May 1 the department's equipment will be put up at public auction.

COURT UPHOLDS ADAMSON LAW

Decision Comes Soon After Strike Is Averted.

TRIBUNAL DIVIDES, 5 TO 4.

Majority Ruling, Read by Chief Justice White, Holds Congress Has Power to Fix Wages as Well as Rates—Justices Day, Pitney, McReynolds and Van Devanter Dissent.

Washington, March 20.—With far-reaching consequences as regards future contests between capital and labor in interstate commerce, the supreme court by a vote of 5 to 4 held the Adamson eight hour law constitutional.

It was made quite clear in the majority opinion, and also in the dissenting opinion of Justice McReynolds, that compulsory arbitration of disputes which may threaten the country with paralyzation of commerce lies within the power of congress.

It is believed here that the next step of the railroads will be to ask for a freight rate increase to meet the cost of the extra wages under the new law.

The official opinion, that of the majority—Chief Justice White declared that in the face of public necessity employees of a corporation engaged in such a public business as railroading had no more right to strike than "soldiers in the ranks in the presence of an enemy" had the right to desert.

When Congress Has Power.

Briefly summed up, the line of thought actuating four of the five justices who concurred in the majority opinion is that, while the question of wages and conditions of labor are essentially subject to agreements between employer and employee in view of the fact that the railroads are privately owned, yet when a failure to agree threatens the public with a casualty the public nature of the railroad business justifies congress in stepping in and solving the dispute by statute.

A vigorous dissenting opinion was read by Justice McReynolds.

"Whatever else the act of Sept. 3, 1916, may do," he said, "it certainly commands that during a minimum period of seven months interstate common carriers by railroad shall pay their employees engaged in operating trains for eight hours' work a wage not less than the one established for a standard day—generally ten hours.

"I have not heretofore supposed that such action was a regulation of commerce within the fair intendment of those words as used in the constitution, and the argument advanced in support of the contrary view is unsatisfactory to my mind. I cannot, therefore, concur in the conclusion that it was within the power of congress to enact the statute.

"But, considering the doctrine now affirmed by a majority of the court as established, it follows as of course that congress has power to fix a maximum as well as a minimum wage for trainmen; to require compulsory arbitration of labor disputes which may seriously and directly jeopardize the movement of interstate traffic, and to take measures effectively to protect the free flow of such commerce against any combination, whether of operatives, owners or strangers."

Four Justices Dissent.

Besides Justice McReynolds, the dissenting justices were Pitney, Vandeventer and Day. Justice McKenna, who agreed with the conclusion of the majority that the law was constitutional, did so on a different ground, that the law was a question of the regulation of hours of labor. This entire phase of the dispute was waved aside in the majority opinion as expressed by Justice White and concurred in by Justices Holmes, Brandeis and Clarke.

The official lineup of the justices at 2:20, as given by Clerk Maher of the supreme court, was that McReynolds dissented together with Day, Pitney and Van Devanter. McReynolds concluded that congress had the wage fixing power only, and his name did not at first appear on the court record as dissenting.

Maher's version, which is official, however, made the division 5 to 4, with Justice White and Justices McKenna, Holmes, Brandeis and Clark constituting the majority in favor of the law.

Justice Day's Dissenting View.

In his dissenting opinion Justice Day said that, while he was not prepared to deny to congress the right to fix wages of those engaged in the operation of passenger and freight trains, he would not agree that constitutional rights may be sacrificed because of public necessity nor be taken away because of emergencies which might result in disuse or inconvenience to public or private interests.

He asserted that he was not willing to admit that congress may when deemed necessary for the public interest coerce employees against their will to continue in service in interstate commerce. Nor would he agree, as declared in the majority opinion, that in matters of this kind congress can enact a compulsory arbitration law.

Finally he said that act necessarily deprived the complaining railroad companies of rights secured to them as well as others by one of the most essential protections guaranteed by the federal constitution.

Justice White in the majority opinion concluded:

"We say that the contention that the act was void and could not be made operative because of the uncertainty of its provisions is without merit, since we see no reason to doubt that if the standard fixed by the act were made applicable and a candid effort followed to carry it out the result would be without difficulty accomplished. It is true that it might follow in some cases that because of particular situations of employment or exceptional surroundings some standard would be necessary, but these exceptions afford no ground for holding the act void because its provisions are not susceptible in practice of being carried out.

"Being of opinion that congress had the power to adopt the act in question, whether it be viewed as a direct fixing of wages to meet the absence of a standard on that subject resulting from the dispute between the parties or as the exertion of power by congress, which it undoubtedly possessed, to provide by appropriate legislation for compulsory arbitration—a power which inevitably resulted from its authority to protect interstate commerce in dealing with a situation like that which was before it—we conclude that the court below erred in holding the statute was not within the power of congress to enact and as requiring its enforcement, and its decree therefore must be and it is reversed and the bill dismissed."

5 PER CENT RATE ON FARM BONDS

U. S. Board to Save Farmers $100,000,000 Yearly.

Washington, March 20.—The Federal Farm Loan Board has adopted a resolution fixing a rate of 4½ per cent to be paid on farm loan bonds to be issued as a means of raising money to lend to farmers. The board also fixed a rate of 5 per cent to be paid by farmers on farm mortgages for the use of the funds.

The difference of one-half of 1 per cent is to be used to pay the expenses of operating the system. The board hopes ultimately to bring this margin down to one eighth of 1 per cent. To do this it will have to keep dividends down low, but the board takes the view that the farms would rather get money at low interest rates than receive high dividends.

The mortgage rate is 1 per cent under the maximum which could be charged under the law.

The present farm mortgage indebtedness of the United States aggregates approximately $4,000,000,000 at an average interest rate of 5.4 per cent. The 5 per cent rate fixed by the board will mean a saving of about $100,000,000 a year to the American farmers.

MILLS PUTS IN NEW TAX BILL

Bitter Fight In Legislature on Measure.

ALL CORPORATIONS ARE HIT

Provides 3 Per Cent Impost on Incomes of All Corporations In State, Remitting Taxes Now In Force—Measure Promises Revenue of From $20,000,000 to $30,000,000, One-Half Going to the State.

Albany, N. Y., March 20.—A bitter fight in the legislature is expected by political leaders by the bill introduced by Senator Ogden L. Mills of New York city to force heavy taxes upon all mercantile and manufacturing corporations. It is estimated that this plan would yield in taxes each year between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000, half of which goes to the state and the remainder to the localities in which the taxes are levied.

The bill represents the principal finding of the special committee named to investigate the subject of taxation. It provides that each corporation must pay a 3 per cent tax on its income.

The corporations are required to file with the state tax commission income tax reports made to the federal government. The taxes will be distributed according to the sworn figures in these reports.

Remits Two Other Taxes.

The Mills bill frees these corporations from all personal property taxes and also from corporation franchise taxes. These bring in about $4,000,000 annually at present. Half of this goes to the state and the remainder to the municipalities in which the taxes are levied.

Another bill was introduced by the committee which provides for an annual tax of 2 mills on all secured debts. This does away with the old system levying but one tax on each secured debt.

These bills, if passed, will result in a big decrease in the estimated amount of the direct tax to be levied this year. Senator Henry M. Sage, chairman of the senate finance committee, has estimated that the direct tax will amount to $12,000,000. This new source of revenue might wipe out the direct tax entirely.

Result of Year's Work.

The bills are the result of a year's work on the part of the committee headed by Senator Mills. The committee found that nowhere were corporations paying their just proportion of taxes.

In practically every section of the state it was found that the personal property taxes on manufacturing and mercantile corporations were merely nominal. The boards of assessors in different cities, being mainly political or other influences had failed to make appraisals that came anywhere near representing true values.

Under the Mills bill the local boards of assessors would have nothing to do with the work of making appraisals. The work would be entirely removed from politics.

TANZER CASE TO JURY.

Defendant Faints Again as Woman Testifies Against Her.

New York, March 20.—The defense rested in the trial of Rae Tanzer for perjury, and the case went to the jury late today.

Miss Tanzer was greatly excited during the testimony of Mrs. Rebecca Spielberg, wife of her former attorney, Harold Spielberg. "You vile woman! How can you sit there and say such things?" she shouted at one point.

Miss Tanzer's shouts did not in the least disturb the monologue of Mrs. Spielberg, except that she spoke a little louder so that she could be heard above the cries of the defendant. A moment later Miss Tanzer fainted in the arms of the woman who has attended her since the trial began. Mrs. Spielberg continued in the same tone. Court was then adjourned, and Miss Tanzer was revived.

BROADWAY AT NINTH, NEW YORK.

So many people have given up to us their pianos in exchange for our Roll-of-Honor instruments, that we are compelled, for want of space, to hold, tomorrow, a

Sale of USED PIANOS and PLAYER-PIANOS

Read the names of the pianos in the Sale—Chickering, Mason & Hamlin, Hardman, Knabe, Steinway, Emerson, Sohmer, among them. Some of them have been but little used. They were exchanged for those "miracle-music" pianos—the AMPICO and ARTRIO Reproducing pianos—the finest instruments in the musical field. A few others are our own, used for demonstrating purposes. Virtually new. But there are new instruments ready to come in—so out go these. All have been gone over in our factory, and put in shape to give good service, felts renewed, wires replaced, some cases scraped and re-varnished.

These instruments are a by-product of our great piano business. We take them as a convenience to people who desire better pianos and player-pianos in their homes. Profit-making on these is not our purpose. Those who wish them can have them, at very low prices.

NAVY RUSHING PLANS FOR WAR

Eight Hour Day Suspended In All Yards.

SIXTY PATROL BOATS ORDERED

President Confers With Secretaries Baker and Daniels After Details of Sinking of Three More American Merchant Ships Come In—Recruiting For Navy Is Also Speeded Up.

Washington, March 20.—Aggressive steps to put the navy of the United States in readiness to fight submarines under any conditions have been taken as an answer to the German defiance conveyed through the destruction of the American ships Vigilancia, City of Memphis and Illinois.

Under the personal direction of President Wilson, Secretary of the Navy Daniels instituted drastic measures to put the navy in shape to meet war conditions which Washington is convinced are imminent. Naval preparedness was given an extraordinary impetus after President Wilson conferred for half an hour with the secretary of the navy. This conference followed close on the heels of a report to the president by Secretary of State Lansing on the latest acts of destruction in the German submarine zone.

After the president and his naval chief had reviewed the situation the following steps were taken:

An emergency appropriation of $115,000,000 made by congress to enable the president to hasten naval construction in the event of a crisis was made available by the president for immediate use. This is part of an authorized bond issue of $150,000,000, a part of which is to be used for increased submarine construction.

Sixty "Chasers" Ordered.

Secretary Daniels ordered sixty "chasers"—motorboats a hundred feet long and with 35 knots speed—built at once at the New York navy yard and announced that work would be opened from private shipyards today for 200 more of this type of craft. It was stated that the New York yard will begin the delivery of these craft in sixty days. All will be paid for out of the emergency appropriation.

Orders were issued by the navy department suspending the statutory eight hour day on naval construction both in private and government yards. Work will be pushed as fast as the men will labor, with payment of time and a half for overtime to be made out of the emergency fund.

President Wilson authorized the speeding up of Annapolis graduations to provide additional naval officers. The first year class will be graduated on March 29, with 172 cadets, and the second class next September, with 187.

Secretary Daniels said the question of commandeering shipyards would not be considered so long as the private ship building plants kept their facilities engaged on government work in accordance with the plans of the department.

Arrangements were made to obtain from all of the steel mills of the country a fixed allotment of their output for the use of the navy in armoring and fitting out warships. Secretary Daniels will confer with steel makers to work out a definite plan.

Increase Navy Personnel.

Immediate steps to increase the personnel of the navy, however, will be taken at once. Under the law the navy can now be recruited up to 70,000 men. With more than 5,000 men enlisting since the German crisis became acute, there are now more than 60,000 men in the service. Secretary Daniels said that when the statutory limit is reached he will ask that the limit be raised to 80,000. As a matter of course, the naval reserves and the militia of the states will be called into service as soon as they are needed.

Dispatches from consular officers seemed to indicate that all of the crews of the lost Vigilancia, City of Memphis and Illinois had been saved.

Fifteen on Vigilancia Die.

London, March 20.—Fifteen men of the American steamship Vigilancia perished when she was torpedoed by a German submarine, and twenty-eight survivors were at sea in lifeboats from Friday morning until Sunday afternoon before they were picked up.

Of the crew of the American steamship City of Memphis, which also was sunk by a submarine, Captain Horum and eight men are missing. Their boat has been picked up empty. It is possible that they were rescued by some craft without wireless or even that they were taken aboard the submersible.

Among the Vigilancia's dead were several American citizens, including Third Officer Nelis P. North and Third Engineer Carl Adelsolde.

RUSSIANS PLEDGE EQUALITY FOR ALL

Freedom to Exiles First Step of Government.

London, March 20.—The following manifesto has been issued by the Russian provisional government to the Russian people:

"Citizens—The great work has been accomplished. By a powerful stroke the Russian people have overthrown the old régime. A new Russia is born after long years of struggle.

"The heroic efforts of the army, crushed under the cruel weight of internal disorganization; the appeals of the national representatives, who were united in view of the national danger, were powerless to lead the emperor and his government into the path of union with the people. Thus when Russia by the illegal and disastrous acts of her governors was faced with the greatest calamities the people had to take the power into their own hands.

"While taking measures indispensable for the defense of the country against a foreign enemy, the government will consider it its first duty to grant to the people every facility to express its will concerning the political administration and will convoke as soon as possible a constituent assembly on the basis of universal suffrage, at the same time assuring the gallant defenders of the country their share in the parliamentary elections.

"Conscious of the burden of the political oppression weighing on the country and hindering the free creative forces of the people during years of painful hardships, the provisional government deems it necessary to call a constituent assembly to announce to the country its principles, assuring political liberty and equality to all citizens, making the use of these principles forces in creative work for the benefit of the country.

"At the moment of national emancipation the whole country recalls with pious gratitude those who in the struggle for their political and religious ideals fell victims of the vengeance of the old power, and the provisional government will joyfully bring back from exile and prison all those who thus suffered for the good of their country."

DEAR COAL STOPS BOATS.

Service Suspended on Baltimore-Boston-Providence Line.

Baltimore, March 20.—For the first time in its history the Merchants and Miners' Transportation company will suspend its boat service on the Baltimore-Boston-Providence line.

Announcement to this effect was made by President Jenks, who stated that the order withdrawing from service the steamers Nantucket, Gloucester and Cretan would become effective tomorrow. The reasons given are the prohibitive price of coal, inability to procure fuel when needed and continued increase in cost of labor at the port terminals.

Brigadier General Cyrus Roberts Dead.

DON'T BE BALD

Tells How to Make Hair Grow Thick and Lustrous on Bald and Thin Spots

Thousands of men and women are growing bald every day and don't know the reason why. This is indeed a pity, says a hair specialist, who states that baldness usually comes from carelessness.

The treatment is very simple; remove the dirt by shampooing every ten days and destroy the dandruff germs by frequently applying a little of the real Parisian Sage, a most efficient preparation that the best druggists are now recommending as one of the quickest and safest treatments to surely stop itching scalp and falling hair, remove all dandruff and to properly nourish and invigorate the hair roots.

Parisian Sage is also the discriminating woman's favorite hair dressing because it makes the hair seem twice as abundant and gives it a softness and luster that compels admiration. A generous bottle costs but little from L. W. Randolph, who guarantees it to you.—Adv.

FURNITURE

Do you live on your furniture or for it? Every once in awhile our wife gets the idea that furniture is something sacred. And she gets to lavishing more loving care on rugs and racks and tables and chairs than she does on us. Maybe that's natural. The furniture's home more than we are. But we resent the alienation of our wife's affections by gateleg tables and things just the same.

We are in favor of chairs to sit in and pillows to lie on. Carpets that that can take a little granulated tobacco without getting sick at the stomach and lace curtains that can be crumpled up out of the way when the occasion demands. We want a house with nothing in it that can't be abused with impunity.

"Weather or No"

The man who is long on conviviality usually has a wife who is short on house money.—Old Man Sage.

3,000 MORE RABBITS BOUGHT FOR JERSEY

More cottontail rabbits were found and got into the game bags of sportsmen in New Jersey in the season just past than in any previous shooting season in many years, but the cry has gone up all over the State for "more rabbits." Cottontails have shown and are showing that they are the most popular of the small upland game animals of New Jersey, and the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission purposes to rise to the demand that they be increased in all sections of the State.

With that purpose in view the rabbit warrens in the State game farm at Forked River, on Barnegat Bay, have taken on new importance this winter and will continue to be one of the largest features of the propagation work there in the coming spring and summer. Under instructions from Ernest Napier, president of the commission, and supervised by Duncan Dunn, head gamekeeper on the farm, the warrens have been enlarged and provided with additional attractions for their inhabitants.

The stock of breeding rabbits on hand is being increased by consignments from New Mexico, where the New Jersey Commissioners recently purchased 3,000 healthy cottontails. Many of them have already been received at the Forked River farm; others are on their way, and the last of the whole number will soon be here, setting up new homes and raising new families. Every possible cart is being taken of them. They are arriving in good condition and those already turned loose in the State warrens have shown a disposition to be contented with their surroundings.

Special Correspondence:

Company K Armory (via wireless), March 20.—The trench-digging detachment left off war talk for a short time last evening between drills to talk baseball. A number of the privates are desirous of organizing a baseball aggregation from among the soldier boys for operation during the coming summer's siege. There is a possibility of a heavy blow in this direction being struck against the enemy's offensive tomorrow evening at the company's annual reunion in behalf of this latest of spring drives.

(Signed)
MILITARY BASEBALL.

The Central New Jersey Baseball League meets this evening at the home of Tommy Apgar. Important business on hand ready for definite action. President Martin will preside. Schedule of games may be drawn up at this time.

The Wardlaw School, according to latest information at hand, will have a fast ball nine on the field this year and will use the old Crescent Oval grounds for all home games.

Has it occurred to anyone as yet that the Central N. J. Baseball League and the Plainfield City League have the outside appearance of being a baseball trust? Well, they have interlocking officers with Brit Martin as president of one and vice president of the other. But we have Brit's tip to the effect that he is just holding down a position with the one and a working job with the other, for he is to manage the Hope Chapel aggregation in the latter.

North Plainfield will have baseball all season long this year. The high school team will hold forth at Hyde Oval until the middle of June, after which the St. Joseph's of the City Baseball League will take full possession of the lot until the end of the season.

The other end of the borough will also be well supplied with the national pastime, as the First Baptists and Hope Chapel will go fifty-fifty on West End Oval, at West End and Myrtle avenues.

Young Mills, who made such a hit with the Baptists in the City League race last summer, expects to be with the Bible School boys again this year. Mills did some good work last season and there appears to be no doubt as to his ability to come across again this year.

Manager Coughlan of the Netherwoods has been somewhat silent of late as to his plans for the summer. But leave that the Coughlan for he seldom leaves any grass grow under his feet.

NEW HIGH SCORE

Special Correspondence:

Bound Brook, March 20.—Albert Wagner, of South Bound Brook, yesterday afternoon set up a new high individual score for Elmer's alleys at this place, the new mark standing at 274. The high score for the alleys was formerly held by Peter Koechlein and Sandford Snyder at 265. One or two of the Central New Jersey League stars now threaten to return to practice in order that they may try to pass Wagner once again.

INNER TRIANGLES IN A CLOSE GAME

But Finally Lost Out to St. John's Club at New Brunswick Court

Owing to the inability of several Inner-Triangle basketball players to be on hand last night, Captain Patterson was obliged to round up other players for the scheduled game at New Brunswick last night, where the locals met defeat at the hands of the St. John's team by the score of 46 to 43. The locals were late in arriving and did not have time to get a familiar with the court.

The first half ended 31 to 10 in favor of New Brunswick. The Triangles played a much better game in the second period and regained much lost ground and were on the road to victory when the whistle blew.

CHAPEL GIRLS IN ANOTHER VICTORY

Defeat N. P. H. S. Juniors in Regular Style in a Fast Contest

Some fast game of basketball was staged at the Hope Chapel courts last evening between the girls' team of that institution and the N. P. H. S. Juniors, the West Enders coming out of the smoke of battle with the big end of an 18 to 14 score. Miss Overbaugh, playing forward for the Hopes for one period of the contest, scored 12 of her team's 18 points, while Miss Peterson, who substituted for her in the last half of the game, made the remaining points.

The centres and guards of the two teams put up excellent games during the contest.

READY FOR TRAINING

An organization of eighty supporters of preparedness matured last Friday afternoon in the Plainfield High School, when the students of the school enrolled as members of the Plainfield High School Cadet Corps. Recruiting commenced in Coach Ralph S. Patch's office immediately after 2 o'clock, and it was nearing dusk before the recruiting officers finished their tasks.

Eighty students responded to the call, including the best boy element in the school. Everyone understands what is required of him—strict attention to military training for two and one-half hours on Friday afternoon of each week. A commissioned officer of the United States Army will drill the boys.

In order for the corps to become a success it will require from $600 to $700, and in order to raise the amount the co-operation of Plainfield citizens is solicited.

The corps has been organized as a preparedness move, to teach young men the manual of arms. Discipline and all military tactics will be taught and must be observed with strict attention.

A number of years ago a similar organization existed in the local school and at the present time there are 150 old model rifles stored in the school building which the new corps will use until the new Springfield rifles are secured from the Government. Uniform will be secured as soon as sufficient money is raised to provide them. Members who have Boy Scout uniforms may wear them at drills until the others have been received.

The first regular drill will probably be held Friday afternoon.

STANLEY BURNER ELECTED MANAGER

Will Head N. P. H. S. Basketball Aggregation on Indoor Court Next Season

At a meeting of the Boys' Athletic Association of the North Plainfield High School yesterday noon Stanley Burner of the present Junior Class was chosen to guide the basketball team's destinies for the 1917-18 season. Mr. Burner is well qualified for the position. Permission was granted Manager Kenneth Lowrie of the baseball team to purchase new suits for the coming season.

The election of a captain to lead the 1917-18 team will be made tomorrow afternoon when the squad will have its picture taken. The logical candidates to succeed Bill Seidel are LeRoy Force, '18, and William Barry, '19. Both players were substitutes on this season's team. The following players are eligible to select the candidate: Captain Seidel, William Ahern, Alfred Willett, Andrew McDonough, Vincent LaPorte, Roy Force, William Barry and Douglas Stewart.

NETHERWOOD BOYS DEFEAT S. P. P. H.

Visiting Scotch Plains Lads Slack Up Considerably in Last Half

Last night on the Netherwood court the Netherwood Pilots defeated the Scotch Plains Parish House Juniors in a fast and exciting game. In the first half the Pilots had things their own way, running up a total of 20 points to their opponents' ten. In the second half, however, the Plains team started off with a rush and came within an ace of putting themselves on the larger side of the scoring column.

A second game was to have been played with Whittier School, but for some reason the team failed to put in an appearance, last night's game was the fifth straight win for the Pilots.

B. P. O. E. LEAGUE HAD GREAT YEAR

Local Elks Interested in Final Outcome of Their State Bowling Circuit

Final official B. P. O. Elks' Bowling League record, issued yesterday by Secretary Thomas J. Kitrick, fairly sparkle with creditable marks. Not less than five teams finished the campaign with average scores better than 900, and these five were led by the champion Jersey City bowlers, who returned a whopper of 952.1. The Elizabeth team, which stood second in average until the final series, is placed in third place a few notches behind Paterson.

Besides the Jersey City five, other teams which will receive prizes for places are the Hoboken, Newark and Paterson outfits, which finished latter on the second rung. They will divide the prizes offered for second, third and fourth place. Newark gets the high score prize, which seemed the private property of Elizabeth until Newark closed a season of pin-wrecking with a 1,060 score.

Ira Caldwell, of Jersey City, is the individual champion. His mark for forty-two games is 194.15. George Blythe took second place in a Garrison finish, which brought him under the barrier in 193.6. Arbitrage, of Paterson; Wagner, of Newark, and Wright, of Jersey City, ran third, fourth and fifth, while Maloney and Feihl, both of Elizabeth, stood sixth and seventh. Anderson, of Paterson, wins the individual high score prize with 268.

Following are the team records:

Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, of this city, which had a team on this circuit for a number of years, was not represented in the league this season, choosing to spend its energy in a house tourney and the local City Bowling League. Many of the local bowlers who have participated in the contests of the order's State league during the past, however, have followed with interest the progress of the battle for first place honors among the other lodge teams of the State.

TURNERS LOST TWO, TO ST. JOSEPH'S BOYS

The Plainfield Turners were brought into local bowling circles last evening for the first time this season, losing two of the three tilts to the St. Joseph's Club team. With the single exception of Gates, no scores were out of the ordinary. Gates secured an average of 193 for his evening's work and a high score of 212 in his first game.

TRAPSHOOTING

Neaf Apgar, Plainfield's most widely known trapshooter, visited the Duane Rod and Gun Club traps of Elizabeth Sunday afternoon and started something when he entered a number of the events which were run off at that time. Neaf was tied for first place honors with William Trowbridge in the second event for fifteen birds, each making fourteen. Apgar came in second in the third event of ten birds, made a perfect score, took first honors in the fourth event of fifteen birds and was second in the sixth event for ten birds. George Ord of the Climax Gun Club of this city was also in attendance at the affair, coming in second in the sixth event of fifteen birds.

Interesting figures compiled by Peter P. Carney, Philadelphia shooter of trap shooting, show that many men well known in this country are ardent devotees of the trap game. Among them he names Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, King George of England, King Alfonso of Spain, King Victor Emanuel of Italy, Governor Waller E. Edge of New Jersey, Governor Brumbaugh of Pennsylvania, Governor Capper of Kansas, former Governor Major of Missouri, former Governor Wert of Oregon, Governor Ferguson, of Texas, John Philip Sousa, the bandmaster, and many, many lesser lights in the public light. Theodore Roosevelt and Amos Pinchot, Carney writes, are two men who long ago realized the value of outdoor exercise as personified in the sport of trap shooting. Both, he admits, have never displayed any great hankering for the tame method of killing birds built of clay. Carney picks out a few Mayors for public approval who are trap enthusiasts. Charles A. Richlin, Mayor of Spokane, Wash., he says, broke 90 per cent. of the targets thrown for him at the Northwest Sportsmen's Association shoot last summer. R. E. Duval, Mayor of Belleville, Ill., a year ago tied for first place in the Southern trapshooting handicap at Memphis, Mayor Thomas B. Smith, of Philadelphia, is a member of a gun club and often takes part in contests.

Commercial Problems Growing Out of War Conditions

A Non-Technical Explanation of the Big Questions Confronting Business Men at This Time

By SAMUEL WANT

How Labor May Be Affected By The Present Crisis

As was foretold in a preceding article, legislation is in contemplation for the purpose of empowering the President to draft into the naval service of the United States technical help which may be necessary or useful in the prosecution of the war, or in the making of preparations to carry on war operations.

A Bill now pending in Congress provides that in case of actual war the President shall be empowered to place under naval control any or all officers, agents or employes of any factory equipped for the building of ships or war material. It further provides that persons so drafted shall be treated as members of the naval establishment of the United States, subject to all of the conditions and restrictions imposed by the articles of regulations of the United States Navy.

For any attempt to evade or resist service so imposed, penalties are provided. On the other hand, for all services rendered payment is to be made according to the rate of compensation previously earned for similar services by the person in question.

The Bill in question is apparently directed also at labor organizations by providing "that no person shall, directly or indirectly, induce any person employed in any factory and engaged on work for the United States, to leave his employment or to cease such work."

The provision quoted is undoubtedly a direct restriction upon fomenting strikes or other labor disturbances. The violation of this provision a penalty of a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars or imprisonment for not more than two years or both is provided.

The legislation in question is pending in the House of Representatives, having been referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs of that body. It is covered by House Bill 20779.

Promoted

By WALT MASON, The Poet-Philosopher

"J. Rufus Jinks is stepping high, the light of pride is in his eye, and peace is throned upon his brow, for he's become a granddad now." The local paper printed this, concerning Rufus and his bliss. I said, "Perhaps that old galoot will now set up a good cheroot, since this promotion he has won, and is the grandsire of a son." I found him at the corner store, where he was seated, glum and sore. He didn't prance around with glee, or show new brands of ecstacy. "I am not filled with gaudy pride, but feel like twenty cents," he sighed. "I've always held that I was young, until this new born babe was sprung; now such pretensions are no use; posterity has cooked my goose. When 'Granddad' is your given name, you might as well forsake the game; though you may try, you can't begin to make folks think you're not all in. It is no use glad clothes to wear; it is no use to dye my hair; it is no use for me to say how like a colt I feel today. The town would merely grin and scoff, for all men see where I get off. I bend beneath this worst of strokes, and will not pass around the smokes."

The Sleeping Porch

There still are folks who sleep indoors, in closed up rooms they heave their snores, and breathe the stale and stagnant air which harbors germs and microbes there. And when the shades of night are sped, and they crawl stiffly out of bed, they say they're feeling worse, a heap, than ere they had their little sleep. I used to slumber in a room that was as airtight as a tomb, and I was always out of whack, with rheumatism in my back, and corns and bunions on my knees, and every other pink disease. But now a sleeping porch is mine, and over me the night winds whine. I rise when comes the sunrise glow, and from my whiskers brush the snow, and thaw the ice from nose and ears, and greet the day with hearty cheers. And I'm so hearty and so hale, the undertaker lifts a wail. He used to think he'd get me soon, and plant me out beneath the moon, when I was groaning of my ills, and blowing coin for beeswax pills. But, seeing me on buoyant feet, go scooting up the village street, and prancing like an acrobat, he doesn't know where he is at.

PETER RITTER'S MACHINE UPSET ON SOUTH AVE.

An automobile owned and driven by Peter Ritter, of Fanwood, was upset and considerably damaged this morning opposite the "Maples," on South avenue, when he claimed that another machine driven by M. W. Tracy, of 102 Broad street, Westfield, ran into him. No one was injured.

Both cars were coming toward Plainfield and Ritter contended that Tracy's machine hit the rear of his auto, causing it to turn over. Patrolman Martin Welsh was sent to the scene of the accident, but decided that the case was out of the jurisdiction of the city. An examination showed, it is claimed, that there were no marks on either machine to indicate that there had been a collision. Tracy passed Ritter, soon after he learned of the accident and returned to the place of the overturned car.

LOCAL OPTION LETTER STARTS BUZZ IN TRENTON

By United Press:

Trenton, March 20.—As a result of the letter sent yesterday by Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary of President Wilson, to Secretary of State Thomas F. Martin, urging that the Democrats of New Jersey espouse the cause of local option, there is a buzz of speculation around the State-House as to what effect it will have on the Democratic Assemblymen who voted against the Gaunt-Mackay local option bill.

If the Hudson county delegation, which is solidly Democratic, should fall in line and the Democrats and Republicans who supported the Gaunt-Mackay bill should vote for the Kates bill, its passage would be assured. It is also expected that Assemblyman Whitman, of Atlantic county would vote for the measure and that Governor Edge would sign it.

Mr. Dolan, chairman of the Hudson delegation, said last night that his co-members had not yet determined their stand. Secretary of State Martin indicated that he would not use his influence for the bill, when he simply stated that the Tumulty letter was interesting, but that he (Martin) was not now in the Legislature.

BILLS PASSED BY HOUSE AND SENATE

By United Press:

Trenton, March 20.—The international crisis made itself felt in the Assembly last night when the members unanimously adopted a resolution offered by Mr. Pierson of Union county, putting the House on record as favoring universal military and naval training.

The house, which last week defeated the Colgan bill, permitting Sunday "movies" and athletics in first-class cities, reconsidered and passed the measure last night.

The House also passed the Senate bill enabling municipalities to buy and sell food supplies in times of emergency.

The Senate passed bills amending the "Seven Sisters" anti-trust laws so that they will conform with the Federal Clayton act, the Kates bill, creating Barrington borough in Camden county, the Mellrath bill, enabling the State to retain Gen. Geo. W. Goethals to build the new highway system and the Richards bill to regulate use of the May's Landing, proving grounds by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

"Tiz" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions.

The student body of North Plainfield High School were given a talk by J. C. Evans of the Commercial Department of Plainfield High School, after the chapel exercises this morning on Farming in the Middle West.

He ventured to say that if the farmers of the Eastern States, especially in the States of New York and New Jersey, grew more alfalfa for cattle the price of milk would necessarily drop.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous, and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks" "run-downs," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Adv.

WOMEN'S WORK IN THE WAR DESCRIBED

Coming right from the European countries now engaged in war, and bringing first-hand information of actual conditions, Miss Elsie McKenzie addressed a gathering of women at the home of Mrs. S. S. Carvalho, on West Eighth street, yesterday afternoon, on the subject of "What the Women Are Doing in the War."

Miss McKenzie is a charming speaker and she deeply impressed her audience with a remarkable story of the great achievements of the women of the Allied countries, declaring that they have proved themselves worthy of the most severe test. She spoke here under the auspices of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield. She was introduced by Mrs. Henry C. White.

Miss McKenzie was in Europe at the beginning of the war and has been in this country only a short time, and has been kept busy speaking at various meetings. While abroad she was a member of the Women's Land Service Corps of Great Britain, and also served in the French Ambulance Corps.

In telling of the work accomplished by women, Miss McKenzie said that at the present time there are 250,000 women engaged in farming pursuits, and are doing the work just as well as men. They are also working in munition plants and even serving in "first aid" work near the trenches at the front. She said that it was found that the women are more gentle and handle wounded soldiers more carefully than the men, and for these reasons are in great demand near the firing line, although their work is attended with unusual risks.

Referring to the part women are taking in the munition plants, as well as other industries, Miss McKenzie said that her influence had brought about a wonderful change in the character and spirit of the surroundings. The women get the same pay as men formerly did, are employed eight hours a day, and have reasonable time for recreation and rest. The women receive the greatest amount of respect from the soldiers and others with whom they are thrown in contact.

In speaking of the hospital work, Miss McKenzie said that the women wanted to establish such an institution in England, but were not permitted to do so at the time. They then established one in France, equipped it and conducted it in such a satisfactory manner that they were later requested to establish such a hospital in England. They finally did so, on their own terms, and it is entirely in charge of women.

For the purpose of showing how every available space is used for growing vegetables and other foodstuffs it is quite a common thing to see window boxes filled with tomato plants, and every bit of ground that is suitable is utilized in a similar way.

The women of England feel certain that after the war is over the men will prove their loyalty by giving their valued co-workers the proper recognization so far as the franchise is concerned.

During her stay in this country she is working chiefly in the interest of the Red Cross, and is meeting with much success wherever she goes. Following her talk yesterday afternoon those present were given an opportunity to meet her personally during a social hour when tea was served by the hostess.

MRS. MAXWELL PERKINS HOSTESS AT ART TEA

Mrs. Maxwell E. Perkins was the hostess at a tea given this afternoon by Miss Edith Van Boskerck and Miss Laura Lee Rogers at The Rookery. The affair was arranged in connection with the exhibition of portraits by Mr. and Mrs. John Johansen, the artists, which will close on Saturday. The Rookery was attractively decorated with apple and cherry blossoms. During the afternoon Mr. Johansen gave an informal talk on the work of "Art."

Mrse. Perkins was assisted by Mrs. Henry Wells, Mrs. Henry C. White, Mrs. John Carlston, Miss Frances Hyatt Miss Katherine Yates, Miss Catherine Ginna and Miss Ruth Waldo.

The Disposal of 35,000 Old Negatives

Parmer Photo Studio, of 107 East Front street, have announced that they will dispose of all their negatives taken by the late Mr. Langhorne for the past 40 years by the first of April. Their reason for doing this is the fact that they have no more room for further storage of negatives and in order to make room for their new places they are forced to do away with the old ones. Any one interested and wishing us to reserve any of these negatives will kindly call, write, or phone. Telephone 1738.—Adv.

MRS. ABIGAIL BRIANT DIES IN 85TH YEAR

Mrs. Abigail Briant, aged 85 years, died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elwin Leland, 65 Sandford avenue, following an illness of four weeks, during the last ten days of which she was unconscious. Her death was due to infirmities of age and a form of paralysis with which she was stricken recently. She showed remarkable vitality throughout her last illness.

Mrs. Briant was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Terry. She was born at Short Hills, near this city, and always lived here. She was a life-long member of the First Methodist church, and up to the time of failing health was an attendant at the services and interested in all the activities of the church.

Mrs. Briant had been making her home with her daughter for several years, her husband, Joel R. Briant, having died twenty-five years ago. He was connected for a long time with the Bank of the Republic, New York. There survive two daughters, Mrs. Elwin Leland and Mrs. Charles E. Harris; two grandsons, Erwin and Leslie R. Leland, a granddaughter, Mrs. Benjamin W. Evans, of this city, and one sister, Mrs. Hannah M. Harris, of Mahanoy, Pa., who will be 82 years old in January next.

The funeral will be held at the late home Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First Methodist church, will officiate, and the burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

FASHIONS ARE HERE AND SO IS SPRING

Spring has come! So has Fashion Week. If you doubt it drop into any of the millinery or department stores in this city and see the array of exquisite creations garnitured with flowers that are so natural that one is almost inclined to stoop down to inhale their fragrance. The millinery specialists in this city have captured new laurels for 1917 with their clever designs.

Beginning today many may have been observed visiting the stores, notwithstanding the inclement weather and with good weather predicted Fashion Week will no doubt prove a popular event for the local patrons of the stores.

The hats show an unusual element of smartness, particularly in the shapes and the clever selection of materials. These are the popular colors, of Shadow Lawn green, rose, apple green, gold, Belgian blue, brown, black, etc. The trimmings are unusually artistic.

CHARLES W. DE GRAW DIED THIS MORNING

Was Born in Princeton and Had Been Merchant Here for Many Years

Charles W. DeGraw died this morning, at half past nine o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac E. Giles, of Grove street, with whom he had lived for several years. He was seized with the grip about a week ago and pneumonia developed, causing his death. Announcement of the funeral arrangements will be made later.

Mr. DeGraw was born in Princeton on October 30, 1856, and was therefore in his sixty-first year at the time of his death. He was educated in New Brunswick, and in the business college in Newark. He came to this city about thirty years ago, and took a position with I. H. Boehm, dry-goods merchant, who occupied the premises now occupied by Tepper Bros. Later he took a position with Seely Edsall, also a dry-goods merchant, occupying the premises where the Kresge 5 and 10c store now is.

In 1894 Mr. DeGraw and Frank Putnam, who was a fellow clerk with him in Mr. Edsall's store, formed a partnership in the dry-goods business at 214 West Front street. A few years ago this partnership was discontinued and Mr. DeGraw had since been engaged in the real estate business with Mr. Giles, before mentioned.

He was a member of Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F.; Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., of this city and Goodwill Lodge, Jr. O. U. A. M., of New Brunswick.

He leaves one sister, Mrs. Alfred D. Cook, of East Seventh street, this city, and one brother, Edwin S. DeGraw, of Philadelphia, who has been visiting here recently; another brother, James, and a sister, Miss B. R. Force died several years ago.

The arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

J. P. ONDERDONK BURIED IN NEW BRUNSWICK

The funeral of John P. Onderdonk, at one time a resident of this city, who died in Philadelphia Saturday was held this afternoon in the First Baptist church, New Brunswick, of which he was a member. The interment was made in the Onderdonk family plot in Elmwood cemetery.

Mr. Onderdonk was born there in 1837, and for the last twenty years had made Philadelphia his home, where he was the seventeenth after a short illness.

He received his education in the schools of the city, graduating from Rutgers College when reaching twenty-one, with high honors of his class. He was the oldest child of the late Peter C. Onderdonk, of Dutch ancestry, and of a mother of Huguenot blood, Mary Runyon, daughter of the late Peter P. Runyon. His father was at one time, 1859-60, Mayor of the city. He was prominent as an organizer of the rubber industry. For several years he owned the large dwelling situate on the block facing West Seventh street, Plainfield, and including the whole square.

The son John in 1867 went to Philadelphia and engaged in the paper bag manufacturing business, being one of the firm of Howlett, Onderdonk & Co., of 520 Commerce street, that city. He retired in 1880 and for the past twenty-one years had made his home in the Bertram Apartments, Philadelphia.

He was a life member of Lodge No. 51, F. and A. M. of the Quaker City, and was for forty-eight years a member of Union League.

He is survived by two brothers, George and Charles, and by three sisters, Miss Sydora P., Mrs. Mary Vail and Mrs. Cynthia O. Hunt, whose late husband, E. Hamilton Hunt, was a brother of Mrs. George H. Frost.

The fire department was called out at 2:30 this afternoon to extinguish a small fire in the cellar of the house situated at 143 East Seventh street, occupied by J. E. Wade. The fire was caused by hot ashes. There was no damage.

Upon their arrival in Newark the Plainfielders were met by a large delegation from the lodge of that city and escorted to the club house, where they were royally entertained.

During the evening the officers of Plainfield lodge took charge of the initiation of several candidates and were complimented for the efficient exemplification of the work. After the initiation there was a social session. The Elks' quartet from the local lodge entertained with a popular program and a sumptuous banquet was served by the Newark Elks. It was 12:30 o'clock this morning when the Plainfielders left for home. They were greatly pleased with the cordial reception and entertainment provided by their brother lodge members.

JEWISH RELIEF TO BE CONTINUED

Judge Newcorn States Arrangements Have Been Made Through State Dept.

Judge Newcorn, chairman of the Jewish War Relief Committee, stated this morning that the State department of the United States has already made arrangements with the representatives of neutral nations in the entente countries to look after the proper distribution of relief to the Jewish war sufferers in those countries, in the event of hostilities between this country and Germany.

"The ones for whom we are trying to obtain relief, said Judge Newcorn, "are non-combatants—people who have had no part in the war and can have none because of their old age, youth or sex.

"These people have been deprived of their all by the ravages of war, and must perish unless aid comes to them from this country, as the nations at war have all they can do to feed their armies and care for their own citizens, without attempting more for the refugees that flock in from the war zone."

Judge Newcorn has set out a general letter appealing to all Hebrews to come to the aid of the suffering members of their own race, and all men of charitable inclination are also asked to aid.

TO OUR READERS

The Courier-News, as previously announced, is compelled to advance its price to subscribers. We regret that we are compelled to make this increase, but everything that enters into making a newspaper has doubled in cost, while some things have trebled. The most serious difficulty is the scarcity of white news print paper. Many newspapers have had to suspend publication entirely, while others have had to adopt strenuous reforms. The Courier-News has been unable to purchase more than 80 per cent. of the quantity of paper normally required since the first of the present year. This has necessitated a policy to cut down the size of the paper from 16 to 12 pages, and put into effect other methods of curtailing the consumption of paper.

The above measures have not been sufficient to reduce the necessary forty per cent, and for this reason we are obliged to announce that all subscribers not paying promptly each week will have to be discontinued. The stopping of a paper because a subscriber owes four or five weeks does not mean that we question the subscriber's credit. Forced to reduce the number of copies we are printing, we have adopted the only open—disconcerting subscriptions not paid to date.

No paid in advance subscriptions have been accepted at the old rate since the announcement of the change in price.

Single copy	$ .02
One week	.12
Three months (in advance)	1.50
Six months (in advance)	3.00
One year (in advance)	6.00

As to the past, to take advantage of the discount rate offered for three months, six months or a year, a subscriber must pay in advance.

WILL INSURE ALL MILK SHIPMENTS

Belgian Relief Society Discussed Transportation of Supplies

A special meeting of the Belgian Relief Society was called yesterday by Mrs. Wallace in order that the members might consider at once some information that has recently been given with regard to the cost of transportation and also that some decision might be reached as to the advisability of insuring shipments.

It seems that the English are compelled to ask for a one-quarter rate on the relief shipments and that the French companies may be forced to follow suit. Even the nominal rate means a dollar on every hundred weight, and as milk weighs when packed 65 pounds a case, the cost of transportation will be a material item. The insurance in English companies for goods carried in English vessels is only 2-1-2 per cent premium, but for goods carried in vessels other than English the premium is 5 1-2 per cent.

Mrs. Wallace reported that she had arranged for the shipping of the 200 cases reserved by three different routes on three different days. Through the kindness of H. G. Phillips, 50 cases go to the Queen at La Panne at the nominal charge for freight. The 75 other cases that the society decided March 5 should go to La Panne are being shipped through the War Relief, through which also the 50 cases promised to the Appui Belge were sent. Five cases of clothing containing about 1,500 garments and 9,000 handkerchiefs were also shipped through the War Relief, three of the cases to the Queen and 2 to the Appui Belge.

The society resolved to insure all shipments of milk, but not to insure the garments. It authorized Mrs. Wallace to use her best judgment at all times with regard to shipments.

Since the meeting of March 6th $338.83 has been received, which includes the proceeds of Mr. Irwin's lecture, $122.83, and four donations of $8, $50, $12 and $48 each, made just before the meeting for the supplementary account, and totaling $113 (given through an error as $133). The balance, $1,750.99, was increased to $1,760.99 at the close of the meeting. Of this $1,000 is due on the 200 cases of milk in transit.

Recent contributors are Miss Frances Miller, of Hagerstown; Mrs. Frank D. Warren, Mrs. Stephen Penrose, of Germantown; Mrs. Henry C. White, Mrs. Augustus V. Heely, Samuel T. Carter, John F. Harman, Mrs. William M. Sandford, Miss Elizabeth Burke, A. A. Friend, Mrs. George P. Mellick, Miss Polly Wallace, Mrs. Frederic Wallace, Alden and Jane and Dr. R. S. Stevens.

Before the close of the meeting Mrs. Wallace read a note, which she had just received from the Hoover Commission, acknowledgment of the society's decision to accede to the request that it take up the matter of the supplementary meal. The note follows:

"My dear Mrs. Wallace:

"The note which you brought me this morning that the Plainfield Belgian Relief Committee has voted to furnish the funds with which to provide the supplementary meal for a year for all the children in some specific town in Belgium where the child population was about 400 was most gratifying. I beg that you will convey to your associates our appreciation of their action.

"With best wishes for the success of your efforts, I remain

"Very truly yours,

"G. W. GIDDINGS,"

"Of the Appeal Committee."

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS; UNIVERSAL TRAINING URGED

By United Press:

Washington, March 21.—President Wilson today decided to call Congress in extra session on April 2. His action was taken following pressure from his cabinet, members of Congress, and the country at large.

His decision was reached only after he was convinced that Germany's sinking of three American freighters on the high seas has created a demand from the country for more aggressive action than any taken at any time against the German Government.

The President will demand from Congress drastic measures to protect American commerce on the sea. It is expected to announce that a state of war has existed between the United States and Germany since March 14, when the American steamer Algonquin was sunk. Up to last night his decision was not reached. He has strongly leaned toward taking no further aggressive steps than the rapid preparations of Government naval forces. The original date for the extra session of Congress was April 16.

The President is expected in his address to Congress to ask some form of universal service to be inaugurated at once, to prepare the young men of America for proper and efficient service should they be called on to act in behalf of their country in case of war.

The President determined this drastic course of action after arising this morning. He at once prepared the proclamation advancing the date of the extra session, and at 9.50 a. m. left for a game of golf, in spite of the fact that the weather was dreary.

The proclamation reads:

"Whereas, public interests require that the Congress of the United States should be convened in extra session at 12 o'clock on April 2, 1917, to consider grave questions of national policy;

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the Congress of the United States to convene in extra session at the Capitol in Washington, April 2, 1917, at noon, of which all persons who shall at that time be entitled to act as members thereof, are hereby required to take notice."

IAN HAY LECTURES, HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Ian Hay, who is to lecture in the Plainfield high school Friday evening, is presenting an exceptional opportunity for the people of Plainfield to hear of the war from an actual participant.

The regiment of Ian Hay or Captain Beith, is now in its third incarnation, the original one having been newly recruited after being annihilated twice.

The lecture describes most vividly "The First Hundred Thousand Kitchener's army, which distinguished itself so gloriously.

One feature which distinguishes the present war from all its predecessors is the fact that the world will not have to wait a generation to know its history. This is being told every day by trained writers and soldiers. One of the greatest historians of this war is Ian Hay, whose official title is Captain Ian Hay Beith.

BERLIN SAYS GERMANY IS RETREATING TO VICTORY

By United Press:

Berlin, March 21.—"Germany is retreating to a victory; another master stroke has been achieved by Field Marshal von Hindenburg and the Allies' plans for a great spring offensive have been destroyed."

This in brief is the first official explanation to the United Press of Germany's retirement on the western front.

"Germany is retreating to a victory because her armies are taking their places in new positions long prepared. Her plans would astound tacticians if their full details were revealed," according to German officials. "They may effect a transformation of the entire character of war." Besty of this place by her sons, grandsons and grand-daughters and their families. All the family were present except a grand-daughter, Miss Elsie L. Beaty, a student at the State Normal School, Montclair.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John W. Besty, Miss Naomi Beaty, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Neigh, Miss Helen Neigh, Mr. and Mrs. Elston Beaty, Miss Daisy Beavers of Califon, former Postmaster and Mrs. Elmer B. Ramsay, Miss Ruth Ramsay, Miss Alice Ramsay and George B. Ramsay of High Bridge.

CALL TO ELIZABETH CHURCH IS ACCEPTED

There was much rejoicing Sunday among the members of the First Presbyterian Church of Elizabeth over the letter of acceptance received from the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Campbell, to whom a call had been extended to serve the First Church as pastor. Dr. and Mrs. Campbell will go to Elizabeth about the first of May.

While the letter to the Elizabeth congregation was being read the congregation which Dr. Campbell has served at Dayton, O., for the last eight years, was also being apprised of the clergyman's decision. It has been a difficult matter to settle the question of acceptance or refusal of the Elizabeth call, which has been held in abeyance pending the opportunity for him to see the city and the church. A week ago yesterday Dr. Campbell preached at both services in the First Church.

ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH OF BACH

Johann-Sebastian Bach, the famous composer, was born 232 years ago today, in Eisenach, Thuringia. Among his compositions were: The Christmas oratorio, The Passion Music to the words of St. John, and music to the gospel of St. Matthew, his mass in B Minor, and The Magnificat in D.

Bach's fame became far greater after his death than during his lifetime, for through the instrumentality of Mendelssohn, he became known, during what is termed the "Bach revival" as a genius almost too great to be grasped by the receptivity of one generation. He died July 28, 1750.

OLD TIME SONGS AT ENTERTAINMENT

The ladies of the First M. E. church are arranging what promises to be a thoroughly enjoyable evening for Friday of this week. A supper at six sharp will be followed by a program of song, tableaux and pantomine in which 60 children of the Sunday school will take part. The music will be the old favorites of thirty years ago, and the tableaux will illustrate them. The program in part will include:

"My Old Kentucky Home" Mrs. McDonald; "The Whistling Regiment," Russell Huff; "In Old Madrid," Edward Cole; The Lorelei Miss Irma Good; "The Love of Hiawatha," Mrs. Meredith, and many more, including the chorus of Sunday school children and a quartet.

C. A. Beemer, superintendent of the Organized Adult Bible Class Department of the New Jersey Sunday School Association and president of the Union County Association, will speak to the Sabbath School of the Seventh Day Baptist church, this city, next Saturday noon, March 24.

Moledesky, of Chatham street, for Miss Ida Silverstine, who is engaged to be married to Max Polock, of West Third street, in the near future. The decorations were green and white. The evening was passed with games, singing and dancing. A dainty collation was served.

You Can Make Excellent Cake with Fewer Eggs

Just use an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

This applies equally well to nearly all baked foods. Try the following recipe according to the new way:

CREAM LAYER CAKE

Old Way	New Way
1 cup sugar	1 cup sugar
½ cup milk	1 cup milk
2 cups flour	2 cups flour
1 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder	4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
3 eggs	1 egg
½ cup shortening	2 tablespoons shortening
1 teaspoon flavoring	1 teaspoon flavoring

Makes 1 Large 2-Layer Cake

DIRECTIONS—Cream the sugar and shortening together, then rub in the egg. After sifting the flour and Royal Baking Powder together two or three times, add it all to the mixture. Gradually add the milk and beat with spoon until you have a smooth pour batter. Add the flavoring. Pour into greased layer cake tins and bake in a moderately hot oven for twenty minutes. This cake is best baked in two layers. Put together with cream filling and spread with white icing

RIVALRY BETWEEN ARMY AND NAVY

The presence in this city of recruiting officers from the United States Navy has resulted in considerable rivalry between them and the recruiting officers from the army. Within the past few days fifteen young men have enlisted for the navy branch of the service, and several more have promised to give their names to the officers.

Some of the advantages offered by the navy are a free outfit of clothing, transportation and subsistence from point of enlistment to place of assignment. The outfit includes clothing, toilet article and accessories. Trade schools are maintained in the service for the instruction of yeomen and all branches. A man's pay continues while he is undergoing instruction, and there is no tuition to pay.

P. H. S. NOTES

Dr. Guy H. Hillman, dentist, has been examining the teeth of the school children for the past week.

A last opportunity to join the High School Cadet Corps was given to the boy students of the school this afternoon.

Tryouts for the Senior play, "Monsieur Perrechon's Journey," translated from the French by H. R. Hubbard, of the school faculty, were held yesterday afternoon.

L. D. Beers, of the school faculty, will give an illustrated lecture in the auditorium during chapel exercises next Friday morning. His topic will be "Camping in the Maine Woods."

Howard G. Lapsley, of Crescent avenue, who was a member of the Class of 1905 of the Plainfield High school, gave a very interesting and instructive lecture on "Aviation" yesterday afternoon in the lecture room of the local high school. Mr. Lapsley spoke from experience as he has often been up in aeroplanes, his flights for the most part being made from Governor's Island near New York City. He cited the utter unpreparedness of the United States Aviation Corps in case of war. Europe, he said, was learning more every day about flying which this country knows nothing about and will continue to know nothing until necessity and actual war forces us to benefit by such modern knowledge of aviation. As a matter of fact the lecturer stated that the United States Government has not a single air plane gun. An enemy could approach our coast and let loose a dozen armed aeroplanes from a single battleship. These could scout over our cities and if an American aviator endeavored to fly up for an air battle, his chief weapon would be his pocket automatic revolver vs. an efficient modern European aeroplane machine gun. Aviation, he said, is changing daily and aviation of only a few months is a thing of the past.

NEW RULES FOR FREEHOLDERS

Radical Changes Are Suggested for Union County Board

Special to the Courier-News:

Elizabeth, March 21.—Radical changes in the old methods of conducting the affairs of the Board of Freeholders are suggested by the new set of rules which the special rules committee will present to the board for its approval at a special meeting tomorrow. Under the chairmanship of Thomas F. Haviland, the committee visited almost every county in the State, adopting the best features of the rules of other boards, while at the same time improving on more of them so as to make them peculiarly adapted for Union county. The committee members have been reticent as to what the rules are, but it is known that they provided, among other things, the following:

No official under the board's direction can absent himself for more than a week without the board's permission.

All employes under the board must report for duty on time.

The county attorney must attend all meetings.

The county engineer and the county collector to have their offices in a county building.

The director must keep a close watch on board affairs.

Committees or members are not to spend more than $50 without a vote of the board, and in the event of emergency the board must later approve the expenditure.

Day work is to be awarded by a special committee.

Committees must keep a record of all their doings.

Committees and the collector must make monthly reports of expenditures so that the board will have complete knowledge as to the status of its appropriations.

Some of these rules were devised as a result of the disclosures which developed at the recent probe.

CAPT. JACK BONAVITA KILLED BY POLAR BEAR

Captain Jack Bonavita, considered as the greatest animal trainer in the world, who has lectured in the Plainfield High School on more than one occasion, died on Tuesday of wounds sustained from the attack of a polar bear in Los Angeles, Cal. Dispatches say that Captain Jack was knocked down and mortally wounded before keepers could render any assistance. The captain's real name was John F. Genther, an American, born in Philadelphia.

More than a quarter of a century ago Captain Jack Bonavita began his show life. At that time he was performing acrobatic feats with a wagon circus. The feature of the show was a wild animal act, consisting of two hyenas, two pumas and one lion. Financial reverses caused the trainer of the feature act to desert the show, and to the young acrobat came a chance to realize an ambition which he had cherished since boyhood. Capt. Jack became the trainer of the wild animal show.

From that time on one adventure followed another in rapid succession. Several times a wild beast attacked him and on one occasion his right arm was so severely lacerated by an infuriated beast that it had to be amputated. A few years later his left arm was barely saved from a similar fate. It has been said of Captain Jack that there was not on his body unscarred skin as big as a man's hand.

Special to Courier-News:

Paris, March 21.—Premier Alexandre Ribot, in a statement issued today, declared that the French nation was now in a position where it could fight with equal strength of arms as long as necessary. Special to Courier-News:

The accumulated depth in portions of these districts is now greater than at any other time during the season.

STOP CRITICIZING

What we want now is evidence of loyalty from the real American citizens and elimination of criticism of the President. We are in his hands, as a nation, and look to him to steer the Ship of State through the rocky rapids. There is no turning back now and the thing to do is to go through. If we have not been sufficiently prepared for all emergencies this is no time to grumble about it, for that only paralyzes the inclination that people have to address themselves to their task. We are not Republicans, Democrats, Prohibitionists, Socialists or anything else before loyalty and the true spirit of Americanism, which has always stood for the right and for charity for all and malice toward none. We have even leaned backwards in striving to be straight and square as a nation and believed that we were taken at our face value by other nations. It seems, however, that we have not been so taken by some, and it is time to make our stand clear for our national rights. Whatever is deemed best by the men whom we have elected to crystallize our best judgment as to international affairs and to plan what is best for the country is the plan we should follow without criticizing or halting in our loyalty. We must stand as one man, presenting a front of one hundred millions of loyal citizens. This means also the people who have thought enough of America to come here to make their homes, looking for and getting all that the native-born citizen expects and often getting very much more. Those who are at all inspired by the struggles of the Civil War to protect what a race of freemen had handed to us after the struggles of Bunker Hill, Valley Forge and Brandywine will not hesitate to stand up and be counted as sons of the noble sires who participated in those struggles, or as adopted sons of a country which received them with open arms and invited them to participate in all that this great country has to offer of opportunity, rights, privileges and immunities, so long as they are loyal. They who broke away from mother country and fatherland to become the patriots of 1776 and to make a home in the land which offered them freedom, chose to stand up for the land of their adoption; to take up arms and fight for her against the lands of their birth when those lands sought to infringe upon their privileges as freemen. No less today should the spirit of Americanism be shown in the life and act of every one who claims to be an American citizen. If it means war, so be it. If by this united spirit of Americanism, expressed so plainly that all would-be tyrants can read the sign, "Stand back," as John Hancock wrote his name to the Declaration of Independence so large and plainly "that King George could read it across the water," it means peace without war so much the better. But what we want as a nation is for every citizen to be an American in spirit, ready to stand for national rights and for the others to be as little conspicuous by their un-Americanism as possible. Ours is still the land of the free and the home of the brave—a place of refuge for the oppressed of other lands and place of opportunity for the pursuits of peace, but there comes a time, at different periods of history when to enforce peace we must be armed.

THE HOME MERCHANT'S SERVICE

The home store is one of the conveniences and public services of the town. A place may have good streets, schools and lights, yet if its stores are behind the game the whole community suffers. The public is inconvenienced and put to serious expense to supply itself with necessaries. There are some people who always patronize distant stores for all important purchases. But in an emergency they run to the home store with some trifling order. Then they blame the merchant if he does not have as complete a stock as a metropolitan store would carry. Such people are not doing their share to build up their home community. They are pursuing a policy which if adopted by everyone would affect valuation of all real estate and impair the facilities for good community living. The merchant can do his share toward making this an up-to-date town only by the spirit of loyal support from his townspeople.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES

To provide an easier means of amending the Constitution Representative W. M. Chandler, of New York, has worked out a plan whereby a majority of both Houses of Congress, or one-fourth of the States, provided they contain one-fourth of the population of the country can propose amendments. Such amendments, if concurred in by a majority of the electors in a majority of the States and a majority of all the electors voting thereon, shall become a part of the Constitution. Mr. Chandler has provided, furthermore, that a constitutional convention shall be called by Congress, in 1926 and every thirty years thereafter for proposing amendments. While the method of amendment, as provided by the framers of the Constitution, was doubtless adequate in the early days of the Republic, at the present time, in the opinion of Congressman Chandler, it is entirely too cumbersome to meet the needs of 100,000,000 people.

AN EFFICIENT REPUBLICAN

One of the most attractive members of the Committee on Appropriations of the House in the last Congress was Hon. Charles R. Davis, of Minnesota. Because of his capacity for handling perplexing details Mr. Davis was made a member of the sub-committee in charge of the District of Columbia appropriation bill and after that measure was passed he was the only Republican member to be given a place on the conference committee to adjust the differences in the bill between the House and Senate. After repeated attempts to reach an agreement with the Senate conferees an adjustment was finally brought about, largely through the diplomacy of Representative Davis, the compromise plan of the conferees was adopted by both Houses and the measure signed by the President the day before Congress adjourned.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Having decided to reduce the cost of living by raising vegetables, some of the home gardeners proceed to buy gloves so as to keep their hands from getting soiled, and a lawn chair to rest in.

The cold spring weather may hinder agriculture and the clothing trade all right, but if it stops the training in the baseball camps it begins to be serious.

According to the latest revelations it seems to be all fixed up that the United States is to be annexed to Mexico.

Anyway, no overt acts have been committed by the politicians tiptoeing around in their gumshoes.

After reading the market reports the landlady remarks that potatoes never were healthful and nourishing, anyway.

The food speculators have unfortunately forgotten that other years are coming in which friendship is quite a help in selling goods.

JACOB VOEHL WRITES TO ENGLAND AND FRANCE

Jacob Voehl, Sr., of Grove street, has written a letter to King George of England and to President Poincare of France offering suggestions as how to end the war. He claims that France should no longer contend for possession of Alsace and Lorraine, which, he says, belonged to Germany in the eighteenth century. He also blames England for her action in sending the Hessians of Germany to fight against the American colonists in the time of the Revolution, and he speaks of some of his ancestors who were among the Hessians who came over here then.

"Birth of a Nation" Coming on Monday

D. W. Griffiths' magnificent spectacle, "The Birth of a Nation," comes to the Regent Theatre, Somerville, for a matinee and night performance on Monday, March 26. Everywhere that this sensational successful attraction has played the matinees have vied with the evening performances in attendance. The arrangement whereby all seats are reserved and sold in advance is a happy one inasmuch as persons who would otherwise find it impossible or difficult to buy in time to see the opening scenes because of the crowds at the box office for an hour or two before each performance are thus enabled to secure reservations far ahead.

The battle of Petersburg, the assassination of President Lincoln and the awe-inspiring rides of the Ku Klux Klan are but a few of the many tremendous incidents brought upon the screen, and the skill of the master hand that intermingled the tragic elements of romance and comedy is sure to command the highest respect and admiration.

DUNELLEN

DISTRICT ELECTS NEW BOARD MEMBERS

In a spirited election at the annual school meeting held last night in Whittier school two new members were elected on the Board of Education. The candidates nominated included Paul Carpenter, Theodore W. Day, Joseph Walton, Frank Wynkoop, Charles Cortell, Jr., and Wilson S. Frederick, for three-year terms, and for one year, Wilson S. Frederick and Oscar Runyon. The election resulted in Messrs. Carpenter, Day and Charles Cortell, Jr., being elected for three-year terms and Oscar Runyon for one year.

All the appropriations for the ensuing year were carried.

There were 62 votes cast for current expenses, $14,125.00; manual training, $700, received 54 votes; borough repairs, $600, received 63 votes.

The question of more school accommodations was introduced by the president of the board, A. F. Todd, who spoke of the congested condition of the present schools. There are now 516 pupils attending school with a seating capacity of 512.

This brought forth some remarks in opposition to the scheme, John Y. Wilson stating that he thought at the present time, due to the high cost of labor and materials the district should abandon the thought of building. He suggested the rental of the borough hall or some other convenient place to hold sessions until the building conditions were more normal.

President Todd replied that he realized the situation but the question had simply been placed before the voters and the board would abide by the ruling of the meeting. He further stated that the borough hall was located in the busy section of the borough and that it was a very noisy location and interfered with the class studies; that Apgar hall was also inadequate. He predicted that some of the classes next year would have to be placed on part time sessions. John Pedderman thought that the borough should be looking ahead and purchase a site for the school at the present time, even if they did not build. The question ended with no action being taken by the voters.

The new board will meet on Monday April 2, to reorganize.

Local "Smithy" 29 Years in Business

Isaac J. Stites is not only the borough collector, but the oldest blacksmith in business in this locality. On April 2, Mr. Stites will celebrate his twenty-nine years as a "smithy." Mr. Stites began business here in the spring of the big blizzard in the building across the street opposite his present location on North avenue. He has seen many changes in his trade, the advent of the automobile having been responsible for some of them. Besides the leading blacksmith, Mr. Stites takes an unusual interest in civic affairs and is prominently connected with the local M. E. church.

At his hospitable home on Dunellen avenue he has for many years entertained prominent visiting clergymen of the Newark Methodist conference. His large acquaintances extends not only in his home town but Groushout Central New Jersey.

May Organize a Home Defense League

Already a movement is on foot to organize a Home Defense League in this borough. Many citizens are anxious to enroll their names in an organization of this sort and be in readiness should their service be needed.

John Marlen, the druggist, who has taken the initiative in this matter, has found many who would be willing to join.

Mayor Latham is to be appealed to and the matter will undoubtedly be brought up for discussion and definite action at a future date. O. M. Webber has been mentioned as a capable drill master who could instruct the league members in military tactics.

Plans Opening of Wayside Park

T. Walter Sisty will again be in charge of Wayside Park, West Dunellen, this year, and he plans to have many new devices for entertaining the public. This year the dancing pavilion will only be rented to individuals for private parties or to be let to those who will conduct invitation affairs. In doing this Manager Sisty will thus eliminate the objectionable crowds that have attended the public dances heretofore held. Picnic parties as well as automobile parties will be invited to visit this resort as in years past.

Worked on the "Vigilancia"

The torpedoing of the American steamship "Vigilancia" off the London coast last Friday was somewhat of local interest, especially to Joseph Tetlow, of North avenue. Mr. Tetlow some years ago, when engaged at his occupation in New York worked on this steamship when she was in dry dock. The boat was then running on the Brazil route, and Mr. Tetlow was very familiar with the interior of this big ship.

Bids are to be opened on April 4 by the Borough of Middlesex for furnishing street lights in that municipality. Lights are to be furnished for the terms of one, three and five years.

WESTFIELD

ANNUAL MEETING OF SCHOOL DISTRICT

That the citizens and voters of this town are interested in the welfare of the public schools was proven last night when more than five hundred men and women attended the annual meeting of the school district held in the auditorium of the high school. It had been rumored about the town that there was to be a contest and as a result a card was sent to every voter, calling his attention to the school meeting and urging him to come out and support the members of the Board and their candidates. The contest which was expected did not materialize and no other candidates were nominated or elected outside of the ones which had the endorsement of the Board.

The meeting was called to order by District Clerk Webster, and Salter Storrs Clark was made chairman and Mr. Webster secretary.

The ballot boxes were declared open and were kept open for one hour. When the votes had been counted it was found that 289 had been cast and of this number James E. Cutler had received 281, William H. Orr, 280, and Albert A. Platt, 275, for three years, and Frank W. Perkins, 267, for two years. Walter H. Taverner received 12 votes for the two-year term and one for the three-year term and A. E. Church received two votes for the three-year term in place of Mr. Platt.

On the vote for the appropriations quite a number of the ladies cast a ballot and the result was as follows: There were 327 votes cast, 326 for building and repair of school houses; 327 for current expenses and 326 for manual training. There were eight votes rejected on both the appropriations and the trustees.

After the vote had been announced the Board of Education held a short meeting and ratified the election of the trustees and the appropriations.

Clinks Arrange for Entertainment

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Clinks held its monthly meeting in Arcanum hall last night and it was attended by a large number of the members of the organization. Chief Clink A. A. Smith presided.

The main subject of business discussed is the entertainment which the Clinks are to give next month and which will be open to the ladies. This entertainment promises to eclipse previous ones that the Clinks have given. J. B. Wilson, the new chairman of the entertainment committee, announced that he was planning to have some first-class artists here on that night and that all Clinks should make it a point not to have any other engagement for that night. The date of this entertainment was not settled upon but will be announced later.

After the business session Mr. Wilson introduced the entertainers of the evening, which comprised Marvey Rose in ventriloquism and banjo work; Sidney Johnson, colored comedian; William Dilberger, songs and Charles Speidel, pianist. All of these artists were exceptionally good and received hearty applause from the Clinks present.

SCOTCH PLAINS

THIEVES ENTER FOREST ROAD HOME

The home of Thomas Whitenack of Forest road, was entered last night by thieves. The only thing missing was a gold watch and some change.

The robbery was not discovered until this morning when Mr. Whitenack could not find his trousers. After a search they were found in one of the rooms on the first floor, with the pockets turned inside out and the watch and money gone.

A peculiar thing about this robbery is that early in the evening Mr. Whitenack and his son Richard were showing their watches to visitors at their home, and it is supposed that someone prowling around had seen this and thought that the watches were valuable. Mrs. Whitenack was awakened in the night by a peculiar noise and on getting up and looking around, but not hearing anything more decided that it was a cat. Her walking around probably frightened the man away.

Commencing this week William F. Ward will lead the choir of the Baptist church in preparation for the Easter music. There will be a rehearsal in the chapel Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. H. B. Saunders and Miss Kathleen Saunders have returned home after spending the winter in New Orleans. Captain Saunders is expected home in a few days.

Councilman DuFour moved that the council take the necessary action in accordance with Mr. Vosseller's suggestions. The motion was carried.

Mayor Robinson asked the street committee and engineer what would be done to relieve Linden avenue of all the water it now has. Engineer Ingham declared that an extension to the sewer on that street would be necessary. Upon motion of Councilman Bolmer it was decided to refer the matter with power to the sewer committee.

FOR CATARRH--CATARRHAL DEAFNESS OR HEAD NOISES YOU SHOULD TRY PARMINT

If you have Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness or Head Noises caused by Catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused Catarrh of the stomach or bowels you should secure proper treatment at once. Don't neglect Catarrh! Don't let it make you into a worn-out, run-down Catarrhal wreck.

Remember Catarrh is more than a trifling ailment—more than a disgusting disease. It's a dangerous one. Unchecked it frequently destroys smell, taste and hearing. It clogs the nostrils and slowly but surely undermines the general health.

Sprays, salves and inhalers may bring you a temporary relief, but permanent results can only come from a constitutional treatment that will expel the Catarrhal poisons from your system.

If you are a victim of Catarrh and have not been able to find relief from your trouble, go to your druggist today and get an ounce of Parmint, about 25c worth, take this home and add to it four ounces of sugar and ½ pint of hot water. Take a tablespoonful four times a day. It acts upon the blood and mucous membrane and has brought relief to those who thought there was no help for their trouble. Parmint has been used in the treatment of Catarrh throughout Europe for many years. A recent canvass of the American druggists shows that it is now being extensively used in this country where it is producing satisfactory results even in localities where Catarrh is most prevalent.

To be able to breathe freely, to hear plainly, smell, taste and arise in the morning refreshed and strong and with head and throat free from phlegm are conditions that you should strive to secure.

For your own sake give Parmint a trial. Certainly you cannot enjoy and get the good out of life that you are justly entitled to so long as you are afflicted with Catarrh.

Start with Parmint NOW, today. It may bring you a relief and give you a wider margin of health than you thought it possible to obtain.

Parmint is sold and recommended in this city by all first class druggists. Scheiner Bros can supply you.—Adv.

"MELTING MILLIONS" AT PROCTOR'S THEATRE

In "Jeasousy" at Proctor's Theatre tomorrow

"Melting Millions" is part of the double-feature show at Proctor's today. George Walsh leaps chairs and nimbly flits around on the side of a house with the agility of a Fairbanks. Mr. Walsh is an athlete, and he can do anything in the line of applied gymnastics. In addition today is another feature entitled "The Primitive Call," starring attractive Gladys Coburn in five reels of good photography, picturesque outdoor and perfectly arranged indoor scenes.

Tomorrow the feature attraction is "Jealousy" with Valeska Suratt in the leading role, as a woman who marries a man she does not love, then deserts him for another, and is finally caught at her own game. The role particularly fits her style of acting and she interprets the part in a realistic, emotional manner. Tomorrow the last episode of the serial "Pearl of the Army" will be presented. Hank Mann will appear in a Fox comedy entitled "His Ticklish Job."

On Friday, Douglas Fairbanks will appear in "The Americano," and Maurice and Florence Walton in "The Quest of Life," during the action of which these two famous dancers introduce a series of their creations.

BEN WELCH'S COMPANY AT PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Ben Welch, with his big show at the Plainfield Theatre Monday, matinee and night

"The New Commander," the second act of the offering which will be given next Monday matinee and night at the Plainfield Theatre by Ben Welch's big show, is a travesty on the recent occurrences at the Mexican border. The act is a laugh all the way through. Peter F. Carr, the author, having availed himself of the unusual opportunities afforded by the subject. "Love Affair" which is the title of the opening act, is really rich in laugh material.

During the first act Mr. Welch makes his quick change from the Hebrew character to the Italian character, and is said to be one of the many novelties of the show. The company is made up of the best that could be had in burlesque and Mr. Welch has gone far out of the way to make his show one of the best on the road today in burlesque.

CONTEST NIGHT AT PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Today will see the completion of a two-days' program by the five vaudeville numbers composing the bill at the Plainfield Theatre, and tomorrow an entire change will be made. Amelia Somerville, the musical comedy star who has played in half a dozen successes, occupies the top-notch berth on the program with an entertaining vehicle of the latest song hits.

The Five Tipperary Dancers transfer a bit of old Irish spirit to the audience that is a bit different from the usual run of dancing acts. The other numbers on the bill include: Mack & Hastings in a comedy, singing and dancing skit; the Gordon Brothers, a team of comedy, singing and dancing acrobats, and Bedsel & Wilmington in a comedy sketch.

Tonight will be "Contest Night," a new feature that has been introduced for the amusement of local theatre goers. Diving for coins and other equally funny antics feature the enterprise. Tomorrow will be "tryout" night with four additional acts.

ASSEMBLY DEFEATS PIERCE'S BILL

Special to Courier-News:

Trenton, March 21.—Only 16 votes could be mustered in the Assembly yesterday for Senator Pierce's bill to provide tenure of office for assessors, and with 23 members voting in the negative the bill was defeated. Assemblyman LeMaster, of Essex, opposed the measure, stating the practice has been abuse of placing officials under tenure of office.

The bill provided that in taxing districts where assessors are elected, the offices of these officials should terminate on January 1, 1918. New assessors for these districts should then be named in such manner and for such term as may be prescribed in any act providing for the appointment of assessors in cities or towns of the class in which such districts are included and upon such appointment they should go under tenure of office and be removed only for cause.

It was explained that the war council consists only of David Lloyd George, Lord Curzon, Lord Milner, Arthur Henderson, A. Bonar Law, the premiers of Canada, New Zealand and Newfoundland and representatives of South Africa and India, while the imperial conference is composed of the members of the British cabinet and several representatives of the colonies and all the dominions except Australia.

The court of errors and appeals says in its decision:

This case illustrates the futility of attempting to establish such a home as a husband should provide for his wife when one of the component parts is his mother and where the husband in all disagreements between his mother and wife either supports his mother or remains neutral.

CONSTABULARY BILL IS LAID OVER

Special to Courier-News:

Trenton, March 21.—Only four votes could be mustered in the Senate yesterday afternoon in favor of the Committee Substitute for Senator Pierce's State Constabulary bill, and after considerable skirmishing the measure was laid over. There was considerable surprise when the substitute was reported, and still more when the move was undertaken to rush it through. As soon as the substitute was released from the Judiciary Committee printed copies were distributed to the Senators, showing that the plan to push it had been carefully made.

The substitute differs radically from the original Pierce measure, one of its unexpected features being that it increases the salary of Adjutant General Charles W. Barber from $2,500 to $4,500. The new bill creates State Rural Guard, the head of which is the Adjutant General, who is authorized to organize, equip and control the Guard. It provides for a Major, salary $2,000; two captains, salary $1,500 each; two lieutenants, salary $1,200, each; several minor officers and two companies of 45 men, each, the salary of each private being $900. All these are to be appointed by the Adjutant General under civil service regulations.

If the bill became a law, the annual salary charge would be $93,700, including the raise for the Adjutant General, besides which the equipment and other expenses must be figured.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach or Bowels

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleaning" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

IOBST MAY HAVE TO LEAVE FUNERAL

Says He Will Do So to Vote for Local Option Bill

Special to Courier-News:

Trenton, March 21.—Despite the fact that his mother has been stricken by the hand of death and to be buried tomorrow, Assemblyman Harry J. Iobst, the minister-member from Hunterdon county, is holding himself in readiness to rush to the Capitol here in case his vote should be needed on the Kates bill, which embodies local option. Iobst was in the House for a while yesterday morning, and when he learned that the measure would not come up for consideration, under the Runyon resolution, until today, left for home.

Before going, however, he assured the Anti-Saloon League men that he would leave his mother's funeral, if necessary, to get back to the House, if needed to help pass the bill. The minister stated he believed he would in this way better please his mother than by following her remains to the grave.

PICTURES OF PILGRIM'S PROGRESS WORK OF ART

Pilgrim's Progress, although written 257 years ago, is still the world's best seller, next to the Bible, and the moving picture of Bunyan's deathless allegory made eight years ago in Italy at a cost of $56,000 is said to be the one film that increases its popularity with time. The film will be presented here with a lecture by Rilwyn Eaton, and special music on the pipe organ tonight and tomorrow night at the First Baptist church under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society.

The famous Alexander Salvini and a cast of over 100 of Italy's best talent have accomplished a splendid triumph under the supervision of a number of English clergymen, led by Dr. Hargraves. Denied an audience by his persecutors in the seventeenth century, Bunyan is today preaching to his millions through the printed volume and cinematograph.

This picture is never to be seen in theatres. For the most potent effect it requires the religious atmosphere of the church and the sympathetic appreciation of Christian people. It produces, when given with Mr. Eaton's lecture and the special music provided, a marked spiritual effect and a deep reverence.

WAR SPIRIT HOT AT PRINCETON

Faculty Offers Laboratories to the United States.

SCIENTISTS TO AID NATION.

Also Requests War Department to Make Student Battalion a Reserve Officers' Training Corps So That 800 Men Would Be Available In Event of Call For Volunteers.

Princeton, March 21.—The faculty of Princeton has decided to immediately place the laboratories of the university at the disposal of the National Research Council. In event of war the scientists here will drop academic work and conduct experiments along lines military demands shall make. This decision of the faculty was made as the result of a letter sent by George E. Hale, chairman of the National Research Council, a body appointed by the National Association of Sciences upon the request of President Wilson.

An announcement of even greater importance to the undergraduates was made to the effect that the members of the faculty approve of the plan to convert the Princeton provisional battalion into an officers' reserve training corps. Efforts will be made to have this change become effective immediately, and it is expected that within a few days the war department will officially establish a corps here and provide uniforms and rifles for the 800 students who have been undergoing daily training, drill and rifle practice.

The faculty also decided to take a military census of the alumni and facility to ascertain what the alumni are able to do in the event of war. This will include approximately 10,000 men, and the purpose of the plan is to make it possible for Princeton men to serve their country as efficiently as possible by entering the department to which they are best adapted.

GETS RIPARIAN RIGHTS.

Ford Company Pays $31,742 For Passaic River Front.

Trenton, March 21.—In furtherance of its plans for the establishment of a plant along the Passaic river at Kearny the Ford Motor company of Detroit obtained from the state board of commerce and navigation a riparian grant for the river front adjacent to the site of the new plant. The price was $31,742, a figure to which the company at first took exception as being too high.

Other grants made by the board included one to the R. C. Packard company on the Raritan river at South Amboy for $13,325; Eastern Real Estate company, Camden, $22,500; Benjamin Moore & Co., Arthur Kill, Staten Island sound, $4,500; United States Metals Refining company, Staten Island sound, $3,504; Charles T. Leonard & Hardear Co., Raritan, $1,250; borough of Avon, Shark river, $1,836.

DEUTSCHWEHR IS LOYAL.

Atlantic City Germans Offer Services to the President.

Atlantic City, March 21.—Members of the Atlantic City Deutschwehr at a patriotic rally held by President Charles M. Speidel, a hotel owner and banker, pledged their loyalty and their services unreservedly to President Wilson and the nation.

The society includes nearly all the leading Germans at the shore. It raised almost $10,000 for widows and orphans of German soldiers through a big bazaar held on the Steel pier in the winter. Many of the members are giving liberally to the American Red Cross fund.

$50,000,000 FOR "CHASERS."

Stotesbury's Stepson Says Rich Philadelphians Would Aid War.

Philadelphia, March 21. — Wealthy men of this city, according to J. H. R. Cromwell, stepson of E. T. Stotesbury, are ready to spend $50,000,000 to build submarine chasers for the government in the event of hostilities. Their identity he would not disclose. He contented himself with saying that the $50,000,000 would be pledged as soon as war was declared.

"I'm willing to contribute my share," he said. It is believed that his stepfather, Mr. Stotesbury, will be one of the heaviest contributors.

IRISH THREATEN GENERAL ELECTION

Dillon Says Government Broke Its Pledges.

London, March 21.—Protesting in the house of commons against the pledge, John Dillon, one of the Nationalist leaders, who also referred to the recent statement of Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, regarding a settlement of the Irish question and a general election, said the government's refusal to publish the proceedings of the court martial of the members of the Sinn Fein in Dublin, thus violating former Premier Asquith's pledge, said the Nationalists would not injure the government in the prosecution of the war.

But there were other ways, Mr. Dillon said, of punishing the government for its action in Ireland. The Nationalists would welcome a general election and would oppose the bill for a prolongation of the present parliament in order to force an election. If Mr. Bonar Law raised anti-Irish feeling in London he would find the Irish could fight as well, and many things would come out of the situation that honorable gentleman and his friends would not like.

Irishmen, continued Mr. Dillon, would ask what were the relations between the Ulster leaders and Baron Kuhlmann, who was in Ulster before the war, and what about the dispatch sent by Kuhlmann to Berlin, on the receipt of which the emperor determined to go on with the war. An anti-Irish election in England, Mr. Dillon added, would cause a disturbance which would spread throughout the empire and to America.

Henry Edward Duke, chief secretary for Ireland, in defending the government, denied that there was any specific pledge to publish the report of the court martial and said that, in view of the grave situation in Ireland, the government had decided that publication of it would be prejudicial to the welfare of the country and might lead to discord and bloodshed in Ireland.

WHAT GOETHALS WILL GET.

Salary Between $15,000 and $20,000, Is Report.

Trenton, March 21.—General George W. Goethals, who is wanted by Governor Edge to construct New Jersey's $15,000,000 highway system, had a conference of more than an hour with the statehouse commission, composed of the governor, Treasurer Read and Comptroller Bugbee.

No announcement was made at the close of the meeting, but it was said on good authority that the general will direct the road work. The subject of compensation was not taken up, but it is thought that it will be about $15,000 or $20,000 yearly.

The senate has passed the bill which will permit the statehouse commission to fix the compensation.

U. S. FRIENDLY TO NEW RUSSIA

Formal Recognition Will Be Made Soon.

NEW TREATY IS PROBABLE.

Change In Government Removes Obstacle to Commercial Pact, Long Hung Up, Between the Two Nations. Ex-Czar's Diplomats Here In Doubtful Position as Result of Revolution.

Washington, March 21.—The status of the Russian ambassador at Washington, George Bakhmeteff, the other officials of the embassy as well as that of Russian consuls and consular agents throughout the United States and its dependencies is as yet unsettled.

While no doubt exists that the American government will soon recognize the newly formed Russian government, it seems clear that from Bakhmeteff down to the last important consular official the new exponents and the redistribution of these Russian officials in office will be necessary before diplomatic intercourse with the Russian government can be regularized.

U. S. Envoy Reports.

The state department has dispatches from Ambassador David R. Francis at Petrograd, in which he stated that the army and navy of Russia were standing firmly behind the new government. He reported that quiet and order prevailed and that the new government seemed to be assuming the reins of control completely, sober mindedly and with every outward appearance of stability and permanency.

In announcing the receipt of the dispatch Secretary of State Lansing said it dealt with other phases of the situation upon which he was not yet prepared to speak.

Recognition of the new government, Secretary Lansing explained, has not yet been taken up with President Wilson. Such recognition can be made by the executive branch of the government without waiting for any action of congress.

At the same time it was suggested that in view of the tremendous import of the changes in the fundamental character of Russia's government recognition might take the form of a joint resolution of congress.

Recognition by Congress.

Such a method of extending recognition would present an opportunity for the congress of the United States to give voice to the sentiments of joy and congratulation with which the victory for free government in Russia is hailed by the American people.

The grand duchy of Finland is quiet, according to state department dispatches from American Minister Morris at Stockholm, who reported that three members of the duma visited Finland and had been assured by the people that the new Russian government will receive loyal support. Senator Idjeki has been appointed governor of Finland, the report says, and the Russian gendarmerie system abolished.

New Treaty Probable.

Petrograd, March 21.—"Nothing now stands in the way of a new commercial treaty between Russia and the United States," said the new foreign minister, Professor Paul Miljukoff, in an interview. "I think I am right in saying that the United States is eager for the resumption of old commercial relations and for the removal of all the disabilities governing Jews here. There now appears to be no obstacles to such an event.

"The details of such an arrangement, however, cannot at present be stated. They will have to be left to the future.

"This," continued the minister, "will only be one manifestation of the closer relations into which the new Russia hopes to enter with the democratic world. The old government in its monarchial form was in close sympathy with Germany and Prussian ideas. The new regime will find an inspiration in the ideas of the western world."

JERSEY BOYS MUST QUIT.

Governor Edge Signs Anti-Smoking Law For Lads Under Eighteen.

Trenton, N. J., March 21.—Governor Walter E. Edge has signed what was House bill 106, fathered by the Democratic floor leader, Assemblyman Geran.

It is designed to cut off all opportunity for boys under eighteen years of age to smoke. Dealers in cigarettes and the "makin's" and all others are forbidden to sell or give them to any person under that age.

All attempts to evade the law are called for by barring substitutes in name. It is just as unlawful to give a minor a cigarette under another name than its own as to give it as tobacco. The first offense is punishable by a fine of $10, and thereafter each conviction will entail a fine of $25.

Instantly! Corns Stop Hurting! Corns Loosen and Lift Out

No pain! Few drops loosen corns and calluses so they fall off—Never let corns ache twice—No humbug!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical. Freezone is a scientific compound made from ether, says a well-known druggist here, and the genuine is always sold in these little bottles packed in a round, wood case. Don't accept it unless in a round, wood case.—Adv.

Doctors Stand Amazed at Power of Bon-Opto to Make Weak Eyes Strong---According to Dr. Lewis

Guaranteed to Strengthen Eyesight 50% In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa. Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not ache, pain or water. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Still another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes which induced nerve headache. I have worn glasses for several years both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a mass of green to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful strengthener. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or need of glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision or for eyes inflamed from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the few eye preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every home, as, in addition to the above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical physician's prescription for simple home use." Bon-Opto tablets may be obtained from the Bon-Opto Co., Inc., Binghamton, N. Y., for 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in this city by L. W. Randolph.

NEEDLEWORK

Cross-stitch is effectively applied to many handkerchiefs. A pretty gift can be made in quick time by using Dutch blue cotton or silk to cross-stitch a design in the corner of a handkerchief.

Boudoir pillow covers do not necessarily have to be embroidered to be dainty. Good-looking ones are simply lace trimmed. One seen recently had two three-inch bands of fine cluny insertion set in diagonally across either corner, and the effect, it must be conceded, was excellent.

Bright color is no disgrace to the luncheon table these days. Colored centerpieces and doilies are replacing the all white sheets that have been fashionable of late. In the department where cretonne is sold one may buy a yard or two of striped cretonne on which are medallion figures representing plate and tumbler doilies and a large center piece, all to match, with a scalloped edge and festoon floral design. The cretonne may be spread on the table as it is, or the doilies and centerpieces cut out and used separately.

COPPER AT COST TO U. S. FOR WAR

Big Producers Give Almost $10,000,000 to Defense.

Washington, March 21.—The contribution to the national defense of the copper producers of the United States will amount to almost $10,000,000. This was announced by the Council of National Defense, on behalf of Bernard M. Baruch of New York, chairman of the committee on materials, has been working for weeks. The copper producers—and the list includes nearly every producer in the United States—have offered to furnish the army and navy with all the copper it needs for every possible purpose, at cost. The metal is selling in the market at 37 cents a pound, and the offer of the producers is to serve the army and navy with the 4,000,000 pounds needed during the coming year at less than 17 cents a pound.

Director Gifford of the council, with the approval of Secretary Baker and Secretary Daniels, made the following statement:

This willingness to furnish the copper supply needed by the government as a minimum concession in price is very gratifying and is a most substantial item of large affairs of their patriotic offering at Atlantic seaboard points.

We offer the copper at this price notwithstanding our costs for labor, supplies, etc., vary from 30 to 50 per cent above the average during the year period, because we believe it to be our duty to furnish the requirements of the government in preparing the nation for war with no profit more than we receive from our regular production, in normal times.

STATE POLICE BILL WINS

New York Senate Passes It by Vote of 26 to 24.

Albany, N. Y., March 21.—With a bare majority in its favor the State state consabulary bill was passed by the senate after amendments offered by senators hostile to the measure had been voted down. The final vote stood 26 to 24.

All the Democratic members of the senate voted against the bill. Nine Republican senators joined them. They were Alvah W. Burlingame, Jr., Charles C. Lockwood, Robert R. Lawson and Alfred J. Gilchrist of Kings; Ross and Graves of Erie, J. Henry Walters of Onondaga, George F. Thompson of Niagara, James W. Yelverton of Schenectady and William H. Hill of Broome.

The chief attacks on the bill were made by Senator Graves of Erie and Senator Wagner, the minority leader. Senator Graves denounced the measure as undemocratic.

PURPLE PINK FOR EDGE

Professor Blake Presents New Combination to Governor.

Trenton, March 21.—Governor Edge has just received from the State agricultural college the first purple. The creation originated with Professor M. A. Blake by artificial hybridization, and a cutting is valued at $100. It was brought to the executive offices by Dr. G. H. Lipman, director of the experiment station.

Purple is the color of the Northwestern university of Illinois, and the substitution asked for a cutting, but the experimental station has decided to duplicate enough stock to be distributed free to the florists of the state first.

CRISIS OF WOMAN'S LIFE

Change Safely Passed by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wagoner, Okla.—"I never get tired of praising Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because during Change of Life I was in bed two years and had two operations, but all the doctors and operations did me no good, and I would have been in my grave today had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which brought me out of it all right, so I am now well and doing my housework, besides working in my garden. Several of my neighbors have got well by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. VIOLA FIDUCAL, Wagoner, Okla.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness should be heeded by middle-aged women. FRENCH PRESS RETIRING GERMANS

Near "Hindenburg Line" as Foe Moves Slower.

London, March 21.—French cavalry north of the Somme, pressing hard on the retiring Germans, has pushed forward to the outskirts of Roupy, within four and a half miles of St. Quentin, at which point, according to the latest dispatches, they gave chase to German cavalry patrols.

Between Amiens and Rheims the French have occupied Tergnier, an important railway junction of 5,000 inhabitants, a scant thirteen miles south of St. Quentin.

The first of these announcements means that the troops of the tricolor are now within striking distance of the so called Hindenburg line, the supposed goal of the retiring foe. To the north meanwhile the British are doggedly pushing forward toward Cambrai, on the Lille-La Fere line. They are advancing more slowly than the French troops, but nothing in the official reports so far in the versions of newspaper correspondents at the front indicates that either army has yet come in contact with the main German forces.

British troops have cleared fourteen more French villages of Teuton invaders on the front south of Arras, passing the general line stretching from Canizy through Estree-en-Chaussee, Nurin and Velu to St. Leger, the most distant of these within twelve miles of Arras.

Telegraphing from British headquarters in France, Reuter's correspondent says:

The pace of the German retreat seems to have slowed down considerably during the last twenty-four hours, a fact for which the very wild weather may well be responsible. A violent snowstorm has been roaring over northern France and is still very heavy, although it shortly veered more to the north, with frequent fleeting glimpses of sunshine.

Many rain squalls have swept over the battle area, but these have not sufficed to render the ground bad; and there is keen drying edge in the wind. Notwithstanding the tempestuous weather, however, our troops have made considerable progress.

VIRGINIA CARTER LEE

Miss Lee will gladly answer any inquiry relative to domestic science, a stamped envelope being necessary for a personal reply. Address care of Courier-News.

We hear the word "preparedness" pretty frequently these days, but has it occurred to you that it has a personal application to every Home?

By preparedness in her own kitchen, every woman is helping to reduce the high cost of living, and by battling against waste and utilizing to advantage every kitchen by-product, she is not only adding to her own bank account, but she is learning the great lesson of thrift, that is so necessary to many Americans.

Every large manufacturing plant employs scientists to study the problem of waste utilization, so no housewife need scorn small economies, and it is knowing how to utilize the things that most people throw away that makes the difference between the thrifty and the wasteful housekeeper.

You need not worry about the rising cost of meat if you have learned to realize the value of every bit and every drop of meat juice and of the bones and suet. Nine women out of ten throw out the water in which the potatoes were cooked, and the tenth cuts a slice of bacon into bits, fries it, and in the fat cooks a tablespoonful of minced onion, then adds a tablespoonful of flour, salt and paprika to taste, puts in the potato water, adds a little minced parsley and she has a savory and nutritious cream of potato soup.

The water in which cabbage or turnips have been boiled will be found excellent for cooking beans, lentils, or other dried vegetables. Macaroni and spaghetti are also improved by cooking in these waters.

A tempting and nutritious hot dish for supper can be made from several kinds of vegetables, if they are finely chopped, mixed with egg, formed into croquettes, dipped in egg and crumbs and fried in deep, hot fat.

The saucer of baked beans, not enough to serve again, will furnish the basis of a good soup, or they may be converted into a delicious salad with the addition of a few lettuce leaves and a French dressing.

Wilted lettuce, or the outside leaves, will give a tasty, hot vegetable, if prepared in the following manner: Cook a few slices of bacon, remove when done and leave the fat in the pan. Have ready half a cupful of vinegar, to which add one beaten egg, half a teaspoonful of mustard, salt and paprika to taste and pour it slowly into the fat. Stir constantly. When well thickened, add the lettuce, cover and set where it will not boil for eight minutes. Serve very hot.

What do you do with the muffins which you have heated up once and two or three were not eaten? Don't throw them away, but separate and use as the foundation for poached or fried eggs. Dry your stale corn bread and make it into a pudding. Brown bread, if put through the chopper and served with cream and sugar, will be welcomed as a "brand new" cereal.

The cupful of cooked cereal that is left may be used for a cream soup, with either half stock and half milk, or all stock. It may also be beaten up with an egg, milk and sugar, and baked in custard cups as a dessert.

If you will learn how to candy lemon, orange and grapefruit rinds, you will find them better for eating, and for all culinary purposes, than what you buy, and your apple skins can be made into a delicious jelly.

You can substitute beef dripping for butter in boiled salad dressing and it will be unnoticed. Unfortunately, many women who have tried using the various fats as substitutes for butter have been unsuccessful, because they have used as much of it as the recipe called for butter. Reduce the amount about one-sixth and you will find that it can be done. In using chicken fat for cake, instead of the half cupful of butter called for, use one-third of a cupful, with a good pinch of salt.

Remember that each variety of dripping and fat must be kept in a separate jar, or it is practically valueless.

In the article tomorrow evening, further suggestions will be given for keeping down the weekly budget, and at the same time the caterer will be able to provide a good table.

THE TWO FISHERMEN

Once upon a time there lived by the sea two brothers, Peter and Beno; they earned their living by catching fish and selling them in the city.

That is, Peter earned his living in this way, but Beno, although he caught a great many fish and much larger ones than Peter, could never bring himself to keep the poor fish after he had them on his hook, and one day were the berries he gathered in the woods.

So he went to his rich brother Peter and asked him for a little milk to eat with his berries.

"Begone from my door, you silly fellow," said Peter. "I saw you put the fish into the water after you had caught them, and if you wish to remain poor that is no affair of mine, but do not ask me to feed you."

Beno knew that what his brother said was true, and he went to the sea again to fish. It was no use, however, for when he saw a poor, struggling fish on the hook he carefully removed it and threw it into the sea.

Beno steered his boat for the shore, thinking he would have to starve when the winter came and there were no berries to be had, and he would have no money to buy food. Just as he was thinking this Beno saw something that looked like gold threads floating on the water, but when he looked again he saw it was the golden hair of a beautiful creature who was swimming toward him.

"Good Beno," said the mermaid, for it was a mermaid, and she smiled very sweetly at Beno, "you have a good and kind heart and are poor because of your goodness; come tomorrow to this spot and cast a net into the sea and you will want for nothing after that."

The mermaid disappeared as soon as she had finished speaking to Beno, and he was too astonished for a minute to move from the spot where his boat had stopped; he finally reached shore and went to his brother's house for a net, for Beno did not own one.

"Take it," said his brother, "and see if you can catch fish enough to keep you from starving, for I tell you I will not help you."

Beno took the net, and the next day he went to the place where he had seen the mermaid and cast his net, and suddenly it grew heavy and dragged at Beno's hands.

He pulled it in and to his astonishment it held gold pieces instead of fish, as he had thought it would.

It was so heavy Beno could hardly drag it into the boat, and, of course, many of the gold pieces fell through the net into the water, but even then there was more gold than Beno had thought the net contained.

"Take what you need for today and come for more tomorrow," said the mermaid, appearing beside the boat.

Beno took three pieces of gold and cast the rest into the sea, and the mermaid said: "Beno, you are not greedy if you are poor; you shall never want; come each day and cast your net here."

Peter wondered what Beno would do with the net, for he thought his brother did not like to see the fish on the hook and so wanted to catch them in the net, but the boat and Beno came to shore and Peter saw there were no fish. He watched the next day to see what happened.

When Beno stopped his boat Peter watched him through a spyglass and saw him bring up the net filled with something shining like gold, so the next day, before Beno was up, Peter took the net and started his boat for the spot where he had seen his brother cast it into the sea.

Peter could hardly believe his eyes when he drew in the net and saw the gold, and so greedy was he that when he saw some of the gold slipping into the water he leaned over the side of the boat to save it.

The gold and Peter's weight tipped the boat over and he went into the sea. Down, down he went, for he would not let go of the net, and the gold dragged him to the bottom of the ocean.

Peter saw all the fish swimming around him, and he thought of all the struggling fish he had seen on his hook; he thought of his brother, Beno, who was so kind.

The net slipped from his grasp and Peter went to the top of the sea, and there was his brother Beno, just casting his net, but when he saw Peter struggling in the water he dropped the net and pulled Peter into the boat.

Peter was so ashamed of the way he had treated Beno, when he found he had saved his life, that he did not know what to say at first, but when he was safe on land he told Beno he was sorry he had refused to help him and that he would never again turn him from his door.

Beno told his brother he would forgive him if he would not catch any more fish and that he would bring gold enough each day to buy them food, for the mermaid had promised to give him enough to keep him from want.

So Peter and Beno lived by the sea, mending boats and nets, and each day Beno went to the mermaid, who never failed to fill his net with gold, but Beno never tried to take all the net held, as Peter had done, and as long as he lived the mermaid kept her promise to him.

SPARERIB

Sparerib is a very considerate meat. It grows its own handles. It comes to the table grouped around convenient bones. And it sits up on the plate and behaves itself while it's being eaten. Would to heaven we could say as much for chicken wings! We have always suspected that the chicken heard about the arrangement the hog had made with his ribs, started out to grow its bones accordingly and made a botch of it. But the chicken did better with its bones than some food at that. Look at fish. And even the hog fell down on some points. As instance pig knuckles.

SECOND NIGHTERS PUT THREE ACROSS TABS

The pinners hailing from the Second Night Club of the K. of C. dugout slipped something across on the Shamrocks of the T. A. B. S. last evening, when they took the entire set of three tilts. The intense rivalry between the two squadrons added considerable interest to the games and a large gallery of fans witnessed the affair.

PITTSBURG CLAIMS DODGER

Oakland, Cal., March 21.—Warren Adams, the first baseman, must retrace his steps to the East. The Pittsburg Nationals sent him orders Monday to report, which means that Oakland of the Pacific Coast League has lost in its fight for the youngster. The lad played with the Winnipeg club last season and was drafted by Brooklyn. The Dodgers in turn turned him over to the Oaks.

It was thought that the way was paved for him, but Pittsburg refused to waive. Through a misunderstanding, transportation was furnished Adams and he showed up one day last week at Boyes Springs. Now Oakland and Brooklyn will have to foot his little ride to and from the coast.

LOCAL BOWLERS IN A REGULAR RACE

City League First Place Fight Has Become Too Close for Comfort

Everything is now set for the last spurt in the City Bowling League for the present season. According to the latest official figures given out this morning by Secretary George Howe, the Elks are holding on to first place, but they hold it by just a half game, for the Imperials are right on their trail in second place.

And then, the Knights of Columbus are just a single game back of the Imperials in the third trench—in other words, there is a margin of two and a half games between first and third places, with barely a month of activities still ahead in the schedule of the circuit.

The individual average race is growing exciting at the same time, especially for second place. Just give the figures of Vail and Gates the once over, with Voorhees not far behind in fourth place. And also take note that Skinner of the Abstainers has been doing some good work, jumping from ninth to fifth place in the list during the course of the past week. We surmise that something will be doing in the league before the final games are rolled off.

The official figures announced this morning are as follows, the figure at the left of each individual's name indicating his position last week:

CENTRAL LEAGUE WILL ADOPT DATES FRIDAY

A short meeting of the Central New Jersey Baseball League was held last evening at the home of Thomas Aspar, during which many of the details of the coming season were acted upon. The circuit is still without a sixth team, but it is expected that the vacancy will be filled at another meeting of the league to be held Friday evening of this week.

The constitution and by-laws of the organization will also be adopted at the next meeting and a schedule of playing dates will be worked out at that time. Considerable other business of importance will be taken up at that time.

An effort is being made to secure a team from Manville to fill the sixth club gap, and it is probable that a representative of that place will be on deck Friday evening.

RAMBLERS WIND UP SEASON NEXT WEEK

Three more games on the Rambler schedule remain to be played—two this week and one next week. All will be rolled on the Eagles' alleys.

Tonight the Ramblers and Eagle seconds will come together for the second series, the latter having won out in the first meeting. Following is the manner in which the Rams will roll: Dunn, Davenport, Betzenberger, Worrall and Hyslip.

Friday night the St. Joseph's Club will be the Rambler opponents, and Friday night of next week the Ramblers will conclude the season by rolling the Spicer No. 1 team.

MILITARY DRILL NOT WANTED BY TIGERS

Detroit, March 21.—Despatches received here yesterday from the training camp of the Detroit Americans at Waxahachie, Tex., state that the Detroit ball players are in sympathy with a movement started by fellow athletes to abandon the military drills they now are receiving. It is understood that the Cleveland club already has taken such action.

Several Detroit players have claimed that the drills have caused severe strain upon muscles not brought into play on the baseball diamond and that the work has hindered more than it has helped their playing.

The local players have been drilling with bats instead of guns, and it is understood this has been unpopular with them.

THE NETHERWOODS PLANNING SEASON

Manager Coughlan Issues Call and States Team Will Play Sunday Games

Manager Coughlan of the Netherwood Baseball Club has come out of his winter hole and is now prepared to discuss any phase of the national pastime before the house. Coughlin this morning stated that he expected few slight changes in the make-up of his 1917 team over the line-up which won the City League race last year.

The East Ender has issued a call for the first practice of the season to be held on the afternoon of Saturday, March 31. All players who would like to try for the team are asked to put in an appearance at that time at the field, South and Leland avenues. The team will play all of its home games at that place, which, it is expected, will be put in shape for the season prior to the opening of the City League schedule.

The Netherwoods will do more or less Sunday playing this season, and Manager Coughlan will entertain all requests for dates from now on. Plainfield, Brunswick, Elizabeth and Newark teams, as well as those hailing from intermediate points. No independent Saturday games will be arranged until after the City League schedule has been announced.

From more recent talk in regard to the City League it now appears that the circuit will stand pat on the original plans of a four-club circuit.

WAR PROSPECT WILL HELP BASEBALL GAME

The prospect of the entry by the United States into the war is doing good for baseball even if it is knocking the lid off everything else. The military aspect of training camps and the patriotic utterances of many men connected with the national game is giving it a stimulus not shown since the days before the battle with the Federal League.

Baseball seemingly is reaching the most national level it has touched since the Athletics used to clock off a pennant a season. Federal Leagues are dead and forgotten and Dave Fultz has long since ceased to clutter up the atmosphere and the magnates' dreams with threats of what the Baseball Players' Fraternity will do.

Players' drilling training camps and learning how to help if the country ever becomes involved in conflict is turning more than one man's head toward the sports page, where in years past he would have passed it up. Ban Johnson probably never did more to stimulate interest than when he decided favorably upon the military training plan suggested by Captain Tillman of the Yankees. Huston's military appearance and the fact that he served in the army during the war with Spain lends a color of credence to stories that could not have arisen in any other way.

COLLINS WINS OVER FULTON

Milwaukee, Wis., March 21.—By a decision of the court yesterday the managerial contract held by Mike Collins and involving Fred Fulton, the heavyweight boxer, was upheld. This makes it imperative that Fulton cancel all engagements arranged by Frank Force, who has been acting as Fulton's manager. It further holds that for the next five years Fulton must act under guidance of Collins.

Following upon this decision came an announcement from the State Boxing Commission that Les Darcy the Australian middleweight, would not be allowed to box in Wisconsin until he could show that W. T. O'Sullivan legally had been discharged as his manager.

Target Tips and Hunting Helps by Alfred P. Lane

Send questions to Mr. Lane care of this paper.

A. D. R.

1. There seems to be quite a difference of opinion as to the comparative power of the .45 Colt cartridge loaded with the full charge of black powder and the same cartridge loaded with the full factory charge of smokeless powder. Is there any difference, and how much is it?

Ans. The .45 Colt cartridge loaded with the maximum load of black powder, which is 40 grains, has a muzzle velocity of 922 feet per second and a muzzle energy of 472 foot pounds. The full charge of smokeless powder gives a muzzle velocity of 776 feet per second and a muzzle energy of 534 foot pounds. You can see therefore that the old original black poyder load has more power than the modern smokeless. That 40-grain charge has a very heavy recoil, however, and most users of this cartridge prefer the lighter load of black powder.

2. Is there much difference in the killing power of the black and the smokeless?

Ans. A great many hunters maintain that the black powder load is a great deal more powerful than the smokeless one, and this is undoubtedly true if the 40-grain charge is used, but the smokeless load is better than any of the lighter black powder loads.

3. Where do you hold when you shoot the gun—upside down? A friend of mine can beat me shooting this way because I don't seem to be able to get my shots anywhere near the target.

Ans. It depends to some extent on how you hold in the normal position. Ordinarily you should hold about six to eight inches above the bullseye at twenty yards and correspondingly higher at the longer distances.

Would you please tell me the whereabouts of the William Moore & Co. and the Wilmot Club Co.?

Ans. I do not seem to find any trace of the addresses of the firms you mention.

1. Which is the most accurate at 75 feet—the .22 long or the .22 short rifle?

Ans. The .22 long rifle is the most accurate.

2. How can I tell whether my rifle is shooting accurately? It is a .22 repeater chambered for the three sizes of .22s.

Ans. The best way I know of is to test the rifle by shooting it from a rest. You should get a comfortable position so arranged that both elbows are supported and the barrel of the rifle should rest on something which will hold it steady, but not be rigid. A folded blanket is good. Remember that unless you are an expert shot you will not be able to get the best possible accuracy from your rifle with open sights.

3. Can I become a member of the National Rifle Association? I have been in this country for twenty years, but have not taken out any papers as yet.

Ans. Only citizens of the United States are eligible for membership.

O. W.

1. What is the date of the United States Revolver Association indoor championship matches this year?

Ans. The first week in April.

2. Is there any match in which a man can shoot a regular pocket revolver with any chance of winning?

Ans. Yes. There is a regular match known as the pocket revolver championship. The conditions permit any revolver with a barrel not over 4 1-2 inches long, open sights, four-pound trigger pull, .32-calibre or larger. It is a 25-shot match, each string of five shots being shot in a time limit of thirty seconds.

4. Where can I get information about the matches?

Ans. Write to J. B. Crabtree, Secretary, Valleville, Conn., who will be glad to give you all the information you want.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder. Then it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

PIERSON BILL GOES TO GOVERNOR

Trenton, March 21.—Compulsory physical training in all the public schools of the State, excepting kindergartens, with an optional course of military training for high schools, as embodied in the amended Assembly bill No. 281, by Mr. Pierson of Union county, is now ready for the consideration of Governor Edge, the Senate yesterday afternoon having passed the bill. The vote was 11 to 6, as follows:

For the bill—Ackerman, of Monmouth; Conrad, of Ocean; Fithian, of Cumberland; Florence, of Middlesex; Hammond, of Mercer; Kates of Camden; Mackey, of Bergen; McGran, of Passaic; Munson, of Sussex; Stricchler, of Morris, and Pierce, of Union.

Against—Allen, of Salem; Gaunt, of Gloucester; Martens, of Hunterdon; Richards, of Atlantic, and Wells, of Burlington.

The measure is one of the series of preparedness bills introduced as the result of the critical international situation, and was drafted by the Commission appointed last year to study the question of military training in the high schools.

Commercial Problems Growing Out of War Conditions

A Non-Technical Explanation of the Big Questions Confronting Business Men at This Time

By SAMUEL WANT

The Business Man's Interest In The Anomalous Conditions Of Modern Warfare.

Since the promulgation of the Declaration of Paris in 1856, governing some of the important landmarks of naval warfare it has been an accepted dogma of international law that a blockade, to become legally effective, must consist of an actual patrol and blockade of the ports of the country blockaded. That is to say, the Declaration of Paris abolished the so-called "paper blockade," under which it had been the practice for a country at war to declare the ports of another blockaded, without actually patrolling the coasts of the latter.

Where the blockade is legal uniform, it is an accepted proposition that no merchant vessel, neutral or otherwise, may attempt to enter the blockaded area, under penalty of confiscation or destruction. Where the blockade was a paper blockade, the penalty of confiscation was impossible, whenever the vessel might be found, although it had not yet reached the area declared to be under blockade. It was to prevent this consequence of confiscation, in cases of paper blockade, that the Declaration of Paris was adopted.

Under this situation it clearly results, of course, that the action of England in excluding commerce, neutral and otherwise, from German ports, is no less a violation of the spirit of the Declaration of Paris than the action of Germany in similarly restricting commerce with England; both of these restrictions upon international commerce having been given the effects of a blockade, by subjecting to confiscation or destruction vessels which seek to enter or leave the respective countries in violation of the terms of the proclamations prescribing the so-called "barred areas;" but neither of them constitutes an actual blockade of the coasts of the other belligerent within the spirit of the Declaration of Paris.

This is one of the many situations arising out of the modern scheme of warfare, which is justified by both sides as a necessary measure of self-protection, by way of offense or defense. Because of the new instruments of warfare employed, and the new conditions in the international situation, it is doubtless true that at the time of the adoption of the Declaration of Paris the situations now confronting the belligerents were not considered. Nevertheless, the technical violation of the fundamental principle of international law we established by this document is violated, and will doubtless give rise to a substantial claim for damages upon the part of this country at the close of the war, both for vessels destroyed and for the resulting interference with American commerce.

Unless belligerents are to be permitted to cripple neutral commerce, the rules of naval warfare must be completely revised. American business is largely concerned in this revision, and should undoubtedly lay plans for securing a proper voice in the convention which sooner or later must settle the questions at issue.

falls heavily upon the household where there is no intelligent direction of the food supply. Expensive high proteid foods, such as beef and pork, impose a heavy burden upon the liver and kidneys. MISSIONARY WORK FOR YEAR REVIEWED

Women's Society of First Baptist Church Elects Officers at Annual Meeting

Officers were elected and reports for the past year were presented at the annual meeting of the Women's Missionary Circle of the First Baptist church held yesterday afternoon at the church. There was a stirring patriotic missionary talk by Mrs. Martin I. Cooley in which she urged the women of the church to lend their best efforts to the work of the society. She declared that in this Christian country the women had every reason to be encouraged in promoting the Gospel, while the opportunities in foreign lands are constantly increasing.

Under the constitution every woman of the First Baptist church is a member of the Women's Missionary Circle and it was reported yesterday that there had been an increase in contributing members. The prospects for the coming year are promising.

These officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. Hervey Buchanan; first vice-president, Miss Agnes Cheever; second vice-president, Mrs. Francis K. Anderson; third vice-president, Mrs. Clarence L. Murphy; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Herbert Case; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John G. MacLaughlin; treasurer, Miss Sarah E. Conover. The following heads of committee were also announced.

TIRED OF LIVING IN PLAINFIELD

So State Boys Arrested by Railroad Police at Newark This Morning

Declaring that they were tired of living around Plainfield, Oscar Johansen, thirteen years old, of 1291 Marion avenue, and Thomas Walsh, thirteen, of 1245 Arlington avenue, were arrested at the Brills Junction Crossing of the Jersey Central Railroad, Newark, this morning, by Railroad Policemen Pellinger and Vrc. Houten.

The boys were taken to the Third Precinct, Newark, where they were searched and a revolver, 100 rounds of bullets, and considerable money were found on the person of Johansen. Walsh had several rings and keys in his pockets.

The youths admitted to the police that they had recently robbed a "big red house" in Netherwood. The house referred to is thought to be the home of C. O. Holmes, Berkeley avenue.

The local police were notified, and Lieutenant Higgins went to Newark to bring the lads here.

Arrangements are now being made to send Johansen to the Berkshire Industrial Farm.

These boys were recently put on probation after they had broken into a house belonging to G. Stuart Patterson, in Park avenue, where they broke out fixtures and electric lights. The attention of the railroad police was attracted to the boys by the presence of a revolver which Johansen was looking at as he rode past the detectives on the rear of a freight train. The boys said they slept at home last night and had left early this morning intending to go to Arizona.

TWO NEW MEMBERS ELECTED IN BORO'

No Opposition to Candidates at Annual School Meeting —Budget of $39,512.90

The district school meeting in the borough of North Plainfield last night was a very quiet affair, and the three candidates nominated for three-year terms, H. C. White, Edgar F. Sheppard and T. J. Currin, Jr., were elected without any opposition. The polls were opened just one hour, and fifty-one ballots were cast. Messrs. Sheppard and Currin each received forty-eight, and Mr. White forty-five votes. There was a ballot cast for R. C. Campbell and Judd Stewart, but neither name was previously placed in nomination.

Five women, Mrs. W. C. Taylor, Mrs. Warren Tremley, Mrs. G. S. Monck, Mrs. J. M. Hull and Mrs. D. R. Douglas, voted at the meeting. The tellers were G. S. Monck, L. N. Shepherd, Daniel Hulick and J. W. A. Banersachs. The latter two have not attended a school meeting in the borough for the past quarter of a century.

The appropriations, totalling $39,512.90, were all carried. The budget included: For current expenses, $33,675.00; for repairs, $4,150; and for manual training, $1,687.50.

The proposition, "Resolved, That the Board of Education be authorized to transfer the sum of $924.41 from the Current Expense Account to the Repair Account," was carried. Fifty-seven votes were polled for the above.

The president of the board, Dr. Cooley, presided at the meeting, and in a few opening remarks explained the items on the budget, also the proposition regarding the transfer of $924.41 to the repair account.

The two new members, H. C. White, Edgar F. Sheppard, and T. J. Currin, Jr., will meet with the Board at the reorganization meeting on Monday, April 2. Mr. Currin has just completed his three-year term on the board.

STORY OF DODGING THE SUBMARINES

Richard Boardman Tells Berean Bible Class Personal Experience on Atlantic

"Sidestepping Submarine," which proved to be a gathering together of a number of personal experiences in taking a recent trip to Europe, was discussed last evening by Richard Boardman, of this city, before the Berean Bible Class of Hope Chapel last evening. The occasion of Mr. Boardman's informal talk was the annual banquet of the organization.

Mr. Boardman has but recently returned from a business trip to Sheffield, England, having left New York on the Steamer Philadelphia, on January 27, just a few days prior to the opening of the ruthless submarine warfare on the part of Germany. The vessel was approaching the barred zone where the sea policy of the Central Powers was put into effect. The speaker's discourse dwelt chiefly on getting into Liverpool, and the departure from Liverpool on the Steamer Baltic some weeks later. He also told of his experiences in endeavoring to secure up-to-the-minute information, and especially by the experiences of a number of "Tommies" who had returned from the first line trenches in France.

The Baltic, on which Mr. Boardman returned to this country, was scheduled in starting from Liverpool about five days after the original date of sailing, and after all passengers had been aboard. The boat then made its way through the Irish Sea and around the north of Ireland instead of making the regular course in order to avoid a nest of German submarines. In making its way into Liverpool, the Philadelphia passed within ten or fifteen miles of submarine activities which resulted in the sinking of one steamer and the setting afire of one or two others.

John Siorah, president of the class, acted as toastmaster of the occasion. Other short addresses were made by Councilman G. Herbert Condict, teacher of the class; John H. Manning, associate teacher; Dr. D. W. Skellenger, pastor of the chapel; George T. Leighs, and James Penny. George H. Beiser sang a number of selections during the course of the evening.

Prior to the banquet the organization held its annual meeting, during which the following officers were elected: President, John B. Siorah; vice president, Claude Roseberry; secretary, Robert Goldsack; treasurer, Melville Roseberry.

MARRIED AT THE PARSONAGE

Miss Rosalie Moore, of 333 West Third street, and Charles William Barnes, of 548 West Fourth street, were married at 8 o'clock last night at the parsonage of the Mt. Olive Baptist church by the Rev. NEED FUNDS FOR DEFENSE LEAGUE

Contributions May be Sent to the Plainfield Trust Company

The announcement by Major Calkins to the Common Council on Monday evening of the formation of the Home Defense League is attracting wide attention throughout the city and will undoubtedly receive the support of all thoughtful citizens.

The Finance Committee of the League will be: George F. Block, chairman; A. M. Harris, F. J. Blatz (President Common Council); W. T. Kaufman, Henry E. Butler.

This committee will undertake the collection of funds sufficient to meet all the expenses of the Home Defense League. There should be no difficulty in receiving a sufficient amount to meet all demands for the equipment of members of this league.

Citizens are invited to send their contributions direct to the Plainfield Trust Company which has offered its services as depository for such funds. It is hoped that the contributors will include every type of citizen, small contributions, even if only 25 or 50 cents, will be welcome from those who cannot give more. Contributions to this fund should be prompted by patriotism and should cover a large list of contributors. The names will consist of a roll of honor, and it is the intention to publish the names, without mention of amounts, of all persons who contribute.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

Spring Preparedness

Should begin now. The automobile driving season is about to open. We just ran across an account of an accident where the owner of a New Car started out for the first time. He struck 3 respected citizens, 1 telegraph pole, 1 plate-glass window and 1 representative of the law. This certainly should interest people in automobile insurance. We write all kinds at lowest rates.

ANNIVERSARY OF COMPANY K

PRESENTATIONS MADE

Services of Captain Peterson, Sergeant Van Arsdale and Quartermaster Sergeant Tranchand Recognized

The sixteenth anniversary of Company K and the fifth re-union of the Veterans of that Company took place last evening in the banquet hall in the Babcock building, where members spent an enjoyable evening in the joint celebration.

The banquet started at 9:30, the veterans having previously met in the armory, where the company had a drill for an hour and a half, and where acquaintances between the veterans and the new members were renewed. The banquet was provided by R. H. Barnard, and served in the Masonic banquet rooms in the Babcock building.

Addresses were made by the following:

Colonel William B. Martin, former captain of Company K for six years, reviewed this period of office, stating that he never had been associated with a cleaner body of men, and knew that Company K would not be found wanting if called for service. He praised the non-commissioned officers for their special merits, and concluded with a presentation of a handsome gold watch, on behalf of the Company, to Captain Charles Peterson, whom he complimented in no unmeasured terms as his first sergeant, while the Colonel was captain of the Company.

Lieutenant Albert I. Littell battalion adjutant, spoke on rifle practice, urging the members to keep up their interest, and to increase their interest and efficiency.

Howard Woolston, a member of the Company under Captain Browning, spoke of his readiness to do anything he could for the Company, and who has done much with others from North Plainfield to secure favorable action in the Legislature to secure the armory.

Sergeant Nathaniel Hort, one of the first members of the Company, spoke of the great world tragedy, and the world struggle between autocracy and democracy, in which mighty engines of destruction are at work between the two great factions. He said after this war our national life will never be the same again as now, and that this fact should be a study for us as a nation. He added "We are only marking time now; the time will come when we may all meet again in a reunion, or some of us may not. He complimented Sergeant Apgar for his efficiency in promoting these social affairs for the Company.

Sergeant Harry Manning, one of the charter members, spoke of his twelve years' experience in the Company, and urged a stronger and closer veterans' organization.

Quartermaster Sergeant A. R. Tranchand read a letter from Colonel Edwin J. Murfin, Judge Advocate-General of the Nebraska National Guard, who was a guest of the Company at the reunion last year, and endeared himself to the Company at that time. The letter was long, and was humorous, sentimental and pathetic.

First Sergeant George L. Apgar read letters of regret from former members and veterans, among which were letters from First Sergeant Per-

GREATEST COW BRED AT SOMERVILLE

Produced More Than Fifty Pounds of Butter in Seven Days

The new world's record for all breeds for butter-fat production in the seven-day division was established by the pure-bred Holstein-Friesian cow, Segis Fayne Johanna 114656, in a test ending January 8, 1917. This remarkable cow produced 50.68 pounds of butter in seven consecutive days, and the official test was conducted by supervisors from the New York State Agricultural College, Ithaca, N. Y.

Segis Fayne Johanna, by her wonderful achievement, is now the most talked-of cow in the world, and her sensational record marks a signal triumph in the forward march of the Holstein-Friesian breed.

She was bred by A. A. Cortelyou, of Somerville, N. J., and her present owner is Oliver Cabana, Jr., proprietor of Pine Grove Farms, Elma Center, N. Y., at which noted establishment four other world's record holders have been developed during the past six months.

The new world's record holder freshened at the age of 5 years, 2 months and 17 days. She is four-fifths white, weighs about 1,450 pounds, and is sired by King Fayne Segis 46767. Her dam is Vikina Johanna 64385, a daughter of Johanna Rue 3d's Lad and Vikina Clothilde.

The test was made under perfect conditions, absolutely quiet, systematic feeding and milking, and a roomy stall constructed of clean white enameled walls.

Segis Fayne Johanna's seven-day production of over 50 pounds of butter surpasses that of Hester Aaltje Korndyke, the previous world's record holder, by 3.91 pounds. In their present warranted state of elation, enthusiastic Holstein-Friesian breeders over the dairy world at large now marvel at the accomplishment of what was almost impossible and ask, "Where will it end?"

PADEREWSKI FOOLS THE MOZART ADMIRER

Paderewski, the famous pianist, who will appear for a recital in the Plainfield High School next Monday night, March 26, under the auspices of the Plainfield Musical Club, will afford the opportunity of a lifetime to hundreds of Plainfield people who would like to hear the world's famous pianist without going to the expense of time and money to hear him in the Metropolitan musical centres. The opportunity to hear this great genius in a city the size of Plainfield when only the biggest cities in the State have this opportunity only at rare intervals, is one that will be appreciated.

A humorous incident is related of Paderewski as follows:

When Paderewski was at the Warsaw Conservatory, in the early eighties, his close friend was Swietschewski, the poet, who was a talented musical amateur and an ardent lover of Mozart. They were talking one night about Mozart, and the poet said that no modern musician could approach his idol even in the merest trifle. Paderewski shrugged his shoulders for reply.

He visited the poet one day, sat down at the piano and said:

"I should like to play a little piece by your friend Mozart. I don't believe you know it."

He played the Minuet. The hearer was enraptured and cried out:

"Now tell me, honestly, who today can compose anything like that?"

"Well, I don't know," said Paderewski, "I wrote this Minuet."

IAN HAY'S LECTURE TOMORROW NIGHT

HOME DEFENSE LEAGUE SWORN IN

Mayor Clothes Members With Authority of Police Officers—Drill Saturday

The fifty members of the Home Defense League who were appointed special policemen by Mayor Leighton Calkins, and confirmed by the Common Council on Monday night, were sworn in by the Mayor, at his office last night.

These men will meet in the Evergreen avenue school on Saturday night, for the purpose of drilling and thereafter they will meet twice a week for the purpose of drill and rifle practice.

It is understood that the entire company will be equipped with proper weapons for the efficient discharge of their duty, in the event of an emergency, necessitating their service.

All the members are enthusiastic in their desire to render such aid to the community as may be required.

Mayor William L. Smalley, of North Plainfield, has also sworn in a number of special policemen who will be fully equipped, and it is said that a movement is now on foot to establish some means of defense by the ten Wards of Somerset and Union Counties.

Some years ago William Delaroche Anderson organized the citizens of North Plainfield Township into a police force, and he states that this force is now ready to defend that community.

Mayor Calkins addressed the men briefly, last night, thanking them for volunteering as a nucleus for the Defense League and for their agreement to give all of their leisure time for drill and training as required by the Commission and their agreement to serve actively in an emergency, without compensation, holding themselves ready for immediate call regardless of business or professional engagements.

The Watchung avenue that the present intention is to recruit the League up to 200 men at the present time. Application blanks will be ready in a day or two and may be had by applying to anyone of the Commissioners. Messrs. M. S. Sutphen, H. S. Fullerton, R. F. R. Huntsman and Dr. C. B. Lufburgrow; and may also be had from Commander Ransome.

Commander Ransome reported that the Board of Education had offered the use of the auditorium in the Evergreen avenue school for drill purposes. He asked all members of the unit to appear there on Saturday evening of this week.

It is planned to provide a distinctive uniform for all members of the special reserve.

Mayor Calkins called attention to the appointment of the Finance Committee consisting of George P. Mellick, chairman; A. M. Harris, F. J. Blatz, W. T. Kaufman and H. E. Butler, which will undertake the collection of funds to meet the expense of the League. Contributions should be sent to the Plainfield Trust Company. Any amount will be acceptable.

BOROUGH BARN DAMAGED BY FIRE

Local Guardsmen Discover the Blaze and Notify the Fire Department

Fire badly damaged the barn and contents owned by Gustav Lavere, of Duer street, last night. The place was discovered on fire about 12:30 o'clock by Herbert Reynolds, Robert Dentz and Albert Trotter, members of Company K, who were coming home from the banquet held by this organization. They gave the alarm and awoke Mr. Levere and then assisted in saving some of the contents of the building. Mr. Laverde's horse was saved through the heroic efforts of the guardsmen.

Chief McCullough and his men quickly answered the telephone alarm. The chief also sent in an alarm from Box 16. They put a stream of water on the blazing embers and soon had the fire under control. It is a one-story structure, some of Mr. Lavere's grocery stock was stored in a portion of the building. This was also damaged by smoke and water. The origin of the fire is unknown.

INTERESTING MEETING OF THE D. A. R.

The regular meeting of Camp Middlebrook Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. G. W. Yeandle, of No. 4 East High street, Bound Brook. Mrs. A. I. Codrington assisted the hostess.

The regular business was transacted. It was voted to send a contribution to Washington toward paying the last indebtedness on Continental Memorial Hall; also to A. R. school at Georgetown. Mrs. D. H. Beckman gave an interesting account of a recent Southern trip. Mrs. Howard read an account of the eighteen months' captivity on the prison ship Jersey of William Morris, who was the great-great-grandfather of the hostess. Mrs. Olendorf read a letter written by her grandfather, General Obadiah Herbert, to his son, describing the first trial of an engine and coach near Bordentown, N. J., on October 12, 1831. The coach held 30 passengers and made a 1-4 miles in two minutes and twenty seconds. Robert Stevenson managed the engine himself.

The hostess, who is a direct descendant of the Morris and Dey families, has many interesting relics, such as bullet-riddled battle flags, a sampler worked over two hundred years ago, and an English sixpence, given to her grandfather for his "little lassie at home" by the Prince of Wales on his American trip in 1860.

Dainty refreshments were served, closing a most interesting session.

NEGLECTED FAMILY

Winfield Smalley, of 1633 West Front street, was arraigned before Judge DeMeza in the city court this morning charged with failing to properly support his family. A six months old baby, so weak that it could hardly hold up its head, was exhibited as an evidence of his neglect. The child is now being nursed by an Italian woman. Judge DeMeza remanded him until tomorrow morning.

TO OUR READERS

The Courier-News, as previously announced, is compelled to advance its price to subscribers.

We regret that we are compelled to make this increase, but everything that enters into making a newspaper has doubled in cost, while some things have trebled. The most serious difficulty is the scarcity of white print paper. Many newspapers have had to suspend publication entirely, while others have had to adopt strenuous reforms. The Courier-News has been unable to purchase more than 60 per cent. of the quantity of paper normally required since the first of the present year. This is why each week will have to be disconthued. The stopping of a paper because a subscriber owes four or five weeks does not mean that any question that subscriber's credit. Forced to reduce the number of copies we are printing, we have adopted the only way open—discontinuing subscriptions not paid to date.

No paid in advance subscriptions have been accepted at the old rate since the announcement of the change in price.

Single copy	.02
One week	.12
Three months (in advance)	1.50
Six months (in advance)	2.50
One year (in advance)	4.00

As in the past, to take advantage of the discount rate offered for three months, six months or a year, a subscriber must pay in advance.

Plainfielders to Assist in Enlisting Members for 1917 Plattsburg Camps

Evarts Tracy was appointed chairman of the meeting. The plans as outlined are to enlist all Plattsburg men for the purpose of recruiting the 1917 camps to the number of 30,000 in the Eastern Department.

It was decided to hold in the near future a meeting of all Plattsburg men when each one will be urged to enroll as many recruits as possible. Recruiting committees will be formed, as well as committees on publicity and public meetings.

The public high schools, the private schools, lodges, men's clubs, labor organizations, factories, etc., will be requested to permit lecturers and army officers to speak on the Plattsburg movement. The following men attended last night's meeting: Evarts Tracy, D. Fred August, Alan Stevenson, Paul Westergard, Police Lieutenant Maurice Higgins, D. W. Littell, Jr., and Charles H. Brown. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday night, March 28, the place to be announced later.

Any information regarding enlistment for this service can be obtained from the Plainfield members of the Plattsburg Camp or at the Courier-News office.

By United Press:

Washington, March 22.—There are 30,000 cases of small-pox in Germany, and the disease is spreading, according to a speech of Socialist Reichstag Member Hoffman, received by the State Department today.

Hoffman charged that the rich were getting the "fats," while the poor had none; that the government is actually hoarding sausages with which the poor ought to be fed; that, small-pox is spreading rapidly, and that vaccination is proving futile.

The speech showed a far more distressing condition in Germany than any report thus far reaching the Department. It strengthened the belief caused by recent rumors that conditions are ripe for a real revolution in Germany.

OLD PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

A medicinal preparation like Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, that has real curative value, almost sells itself. Like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited to those who are in need of it.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a physician's prescription. It has been tested for years and has brought results to countless numbers who have suffered.

The success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Plainfield Courier-News.—Adv.

PORTRAYAL OF PILGRIM'S PROGRESS ENJOYED

The presentation of John Bunyan's immortal allegory in motion pictures was enjoyed by a good size audience at the First Baptist church last night. This remarkable story was faithfully portrayed; every important detail in the difficult but triumphant journey of "Christian" was enacted by a large company of trained actors, headed by Alexander Salvini, who impersonated the part of "Christian." The picture itself is considered a work of art. It was taken in Italy and the natural settings are ideal in every particular.

As the picture is exhibited on the screen, the interesting story is told by Riwyn Eaton. There is also organ accompaniment and vocal singing throughout the portrayal which adds to the impressiveness of the dream story of "Christian" as written by Bunyan in Bedford jail. The picture opens in the City of Destruction and ends at the Celestial City, which is the goal of "Christian."

This entertainment is given under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church, and will be repeated tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

COLORED KNIGHTS GAVE EXHIBITION DRILLS

A feature last evening of the military reception of Douglas Co. No. 11, Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias, of this city, held at Saengerbund Hall, was the drilling of Excelsior Company of Newark. The local Knights also gave an exhibition drill. There was a grand march at 12 and the affair, which was well attended, closed at 2 a. m. Music was furnished by the colored Performers' Social League of New York.

The committee of arrangements were: Major S. H. Smith, First Lieutenant Jackson Ingram and Second Lieutenant Fred L. Chapman.

U. S. GOVERNMENT NEEDS MECHANICS

Owing to the increased construction being carried out by the U. S. Government, there will be a large increase in the number of employes at navy yards and ordnance establishments. The Government needs mechanics and helpers at Frankford Arsenal, Philadelphia; Picatinny Arsenal, Dover, N. Y.; Watertown Arsenal, Watertown, Mass.; Watervliet Arsenal, Watervliet, N. Y., and the navy yards at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Norfolk and Washington.

No educational examination is required, but applicants will be rated upon the evidence of their experience and physical ability. Further information may be had at the local postoffice.

REALTY AGENT SCORED BY CITY JUDGE

Judge De Mera scored William H. Way, a real estate operator in the City Court this morning, where he was arraigned on a charge of having insulted the tenants of a house in East Fifth street for which he is the agent.

The Court told Way that several complaints have been made against him, and that he must conduct himself differently. Sentence was suspended.

GAVE ADDRESS ON COLLEGE OF IDAHO

At the mid-week meeting held last night at the First Presbyterian church the members enjoyed an interesting address by Dr. William J. Boone. Dr. Boone, who is the president of the College of Idaho, illustrated his lecture with highly colored stereopticon views, giving in detail the work of the college.

WILL GIVE A "STRANDFEST"

Under the auspices of the Gesang and Turn Verein a "Strandfest" will be held at Saengerbund Hall, the borough, tonight. A pleasing program has been arranged and a feature will be that those attending will appear in summer attire.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.—Adv.

DENTISTS TO CO-OPERATE IN TREATING RECRUITS

Dental preparedness plans are being made by the Central Dental Association of Northern New Jersey, according to the announcement yesterday of its president, Dr. George W. Wakeley, of Orange. All members of the New Jersey State Dental Association have been asked to pledge themselves to care for at least one army recruit in need of dental treatment. The suggestion met with instant approval of local members, who have hastened to advise the State officials that they will treat free of charge any army or navy applicant.

Dr. Wakeley has been authorized to appoint a special committee of dentists to confer with the National Dental Society, with offices in New York. Some of the leading dentists of the country have spoken in favor of making all dental societies units in the medical corps of the United States army. Dr. Wakeley said the local committeemen will be named within a day or two. He added that dentists throughout the State are eminently patriotic over the plans to help the Government in every manner possible. There will be no lack of free treatment for men rejected by army examiners because of defective teeth.

Through the preparedness league of American dentists, applicants for enlistment in the navy who have been rejected because of defective teeth, are to be treated without charge and placed in condition to pass the examinations.

During the last year the league has cared for about 1,000 such cases, and now, in co-operation with the Navy League, it is expected that about 1,500 cases a month will be treated hereafter. The Navy Department is co-operating in the movement by furnishing records of physical examination and lists of men rejected. The dentists will receive no compensation for themselves.

ANNUAL FAIR FOR THE CHILDREN'S WARD

While time and thought and work and money are being spent on all sides for the children of Europe, we must not forget the children of Plainfield. With this idea in view the pupils of the Hartridge School who have recently completed their sewing for the little Belgians at La Panne have turned their attention to the annual fair which they give the Saturday before Holy Week for the Children's Ward of Muhlenberg Hospital.

Each year the pupils and teachers have worked to raise $400 to support two beds, and with the surplus they have been able to help in other ways. They furnished the $500 for the initial equipment of the ward, and later screened the children's piazza. At a cost of $175. This year they have spent $100 for spreads and bassinets and wrappers and slippers for little convalescents.

Please remember, then, all you who love Plainfield and its hospital, and especially its children, that Saturday afternoon, the last day of March, you can do something to help them all.

The givers of the fair are working very hard in order that they may be able to offer you something pretty or useful or both. You will find among other things candy and flowers and Easter gifts and dolls and toys and balloons, and grab-bags and silk stockings and embroidery and games, and sweaters and handkerchiefs and pennants, and fancy bags and smocks and gardening tools, and flower pots and baskets and candle shades and painted boxes and refreshments.

PROGRAM FOR STATE PRESS ASSN. COMPLETE

HOME FROM PHILADELPHIA

Miss Alice Corey, of Hillside avenue, is home from Philadelphia, where she spent several weeks.

rine, of Company Third Tennessee Infantry, writing from San Benito, Tex. One from George F. Binderwald, of Westfield; Edward Mosher, of Cranford; John B. M. Judson, of this city; Gunnar W. Hansen, Bridgeport, Conn.; John Randlov, of Skanderdord, Denmark; Lendrum Jennings, of Warren, Ohio; and from Sergeant Oliver R. Pearson, of Caldwell, N. J., who says he is gaining in health.

Captain Petersen acted as toastmaster, and during the evening, presented gold watch fobs for appreciation of services to Sergeant Augustus Van Arsdale and to Quartermaster Sergeant A. R. Tranchand. Another will be presented to Sergeant O. R. Pearson on his return to Plainfield.

At the close Colonel W. B. Martin read a patriotic poem "My Flag," which is a copy of the poem he presents to all applicants for naturalization at the County Clerk's office in Elizabeth.

The reception committee was composed of Captain Charles A. Peterson, First Lieutenant Arthur R. Phillips and Second Lieutenant James H. Conkling. The members of the entertainment committee were: First Sergeant George L. Apgar, chairman; Sergeants LeRoy De Camp and George H. Howell; Corporals Myrton E. Glover and Ellis Carman.

This company was organized February 27, 1901, after several attempts had been made to form a battery in Plainfield, and Hugh Knox, a former member of the Regular Army, was especially active in endeavoring to bring this about, but it was found that it would prove an expensive matter to obtain horses and other equipments and the idea was finally given up. The movement, however, was the forerunner of a national guard company. And this matter came to a head when the military company at Montclair was disbanded. Company K was organized and filled the gap in the Second Regiment made vacant by the disbanding of the Montclair company.

Company K was organized in the building at the corner of North and Park avenues. The organizing officer was Captain Wehsley, of Company M, Second Regiment, N. J. V., then living in Somerville. About sixty men were enrolled, and then Major D. F. Collins, of Elizabeth, and Colonel Quincy O'Malley Gilmore, later general, were present on the occasion. The Company afterwards took up its headquarters in the present armory, on West Front street.

The first Captain was Dr. W. Kempton Browning. He was followed by Captain W. B. Martin, now Lieutenant Colonel, of Elizabeth, the late Captain Harry B. Kitchell and Charles A. Petersen, the present captain.

HEBREW ASSOCIATION CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

The Young Men's Hebrew Association campaign for funds for their new building is progressing rapidly. Last evening in the rooms of the association the sum of $1000 was turned over to the treasurer by a half a dozen men, and so great was the enthusiasm after the treasurer and chairman had rendered their reports that the committee assured of an additional $500 in the treasury by Monday night.

Samuel H. Schwartz announced his gift of a lot, 25x100 feet, in Dunellen to that man or woman holding the lucky number at the bazaar which is to be given by the association immediately after entering their new quarters. The committee is meeting every evening in the headquarters, 204 West Front street, and will be pleased to receive any further contributions there or through the mails, addressed to Benjamin J. Kilsa, treasurer, 1036 West Front street.

The next meeting of the association will be held on Monday night, at which time all of the campaigners will make their reports. A small group of busy men, consisting of Benjamin J. Kilsa, Samuel Schwartz and Harry Dreier, will call on a number of the business men and other institutions tomorrow for their donations.

SO PROUD HE'S MARRIED, GROWS NEARLY A FOOT

"Well, Mr. Scully, I feel better and a bigger man since you've married me. I'm going to try to rise to meet my new responsibilities and become a big figure in the world."

As he spoke the bridegroom, who was about five feet ten inches tall, began to grow, until he looked down on the astonished city clerk from a height of six feet five inches. Then, he extended an arm at least a foot longer than it had been at moment before, and grasping Mr. Scully's hand, thanked him warmly for having performed the ceremony.

This ceremony took place in the city hall in New York, yesterday and the bridegroom was Terence Ed. Willard, son of A. E. Willard, of this city, befter known as "the Rubber Man," who for years has astounded audiences in Europe and America by his power to increase his height at will.

The bride was Miss Ila M. Barnard, of 896 Asylum avenue, Hartford, Conn., who is said to be very wealthy. Mr. Willard will not give up his profession, but will now be accompanied by his wife on his future trips.

RUSSIA AND AMERICA

When the news of the upheaval in Russia was received in Washington the first thought of those watching developments among the Entente Allies was "What effect will it have in England, France and Italy?" The first flashes from London to Washington indicated that the trouble had been discounted. It was said that the condition of affairs in Russia had been thoroughly understood both in England and France, and prominent Englishmen professed to be pleased that the outbreak had come at this time. Prominent men in Washington have known of the existence of a clique of pro-German agitators in Russia whose work is so stupendous and far-reaching as to make the Teutonic operations exposed in the United States look like a mere nothing. It is known that Teutonic pressure brought to bear on the Czar and his immediate circle was so intense that Russians alive to the seriousness of a break with the Entente Allies were fearful. The Grand Duke Michael, younger brother of the Czar, who was banished from Russia by his brother on account of his marriage with a divorced woman who was not considered of high enough social standing to be consort to a member of the royal house of Russia, is described by an American who met him in Switzerland, as a fine type of gentleman, democratic beyond anything known of Grand Dukes. In the disturbed state of affairs it would be a rash person who would predict the happenings of the near future in Russia. The concensus of opinion, however, is that the pro-German element has failed and that the clumsy Teutonic diplomacy has once more worked against itself. It is believed that the trend of emigration from Russia to Canada and the United States will be materially affected by the new order of things at home. Russian resources are so great and there is so much undeveloped farming land, especially in southeastern Siberia, that Russia needs all the men she can get. Hitherto the emigration has been caused by hardships undergone by the peasants at the hands of the Government. The reason for the emigration of the Jews is perfectly well known.

The Boice-Runyon Company, notwithstanding an unprecedented call upon their stock for domestic sizes of coal, still have an ample supply on hand.

Mud, snow, slush, conditions due to the season of the year, cause unavoidable delays in delivery. We would therefore suggest that you set your mind at ease by ordering now.

Whatever the immediate outcome of the present break may be it is altogether likely that Russia, with its vast domain of undeveloped land, will offer more inducements to her own people to stay at home. Present signs point to a decrease of emigration of all kinds to the United States.

A DAY OF WRATH

American manufacturers are now making as much dyestuff as we used to import from Germany—that is to say 30,000 tons a year, in place of 3,000. They are making them because the manufacture is protected by the British blockade of German ports. Remove the blockade by the termination of the war, and adhere to the policy of giving this manufacture no adequate tariff protection, and where would this new industry be? "Away die Ewigkeit," probably, for after the war the enormous mass of dyestuffs, a by-product of war munitions, which Germany has been accumulating, would promptly be dumped on the American market. Germany would give the dyestuffs away to get the business back. The position of several other newly built-up industries is virtually the same. The proclamation of peace will be a day of wrath for many an American manufacturer, under prevalent economic legislation at Washington.—Boston Transcript.

APRIL THE WAR MONTH

Superstitious people, and some who are not superstitious but merely observing, are pointing to the fact that with the exception of the war with England in 1812, every foreign war in which the United States has been involved started during the month of April. The war of the Revolution began April 19, 1775, at Concord and Lexington. The War with Mexico began April 24, 1846. War was declared against Spain, April 21, 1898. Now, in order to add force to this statement, let it be considered that the Civil War began with the Fort Sumter attack April 12, 1861, and the Black Hawk War, the greatest conflict with Indian forces, began April 21, 1831. The first of April is two weeks off.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Women's Police Service in London has been tried and found to be a success. Now, will not one of our pacifist dove-fanciers break forth into a song: "I did not raise my daughter to be a policewoman."

Forty years ago Michael Idvorsky Pupin, coming from the Balkans, walked up Broadway wearing a red fez, was bidded by some American hoodlums, whereupon he waded in and cleaned up the bunch. Recently he invented a device to overcome the atmospheric condition known as static interference in wireless telegraphy, and he has donated it to our army and navy. We will trade William J. Bryan and his entire rag carpet sewing circle of pacifists for another such Balkan as Michael Idvorsky Pupin.

The next chairman of the Ways and Means Committee will be Hon. Joseph Warren Fordney, of Michigan and nobody has any doubts as to where Fordney stands on the protective question. He is for "America First," last, and all the time.

Why does Mr. Bryan keep on talking about "waiting a year" before breaking off with Germany? It was in 1915 that the Lusitania was sunk!

Barney Baruch insists that he did not profit by that "leak" from the State department, but made $468,000 on the stock market by deductions. The teaching of deductions apparently has been neglected in the schools.

Henry Ford offers, in case of war, to lend the Government money without interest. Congress doubtless would like to have him strike out the war clause. Congress needs the money.

Had T. R. been President, the United States would either have been ordering the whole world around, or picking itself up ruefully out of the ditch.

You may see that tighter waist-line in the clothes of the college boys and the bank clerks, but not in those of the manufacturers, merchants and bank presidents.

If an American shipowner doesn't sail his ship regardless of submarines, he is cowardly and lacking enterprise, and if he does sail he is taking reckless chances and is not entitled to protection.

Spring Hat Day was observed by a large number of our citizens by very extensive and exhaustive brushing of last fall's headgear.

Perhaps protection could be secured for American citizens by appealing to relatively powerful nations like little Switzerland.

SAYS HOT WATER EACH DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, spitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Before dressing, whether afiing, sick or well, should each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Adv.

ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT FLORIDA

M. F. Gano Enjoyed Every Minute of His Sojourn in Lakeland

M. F. Gano has just returned from Lakeland, Florida. He reported it as being one of the show places of the State with its orange and grape fruit groves loaded with luscious fruit, and the air filled with the fragrance of orange blossoms, blooming roses, and sweet peas.

He says that to a northern man who is now facing the chilling winds of March it may seem impossible, but on Thursday was the thermometer at the Lakeland Highlands Country Club House where he was stopping registered 78 in the shade.

Lakeland Highlands is situated near the center of the State, and said to be the highest point in Florida, 200 feet higher than either Jacksonville or Tampa, and thus has the benefit of the breezes from both the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico.

The city of Lakeland has about six thousand inhabitants and is in Polk county, which has about five hundred fresh water lakes well stocked with fish. There also is good hunting.

There is an association at the Lakeland Highlands that owns over eleven thousand acres, much of it already set out with grape fruit trees, and the planting is going on as rapidly as the land can be cleared and put in condition for setting the trees. It will be about a year before the work is completed as the setting of trees is discontinued from April first until December.

While talking with W. T. Hallam, president of the association Mr. Gano was told that their aim is to make this section the grape fruit centre of the world, as Kalamazoo is for celery, and Grand Rapids the furniture centre.

Mr. Gano found the southland so very comfortable and attractive that it was with great reluctance he started on his return to the chilly northland, which he did somewhat earlier than he intended, because of the possibility of the much talked of railroad strike.

He found that the reports of the damage by loss of fruit from the frost did not apply to the Lakeland Highland vicinity, as the estimated loss there was but one per cent., mostly on trees of one and two years growth, but none at all on trees beyond that age. As a matter of fact seventy-five per cent. of the fruit had been gathered in that section before the freeze came. The loss on the young trees was not a serious matter as when cut down to the ground new growth shoots out and the new tree is stronger than before.

Mr. Gano, being a real estate broker, is naturally a keen observer of property values and he considers the section referred to, one of the most satisfactory, either for an investment or for winter homes. The famous Dixie Highway passes through this section.

COMMITTEE FOR HOME DEFENSE

Mayor William V. Steele is expected to appoint a committee of citizens for home defense, in accordance with the request from Adjutant General Barber. Many municipalities have already organized citizens committees as a first measure of home defense in case of war. The idea, of course, is that this organization will be used only in case of extreme necessity.

It is merely another step of preparedness with the idea of looking after each town's interests, homes, and business establishments. The movement is intended to augment the police force of the various municipalities for local work which may arise. There is no connection directly, however, between a citizens' committee and the police or the National Guard.

Report of School Board

Following is the annual report, in part, of the Board of Education:

The closing school year has been marked with no large increase in school attendance, nor with any radical additions to the curricula, but the work accomplished by the teachers has never shown better results, and there have been few breaches in discipline to disturb the work. It has been a year of steady progress in all departments.

Finances: The present school year will close with a small balance, from present indications. Teachers' salaries have been increased for the coming year about $1,800. This was found necessary in order to meet the demands upon the teachers because of the increased cost of living. The amount of the budget for several years past has been $20,000. The Board is asking this year for $22,500, to be divided as follows: Curren expenses, $19,600; repairs, $2,500; manual training, $700; total, $22,500.

During the last 10 years salaries have increased from a minimum of $500 to $600 and from a maximum of $650 to $800.

The cost of educating each pupil in this school, based on the total enrollment, is $35.50. In the Plainfield schools the cost per pupil is $52.30.

Narrow Escape from Death

August Snoble, a section hand, employed by W. H. Opdycke on the Central Railroad, this place, had a miraculous escape from being killed on the railroad here early Tuesday evening. Snoble was crossing the tracks with Lawrence Sanders, a fellow workman, in the vicinity of the freight house. Both were carrying heavy mauls and did not observe an approaching freight train until it was nearly upon them.

In trying to avoid being struck by the locomotive of the freight, Sanders, who was in the lead, fell into a six-foot ditch between the tracks; Snoble was not so fortu*nate. The cylinder head of the lo*comotive hit one of the mauls that he was carrying and spun him around like a top, his coat being ripped from his back.

Although badly bruised and shaken up, Snoble was able to go to his home on Fairview avenue, where he has been confined ever since.

STOP CATARRH!

Don't suffer longer from Catarrh, Clogged Nostrils, Droppings in Throat, Chronic Colds, Raising of Mucus or any other catarrhal symptoms.

Stop it! Go to L. W. Randolph or to any local drug store. Ask for a complete treatment of Hyomei—the famous medicated air treatment which ends catarrh by killing the Germs which cause it.

No more sprays, gargles, greasy ointments, or stomach medicines. Instead just breathe the pure wholesome air of Hyomei. It penetrates—reaches every portion of the sore, inflamed membranes. It heals—stops the inflammation and irritation and ends every symptom of catarrh. It's guaranteed—it must succeed or money back. Your own druggist says so.—Adv.

5,000,000 Corns Lifted Right Off!

Try 2 Drops of Magic "Gets-It."

There's a wonderful difference between getting rid of a corn now and the way they used to try to get rid of it only four or five years ago. "Gets-It" has revolutionized corn history. It's the only corn remedy today that acts on the new principle, not only of shriveling up the corn, but of loosening the corn off—so loose that you can lift it right off with your fingers. Put 2 drops of "Gets-It" on that corn or callus tonight. That's all. The corn is loosened sure as sunrise. No pain, or trouble, or soreness. You do away once and for all with bothersome bandages, toe-eating salves and irresponsible what-nots. Try it—get surprised and lose a corn. "Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

COUNTER REVOLT FEARED IN RUSSIA

Garrisons In South Oppose New Government.

Comparative calm prevails in Petrograd and Moscow, due to the fact that the food stores found and distributed by the new government are for the moment quieting the hunger of the masses. New political wrangles, however, are already in full swing in both cities between the Liberals and radicals. Wide sections of the latter are urging peace.

Meanwhile, southern Russia is just beginning to be shaken by the reaction of the revolt in the capital. In the big cities, such as Kiev, Odessa, Sevastopol and Rostoff, strong garrisons are stationed, and violent clashes are reported under way between the troops and the populace. Some of the fortress commanders have refused to join the Petrograd revolutionary movement. At the head of their troops they are resisting attempts by adherents of the new regime to swing the tide in its favor.

Unless a powerful military leader puts himself at the head of the army and holds it firmly in its hands, backing the new government in Petrograd, civil war is considered inevitable. The "man of the hour" is Grand Duke Nicholas. His whereabouts is, however, a mystery. He is variously reported in the Caucasus and on the eastern front.

MUSIC ENDS REVOLT OF CUBAN ARMY BAND.

Havana, March 22.—The Cuban revolution has ended sentimentally. The regimental band, which mutinied at Santiago and joined the General rebel forces, has returned to the federal fold. "Where the music goes there will the army go" long has been a Latin-American maxim.

Thirty ragged and forlorn musicians accepted the amnesty offered by the Morocco government by giving themselves up. They said they had been misled by the rebels. Adding insult to injury, the band had not been allowed to play for fear that the music would draw attention and bullets from the federal troops.

JOINT CONTROL OF HOUSE, PLAN

Both Parties Expected to Agree Not to Fight.

EMERGENCY TRUCE IS URGED.

Republicans and Democrats Equally Divided For Extra Session, and Suggestion Is Made That Clark Be Continued as Speaker, With Committees Divided Equally Between the Parties.

Washington, March 22.—War's imminence has forced an abandonment of the plans for a free-for-all fight for the control of the house of representatives in the Sixty-fifth congress.

The virtual certainty of international conflict has had a sobering effect upon the leaders of both political parties in the house. They are convinced that with the United States on the very brink of open hostilities with Germany the time for partisan politics is past—or at least postponed.

Administration leaders are virtually committed to such a policy, and the Republicans are expected to realize the gravity of the situation and put shoulder to the wheel and, forsaking party preference, stand as one as Americans in the coming struggle.

Bipartisan Plan Urged.

The suggestion advanced now is for the house to be organized on a bipartisan basis, with Champ Clark returned to the speaker's chair, the house officers and the patronage which they carry with them equitably divided between Democrats and Republicans and a similar nonpartisan arrangement of committee assignments with some of the chairmanship plums handed to the Republicans and others to Democrats.

The general proposition of a bipartisan organization had its inception among the democratstrations. The house is virtually divided in halves between the two parties. Should the organization be attempted on a partisan basis there must ensue a bitter fight for control lasting perhaps for days. It is a matter of history that a house not possessed of a majority in either party may consume weeks and indeed months in fruitless balloting and jockeying for position, which holds back legislation needed for the whole nation.

Thus far no opinion has been expressed by the Republican leaders as to the general plan of bipartisan control. It is well known, however, that there is a considerable element in the great white minority party which can be relied upon to favor a postponement of the partisan clash until the great pending international problems are out of the way.

Only Temporary Arrangement.

Therefore the administration suggestion for bipartisan organization is restricted to the organization of the house for the extraordinary session only. This will mean that the struggle for control is only postponed.

The suggestion of a special dispensation for the extraordinary session, with the promise of a knock down and drag out fight with a fair field and no favors after the grave duties of the present emergency have been performed is expected to appeal to many Republicans who would promptly refuse consent to such an arrangement were it to be permanent and for the entire period of the Sixty-fifth congress.

Speaker Clark and Majority Leader Kitchin have sent personal telegrams to all Democratic members of the house calling a caucus for March 30, but urging their earlier presence in Washington whenever possible. The Republican caucus, previously called for April 14, will probably be assembled March 31 with a similar injunction.

The unequivocal support of congress for the president in the event of war, and indeed while the present state of affairs maintains, is promised. Chairman Flood of the house committee on foreign affairs said:

"There will not be any material opposition to any war plans. Congress will immediately declare that a state of war exists and immediately jump into the work of preparing everything for the president to act."

Assessors Select Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, March 22.—This city won out over Asbury Park and Cape May in competition for the summer meeting of the New Jersey Association of Local Assessors. The taxing officials will discuss reforms in state methods here on July 19, 20 and 21.

In this sale we are featuring some of the finest and handsomest shirts that have ever been shown in Newark.

There are patterns without number from the gayest and brightest colorings to match the new spring scarfs to the more subdued effects for conservative men.

But next week only we make the offer below. You can get this Cooker for $1, by buying two of our cereals which should be cooked in it.

This offer is made to induce better cooking. To bring you Quaker Oats, Mother's Oats and Pettijohn's cooked in perfect form, with the flavor kept intact. Our reward will come in your doubled delight in these foods.

We ask the sales slips just to show that you use our cereals. Unless you have the right flakes, right cooking does not help much. But, if you use Quaker Oats or Mother's Oats and Pettijohn's, this cooker is yours for $1. This is for one week only. Get the packages from any grocer named below.

Quaker Oats—Mother's Oats

Extra-Delicious Vim-Food
Flaked from Queen Oats Only

All the world over, these brands hold first place among oat foods. Oat lovers of a hundred nations send to us to get them. A billion dishes are consumed each year. Nowhere in the world do connoisseurs find any oat food to compare with it.

The reason is this: Quaker Oats and Mother's Oats are made from queen grains only—just the big, plump, luscious oats. No puny, starved grains are included. A bushel of the choicest oats yields only ten pounds of oatmeal.

The result is a flavor which has won the world—a flavor which is matchless. Yet these large and luscious flakes cost you no extra price.

Nature stores in oats a wealth of vitality, which everybody needs. We want you to know this fascinating vim-food, made as we make it and cooked in our way.

Pettijohn's

Rolled Wheat with 25% Bran Flakes
A Modern Bran Dainty

Every doctor advises bran, as essential to right living. It is Nature's laxative. Everybody every day should eat it. It means better health, better spirits, sunnier days. Without it, our diet of fine food forces folks to drugs.

Pettijohn's is made to meet doctors' requirements. The bran is hidden in flavory flakes of wheat. The food is a morning dainty which everybody likes. Yet it contains 25 per cent tender bran.

The bran is in flake form, which makes it doubly efficient. Ground bran will not do.

Try Pettijohn's one week. Note its delightful effects. Never again will you go back to a brainless diet.

Then try Pettijohn's Flour. It is 75 per cent fine patent flour mixed with 25 per cent bran flakes. Use it like Graham flour in any recipe.

ROSENWALD MAKES GENEROUS OFFER

To Give $100,000 for Every Million Raised for Jewish Relief

Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, has offered to contribute $100,000 for every million that is raised for the Jewish war sufferers, according to a telegram received by Judge William Newcorn from Jacob H. Schiff, the New York banker, last night. Mr. Schiff's telegram in full is as follows:

"Mr. Julius Rosenwald of Chicago realizing the appalling situation of our brethren abroad, has promised to contribute one hundred thousand dollars for every million collected from March 1917 to Nov. 1917.

In view of the starvation which faces our brethren, we must collect ten million dollars at the earliest possible moment.

Your committee must get to work with renewed energy and without delay in order that the full million dollars may be secured from Mr. Rosenwald.

Louis Marshall, chairman of the American Jewish Relief Committee, Henry Morgenthau, chairman of the Campaign Fund; Cyrus' Sulzberger, secretary; Herbert H. Lehman, treasurer, and Jacob Billikopf, executive director, join me in this request. Details follow.

Jacob H. Schiff.

Judge Newcorn's Committee plans to raise $10,000 here and in view of the generous offer of Mr. Rosenwald, it is thought that this sum may be exceeded.

TO PRESENT "THE HOODOO" APRIL 11

With every rehearsal members of the cast in the three-act farce, "The Hoodoo" which is to be presented in St. Joseph's Hall, on Wednesday evening, April 11, by the members of the Chi Gamma Chi, improve their histrionic ability. Under the able direction of Miss Mary O'Connor, who has coached numerous plays, the young thespians give promise of creditable characterizations of the various roles. Tickets are selling rapidly for the performance and everything points to success.

The committee in charge of the arrangements announce that during the two intermissions instrumental music will be rendered by home and out-of-town talent and following the play a social hour will be held.

JUNIOR CLASS WILL PRESENT PLAY MAY 4

A play, "The Elopement of Ellen," will be given on the evening of May 4 by the Junior Class of North Plainfield High School under the direction of Miss Elsie Campbell, the coach.

The following cast of characters has been selected: Richard Ford, a devoted husband, Douglas Stewart; Molly, his wife, Elsie Kurrahs; Robert, Molly's brother, Seymour Day; Max Ten Eyck, chum of Robert's, Stanley Burner; Dorothy Marck, engaged to Max, Adele Demarest; June Haverhill, a college girl, Florence Corswall; John Hume, rector of St. Agnes, Nelson Kenworthy.

Rehearsals will start immediately. The proceeds of the play will be devoted to defray the expense of the Junior-Senior banquet to be given in June.

CONSTABULARY BILL AGAIN LAID OVER

Special to the Courier-News:

Trenton, March 22.—Senator Pierce of Union county made another attempt yesterday afternoon to get through the Senate his substitute for his State constabulary bill, which creates a State rural guard at an expense of $100,000 a year. He could not muster enough and it will again be laid over.

Assemblyman Gerun's bill giving policemen an eight-hour day also failed to get eleven votes in the Senate and was laid over.

MEDIATION REPORT IS CURRENT

Special to Courier-News:

Washington, March 22.—Reports are current in Washington today that some neutral power, possibly Switzerland, is about to offer mediation between the United States and Germany. The State Department declined to discuss the subject.

THIS STOPS HAIR FROM FALLING OUT

Ever count the dead hairs in your comb and brush? They are nature's warning of future baldness and proof that the dangerous dandruff germ is busy on your scalp.

Dr. Sangerbund, the famous Paris specialist, first discovered that dandruff and falling hair are caused by a microbe. Then came the discovery of the value of the real Parisian Sage (liquid form) in destroying the dandruff germ and, promptly preventing the further loss of hair. The effect of only three days' use of Parisian Sage is simply marvelous, and the American people have now awakened to the fact that they can be quickly rid of dandruff and save their hair by using Parisian Sage.

Parisian Sage is sold by L. W. Randolph and good druggists everywhere. It's inexpensive, daintily perfumed, free from stickiness, and will surely cause hair to grow soft, lustrous and really seem twice as abundant.—Adv.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Save your hair! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, charming, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.—Adv.

ALLIES PRESS RETIRING GERMANS

Occupy 51 More Villages as Foe Retreats.

London, March 22.—Another twenty-four hours should tell whether the Germans will make their expected stand on the "Hindenburg line" or will fall back practically to the border, fleeing all France from their presence. French and British troops have pushed close to St. Quentin and La Fere, south of the bastions of the line where the Germans are expected to stand.

An intimation that the Germans intend to give up St. Quentin is contained in the French official report, which says, "Most of the villages before our lines in the neighborhood of St. Quentin are in flames."

A possibility that the German retirement will spread north of Arras into Belgian territory is forecast in an Amsterdam dispatch quoting a correspondent at the front as saying that heavy explosions are continually heard toward Lens and Douai. "The same general activity which preceded the retreat on the southern front," he adds, "has been observed north of Arras." Arras has marked the northern limit of the German retirement.

On Wednesday's advance the allied armies occupied fifty-one villages and small towns. British troops marched into forty of these, French into eleven. Every one of them was in flames or in ruins. The same ruthless destruction previously reported had been carried out by the Germans.

Near St. Quentin the allied lines are steadily drawing toward the city. The British made very rapid progress in that direction, the southern end of their front, advancing as much as ten miles east, of the Somme where its course runs north below Peronne. They are now some five miles from St. Quentin.

The French encountered more resistance and engaged in some brisk and energetic fighting.

A huge German offensive on the Russian front is thought by military men to be indicated by a brief Berlin war office bulletin that fighting has been resumed on the Beresina.

JOHANSEN AND WALSH TO BE REFORMED

Oscar Johansen and Thomas Walsh, thirteen years old, who were arrested in Newark yesterday, and who confessed to the police of that city that they had broken into the home of C. O. Hedges, 712 Berkeley avenue, this city, where they had stolen some articles including a revolver which was found on the person of Johansen, were arraigned in the City Court before Judge DeSoya this morning.

Arrangements had already been made to place Johansen on the Berkshire Industrial Farm at Canaan, Connecticut, and he will be sent there.

Walsh was placed in the custody of Major Charles Irwin, County Probation officer.

The articles stolen by the boys were returned to the owner. When the boys were arrested yesterday they said they were tired of living in Plainfield and wanted to go to Arizona, but they were inclined to remain with their parents this morning.

TESTIMONIAL DINNER TO JUDGE HETFIELD

The Plainfield Bar Association will tender a testimonial dinner to former Judge of the Plainfield District Court Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., at Korn's restaurant, North avenue, tonight. William A. Codington will be the toastmaster.

BEAUTIES OF LURAY CAVERNS DESCRIBED

The beauties of the caverns of Luray, Virginia, were described in an interesting manner by Albert Earley, principal of the North Plainfield High School, at a meeting of Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F., held last night in the lodge rooms in the Babcock building. In connection with the talk, Mr. Earley exhibited about thirty-five views taken in various parts of the caverns, which he visited in July, 1912, and he spoke from a personal knowledge of the peculiar and remarkable formations to be found there. He explained that exploration parties from different parts of this country, as well as abroad, had visited the caverns, and they were unanimous in declaring them to be the finest in the world.

Mr. Earley gave a history of the caverns, told of their composition, the rate of formation, explained the fantastic figures, representing various animals, and added a humor to his talk which pleased the audience.

The speaker says that it was about two miles from Luray that the first limestone formation was discovered by Andrew Campbell, who at the risk of his life made a partial exploration on August 13, 1878. Explorations were made and up to the present time they extend over an area of three miles.

The lowest point is 260 feet below the surface, and the formations extend from narrow passages to what is known as the hall room, which is 400 feet long and 125 feet wide. Here several dances have been held, and fourteen marriages had been performed up to the time Mr. Earley had visited the place.

The caverns are well lighted with electricity and there are attractive cement walks throughout. Mr. Earley said that there is no dripping of water, and the entire formation seems to be well protected. Small traces of iron and magnesia have been discovered, but for the most part limestone is the chief composition. One place he described as being translucent, it being possible to see the formation of angel's wings, and in another place there is a formation resembling pipes of an organ, upon which a tune can be played with considerable harmony.

Mr. Earley also described the "Natural Bridge," and stated that the bones of an Indian boy laid there five hundred years ago were one of the interesting sights. He said that those who had made a close study of the formations had decided that a cubic inch was added during a period of 120 years.

In describing the stalactites he referred to formations representing poultry, leather, a camel, elephant, riding whip and another which is called "St. Peter Blessing the Children," the picture of which is perfect.

At the conclusion of his lecture, Mr. Earley distributed souvenir booklets of the caverns among those present. He gave the same lecture this morning at the borough school, and will repeat it this afternoon before the North Plainfield Parent-Teacher Association, and tonight at the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M.

Special to the Courier-News:

Amsterdam, March 22.—The Telegraaf this morning publishes the statement that the British and French ministers, on behalf of their respective governments, insist that the Holland government permit armed merchantmen to enter and depart from Dutch ports without molestation from German soldiers.

There have already been complaints that Holland had shown partiality to Entente vessels, having interned German submarines that entered a Dutch port, while, as in the case of the Mellta, a British armed ship has not been interned.

GOVERNOR HOLCOMB WORRIED

Connecticut Executive Warns of "Secret Foes at Home."

Hartford, Conn., March 22.—Governor Marcus H. Holcomb told the interchurch men at a gathering that emergency military forbidden in Connecticut was being hurried because of information he had received which indicated there were in Connecticut men whose hostility to the state would be evident in time of war.

"Connecticut is in a most dangerous position," said the governor. "If you knew half of what I know you would be scared to death, as I am sometimes. I am informed there is a great deal of drilling going on within the state every night nearly, and it is not in the interest of the United States; also we know of activities of men in munitions plants that will be a problem in time of war."

U. S. BEING MOBILIZED FOR BIG WAR

Wilson Calls an Extra Session.

War and navy department heads call conference of aeroplane manufacturers to speed up building of aerial fleet.

Washington, March 22.—The United States is practically in a state of war, with all of the resources of the nation financial resources of the United States. The navy department worked out plans which would open the great seaports of the United States to the navies of the entente allies for the supply of coal and provisions.

The navy likewise went over plans which would place the American fleet on patrol duty in the north Atlantic, the south Atlantic and the Pacific, replacing entente vessels for active service in European waters. Orders to effect this outlined active co-operation will be ready just as soon as congress gets together and decides to act.

Two Courses Open.

Two courses were considered open to the president in the preparation of the communication to congress:

First.—He may announce to congress that a state of war exists between this country and Germany and outline his necessities in meeting the situation.

Second.—He may recount the disastrous results to this country of the German submarine campaign and ask congress itself to declare that a state of war exists. Congress would then be called upon to supply the "sinews of war."

The war department and the navy department began work on a program of war legislation to be submitted to congress. It is expected that the first request will be for a general appropriation of half a billion dollars to enable the president to prosecute hostilities.

Members of congress say both house and senate will be ready to speed up war legislation from the moment the new session begins.

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, conferred with Secretary of War Baker. He said the call for an extra session means "a declaration of war" and that as soon as congress gets together he will press for immediate consideration of his bill for universal military service.

Redfield Scores Pacifists.

The first legislation, however, will undoubtedly be directed toward the immediate increase of naval forces. Lump sum appropriations to enable the president and the navy department to speed up their preparedness plans will be rushed through. The department, in anticipation of ample funds to be provided, has begun work on plans for building up those branches of the service likely to be called upon for extensive duty. Present activities will be devoted largely to the construction of hundreds of "submarine chasers" for combating U-boats.

The warlike temper of the administration was further indicated when Secretary of Commerce Redfield, fresh from the White House conference which decided on the extra session call, replied to a message of the "Emergency Peace Federation" asking them to help hair war with the statement:

"I believe your organization and doctrine to be directly promotive of attacks upon American citizens and property. You are those who are doing more than any one else to bring about war."

Germany to Declare War First.

Official declaration by Germany of a state of war with the United States is looked for by Europe within forty-eight hours, according to Amsterdam dispatches.

Prominent Americans resident in Berlin and particularly the American newspaper men still in the German capital have been informed by the foreign office, it is reported, that such a declaration is forthcoming.

Secretary of War Baker, chairman of the Council of National Defense, organized a special munitions board, with the members representing the nation's leading experts on arms and ammunition, to standardize such supplies and to place the output upon a war basis. Its members are:

Frank A. Scott of Cleveland, manufacturer of machine machinery; W. H. Vandervoort of Moline, Ill., president Moline Automobile company; E. A. Deeds, president Dayton Engineering Laboratories company; Frank Trott of Schenectady General Electric company; Samuel Vauclain, representing the Baldwin Locomotive works and the Remington and Westinghouse companies; John E. Otterson, vice president Winchester Arms company.

GERMANS IN MEXICO.

Concentration From United States Worries American Government.

Washington, March 22.—The concentration of Germans south of the Rio Grande in various parts of Mexico and the presence of subjects and former subjects of the kaiser from the United States toward Mexico is being critically scrutinized by the United States government.

There is apprehension in administration circles that the purpose of this exodus is by no means alone the seeking of asylum and the avoidance of internment in the United States by Germans of military age, but a concrete military movement, with a possible attack from the south on the border states in the event of hostilities with Germany.

The bureau of census has reported to the department of justice that there are 1,200,000 German subjects in the United States and that the naturalized Germans here number 8,000,000.

A stinging rebuke was given by Secretary of Commerce Redfield to members of the Emergency Peace federation, which, he said, constitutes "an organization and doctrine directly promotive of attacks on American citizens and property."

called upon to prosecute hostilities to a successful conclusion.

President Wilson has called on congress in a hurry to Washington and left him in protection of the nation's honor.

By a proclamation advancing to April 2 the date for the extra session of congress originally called for April 16, the president brought to an end the period of suspense and anxiety. The proclamation ordered congress to hasten to Washington to "receive a communication concerning grave matters of a national policy which should be taken immediately under consideration."

With the formulation the war spirit took possession of Washington, and every step that the executive branch of the government could take without legislative authorization to prepare for war was ordered to be taken at once. Every branch of the government and every civilian organization under the control of the government started the mobilization of the men, money and resources of the nation to back up the president in his determination to vindicate the country's honor on the high seas.

The war department and the navy department, behind a screen of censorship, issued the orders that place all of the war making machinery of the government in a position to move at once.

Through the recently organized Council of National Defense the industries and commerce of the country were called upon to perfect their organization for the defense of the nation.

Watchful Waiting Over.

With his advisers united behind him, the president abandoned his plan of "watchful waiting" and determined upon aggressive action. Cabinet officials began the consideration of steps to be taken in the execution of war, which they declared has already been forced upon the United States against its will.

In addition to the complete mobilization of the whole force of the nation for war purposes, the president's advisers were called upon to consider the place the United States will occupy in combating the German submarine campaign.

They took up the question of co-operation with the nations of the entente allies in so far as the continued transportation of munitions and other supplies is considered.

They may decide upon an alliance which will place at the disposal of Germany's enemies in Europe the vast

DOVER GAS FIGHT ON FRANCHISE

Wharton Also Interested In Move by Company.

OPPOSES RATE REDUCTION.

New Corporation Also Asks Franchise Tax Reduction, Claiming It Is Too Heavy, and Objects to Cutting Rate, Although Patronage Shows Big Increase in Short Time.

Newark, March 22.—Another legal battle between the municipalities of Dover and Wharton and the New Jersey Gas and Electric company was started here before the Public Utility Commission when the company asked for a reduction in the existent franchise tax and for relief from the provisions of the franchise which will soon make operative a provision reducing the gas rate from $1.35 to $1 a thousand feet.

The Dover-Wharton cohorts were headed by Attorney Elmer King of Dover and Major R. W. Whitman, who oppose any modification of the franchise provisions.

The utilities company, successor to the old Dover, Rockaway and Port Oram Gas company, claims that 5 per cent gross receipts franchise tax which exists under the franchise rights of the old company is prohibitive and should not be binding on the new company at that figure. It also is contended that the provisions of the franchise agreement with Dover providing that when the gas supplied to customers reaches the annual total of 25,000,000 cubic feet the present rate of $1.35 shall be reduced to $1 will the company and its enforcement would practically be confiscation of the company's property.

The yearly sale of gas by the company has now passed the 24,000,000 feet mark, and Dover and Wharton are expecting in the near future to declare the reduced rate in effect.

George C. Sprague and George W. Betts, Jr., of the law firm of Hunt, Hill & Betts of New York city, who represent the company, state they are prepared to show that the reorganization plans following the foreclosure on the old concern, which was headed and practically owned by Addison Hoy of Rutherford, has resulted in much improvements and that the enforcement of the two franchise provisions objected to will ruin the company.

The increase followed on the declaration of a new and broader policy by the government looking to insuring of American owners of practically all contraband of war excepting arms and ammunition.

SAUSAGE

Sausage is a round, fat, unsentimental article of imagestion. It is the father of all spurats—buck, liver and weinie. Its grandfather is bologna, and its grandmother is more bologna. Sausage is of two kinds—trammelled and untrammelled. Trammelled sausage wears a thin spring overcoat the year round and comes a la necklace. Untrammelled sausage is sold by the pound and served in solitaires. Trammelled sausage is wild. That's why its trammelled. This is evidenced by the fact that it will stand just so much cooking and then it bursts its bonds. Untrammelled or fame sausage just sits and sizzles.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL DOES BRUSH WORK

Local Basketball Team Applies Whitewash to Roselle Park Aggregation

For the second time this season the Plainfield Grammar School yesterday administered the whitewash brush to its opponents, this time to the Roselle Park Grammar School by a score of 48 to 0. The locals put up a great game throughout, outclassing the Roselle Parkers in every department of the game, the opponents never having so much as a lookin. Thirty-eight of the locals' points were almost evenly divided between Lambert and Brancati.

Borough Captaincy Undecided

A deadlock resulted in the vote for captain of the 1917-18 team to represent North Plainfield High School on the basketball court yesterday afternoon after the team had been "mugged" at the Stone & Luckey studio. William Barry and Roy Force secured votes, but as a necessary majority was not forthcoming and one player was absent another ballot will be taken.

YE GODS! RAMBLERS WON BOWLING MATCH

Eagle Seconds Yanked Off Their Lofty Perch Last Night

Another one of those animated bowling matches was fought out on the Eagles' alleys last night between the Ramblers and Eagle seconds, the result this time, however, being in favor of the Rams, who won the first two by substantial margins and passed up the third with only a 4-pin difference.

Five individual scores reached the double century class, three of them being credited to the Ramblers. Dunn fell shy one pin of making it four. Eddie Hyslip, who has been a long time getting started, broke out in a rash last night and hit 217 to begin with, which he followed up with another of the 200 variety, his average of 196 was the best individual effort, although he was closely pressed by Donnelly. Jim Mahoney of the Eagle seconds, who, by the way, bowls anchor for Eagles No. 1, had the best average of his teammates. He and Jaeger each hit 202, but Jaeger got his first, which was sort of an incentive for Jim.

Last night's win was the first for the Ramblers in many moons, and for that reason the Eagles were as much pleased (?) over the result as the victors.

COLLEGE LEAGUE FIVE WINS RETURN GAME

The Grace church indoor court was the scene of a one-sided basketball match Tuesday evening when the College League five of the Plainfield H. S. took the return game title by a score of 32 to 19. The visitors started off with a rush, scoring within the first thirty seconds of the tilt. For the church lads Sheppard put up a great game, while Captain Fawcett of the winners, playing centre, was the star of his team.

The College League five expects to line up against the Grammar School quintet next week and close its season at that time.

BOROUGH TEAM IN A SPEEDY INDOOR GAME

A team of North Plainfield High School players administered a terrible beating to the St. Paul Parish House five of Westfield on its own court yesterday afternoon, the final score being 63 to 41.

As the score shows, both teams did a lot of shooting and very little guarding—in fact, neither team showed any lack of optical weakness, both Plainfield forwards caging nine each, while Dunning dropped in ten twin-counters. Bauerman was high score man for the home quintet.

Valeska Suratt appears in the big headline attraction at Proctor's today, "Jealousy" in which she assumes the type of role which has made her famous. She introduces a huge array of gorgeous and expensive wardrobe, a feature which will prove particularly attractive to the feminine element. In addition today the last chapter of "Pearl of the Army" will be shown, and Hank Mann will appear in a popular Fox comedy creation "His Tie-ish Job."

Tomorrow by special arrangement Douglas Fairbanks will appear in his latest Triangle success "The American." The play is fairly saturated with action. Fairbanks goes to Patagonia, a South American country, and gives just while the country is in the throes of a revolution, starts out to discover the former president, who has been shoved out of the office by a usurper, rescues his daughter, makes the usurper take to the bushes, reinstates the legitimate president and incidentally wins the hand of the latter's daughter. In addition tomorrow the famous dancers Maurice and Florence Walton appear in a Paramount production entitled "The Quest of Life."

On Saturday morning a special matinee will be given for the benefit of the local boys. The admission will be two potatoes and a special program of films will be offered. The special show will commence at 10:30 o'clock and will doubtless prove exceedingly attractive and entertaining for the children.

BEN WELCH HERE MONDAY IN BURLESQUE

Ben Welch and his company of burlesque artists will open a one day's engagement at the Plainfield Theatre Monday, matinee and night, March 26. Ben Welch is always surrounded by the best talent in burlesque and can put warmth and pathos in his character portrayals.

One of the secrets of the success of modern burlesque is the numerous quick changes of costume made by the chorus. The costumes and stage settings in Ben Welch's Big Show are up to date and very pretty. Several song numbers are introduced in the entertainment that are foreign to burlesque but this is done to let the audience know what real modern burlesque is and how it can be done.

VAUDEVILLE TODAY AT PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Manager Shannon has secured a bill for the rest of this week that will keep vaudeville popular in the minds of local amusement seekers. "Billy" Elliott and his "Seven Dusky Maids" in "On the Levee" lead the program with an excellent combination of singing and dancing that portrays the "old South." Special scenery accompanies the act, making it one of the best features that has headed a local bill in a long time.

The other four numbers are equally as good and include Rogers & Rogers, comedians; Mercedes Clark and Company, in a comedy sketch; Dean & Hazzard, talking and dancing comedians, and the Two Kelsos in a novelty comedy.

Fishing for Frost Fish

Frost fish are reported as running quite heavy—at least, this news has induced Al Fritz, Frank Dentz and Harry Barber to try their luck in the briny deep. The fishermen will no doubt bring home some good reports of their day's angling.

RAMBLERS vs. ST. JOSEPH'S

The Ramblers and St. Joseph's club of the borough will meet in their second series tomorrow night at the Eagles' alleys. Taylor, who has been unable to bowl of late on account of a sore thumb, will be back in the Rambler line-up. The other star will be Dunn, Betzenberger, Worrall and Hyslip.

Camels are pure and wholesome and you'll prefer this blend flavor to either kind of tobacco smoked straight. And the quality is so apparent men do not look for or expect coupons or premiums!

MUST APOLOGIZE FOR POLICE GRAFT CHARGE

Red Bank, March 22.—Because he could not prove the graft charges which he made against the Police Department, Charles Smith, colored, has been given until April 2 to apologize. Smith charged that he and others, who had given dances or entertainments, were compelled to have an officer at the halls and pay them $3.

Chief of Police Clayton did not deny that policemen had been paid, but asserted that no one had been compelled to have an officer at a dance or entertainment; that all officers had been sent at the request of the persons holding the dances or entertainments. The policemen sent were men off duty.

... with this department Miss Lee will gladly answer any inquiry relative to domestic science, a stamped envelope being necessary for a personal reply. Address care of Courier-News.

In continuing the article last evening, on utilizing little odds and ends of "left overs," it may be well to remember what Napoleon Bonaparte once said: "An army advances on its stomach," to which perfectly obvious fact another may be added—the industrial force of a nation advances on its stomach, and so does every home, therefore, every thinking woman should awaken to the importance of kitchen waste.

Perhaps a short object lesson, of how a tempting luncheon for two can be evolved from the following unsightly left-overs may prove helpful, in showing what can be accomplished with very little.

A few spoonfuls of creamed chicken, a tiny saucer of mashed potatoes, a cold poached egg, a saucer of apple sauce and a few outside lettuce leaves were the materials on hand, and this is how one thrifty cook combined them and made a dainty meal:

She divided the chicken and arranged it in the bottom of two small buttered baking dishes, covered it with the mashed potato and a layer of dried bread crumbs and, after dotting with bits of butter, baked it to a rich, crisp brown.

She then mashed the yolk of the egg—which she first cooked hard—added half a teaspoonful of salt, a few grains of cayenne, a quarter of a teaspoonful of mustard and enough vinegar to moisten. She then beat in six times as much oil as vinegar and blended this with the cut-up lettuce leaves, just at meal time. The chopped egg white garnished the two portions of salad.

The apple sauce was chilled, the stiffly whipped egg white folded in and the "apple whip" was served in two slender glasses.

The actual additional cost for the meal was the raw egg white used in the whip.

We must learn that even the fried and scrambled egg which are left have their uses, for they can be chopped and added to a hash or salad. Even a spoonful of sour cream is valuable, for it will add greatly to the cold-slaw dressing, and if added to a batch of griddle cakes, scones or biscuits, the amount of shortening can be decreased.

Sour milk has hundreds of uses. Of course, in using it, baking soda must be substituted for the baking powder and any flour mixture into which it enters should be baked as soon as possible after it is mixed.

Cold baked potatoes may be converted into stuffed potatoes, mashed into croquettes or combined with fish to fish balls, while cold boiled potatoes can be remodelled au gratin, creamed, hashed brown or used for salad. A spoonful of any vegetable which is left from a previous meal may be added to the breakfast or luncheon omelet, giving it a different and appetizing flavor.

Melted ice cream should never be thrown away, but incorporated into cakes, cookies or a cold dessert. For the last, a little powdered gelatine can be added, varying in quantity, of course, according to the result desired. When using it in cake, leave out part of the milk called for and lessen the quantity of butter and sugar.

Some of the Little Wastes

The careful housewife must remember that when trying to save the little things one usually discards, there must be system. Have a definite corner of the ice box for remnants of food, store them on separate plates and look over what you have on hand every morning.

Also beware, these little wastes, for they amount to many dollars:

A plate of flour used to roll fish or potato cakes, when a tablespoonful would suffice.

Dried fruits left unprotected to grow wormy.

Good sheets used for the dining table.

Mattress wiped on the ironing sheet instead of on cloth or paper.

Napkins used for dish towels and dish towels for holders.

Soap left to waste in dish water.

Soup set away, covered while hot, to sour.

Mops and brooms not hung up and carpet brooms used to scrub with.

Tin dishes or wash boilers set away wet to rust.

Cans of coal oil left open to evaporate.

Remember that real kitchen preparedness means looking after every little leak.

MR. FOX'S LESSON

Mr. Fox was sly, and he was lazy, too. He made poor Mrs. Fox do all the hunting, and then he would eat what she brought home and go to sleep.

"I am afraid, my dear," he would say to Mrs. Fox, "that my rheumatism is going to hang on all winter. I am so sorry I shall not be able to help you, but I am suffering terribly, I can assure you."

And then Mr. Fox would groan and take on in a terrible way, so that his wife would pity him and bring him nice chickens and other tender things from the farmyard over the hill.

But though he was sly, he was careless one day when he thought his wife was out and would not be back for a while.

Mr. Fox had been in bed all the morning pretending he just could not stir, because he was in such pain, and he wanted some chicken broth very much; in fact, he was sure it was the only thing that could cure the pain in his leg. So kind-hearted Mrs. Fox put on her bonnet and took her basket and trudged off over the hill, although she was tired from the trip she made there the night before, and Mr. Fox had eaten all the best part of the duck she brought home.

But she did not have to go over the hill, for she found some young chickens that had run away not far from her home. When she came back near the house who should she see sitting on the steps but Mr. Fox smoking his pipe and not acting a bit sick.

"I will find out about this," she said, hiding behind a tree where she could watch, and pretty soon she saw Mr. Fox jump right up from the steps as spry as anything and go into the house.

When Mrs. Fox came in the door Mr. Fox began to groan and cry with the terrible pain in his leg again.

"It has been just awful all the time you were gone, my dear," said Mr. Fox. "Do hurry and make the broth."

Mrs. Fox looked very angry, but she said in her sweetest tone: "I will make it right off, my dear, and we must see that you have more to eat than you have been getting, for I am sure if you have plenty to eat and stay in bed you will get well."

Mr. Fox put his head under the bed clothes and laughed, and then he said he was sure that was the very thing he needed—plenty of ducks and geese and chickens.

Now Mrs. Fox had a scheme, but her husband did not know it, and the next day she sent for Mrs. Reddy Fox to sit by Mr. Fox while she went out.

Mr. Fox insisted he did not need anyone, but Mrs. Fox winked at Mrs. Reddy, who was a friend of hers, and said she knew he was far too sick to be left alone. When she came back she had geese and chickens and ducks and hens. These she put in the pantry, and out she went again, and when she came back she had as many more.

All day she worked, and all night, and her pantry was filled when the sun came up the next morning.

Then Mrs. Fox began her work. She cooked and fed Mr. Fox every minute, and when he said he had enough she said he did not know—that he must eat more.

Mr. Fox could not get out of bed, because he had been so sick his wife wouldn't let him. He must just eat and stay in bed, she told him, if he wanted to get well.

Of course, he grew very fat, indeed, and at the end of two days Mrs. Fox stopped feeding him, and Mr. Fox said he did not feel any pain, and he guessed he would get up and go out for a little walk.

"Of course, my rheumatism may come back," he said, for he did not want to work, "but I think I should get a little fresh air."

But when Mr. Fox tried to get on his clothes he found they were too small. He had grown so fat he could not wear a thing, and that was just what Mrs. Fox intended should happen.

"My dear, do you think I might wrap a blanket about me and sit out on the steps?" he asked. "I don't seem to be able to wear my clothes. They must have shrunken."

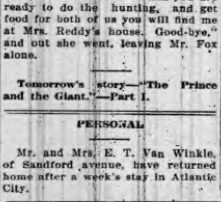
So Mrs. Fox gave him a blanket, but when Mr. Fox tried to come through the doorway he was so fat he could not get through and there he stuck.

"You lazy, fat fellow!" said Mrs. Fox, pushing him with all her strength. "If I served you right I would let you stay in the doorway until you grew thin, playing you were sick and making me do all the hunting." Bang went Mr. Fox on the floor, when Mrs. Fox at last dislodged him, and he fell back into the bedroom.

"Now stay there until you grow thin and can get your clothes on," she told him. "By that time you will be hungry enough, I think, to hunt for yourself."

Mrs. Fox put on her bonnet and started out.

"Where are you going?" called



Mr. Fox from his seat on the floor. "You would not let me starve, would you?"

"You will not starve; you have eaten enough to last you for some time," said his wife. "When you are ready to do the hunting, and get food for both of us you will find me at Mrs. Reddy's house. Good-bye," and out she went, leaving Mr. Fox alone.

DEMAND SCHOOL VOTE.

Pitman Women Send Resolutions to Governor and Legislature.

Pitman, March 22.—The right to vote on all school questions is asked for women of New Jersey in resolutions drawn up to be sent to Governor Edge and the legislature by the Mothers' club and the Parent-Teacher Association.

Many of the members of the two organizations turned out to participate in the school election by voting upon appropriations, which they are allowed to do, but they cannot vote for candidates.

Many of the women cast ballots for an appropriation of $2,000 for an ornamental iron fence to inclose the school yard.

HEALTH NOTES

It rests you, in sewing, to change your position.

A little soda water will relieve sick headache caused by indigestion.

One with a sluggish liver should have more outdoor exercise and a hot salt bath daily. She should use either a loofa or bath brush and dry with a Turkish towel. It is well to drink the juice of one lemon in a cup of hot water before breakfast every morning and walk at least a mile every morning and walk briskly, not saunter.

If a child's first teeth decay before it is time to shed them they should certainly be filled. In the first place they are needed for mastication and they assist the formation of the jawbone, they steer the second teeth into their proper place and the second teeth derive quite a little nourishment from the first. Therefore, children should be taught to clean their teeth at a very early age, as cleanliness prevents decay.

Callouses on the feet will be made less painful if they are cared for every night. The soles should be soaked for at least ten minutes in warm water. A piece of fine pumice stone is then rubbed on the hard spots until the soft flesh is reached. Then they are anointed with vaseline, and a little pad of absorbent cotton bound on to prevent the grease from rubbing. In the morning more vaseline is put in, and, if possible, a corn plaster, the hole enlarged not to press on the callous, is put around. If the latter is not practicable, wearing soft felt soles in the shoes will give relief.

That Awkward Age

Marian and Nettie were chums. One was hardly ever seen without the other. But wherever they went it was usually remarked by those who saw them, "How awkward Marian is! I wonder if the child will ever grow up?" And, "How graceful, sweet and pretty Nettie is!" They were both, however, at "that awkward age," the eighteenth year, the time between childhood and womanhood when the young girl realizes that she must play her own role in the world's drama. Young Nettie had solved the question of overcoming the awkward age—she had realized, or rather her wise mother had realized, that wearing the proper clothes will have a greater effect on the proper development, can do more in forming their feeling of self-respect and will give them more "poise" than anything else they can do. Nettie bought her clothes from B. Altman & Co., Fifth and Madison Avenues and Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth Streets; in that department which makes a special study of misses of "the awkward age."

This Spring when Nettie's mother bought her clothes from Altman's she saw a greater and more pleasing variety than ever before. Those coat suits were all so stunning that she found it very hard to choose between them. And a suit is usually such a hard problem for the young girl. A new material for suits is tricotine, a cross between a serge and a gabardine. There was one good looking model in blue, the coat of which had flat revers, a straight back and a belt in front, but that looked very plain by the side of the burella de soir, one model in a two-toned affair and one of the skirts having a "cut" hem. Very striking was a tan suit specially at Altman's of which the jacket was also in the bolero effect, with a fancy vest embroidered in beads. The pockets of this skirt were formed in box plaits made in the garment and were finished off by a wide, sash belt, which looped over in front.

For every-day wear, nothing could excel a plain English tweed in a straight tailored suit, giving a Norfolk style. Then one could not ignore the fact that young girls can get the most tailored "real" skirts as well as their elders. Altman's showed a very pretty model for spring in a blue trevotine, plain cut at the top and therefore so narrow at the bottom that two small plaits at the hem gave room for a graceful movement of the limbs. The coat was a simple, loose fitting model with a belt in front. The collar and cuffs were of khaki kool.

The barrel effect in a coat was shown by a blue serge model with barrel pockets of embroidered Japanese silk. White embroidered wool Jerseys gave evidence of the latest fad in styledom for Milady Young and Milady Old. An unusual model was a blue serge with a fringe effect, while the demand for "double belts" was carried out in a tricotine coat. In fact, there was a splendid variety in every color, every style and all length coats.

For sport suits, of course khaki kool was a great favorite, one especially attractive model having a figured skirt and a plain coat trimmed in the figured material. The skirt had a yoke effect with the skirt falling full from there. Another pretty combination was a plain white khaki kool skirt and a colored coat. Solid khaki kool suits, with cartridge pleating on the pockets, particularly in gray, would surely appeal to the girl of the "awkward age."

As for coats, she would revel in the styles shown by Altman's. Most of the street coats were made of burella cloth in various small checks. The stunning of all was a "gendarme" blue with deep pockets made right in the coat and a high, red collar with cuffs to match. Another unusual offering was a mulberry coat of burella with sash belt, shawl collar and large pockets. For evening wear, "Miss Awkward" must have a cape and the one which Nettie saw at Altman's, of embroidered blue gros de londres was adorable. An amethyst burella cape lined with white could also be worn on the street.

For extra sport coats, the smartest thing is wool jersey combinations, and a very pretty one was Altman's reversible satin and jersey combinations, or all wool jerseys.

Of all the street dresses, the most unique shown was a combination of serge and taffeta, with a three-quarter front of striped taffeta, giving long lines, and the back effect in the skirt, being finished off with a loose serge belt and a blue georgette crepe collar. For evening wear, a dainty creation was made of flesh color tulle with a silver lace bodice. The skirt had a foundation of scalloped pink china silk, covered with pink chiffon and draped over that, gray-blue tulle with panels of flesh colored tulle. It was finished off with a flounce of silver lace and a French blue velvet bow and streamer.

Another novelty was a new rubberized plaid cape for rainy weather.

DUTCH ARMS BIG BANQUET

Prominent Speakers Give Stirring Addresses at Trinity Reformed Church

Patriotism fairly tingled both in speech and decorations at the eighth annual banquet held by the Dutch Arms Club of Trinity Reformed Church, last evening. Even the members of the Loyal Band of Workers, who served the collation to the 285 people present, wore the National colors and everywhere the Stars and Stripes were in evidence. Sixteen tables filled the lecture room of the church and the occasion added another triumph to those already scored by this well-known organization. The Dutch Arms orchestra of twelve pieces played during the banquet.

After ample justice had been done to the turkey menu set before them, President A. B. Cole started the oratorical ball moving by introducing Edgar F. Sheppard, the toastmaster of the evening.

Toastmaster Sheppard appeared at his best, first leading President Cole for his untiring efforts in the interest of the Dutch Arms and its musical organization. He then introduced the various speakers with witticisms and pleasantries.

Owing to illness, Hon. Edwin B. Osborne, of Newark, was unable to be present.

The Rev. F. Clare Baldwin, of the East Orange M. E. Church, and first speaker, had for his topic, "The Gospel of Service." He said that he could hardly refrain from speaking on a patriotic subject where there was so much evidence of patriotism. Dr. Baldwin gave some very valuable suggestions of service, dividing his theme in three parts:

"We must work to serve," said the speaker, "and how criminal an attitude is that of a person who says that he will not serve. There is really two classes of people in this world, the workers and the shirkers. The day is coming when the workers will get weary of this autocracy and nobility and there will be a big change. God serves. Not a minute has he been away from his job."

"We of this country have a great deal to learn," said Rev. Dr. H. P. Silver chaplain of West Point Military Academy, who was the next speaker. Dr. Silver's topic was "American Citizenship" and his talk was interspersed throughout with humor that greatly assisted him in illustrating his theme. He kept the audience in continual laughter.

"Anyone who knows an American knows that he has plenty of nerve, but nevertheless as a nation we are asleep," continued Dr. Silver. "The average American has a very small vision. History says where one has no vision we are liable to fall. Rome after achieving fame lost its vision and fell. We have got to wake up. We are still little known in South America and foreign parts. I have traveled the world over and never seen the American colors in any port but our own. Our country looks very big when here but when elsewhere very small. We have a right to challenge the men of this country. Have you ever inspected your local institutions or even visited your schools? What we need is the spirit of our forefathers who came here and blazed away in the early centuries. They had the spirit of life which is not now demonstrated."

Dr. Silver was followed by the pastor, the Rev. J. Y. Broek, who was high in his praise for the Dutch Arms and its officers. He predicted that at a future day, owing to the rapid growth, it would be necessary to erect a social hall for Dutch Arms and its auxiliaries to meet in. Dr. J. Madison Hare of Scotch Plains, chaplain of the Fourth N. J. Regiment, spoke in the interest of the soldier boy, and Judge Clarence Case of Somerville, closed the occasion with a few words of an inspiring character. The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Dr. E. G. Read.

The affair closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," by Miss Etta S. Daybert, the audience joining in the singing. The officers of the Dutch Arms formed the committee of arrangements. It was conceded the largest attended and most successful banquet ever held by this popular church organization.

Mrs. Wm. Trembath headed the Loyal Band of Workers that arranged and served the collation.

ANNUAL MEETING CALLED

DEATH SUMMONS WILLIAM A. HOYT

Prominent Railroad Man Succumbs to Pneumonia at His Home on Crescent Ave.

William E. Hoyt, one of the best known railroad men in the country, being for many years the Eastern passenger agent for the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company, with offices in New York City, died this morning at his home, 120 Crescent avenue, following an illness of one week of pneumonia and complications. The announcement of his death was a shock to his many friends who did not know of his critical illness.

Mr. Hoyt was born in Buffalo, N. Y., April 24, 1856, and spent his early life in that city. He began his business career as a tonnage clerk for the Canadian Pacific fast freight line at Buffalo in 1872, where he remained until 1879, when he took a position as traveling passenger agent for the Wabash Railroad Company. Soon afterward he was promoted to the position of Eastern passenger agent for that company, his office being in New York City.

It was in 1884 that he went with the Gould lines, becoming the Eastern passenger agent, which position he held up to the time of his death. He was considered one of the best informed men in the railroad business, having acquired expert knowledge through his long association with some of the largest companies in the country.

Mr. Hoyt had a host of friends whom he made through his genial personality. On the occasion of his birthday anniversary a year ago he was the guest of honor at a banquet given at the Hotel Astor, New York, by prominent railroad officials. It was always with considerable pleasure that he recalled this happy event in his life.

Mr. Hoyt had lived in Plainfield eighteen years and took as much interest in local affairs as his time would permit. He was a member of Plainfield Lodge of Elks and other fraternities, and attended the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. He is survived by his wife and two sisters who live in Rochester, N. Y.

Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

SPEAKS ON VITAL ISSUES

Tenth Address by Miss Janet Richards to be Followed by Two Extra Talks

Miss Janet E. Richards, of Washington, D. C., gave the tenth in her series of "Talks On Current Events" at the Hartridge Auditorium yesterday afternoon. This was scheduled to be the last talk for this season, but the interest has been so great that Miss Richards has consented to speak in Plainfield twice more this season—April 12 and 26.

In her address yesterday afternoon Miss Richards declared that the revolution in Russia is the most vital issue of the day. For the past fifteen years she had been speaking of the great unrest that prevailed throughout the entire world—an unrest brought about largely by the education of the people by which they had been able to realize that they had been denied the rights by ruling autocrats or by self-seeking bodies. This awakening had now suddenly been demonstrated in Russia in a surprising degree, and there were signs that the spirit of new Russia would spread to Germany. Indeed, there were points of similarity between the conditions in the two countries, so much so that the question had been upon the minds of all people here as to why Russia had joined herself in the war with England and France instead of with Germany. There were, however, two principal reasons for that. One was because Russia had borrowed such tremendous sums from England and France that it was easily within the power of those countries to bankrupt Russia. The other reason was because the Entente allies had promised that in the event of her uniting with them and the war ending favorably for the Entente, the prize of ever since the days of Peter the Great—Constantinople, the coveted key of the Bosphorus.

The revolution is the most picturesque, inspiring, drastic and bloodless that the world has ever seen.

The extra session of Congress was discussed by Miss Richards. She concluded that most people supposed that it meant a declaration of war with Germany, but possibly such a declaration was unnecessary, for the recent sinking of three American ships might be read as a declaration of war by Germany. At any rate, an extra session was badly needed, for the sixty-fourth Congress had left

MRS. BARBARA WOLF DIED YESTERDAY

Mrs. Barbara Wolf, wife of John Wolf, of this city, died yesterday in Bonnie Burn Sanatorium, after a long illness, in the eighty-sixth year of her age. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon in the funeral chapel of Cole & High, West Second street, at 1 o'clock, the Rev. John Y. Brock, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, officiating. The interment will be made in the family plot in the Scotch Plains cemetery.

Mrs. Wolf came to this country from Germany forty years ago and after remaining in New York for two years came to this vicinity where Mr. Wolf began farming and for many years occupied a farm in New Market. He and Mrs. Wolf had been married for nearly fifty years. Mrs. Wolf was the first patient to be admitted into Bonnie Burn and her patience through suffering and her kindly disposition made her greatly beloved by all the patients.

IAN HAY LECTURES IN HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

Tonight is the night of Ian Hay's lecture in the Plainfield High School on "The Human Side of Trench Warfare" under the auspices of the National Special Aid Society.

This is the lecture that many local people have been waiting for, in anticipation of a graphic story about the war, from one who has participated in it, and they will not be disappointed.

Captain Hay is a graphic writer, and an equally live speaker, and his story from the trenches, with its sad, and humorous features, will hold the close interest of his hearers.

BLATZ CHOSEN COUNTY ATTORNEY

Elected by Freeholders Yesterday to Succeed William R. Codington, Resigned

Former Judge William R. Codington, for more than twenty years attorney for Union county, tendered his resignation to the Board of Chosen Freeholders yesterday afternoon. The board immediately passed a resolution thanking Mr. Codington for his long and faithful service to the county, and expressing regret over his retirement at this time.

Francis J. Blatz, of this city, Mr. Codington's law partner, was then appointed County Attorney, by unanimous vote for the unexpired term.

Judge Codington has not been in good health for the past year and because of that he has not been able to attend to his duties as county attorney. Mr. Blatz looked after these matters so ably that as soon as it was rumored that Judge Codington would resign Mr. Blatz was urged to succeed him as his successor.

FRANCIS J. BLATZ
New County Attorney

Mr. Blatz is thoroughly posted in all legal matters relating to the county for the past twenty years and has been successful in his profession. He formed a partnership with Mr. Codington four years ago. He was elected to the Common Council from the fourth ward four years ago, and is now serving the last year of his second term. He was elected president of the council last year and reelected this year. Mr. Blatz has a host of friends here and elsewhere throughout the county. His appointment as County Attorney, will be entirely satisfactory to all who desire to see the legal affairs of the county conducted in proper way.

Judge Codington conducted them that way during the many years he held the office, and since the county attorneyship is a part of the patronage that Republican leaders have always conceded to Plainfield, that no natural that the job should go to a local man and that Mr. Blatz should have been selected, since he is so well qualified for the place.

PIONEERS OF PLAINFIELD

This is the twenty-fifth article on the early settlers in Plainfield, written by Oliver B. Leonard, of this city. The earlier chapters were published on the twenty-four preceding Fridays.

THE LAING FAMILY of East Jersey settled in this vicinity near Rahway and Woodbridge about 1675, as stated. The founder of the line, it will be remembered, was a Quaker, born in Scotland about 1650. This John Laing, dying 1698, was the original in America. His two sons, John, Jr., and William, perpetuated the name. The genealogy of John, Jr., has been narrated. The remaining lines descend through William Laing, born 1680, died 1735; married 1703. His wife's name was Mary Blackford, born 1688, daughter of Samuel and Mary Blackford. This is a Piscataway family, identified largely with the Baptist and other Protestants.

William and Mary Blackford Laing had five sons and two daughters. He bought a large plantation of 780 acres in connection with his brother, John, Jr., on which they both lived for awhile. This was in 1699. It was in the description of this patent that the name of "Plainfield" is first mentioned. The land lay near present South Plainfield.

William Laing, to increase his landed possessions, bought a large

Plainfield Bar Association Honored Him at Ahern's Restaurant Last Night

The members of the Plainfield Bar Association tendered a dinner to former Judge of the Plainfield District Court Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., at Ahern's restaurant, North avenue, last night. Judge William Newcorn acted as toastmaster in the absence of William A. Coddington who was unable to be present. Speeches were made by Judge James Henry Crane, Judge William G. DeMeza, County Attorney Francis J. Blatz, Mayor C. Runyon and Walter L. Hetfield, Jr.

At the close of the speechmaking Judge Hetfield was presented with a handsome gold fountain pen, the gift of the Bar Association. The dinner served by Mrs. Ahern was declared to be one of the finest that has ever been given in this city, and Judge Newcorn took especial pains to congratulate the hostess and to express the appreciation of himself and others of the excellence of her cuisine.

Before introducing any of the speakers, Judge Newcorn spoke of the number of years he has known Judge Hetfield and of the friendship that has existed between them. He regretted, he said, that it was necessary to take a man like Judge Hetfield from the bench, because he had always been fair and impartial in his decisions.

"It is the way of politics, however," continued the speaker, "and governed by the dictum once issued by that greatest of all Democrats, save Jefferson, Andrew Jackson: 'To the Victor Belongs the Spoils.' We Republicans have been obliged to give the office to one of our partisans, in the hope that he may emulate the fine judicial example of his distinguished predecessor, and hold on until further political changes, which are bound to come, will compel him to give place to one of opposite political faith, just as it was obliged to give place to Judge Hetfield five years ago, and as he has now stepped down for Judge Crane."

Judge Crane said that his one ambi-

MUSICAL CLUB CLOSING ITS SEASON

Two Meetings of Special Interest to be Held at the Homes of Members

The Musical Club is closing its season of 1916-17 with two meetings that are expected to be particularly good. The first is to be at the home of Mrs. Henry Lockwood de Forest, 955 Hillside avenue, on Easter Monday afternoon, April 9th. Mrs. De Forest herself will be heard in piano solos, also in piano and cello duets, and trios of piano, violin, and cello. Both violinist and cellist are well-known. The former is Mrs. John Miles, of Philadelphia, the latter Miss Laura Tappan, of New York.

The next meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. John Peters Stevens, 985 Hillside avenue, on Tuesday afternoon, April 17th. On this occasion, Mrs. Harry Mosee, pianist, will be assisted by Huber Linscott, baritone.

It is not the custom of the club to have meetings only a week apart, but the first of these meetings was postponed from March 26th to April 9th, on account of the illness of Mrs. de Forest's daughter.

The Musical Club has had a particularly good season, and its greatest achievement, perhaps, is the introduction of Paderewski to a Plainfield audience. It is unnecessary to say more on this subject, for all music lovers are looking forward to the concert to be given next Monday, March 26th, by the great pianist.

REASONS TO SUPPORT KENYON GARDENS

The following is given as four reasons why all should help the Kenyon Gardens:

The work is constructive. The activity, at the present time, of destructive forces cannot fail to have an injurious effect upon the minds of the coming generation.

The work is health-giving. There was a noticeable gain in health among the children who worked in the gardens last summer.

The work is valuable from an economic standpoint. The vegetables raised on an 8 by 12 plot form a substantial addition to the family supplies.

The work furnishes pleasure of the best type. Some fine crops grew in the gardens last year, but the best and biggest was happiness.

TALK ON "MISSIONS"

The Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church is meeting at the home of Mrs. George Mantz on Union street this afternoon, at which time Mrs. J. Y. Brock will give a talk on "Missions."

SENATE PASSED TRAINING BILL

Trenton, March 23.—As another step in New Jersey's preparedness program, the Senate has just passed House bill No. 351, by Mr. Pierson, of Union, providing for the appointment of a supervisor of physical training in the public schools, and sent it to Governor Edge. The measure provides for the appointment of an additional Assistant Commissioner of Education, at an annual salary of $4,500, who shall be the supervisor of physical training. He will be appointed, if Governor Edge approves the bill, by State Commissioner of Education Kendall, subject to the approval of the State Board of Education.

This bill is a companion measure to House 281, by Mr. Pierson, establishing a course on physical training for the public schools, which has already passed both Houses and is in the hands of Governor Edge.

Editorial

Which Shall I Choose?

Millions of women the country over are wondering about this all important question. So wide is our variety of Spring modes, so many styles feature the season's display, that it really comes down to the question of which is the most becoming?

We have been dealing with women of carefully exercised tastes so long that our salespeople have become experts in the judging of the sweep of line that most naturally becomes the perspective wearer's figure, the coloring that becomes her complexion. They can tell at a glance whether a skirt or a dress takes to your measure. They will sell nothing that is not in style. The lovely, dashing models they are handling every day are inspirations to their sales-woman-ship. When you see them, you'll understand.

ORTHOPEDIC CLINIC AT MUHLENBERG

If any one were asked what the chief purpose of the hospital in the community was he would probably reply at once, to take care of the sick, to alleviate pain, and to make more easy the speedy recovery from illness, and these are no doubt the correct answers.

But there is still another usefulness of the hospital in the community, not touched upon in these answers. The hospital focusses attention on a great charitable object, develops the habit of giving, and encourages generous impulses which bring forth acts of benevolence and charity.

This side of the hospital's influence on the character of the community is often not appreciated and more often very much underestimated.

The point of all this is that while in the past the demands of the hospital on the generosity of the community have been large, much has been given back beside the taking care of the sick, in character development that is of lasting and enduring benefit.

The establishment of a fund recently for manufacturing an orthopedic clinic in the hospital is an instance of the fruition of these sentiments and is particularly appropriate at this time.

The various circles of the King's Daughters of Plainfield and North Plainfield have contributed to the major portion of this amount for purposes of maintaining the orthopedic clinic. The following are the circles that have contributed to this fund: Benevolent Circle, Charity Circle, Cheerful Workers Circle, Brightside Circle, Silver Cross Circle, The Loyal Daughters' Circle and The Cup Bearers' Circle.

Alterations are being made in the hospital to provide space for the necessary apparatus for this clinic and before very long it will be in active and useful operation.

As every one knows, our section of the country was swept last summer with the perilous epidemic of infantile paralysis, and where the victim's life was spared there were left marks of the disease that will probably last as long as the victim lives. This clinic will do much towards restoring by modern treatment the victims of this disease to more nearly their normal conditions, and thus remove the effect later in their lives of the fearful blight of the dread disease. This is certainly a most worthy effort, as it endeavors to restore from absolute helplessness those who have had this disease to normal usefulness in the life of the community and should receive a hearty support and co-operation at every one who is interested in the civic welfare and health of the community.

Freckle-Face

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face?

Simply get an ounce of othine, double strength, from your druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds of March have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more othine is sold in this month. Be sure to ask for the double strength othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.—Adv.

Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself then pass it along to others. It works!

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain.

He says freezone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.—Adv.

INTEREST GROWING IN MEAL-A-DAY CAMPAIGN

Interest in the meal-a-day campaign for Belgian children is increasing rapidly in Plainfield. While the state is still unorganized and few cities or towns have begun the great work of keeping these little war sufferers alive, Plainfield has formed an active committee and already has many plans started.

The results, too, have been gratifying, C. Boardman Tyler, treasurer, reporting over $600 in bank and other members of the committee have money aggregating $400 exclusive of pledges in addition to funds deposited.

A meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Boardman, chairman, took place yesterday to consider immediate plans for the future. A great mass meeting in the high school is proposed at which a very celebrated American will be asked to speak. Another plan on foot to engage the help of the young people, who always make the Red Cross seal campaign such a success. The Boy Scouts, too, if the Mayor and local authorities do not need all their time, may be asked to assist. An advertising campaign has been begun under the leadership of a newspaper man connected with one of the newspapers in a large city and it is expected that every person in Plainfield will be enlisted in this work to prevent the starving of an heroic nation's children. Attention is called to the advertisement in another part of today's issue of the Courier-News.

MONTCLAIR MAN IS NEW PRISON INSPECTOR

Trenton, March 23.—William B. Dickson, of Montclair, president of the prison inquiry commission, has been induced by Governor Edge to accept an appointment as a member of the board of Inspectors of the State prison. He will succeed Walter M. Dear, of Jersey City, whose term expires April 24.

It is understood that Governor Edge tendered a re-appointment to Mr. Dear, who suggested that he retire from the board at the end of his term to enable the Governor to name in his place a man thoroughly in sympathy with the reforms which have been suggested for the institution.

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS

Could Do No Work. Now Strong as a Man.

Chicago, Ill.—"For about two years I suffered from a female trouble so I was unable to walk or do any of my own work. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and determined to try it. It brought almost immediate relief. My weakness has entirely disappeared and I never had better health. I weigh 165 pounds and am as strong as a man. I think money is well spent which purchases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. ANNA O'BRYAN, 1755 Newport Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

RESIDENTS WANT WEST END CORNER IMPROVED

The fact that the Public Service Corporation has petitioned the city council for permission to install a "Y" at Front and Somerset streets, which, it is said, is not likely to be granted, recalls to the minds of a number of people that two or three years ago the company was given the right to place a "Y" at West Front street and Grant avenue, but has never taken advantage of it. Just why the company has failed to make this improvement is not known.

The condition of the intersecting corners at Front street and Grant avenue has been the cause for much unfavorable criticism for a long time, and it is in a measure due to the trolley tracks, both on Front street and those extending into Grant avenue. When the company was given permission to put a "Y" there it was understood that it would pave the corner as it did at East Fifth and Richmond streets. Residents in the West End think that the company should be compelled to improve the Front street and Grant avenue corner, before securing any further privileges.

additional plantation nearby. In 1713 (Dec. 14) the "Proprietors' Records" state that Robert Burnet disposed of 400 acres to said Laing. A few years afterwards he added about 200 acres more to his real estate. This extensive tract adjoined John Forbes' east line and touched the Fullerton and Alexander property, previously referred to as pioneer Scotch settlers. The farm reached up to the rectangular survey of Peter Sonman's vast estate, which covered the whole of present Plainfield, and more besides.

This early settler spent the remainder of a short life on his plantation. He died in the summer of 1735 at the age of 55 years, as stated by the Probate Court. At his death the five sons and two daughters surviving him were William, Jr., John, Samuel, George, Benjamin, Jane and Ann. They and their descendants perpetuated the name in this vicinity.

The two large plots joined each other and were adjacent to their good mother's homestead. This last extensive acreage William Laing divided mostly by will into farms among his children or distributed them before his death. A good portion was given to his favorite son, Benjamin Laing, by deed dated March 15, 1734-35, a year before the death of the testator, whose will was probated July 23, 1735.

There was another person in East Jersey by the name of William Laing, who was a Scottsman. He lived in Monmouth county and was prominent in early Colonial government. His death is recorded in 1709-10, at which time, or shortly thereafter, his brother, Alex Laing, doctor of a grammar school in the Canongate of Edinburgh, gave power of attorney to Dr. John Johnston to prosecute the executors of "his brother's" estate for his interest therein.

Others of the family living in the vicinity of Freehold were loyal citizens and held important places of trust in the county. It is not known that there was any relationship between this line and the Middlesex line of Laings.

There was still another family whose name was pronounced the same, but always spelled "Lane," a brief sketch of which was given when narrating the history of John Laing, Jr., 1675-1728.

An outline of the first generation of the Plainfield lineage as known to the writer is the following:

WILLIAM LANG (or John and Margaret), born 1685, married 1722-3, Mary Blackford (of Samuel and Ann); had the seven children, as above stated, and herewith respected.

William Laing, Jr., born 1704.
John Laing, born 1705; married Hannah Webster.
Samuel Laing, born 1706; married 1728 Elizabeth Smith; had John.
George Laing, born 1709; married 1730 Hannah Drake.
Benjamin Laing, born 1710; married 1745, Mary Blackford.
Jane Laing, born 1712.
Ann Laing, born 1714.

Hahne's—Second Floor

Their price is $14.75, but judged by the four-fold test of styles, material, fit and workmanship, each suit and dress is worth more.

You be the judge—note that each suit is peau de cygne or Dresden silk lined; note that sleeves are finished with silk shields; note the custom-tailored look from her to buttonhole.

Styles are too many and varied to treat of in detail.

BILLS SIGNED BY GOVERNOR EDGE

Special to Courier-News:

Trenton, N. J., March 23.—Real adjournment of the Legislature will be reached some time tonight when both houses will recess for a week, returning next Friday only to pass the appropriation bills and consider measures that may have been vetoed by Governor Edge during that period.

Repeal of the full crew act was effected last night, when the Governor signed the Roberts bill, amended so that the railroads cannot reduce the number of men required for trains under the repealed law until permitted by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners. The Governor also signed the bill authorizing the State to acquire a strip of land from Bordentown, Burlington County, to Morgan, Middlesex County, for construction of the proposed ship canal that will link the Delaware River with Raritan Bay and give the federal government an inside route between its navy yards at Philadelphia and Brooklyn.

By a vote of 11 to 3, the Senate passed the rural guard bill, which is a substitute for the proposed state constabulary measure. The adjutant general is to be chief of this force, which will comprise several minor officers and ninety guards. Senators Conrad, Florence, Gaunt, Kates, Mackay, Martens, Munson, Mutchler, Pierce, Richards and Stevens voted for the bill, while Senators Barbor, Hammond and McGlennon opposed it.

The Governor sent to the Senate last night the re-appointment of all members of the board of managers of the State Asylum here with the exception of Alfred L. Ellis, of Middlesex. He named to succeed Ellis Holmes V. M. Dennis, of Monmouth County.

The Governor vetoed the bill providing for appointment of a state supervisor of physical training and the bill empowering him to appoint poultry inspectors in first-class counties.

The House passed the bill increasing from four to five the members of the Civil Service Commission and the two bills legislating Democrats from unnecessary offices in Hudson County.

SMALLEY NOT CONCERNED WITH NEGLECTED CHILD

Winfield Smalley, of West Front street, was arraigned in the City Court this morning charged with failing to provide proper support for his family. He promised to provide support and was released on a suspended sentence.

Smalley was first arraigned yesterday morning, and his case was put over until this morning. When he came into court yesterday, an Italian woman holding a small child, stood near the Judge's bench, and the opinion prevailed that the child belonged to Mr. Smalley.

It was erroneously so stated in yesterday's issue of this paper. The Italian woman with the child had no connection with the case, and in justice to Mr. Smalley this correction is made.

CAVALRY HORSE KILLED BY TROLLEY

A horse belonging to Troop D, the local cavalry troop, was struck by a trolley car at the corner of Putnam and Kenilworth avenues, at 11 o'clock last night and was so badly injured that it was shot by Patrol*man Loesch.*

RESCUE MISSION NOTE

There will be an evangelistic service in the Rescue Mission Hall, Madison avenue, this evening, when Miss Clyde Burnet will speak from Acts 3, verses 26 to 40. Instrumental and vocal music will be features. All are cordially welcomed.

FRANK E. CARRAR KILLED IN ACCIDENT

The body of Frank E. Carrar, of Arlington, will be brought to the borough tomorrow morning and the funeral will be held from St. Joseph's church at 10:30 o'clock. Interment will take place in St. Mary's cemetery.

Carrar, who was a former resident of the borough, met his death in Arlington on Thursday, when his motorcycle skidded and threw him under the wheels of a trailer-truck going in the opposite direction on Belleville turnpike, that place.

The victim was twenty years old and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carrar, with whom he resided, together with a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Proto. He was born in North Plainfield and moved to Arlington with his parents ten months ago. He was engaged in the mushroom business in Lake street, Jersey City, and was returning to his place of business after his meal with his parents when he was killed. His skull was fractured and both legs broken. Thomas Cleveland, driver of the truck, is under arrest.

The father of the victim is a member of the firm of Carrar & Cucchiari, who conduct a mushroom farm at North Arlington.

ALLEGORICAL PICTURES ATTRACT LARGE CROWD

The second presentation of Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," in moving pictures, attracted a large audience to the First Baptist church last night. The portrayal of this remarkable story, the first of its kind, interested the audience and held the close attention of every one from the first scene when "Christian" leaves the "City of Destruction" to the close where he enters "The Holy City."

The accompanying music on the organ with the solo parts interspersing the various scenes added much to the interest of the pictures and story. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the church, and the proceeds will be devoted to charity as arranged for by the society.

GAS, HEARTBURN, INDIGESTION OR A SICK STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will sweeten a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach within five minutes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is usually a sign of acidity of the stomach.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headache or dizziness. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin helps to neutralize the excessive acid in the stomach which is causing the food fermentation and preventing proper digestion.

Relief in five minutes is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to usually keep the entire family free from stomach acidity and its symptoms of indigestion, dyspepsia, sourness, gases, heartburn, and headache, for many months. It belongs in your home.—Adv.

EVAN WILLIAMS TELLS SINGERS TO STUDY WELSH

Evan Williams, the famous tenor, who will sing in the Plainfield High School April 9 in the Oratorio concert says:

"Welsh is a language singers ought to learn. If one can sing Welsh one can sing purely in any language. Speaking and singing Welsh requires an absolutely correct use of the vocal muscles. Frenchmen speak through their noses. German speech is guttural. Italian although considered a singing language, is often uncouth when spoken. There are so many varieties of English that no one dare say whether the best English is spoken in London, New York or Boston, but in all these varieties of English there is too much hissing, too much sibilant sound, whereas Welsh forms a tone which constitutes a perfection of instrument. This explains why so many Welshmen who have never had individual vocal training sing with purity and sweetness and preserve their voices to old age."

Commenting upon the varieties of English as it is spoken, Mr. Williams might have stated very correctly that the best English is heard in Dublin.

PIERSON BILLS GO TO GOVERNOR

Special to the Courier-News:

Trenton, March 22.—The series of municipal finance bills by Assemblyman Pierson of Union county, head of the State commission to study and report upon municipal finances, was passed in the Senate Wednesday afternoon. It also passed the Pierson joint resolution, House No. 8, continuing the commission for another year. The bills now go to the Governor.

undone so many things that she ought to have done, and done so many things that she ought not to have done; that her influence must be made up by another session. The last Congress had not even passed the annual appropriation for West Point.

The averted railroad strike came in for consideration, as did also the situation in Mexico. In the latter question Miss Richards saw a serious menace in the attitude of Obregon, secretary of war for Mexico, and who feared that he, if approached by Germany, might be influenced in such a way as to cause serious trouble for the United States.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

SAENGERBUND HELD STRANDFEST

Palm Beach Suits Lent Summer-like Appearance to Seashore Festival

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the season at the Saengerbund was held last night, under the title "Strandfest," or seashore festival, for the members and their families. It was more than usually elaborate in decorations, the hall being hung heavily with American flags in graceful festoons, and the stage beautifully banked with palms and potted plants, behind which Klaus' orchestra discoursed music all the evening.

A feature of the affair was Palm Beach suits, which lent a summer appearance to the general effect among the flowers.

All around the hall were pavilions in different designs, giving a cosy and artistic effect, one of which, the laube von jasmin, might be considered the prettiest.

Five selections by the Singing Section formed part of the musical treat, and addresses of welcome by the chairman, Carl Herman, and by Prof. A. W. Hauck gave variety to the program.

Dancing concluded the evening in the main hall, but all the evening appetizing collations were served in the banquet room.

The committee of arrangements comprised Carl Herman, chairman; John Retzer, Frank Seidler, Charles Klaus, George Ahnert. The plan for the pavilions and decorations were made by Chairman Herman, and carried out by John Schroppe, who accomplished the work in a very short time, having to wait until the hall was cleared of the furniture and decorations used by another organization the night before.

About 250 members and their families were present, and all spent an enjoyable evening.

FIFTY-TWO STUDENTS FLUNK

Princeton, March 22.—The midyear "mortality" at Princeton University was lighter this year than it has been for some years. Fifty-two students were dropped from the New Jersey institution as a result of low scholastic standing. The sophomores were the heaviest losers with fifteen members, while the freshmen lost thirteen.

Editorial About Boys

There never was a time in the history of the country when we thought so much of or did so much for the boys.

This applies to very little fellows, up to the young men we are about to train for military service.

We value the youngsters highly—and this is as it should be.

Besides the military training movement, we have the Big Brother Movement, the Community Movement, the Boy Scout Movement, the Y. M. C. A. Movement, the Boys' Clubs, the Playground Clubs, the Athletic Clubs of all kinds—and we are protecting them in their schooling, seeing that they get education before they are permitted to go to work.

And in the dressing of the boys parents are so much more particular than they used to be, and, with growing intelligence, the boys get fussy, too.

Boys want to be well dressed—not that they want to be dudish, but they want nicely made, well-fitting, good-looking togs.

Boys' Suits

We are clothing an increasing number of youngsters every year.

Our Boys' Department, taking up the entire second floor, presents broad lines of smartly modeled, splendidly tailored apparel.

Top Coats, Suits, Hats, Shoes, Furnishings.

Boys' Spring Top Coats of choicest fabrics and styles, 2½ to 18 year sizes, at $5 to $15.

Boys' High Grade Two-Pants Suits, New Norfolk and Pinchback models, handsome patterns, rich fabrics; 8 to 18 year sizes; unexcelled anywhere at our prices, $6.50 to $16.50.

Hats, $1.50.

Caps, 50c, $1, $1.50.

Tru-Fred Shoes for Boys, Misses and Children—best for growing feet, allowing fullest comfort, giving no end of wear.

"Now, Boys, Get Into the Trenches!"

Fall in with the crowd and put on one of the new, smart Trench Model Spring Overcoats.

It is the proper coat for these warlike times. Right in tune with the spirit of the day—at the same time a good, practical, easy-to-wear Top Coat.

Price, $20.

Other Spring Overcoats in ultra-fashionable and conservative models, some intended for dress occasions; beautiful examples of tailoring; dependable materials in every instance.

$15 to $35.

Spring Suits, $15

This is one of our strongest lines for men and young men because $15 is one of the most popular present day prices.

PACIFISM AND NON-RESISTANCE

Synopsis of Lecture by Walter Newell Weston Delivered Yesterday Afternoon

The following is a synopsis of a lecture by Walter Newell Weston, of the Society of the Inner Life, of New York, given at the residence of Howard A. Colby, 1465 Evergreen avenue, yesterday afternoon.

The militarist thinks the country should and the pacifist thinks it should not engage in war. Each tries to induce and possibly compel the other to change his views. Each considers that he himself must be and that both cannot be right.

The pacifist does not necessarily practice non-resistance, though he may think he does. Non-resistance is a psychological and spiritual principle, as available to those who comply with it as is the law of gravitation. It is not so much an act as a consciousness, but a consciousness which forms the most positive and absolute basis for action or non-action. Fundamentally, non-resistance is the consciousness that there is no substance, power or life in evil. To be non-resistant is not to be negative, though many think the two identical. To be non-resistant is not to be lacking in moral courage—quite the contrary—though many possessing physical courage so think. The disadvantages of non-resistance are only apparent, not real. The advantages of non-resistance are only apparent, not real. The advantages are that one is thereby allied with truth and power.

Assertiveness and combativeness are the masculine, silence and non-resistance the feminine of consciousness. Combativeness may be and usually is assertive and often noisy, bullying and spectacular. Non-resistance includes the attributes of silence, poise, fearlessness, unobtrusiveness and meekness. Washington and Lincoln when maligned were non-resistant. Jesus Christ when accused before Pilate was non-resistant. His silence was due to his perfect perception of the nothingness of what Pilate stood for, and of the futility of words under the circumstances.

Certain Orientals know the power of non-resistance so perfectly as to be able to sleep on the ground in the jungle in perfect safety. In the morning there must be seen the footprints of wild animals which, themselves having never been attacked by man, have left the sleepers undisturbed.

The true advocate of non-resistance is non-resistant to his brother's belief in resistance, acknowledges his sincerity, and accords him perfect freedom therein. A believer in non-resistance, with perfect consistency and through a spirit of kindness, might even assist his brother militarist to prepare for fighting. This would hardly be true of a mere pacifist.

Under existing conditions it is not to be expected that the American nation will practice non-resistance, but everyone who perceives the principle is individually free to practice it. Were we a nation of non-resistants we would need no preparedness, for the collective consciousness of the country would be its own invisible protection. It is difficult for the person living in the resistant consciousness to see this, but spiritual principles are true, irrespective of anybody's ability to perceive them. "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear."

CONQUERS RHEUMATISM IN A VERY FEW DAYS.

It is an established fact that one-half teaspoonful of Rhuma taken once a day has driven the pain and aches from thousands of racked, crippled and despairing rheumatics during the last five years.

Powerful and sure; quick acting, yet harmless; Rhuma gives blessed relief almost at once. The magic name has reached every hamlet in the land and there is hardly a druggist anywhere who cannot tell you of almost magic relief.

If you are tortured with rheumatism or sciatica, you can get a bottle of Rhuma from Weiss' Boys' Drug Store or any druggist for not more than 50 cents, with the understanding that if it does not completely drive rheumatic poison from your system—money back. Adv.

ARGUMENT

Argument is one man's polite way of telling another man he doesn't know what he's talking about. It's an art with some folks and a habit with others. Argument and diplomacy are closely related. One man calls another man a liar. That's the argument. The other man says doubtless the first man is correct, but isn't it just possible and so on and so on? That's diplomacy. Almost any proposition is open to argument, but there are a few places where all argument falls—certain things about which there is no argument. This includes wives, dyspepsia, buzz-saws, mule heels, street car conductors, policemen, polecats and cyanide of potassium. And did you ever try to argue with a balky furnace?

Borough Team in Clean Sweep Against T. A. B. S. Bowlers Last Night

The Imperials, North Plainfield's representative team in the City Bowling League, made a clean sweep against the T. A. B. S. last evening on the borough drives. The borough outfits started off with taking the first tilt by a margin of 148 pins, but each succeeding game came a little tighter than its predecessor.

The scores on both sides were somewhat listless and quite ordinary in their totals. O'Keefe of the Abstainers was the hero of the evening, securing the high average of 187.1, while Conover had the high score of 225 in his first game. The latter, however, finally slid off to a score of 137 in his last game, due largely to splits.

The scores:

BOROUGH LASSIES HAD A GOOD SEASON

Most Successful Year for N. P. H. S. Team on the Indoor Court

The North Plainfield High School girls' team has decided to lay aside its fighting togs and rest on its laurels after completing one of the best seasons of basketball endeavor made by any feminine team ever representing the borough school.

At the beginning of the season Lillian Spencer, assuming the captaincy for another season, certainly had what appeared to be a big job on her hands to put a winning team on the floor. Marjorie Burtis, who was the brilliant star on the borough team for four years, was graduated with the 1916 class. Tess McCullough had not returned to her studies as yet and the place left vacant by Bertha Kellar at guard would be hard to fill. Adelaide Ricketts, a last year substitute, who was booked for the place left vacant by Miss Burtis, left school early in November, and another likely candidate, Miss Agnes Griffiths, decided to attend the Plainfield High School. That left only Captain Spencer and Viola Dunlap from the last year's squad, and for the first few games the outlook for a good team was anything but encouraging. A bunch of new material came out and after some experiments Marion Chandler was placed as a running mate to Miss Spencer. Nora McDonough landed the pivot position and Elsie Wyckoff at guard. This combination played together for the greater part of the year and did their work well, although stacking up against some of the fastest girl teams in the State, notably among which were the strong Montclair H. S., Bloomfield and Vail-Deane.

Practically the whole first team will graduate this June, including Lillian Spencer, who captained the team through the 1915-16 and 1916-17 seasons; Marion Chandler, who played forward this year; Elsie Wyckoff and Katherine Britting, a substitute guard on this year's team. Those left to build up a winning team next year are Tess McCullough, who will probably lead the team; May Doughty, Ella Vail, Dorothy Kellar, Helen Spencer and Amy Hughes.

Several of the defeats handed N. P. H. S. were by the scant margin of one or two points and all these were made playing on the opponents' courts. The Montclair defeat required five minutes' overtime.

Miss Spencer had high score honors with 56 field goals and 29 fouls, for a total of 185 points. Miss Chandler scored 35 of the two-point variety and 12 fouls for a total of 82 points. Tess McCullough, who played forward in two games, managed to garner 5 field goals, while Amy Hughes gathered in one goal and one foul in one frame. The grand total made by the N. P. H. S. scoring machine were 97 field goals and 42 fouls from the 15-foot mark.

Miss Irene Duchesne coached the team this year, and to her is given considerable credit for its success.

BASEBALL GOSSIP FROM ABOUT TOWN

What Rookies And Regulars Are Talking of In Regards to Local Diamonds

President Walter C. Dobbins of the City Baseball League has called a special meeting of the circuit magnates to be held Monday evening, March 26, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Secretary Dan Randolph on Lee place. A schedule committee will be appointed at that time.

From present indications, the league will open up the season April 28 with the four teams which had originally entered the league for the season. A number of other important matters will be taken up at that time.

The Braves of Elizabeth, a light semi-pro team, are out after games and would like to book up games with local teams, such as the T. A. B. S., the Netherwoods and teams of similar strength. The Braves have been playing a great brand of ball the past three years. For dates write William McCarthy, 157 Westfield avenue, Westfield, N. J.

The Central New Jersey Baseball League meets this evening at the home of Tommie Apgar at 8 o'clock. A schedule will be adopted at this time and the sixth team admitted, according to late reports.

Up to this time Peter Simmons has seen fit to say nothing as to the possible organization of the Scotch Plains-Fanwood Chapel aggregation, has been mentioned as a possible candidate for captain of the team, and Harry Thomas, formerly of the Middle States League, for the managership.

Rumors early in the week to the effect that Company K would organize a ball team for the coming season, is a rumor which ought to become a little more than idle gossip. Company K is not been on the sporting field since the days of long ago, when it was all excited over football. Surely, the National Guard could be made interesting for the young men of the town by the introduction of sports.

ROBERTSON CALLED A SECOND TYRUS COBB

John J. McGraw's declaration that Davy Robertson, Giant outfielder, is as great a ball player as Ty Cobb, if the giant star cares to be, was almost the cause for breaking out American flags and holding a public mass meeting to send thanks by the citizens of Elizabeth City, N. C. Dave used to play on the town team in Elizabeth City, and they have known him for some time down there that Georgia has nothing on South Carolina in the matter of sending great ball players to the major leagues.

Dave has been gallivanting around the National League for some time. He has had cracks at the ball on the nose, beats out a few infield hits a year, steals a base or two, turns in a few fielding sensations each year and calls it a whole twelve months crammed into three or four, or whatever the case may be.

Dave is temperamental. He is a Southerner with the Southerner's contempt for the Northerner's brusqueness. He is a great ball player and he knows it fairly well. But Dave wants to be great in his own way. If he doesn't feel like stretching his legs in a sprint to first base, why it's nobody's business, so he loses as he pleases.

McGraw has been grilling Robertson for a long time, using his own successful way in making a great man of his potential great. This year, according to McGraw, Robertson is going to step out as the only real rival of the famous Georgia Peach in all-around ball playing. Dave has added a few promises of his own and it may be that he will forget temperament and try to make them stick.

Last year Dave busted into the first days of the season with a few well-timed crashes that placed him at the head of the batting list with no trouble at all. He played like a fiend, or a Cobb, and he made such a furore that everyone, McGraw included, said the star had at last begun to shine. But it was premature, for Dave struck a slump, forgot his good resolutions and ended the season with a batting average of .307, barely within the hall of fame. Now, a .300 mark isn't to be sneezed at at any time, but Dave is capable of more, and McGraw is determined he shall show it this year.

They include: Rogers & Roger, two funny comedians; Herron & Clark & Co., in a comedy sketch; Ryan and Hazard, two more comedians, and the "Two Kelsos" offering a novelty comedy number. The regular Hearst-Pathe Weekly News and Mutual comedies round out the bill that takes two hours in the showing.

HELPS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

VIRGINIA CARTER LEE

... with this department Miss Lee will gladly answer any inquiry relative to domestic science. A stamped envelope being necessary for a personal reply. Address care of Courier-News.

In my mail, the other day, I received two inquiries asking for practical suggestions in regard to making and marketing homemade edibles, and just how a woman with little experience should begin such an enterprise.

The writers do not state whether they wish to confine their efforts to Plainfield and the vicinity or to a larger city, although, in either case, the preliminary work would be about the same.

To enter into such a business, it is, of course, necessary that the person engaging in it should be a good cook, fond of her work and with business ability to count the cost of the production and the commission for marketing the same, so that she may determine if she has a fair share of profit for her labors.

Little dainties out of the ordinary nearly always prove attractive, and many a busy woman would welcome the thought that dainty sandwich fillings, sauces, mayonnaise, conserves and cake fillings could be reasonably purchased from a reliable source.

Almost any first-class grocer, or market man, will be willing to handle dainties of this kind, on a margin of fifteen per cent. commission, and it will be well to ask them to exhibit samples of your goods, or perhaps they might consent to a practical demonstration by yourself, when a few of your specialties can be sampled by their customers, free of charge.

Perhaps this is the best way of all for you to secure customers, although brief, type-written letters sent out, with a list of the dainties you are prepared to furnish will sometimes bring good results.

Here are suggestions for a few easily prepared specialties, that are both original and very delicious:

Lemon Honey; Melba Cake Filling; Cherry Conserve, Euchured Figs and Perfection Salad Filling.

It will be the better plan to put up everything in glass, and as fancy tumblers can now be purchased very reasonably by the dozen, it will pay to use them, even if the cost of the glass is included in the price of the article. Remember, that the goods must tempt the public by their appearance as well as their taste.

Cherry Conserve (Enough to Make Twelve Glasses)

The ingredients required are: Three cans of red cherries, two pounds of light brown sugar, six tablespoonfuls of cooking brandy, one pound of sultana raisins and half a pint of water. Put the ingredients all together (with the exception of the brandy) in a saucepan and cook slowly until it is reduced to three quarts. Then remove from the fire, add the brandy and pour into glasses. This can be used for sundaes, parfaits and in making ice cream.

Melba Cake Filling (for a dozen glasses)

The ingredients necessary are: Half a pint each of walnut, blanched almonds and hazel nut meats, one pound of peanut butter, three pounds of light brown sugar and one pint of milk. Put sugar, milk and peanut butter on to boil. Boil for five minutes and then add the nut meats, that have been put through the meat chopper. Remove from the fire, beat until thick and pour into glasses. To use the filling, melt half a glassful with half a pint of chilled, double cream, that has been whipped solid.

Euchered Figs

The ingredients required are: Three and a half pounds of figs, two and a half pounds of sugar, half a pint of vinegar, half a cupful of water, one teaspoonful of whole cloves, three broken sticks of cinnamon and a teaspoonful of allspice. Make a syrup of the sugar, water and vinegar, skim and add the spices. Scald the figs in the syrup on three consecutive mornings. On the third morning put the figs in hot tumblers, boil down the syrup to the consistency of thick molasses and pour over them. Put the spices into the glasses with the fruit. If the figs have tough skins, put them in water to cover, until tender. Then use the water in making the syrup.

THE PRINCE AND THE GIANT—Part I

Once upon a time there was a young Prince Ivan who lived in his father's castle all alone. A few months had gone by since his father had been killed in battle with the giant Grufow, and most of the soldiers slain, for the palace was still lonely and sad. Grufow had taken every bit of furniture, so that the Prince had to sleep on a straw pallet and eat from a tin plate on a pine table in the royal halls.

Long strings of horses, drawing huge wagons, had taken away everything from the palace; but what the Prince wished to recover most of all was the crown. Without it he could not be made King, so he swore he would sleep on straw and eat on a tin plate until he had won back the crown which the wicked giant had carried away to his rock castle in a far country.

Now, Grufow was as tall as three city blocks are long, and his huge, shaggy head was covered with black hair that hung in oily curls about his ugly face. He was about as big as a comic valentine and ate as much as ninety men at each meal. Yet, in spite of the fact that he was such a hideous and immense creature, he had a lovely young daughter who was just the size of ordinary people. But he kept this girl shut up in his castle and allowed her to see no one.

"I will not rest till I get my crown," said Ivan to himself at last, "and I will start at once to find Grufow." So buckling on his sword, he mounted his black horse and rode forth in quest of the giant. Many days he rode over plains, rivers and mountains, and at last he saw in the distance a great forest out of which rose the gray tower of the castle. As he stood gazing at the sight he caught a view of the giant striding home through the trees.

"Perhaps I can get a job in the stables," said Ivan aloud, "and in that way be able to find a way to get my crown."

So he turned his horse loose in the big field and walked into the stable. Here he found a groom busy currying down a pony.

Just then there came in the pretty daughter of the giant. She mounted her steed, but before she could gather her reins in her hands the pony bolted out of the door and dashed down the side of the mountain. In a second the Prince had jumped on a swift horse and was following at the heels of the flying animal. At the bend of the road the pony gave a leap over a crag, but the Prince as he swept by seized the girl by her robe and pulled her off, while her steed plunged over the cliff to death on the rocks below.

Ivan bore the fainting girl back to the castle, where they were greeted by the giant.

"I generally put all strangers in the dungeon," he explained to the Prince, "but as you have saved my daughter's life I will merely put the floor and made to peel potatoes and shell peas all day. At night he slept on the shavings of wood, and for food he had only cold gruel and water.

Yet the giant's daughter liked the Prince immensely. Her name was Roby, and on her neck she wore a gold chain with a big ruby gleaming at the end. One day she crept into the kitchen when Ivan was busy and gave him a bit of cake and a glass of milk, but her father, coming in at that moment, became enraged at the girl.

"What mean you by such acts?" he shouted in a voice that sounded like a storm on mountain peaks. "Get out of my sight at once and never let me see you speak to this wretch again."

"But this young man saved my life," cried Ruby in tears. "Shall I not repay his kindness?"

"No!" screamed the giant. "I have paid him enough by allowing him to remain in the kitchen. If you wish him to remain he must agree to perform three tasks I will set for him. The first will be to put on the stable a roof of feathers; the second, to clean out my stables in one day, and the third, to dig a new well for me down through the back of this hill into the valley below. If he can do each of these, I promise you he can marry you and I will present you with a hundred bags of gold."

With that the giant went out, leaving poor Ivan in despair. Long into the night he sat wondering how he could accomplish these impossible feats. Every hour seemed a day as he watched the hands of the clock from his bed of shavings. Slowly the dawn began to break, and just as the first faint rays of light stole into the kitchen he saw a form in white standing framed in the doorway.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is musty and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

BONDS AUTHORIZED FOR LOCAL ARMORY

Special to Courier-News:

Elizabeth, March 23.—Following a lively morning session when the members sat as a committee of the whole, the Board of Freeholders adopted the new rules yesterday afternoon, with but minor changes. An accompanying resolution, introduced by Peter Meisel placing the employes of the county engineer's office under civil service and on a salary basis, met with opposition from Bradford Jones and Elias Applegate who declared it to be a costly plan. It was adopted however, Jones and Applegate voting in the negative.

The Plainfield armory, $20,000 bond issue was authorized, and it was decided to sell the bonds at par to the county sinking fund.

Under the Meisel resolution affect employes of the engineering department the following will be the schedule of salaries: Assistant engineer, $116.69 per month; second assistant engineer, $83.33 per month; transit man, $80 per month; rodman, $60 per month; stenographer and clerk, $92 per month.

Under the new rules the county engineer is to have his offices in a frame building in Rahway avenue owned by the county and the public grounds committee will proceed at once to alter it. In discussing the change Freeholder Jones defended the board, saying that it conducted affairs economically.

The committees on the Netherwood and Leland avenue bridges, Plainfield, were authorized to spend not exceeding $3,000 on these two spans over Cedar Brook, the present structures being deemed inadequate and too old. A committee was also appointed to take up the matter of a new bridge at Sixth avenue, over Cedar Brook, Plainfield. The committee on prison farm project reported progress.

tion is to retire from the bench knowing that his services have been as satisfactory as those of Judge Hetfield. He said that he wants to make the local district court the first in the State and he called upon the Bar Association to assist him in accomplishing that end.

Harry C. Runyon was glad, he said, to be among those gathered round the festive board to pay a measure of tribute to Judge Hetfield, a man who has practiced with distinction at the New Jersey Bar for many years.

He declared that the members of the New Jersey Bar should concern themselves with the enactment of laws that are in the interest of the common people and prevent any one from securing the enactment of legislation that confers special benefits for the few which are not shared by the many.

The local lawyers should combine and effect an agreement fixing a stated price for certain kinds of work instead of making charges which are usually gauged by the kind of clothes a client wears.

Judge DeMeza spoke of his early experiences as a lawyer. One of these yarns had to do with a time when he and Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., went on a fishing expedition which took them away for several days, but they returned without any fish because they didn't go fishing.

The elder Hetfield, an expert angler, was anxious to try his luck after listening to the glittering tale of his son and Judge DeMeza, who had recited in great delight the number of catches they had made.

They said they had been at Green Pond, Morris county, but when the elder Hetfield arrived there, he was told that there hadn't been any fishing in that vicinity for several years.

Judge DeMeza omitted that portion of the story which had to do with what the elder Hetfield told him and his son Walter, Jr., when he returned. He also failed to say where they had been during their absence.

Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., explained that Judge DeMeza had undertaken to direct his father to the fishing pond and that he made a mistake in the directions.

Judge Hetfield thanked the members of the Bar Association for the honor which they had conferred upon him. He said that he would always cherish the token which the association had given him.

"I have always tried to be fair and impartial, and if during my term any mistakes were made, they were of the head, and not the heart," he concluded.

Ernest J. Black and V. W. Nash, Jr., spoke in a complimentary way of Judge Hetfield and his administration. There were thirty lawyers at the dinner.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, backache, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

MORRIS PLAN BANK BILL DEFEATED

Trenton, Mar. 23.—The Morris plan of banking and borrowing money, under which people of small means are permitted to obtain loans without having to restort to the loan sharks, so-called, met defeat in the House of Assembly Wednesday by a vote of 29 to 20.

Assemblyman Runyon, of Union, advocate of the bill, explained that the Morris Baking Company, which operates the system, has establishments in twenty-two States. He declared the bill not a subterfuge to create branch bank, but a system of great benefit to the ordinary working people.

The bill was also advocated by Mr. Dalrymple, of Passaic. He said the Morris plan was not a philanthropic scheme but a money making scair, and yet it had been a help to the poor.

Messrs. Geran, Monmouth; Kellam, Camden and Dolan, Hudson, attacked the measure.

GERAN ATTACKS ROAD TAX BILL

Trenton, March. 23.—Elmer H. Geran, Democratic leader in the House, repeated his charges and contentions that the main steam railroad property and the bank stock in this State will escape taxation under the administration road tax bill, when the House on Wednesday passed the bill intended to make sure that the railroad money goes to the road and not the school funds. Geran had before made this contention also, and when the bill reached final passage, said he felt constrained to say:

"I told you so."

Despite the fact that the Attorney General has once given the Governor and his conferees an opinion that the road tax bill would include the $245,000,000 of main stem railroad property, Geran produced another decision from the State's legal officer, stating the latter's belief to be the contrary.

"Every poor devil who owns a little 2 by 4 piece of land must be taxed," said the minority leader, "but you are going to say to the railroads, you don't have to pay the tax, and you are not going to place a tax on the bank stock, while we are placing a tax on the poor dogs and cats."

TERRILL ROAD IN BAD CONDITION

Somerset Freeholders Should Take Steps to Put it in Repair

Some time ago Freeholders Mobus and Kirch, of North Plainfield township, and borough respectively, promised to have repairs made to Terrill road, between Mountain avenue and Greenbrook, but up to this time nothing has been done.

This road is in an almost impassable condition. It is the main thoroughfare leading to Mount St. Mary's College, is used extensively every day, and still it is neglected as though it were an artery of traffic in some back woods community, over which there was little or no travel.

The authorities of Mt. St. Mary's have asked several times that something be done with this road. The Freeholders meet in Somerville and talk about expending a fabulous sum improving a road that runs to Chimney Rock, while a section of Terrill Road, leading to one of the foremost educational institutions of the State, an institution which the State Commissioner of Education has more than once declared to be in the front rank, is neglected.

Mayor William L. Smalley, of North Plainfield Borough, has been appealed to by the College authorities and he has promised to have something done. It is expected that a large number of persons from all parts of the State will go to the College on Sunday afternoon when exercises of a literary character are to be held there, and addresses made by distinguished writers and educators.

The Evening Line-Up

Both children and grown-ups, with coughs and colds, are all the better for a dose of Foley's Honey and Tar at bed time. It works off croup, stops tickling throat, and hacking coughs, and makes an otherwise feverish, sleepless night or coughing and distress, a quiet and restful one.

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS, Mr. Chas. Baker, writes: "My wife would not think of using any other cough medicine as Foley's Honey and Tar is certain to bring quick relief. It is especially effective in cases of bad coughs, and we give it to our children and recommend it always as a safe remedy, for it contains no opiates."

STEPS TAKEN TO GUARD ALL PUBLIC PROPERTY

In compliance with the request from Adjutant-General Barber, that a committee of public safety be appointed in each city of the State to guard against internal trouble in the event of war, Mayor Mravlag, of Elizabeth yesterday took steps to name a committee of seven members. He sent out letters to a number of well-known citizens, inviting them to serve on the committee, but said that he will not announce their names until he has received their acceptances.

The duties of the committee, according to Adjutant-General Barber's letter, will be to adopt measures to prevent the destruction of public property, or public utilities, such as water and lighting plants, or the destruction of railroad property with the purpose of interfering with the movement of troops and munitions.

The mayor was firm in the belief that a declaration of war will not be followed by any outbreaks in Elizabeth. In his opinion the nearest approach to any trouble in that city will be nothing more than a barroom brawl and he thinks that no extra police will be needed. Pointing to the amicable relations of the various nationalities here, he declared that if the same conditions held forth in Europe there would have been no war.

GLAD THAT MILK STRIKE IS OFF

Jersey Dairymen Win Higher Price Without Fight.

FIRST DEMANDS ARE MODIFIED

Despite Concessions to Dealers, However, Producers Will Get Considerably More For Milk Than at This Time Last Year — Differential Granted to Creameries Against Dairymen Outside 100 Mile Area.

Newton, March 23.—There is rejoicing here over the averting of the threatened milk strike.

While the dairymen are to receive more money for their milk than they got for the same period in 1916, their voluntary agreement to reduce their first demands of $2.233 per hundred pounds by more than 4 cents to $2.1917 is sufficient, it is said, to enable the dealers to sell milk in New York and all New Jersey at the present prices, so that the expected increase to the consumer is not likely to be made.

But despite the concessions made by the dairymen they will nevertheless receive a big increase over what they obtained, for the six months' period beginning April 1 of last year, the difference approximating 2 cents a quart.

The prices determined upon are for dairymen within a hundred miles radius of New York city, which includes all the dairying country of New Jersey. To offset high haulage charges the dairymen offered a differential to the creameries, which was accepted, whereby those milk producers who live outside the hundred mile area will receive 10 cents per hundred pounds less.

The hundred pound basis for milk yielding at least 3 per cent butter fat is in general existence between dairymen and creameries. The standard milk can of eighty-five pounds contains forty quarts, so that the ratio between weight and bulk is two and one-eighths pounds of milk to the standard quart.

Both sides are greatly pleased with the outcome, and it is expected that a general signing up will begin immediately.

U. S. RECOGNIZES RUSSIAN NATION

Formal Relations Established by State Department.

Washington, March 23.—The new government of Russia, established by revolt against the ancient Romanoff dynasty, has been formally recognized by the United States.

Counselor Polk of the department stated that Ambassador David R. Francis at Petrograd, under instructions from the government of the United States, had extended to Minister Milukoff the formal declaration that the United States will deal with the new administration of affairs in Russia. The recognition is full and complete and will give Russia's new rulers official standing among the nations of the world.

Diplomatic Washington is convinced that the American recognition of the new government will materially strengthen its prospects for permanence. The act will give to the liberal and radical elements in Russia an assurance that the world's greatest republic is prepared to support their efforts. It demonstrated that the United States has decided that the Russian revolution has really and completely accomplished the downfall of the empire and that the new government will be able to control the country.

It was stated that Ambassador Bakhmeteff will be continued in charge of Russian affairs in the United States, temporarily at least, despite the fact that he has been politically opposed to the men at the head of the present government.

N-5'S LAUNCHING GUARDED.

Coast Artillerymen Keep Crowds From Bridgeport Yards.

Bridgeport, Conn., March 23.—The submarine N-5 was launched at the Lake Torpedo Boat company's yards in this city. Mrs. George B. Bevans of Elizabeth, a niece of President Herbert S. Miller of the Lake company, broke the bottle of champagne over the bows of the submarine, naming it N-5.

It was one of the most successful launchings which the company has ever held. United States coast artillerymen were stationed about the yard to prevent any persons not employees of the company or invited guests from witnessing the launching.

KAISER'S COUSIN LOST.

Prince Friedrich Karl Fails to Return From Raid.

Berlin, March 23.—Announcement is made that an airplane piloted by Prince Friedrich Karl, a cousin of Emperor William, has not returned from a raid over the lines between Arras and Peronne.

Another of Germany's best military aviators, Fritz Manuschoof, has been killed in an air fight on the western front.

Drives Saloons From Camp.

Albany, N. Y., March 23.—In prompt compliance with a request from the war department the senate unanimously passed the Emerson bill, which prohibits the selling of liquor within a quarter of a mile of the United States reservation at Plattsburg. A similar bill is pending in the lower house.

Oil Vessel Sunk Without Warning Off Dutch Coast.

NEWS INCENSES WASHINGTON.

Declaration of War When Congress Assembles Now Regarded as Inevitable—Report of German Proffer of Mediation Not Considered by President or State Department—Plans For Eventualities Are Speeded.

Washington, March 23.—The sinking without warning of another American ship and the probable deaths of twenty-one of her crew added fuel today to the fire of resentment against Germany's submarine warfare which is expected to bring a declaration of war as soon as congress assembles in extra session.

The vessel was the Healdton, owned by the Standard Oil company. American Consul Mahin, at Amsterdam, cabled the state department that she was sunk by a submarine off Terschelling, Holland. He reported that the ship was torpedoed without warning and that twenty of the crew were drowned and one died from injuries.

Quietly and deliberately all the forces of the administration are being concentrated on the task of mobilizing the man, money and industrial power of the United States to defend the rights of its citizens at sea.

The report of an offer of mediation by a European neutral to settle the controversy between the United States and Germany met with anything but an encouraging reception. It was stated that the United States has in no way changed its position, set forth months ago, when the Lusitania was destroyed, that the murder of American citizens cannot be arbitrated or mediated.

One Condition Only.

The report met with absolute silence so far as official announcements were concerned, but unofficially practically every authority in the administration said mediation would be flatly rejected unless accomplished by a complete abandonment of the unlawful killing of American citizens and the destruction of American shipping by Germany's submarines.

It was announced that the state department will send by its declaration made in reply to informal peace negotiations made by Swiss Minister Ritter, representing the German government. In replying to that proposal Secretary Lansing at the president's direction notified Germany that no negotiations of any nature would be undertaken while the ruthless submarine campaign continued.

The newest mediation proposal, it was understood in Washington, came through Sweden, recognized as the most pro-German in sentiment of all the European neutrals.

It was transmitted, according to the report, to Minister Ira Nelson Morris at Stockholm after German diplomats in Sweden had gone over the matter with the Swedish foreign office. It was understood that Germany evinced her willingness to accept the good offices of Sweden in negotiations with the United States.

Germany May Strike First.

The administration likewise failed to respond to seemingly authoritative reports that Germany was considering an immediate declaration of war. It was pointed out that with two weeks yet to pass before congress can take definite action on the German crisis Germany by an immediate declaration might gain an advantage by striking at once while the preparedness plans of this country were still uncompleted. The report received some credence, but failed to cause any undue excitement.

There is considerable anxiety over unofficial reports that misfortune had befallen the cruiser Des Moines, the gunboat Scorpion and the collier Cyclops in Turkish waters. A rumor that the Des Moines had been sunk prompted hurry up dispatches to Ambassador Elkus at Constantinople asking for information as to the little group of American warships.

They have been awaiting a safe conduct passage through the Mediterranean war zone to carry relief to a thousand American refugees at Beirut. The last report from Ambassador Elkus said the Turkish government had not yet replied to the request for a safe conduct. Neither the state or navy departments had any definite reports from the ships today.

Money For Entente.

The administration's plans for prosecuting hostilities with Germany if war comes, it was learned, include an a first step the immediate extension to the entente powers of the enormous financial resources of the United States. The length of time which would be necessary to place the United States in a position to lend effective military aid in Europe makes the possibility of the transportation of an American army to the front doubtful.

The entente powers have a sufficiency of men, but the ever increasing demands for money are being met with increasing difficulty. The Federal Reserve Board has already taken under consideration plans for placing the great financial power of the United States behind the entente powers.

Among these plans is an arrangement under which the United States would raise great sums by the sale of its own bonds to its people and lend the money to the entente powers on their securities.

It is believed by the reserve board that this plan would avoid many of the difficulties which would be encountered if an effort was made to sell foreign securities directly to the American people.

Diplomatic negotiations to sound out the neutral nations, particularly of South America, as to their position in the event of actual hostilities between the United States and Germany have been undertaken by the state department.

China With U. S.

It was stated that the department has been greatly encouraged by the sentiments expressed by representatives in Washington of South and Central American countries, in which German influence has been known to have been at work. Several of these countries have already signified their intention of supporting the United States to the best of their ability. The department was also encouraged by the position taken by China.

Ambassador Koo conferred with Secretary of State Lansing and later declared that the Chinese republic would follow close on the heels of the United States in dealing with Germany.

MORRIS FARMERS ORGANIZE.

Elect Delegates to County Council at Morristown Meeting.

Morristown, March 23. — The first quarterly meeting of the reorganized Morris county board of agriculture was held at the courthouse with about fifty men in attendance. All but one of the thirteen community committees recently organized were represented. The county board elected John Van Riper of Montville, J. W. De Baun of Pine Brook and Edwin Stickle of Rockaway Valley as delegates at large to the county council.

An executive committee was also chosen, consisting of George E. Felch of Florham Park, ex officio; Elber Rebont, Millington; Walter Garrabrant, Ralston; H. R. Hopping, Hanover; Fred Mooney, Succasunna; W. R. Neighbor, Middle Valley, and Louis Waxburg, Pine Brook. These men will have the direction of the county office of farm demonstration and will meet at regular intervals with the county demonstrator.

Randolph to Sell Two Schools.

Dover, March 23.—It was voted at the annual school meeting in Randolph township to dispose of the school building at Shongum and Wolfe's Corner because they are no longer needed by the district. Bids will be received by the board of education March 31 for the erection of a new building at Mine Hill.

What to Do for Itching Skins

There is usually immediate relief for skins itching, burning and disfigured by eczema, ringworm, or similar tormenting skin-troubles, in a warm bath with resinol soap and a simple application of resinol ointment. The soothing, healing resinol medication stops itching at once, and soon clears away all trace of eruption, even in severe and stubborn cases, unless the trouble is due to some serious internal disorder.

You need never hesitate to use resinol. It is a doctor's prescription that has been used by other physicians for twenty years in the treatment of skin affections. It contains absolutely nothing that could injure the tenderest skin. Every druggist sells resinol ointment and resinol soap. Resinol Soap soothes tender skins and helps to make poor complexions clear, fresh and velvety, because it contains this resinol prescription.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

BEN WELCH HERE MONDAY IN BURLESQUE

When Ben Welch's big show appears at the Plainfield Theatre Monday, March 26, matinee and night, the patrons of that theatre, as well as theatre-goers generally, will in all likelihood witness a performance of burlesque and vaudeville decidedly out of the ordinary.

From all accounts a performance has been arranged that is characterized by distinct originality and that appeals to those theatre-goers who enjoy lively, fun-spirited musical numbers and exhibitions of expert dancing of all kinds with a complete absence of coarseness and those objectionable elements that for so long have been given with this form of amusement.

Two one-act burlestas called "Love Arbor" and "The New Commander," with a long diversified program of vaudeville specialties constantly amusing and interested.

"DAUGHTER OF THE GODS" HERE MARCH 29, 30, 31

In "A Daughter of the Gods," the million dollar picture beautiful, produced by William Fox, and which will be presented at the Plainfield Theatre, March 29-30-31, matinee daily, you will find the very "pageant of enchanted song and beauty," as the poet John Ernest Warren recently expressed it.

The impressive grandeur and mystery of the sea have never before been so vividly and enduringly fixed upon the screen.

The Carribbean is shown throbbing in crystalline sapphire or surging in snowy might against the jagged shore. From it gleam, glistening white in the opulent sunlight, the rounded arms and shoulders of the 200 beautiful mermaids, the movements of whose silver scales star the sea with diamond flashes. These sea-maidens form the most fascinating and adventurous division of an army of 21,218 men, women and children which figured in this master production.

SON OF LEO TOLSTOY IN VAUDEVILLE

By United Press:

San Francisco, March 23.—Count Liya Tolstoy, son of the late Count Tolstoy, is scheduled to begin a try-out in vaudeville here day after tomorrow. If he is more successful in this than he was in his attempt to make a speech at Columbia University, he will receive $1,000 a week for forty weeks on the circuit.

He will have a try-out of one week to see how he "takes" with the vaudeville patrons. The row the Count had with Dr. Butler of Columbia over his socialistic arguments, which resulted in his being forbidden to appear at Columbia, is what got him the vaudeville engagement.

CONGRESSMEN SPEEDING BACK

Members Hurry to Capital For Extra Session.

SEEK REPUBLICAN LEADERS.

Leader Mann and Several Members Cruising in Caribbean Sea Are Being Hunted by Wireless—Partisan Fight Over Control of House Regarded as Unlikely During Special Session. Two Parties Tied With 214 Members Each.

Washington, March 23.—Congress is speeding back to Washington from every quarter of the country today. With only a few days before the gathering of the most momentous session of the national legislature in more than half a century, leaders of both political parties have realized that the preliminary work of preparing for organization of the house of representatives requires almost as complete an attendance of legislators as though congress was actually in session now.

Speaker Champ Clark arrived here this morning. Democratic Leader Claude Kitchin got here soon afterward. Republican Leader Mann, who with Representative McKinley of Illinois and other members of the house are the objects of a frantic search by wireless, are cruising "somewhere in the Carribean," and a hurry call has been sent out from the Republican camp to bring the commanders back to the colors.

Meanwhile partisan advantagement in the organization of the next house is not cutting quite the important figure it did before the international crisis became so acute. The two parties are equally balanced in the house, with 214 members each and five independent members, whose ultimate party affiliation no one is willing to guess.

The control of the house is in the balance. There will undoubtedly be a number of enforced absences from the April 2 roundup by reason of illness. In this the Democrats have the advantage, for their sick list is considerably smaller than that of the Republicans.

However, the opinion prevails that there will not be a bitter partisan fight for control. It is pointed out that no man or group of men can afford to assume the onus of having halted legislation through a political squabble.

U. S. RED CROSS READY.

Can Nurse 1,000,000 Wounded or Sick if Necessary.

New York, March 23.—The American Red Cross, as necessary to warfare as any arm of the service, is prepared to give expert nursing to a million men. This was announced at Red Cross headquarters here.

The statement said that arrangements had been made to care for all forces included in the mobilization plans of the war department.

The Red Cross has enrolled for active service 2,970 graduate nurses, it was stated, and more than 3,000 physicians and surgeons. Women numbering 4,450 have received Red Cross certificates in elementary hygiene and home care of the sick. Thus the total nursing force was estimated at 7,000.

Twenty-six base hospitals, each containing 500 beds, have been organized throughout the country at a cost of between $300,000 and $400,000. Twenty of the base hospitals are ready for service. These units would call for 1,250 nurses and 599 helpers.

BIG Y. M. C. A. GATHERING.

Camden District to Open Its County Convention Tonight.

Collingswood, March 23.—What is expected to be the biggest county convention ever held by the Y. M. C. A. in the Camden district will be convened here tonight at a banquet in the First Methodist Episcopal church. From then until Sunday night there will be a continuous round of activities for the 150 to 200 delegates who will come from a score of towns.

The banquet will be served by the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church. Previously the delegates will be assigned to homes throughout the town. At the dinner addresses will be made by William G. Moore, chairman of the county executive committee; Mayor Thomas W. Jack of Collingswood; State Senator and Judge Elect John B. Kates of Collingswood, George Hill of Greenville, Thomas W. Pearce president of the junior class, University of Pennsylvania, and John M. Clarke, president of the senior class.

TO RETURN MEXICAN ROADS.

Government Will Turn Back All Seized Lines.

Mexico City, March 23.—A general meeting of the heads of the railroads controlled by the Constitutionalist government will be held on April 1, according to report, to arrange for the return of the railroads taken over by the government under plea of military necessity.

The Mexico and Vera Cruz lines have already been returned to the stockholders, and the remaining railroads comprise virtually all of the other lines in Mexico.

Offers Hospital to U. S.

Dover, March 23.—By a unanimous vote the board of trustees of the Dover General hospital offered to turn over to the government in case of war the use of the hospital building, together with the services of the medical and corps of nurses of same.

Masonic Head In Hospital.

Paterson, March 23.—William D. Meakle, grand master of New Jersey Masonry, was operated on at the Paterson General hospital for intestinal trouble. He is reported to be resting comfortably.

RAILROADS PLEAD FOR HIGHER RATES

Urge Increased Cost Under Adamson Law.

Washington, March 23.—A committee of railroad executives told the Interstate Commerce Commission that the railroads had been brought to face a serious situation through the greatly increased cost of operation due to the Adamson eight hour law and rapidly declining net earnings. They urged the commission to authorize the proposed advance in freight rates for transporting bituminous coal as a partial solution of the problem.

The executives of the seven largest carriers of bituminous coal were represented. Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, was the chief spokesman. He told the committee that the supreme court's decision upholding the constitutionality of the Adamson act would cost the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburgh $9,000,000 in increase of wages, while pay adjustments recently made would add $4,800,000 more, and other additions to the cost burdens of the road within the last few months, due in great part to the high cost of materials because of war conditions, would swell the expenses of the Pennsylvania in the territory named by $20,300,000.

The hearing was given by the suspension board of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

On the ground that the necessity for more adequate revenues was immediate, the railway executives asked that the usual suspension orders be omitted so that the new rates could become effective as promptly as possible. It was indicated that this action was the first step in a general movement to revise freight rates in order that the carriers may be able to meet the increased burdens imposed upon them and obtain the additional capital required if they are to continue to perform their duties to the public.

FAMOUS RAIDER BACK.

Moewe Returns After Taking Twenty-seven Prizes In South Atlantic.

Berlin, March 23.—The Moewe is home again. For the second time within a few days more than a year this news thrilled the people of Germany. It came in a concise admiralty statement, which gives few details beyond these two facts:

That it was the Moewe that terrorized shipping in South Atlantic waters last January.

That she "bagged" twenty-two steamers and five sailing ships.

The famous raider was under the same commander who a year ago captured or sank fifteen vessels, among them the Appam, sent as a prize to Newport News. He is Count Dolina-Schlodien.

WANTS LOYAL TEACHERS.

Grace Strachan Urges Legislators to Oust All Aliens.

Albany, N. Y., March 23.—Because some of the teachers in the public schools of New York city have refused to sign a paper pledging their loyalty to the United States government, Miss Grace Strachan, a district superintendent and head of the Baldwin Teachers' association, would have the legislature enact a law requiring schoolteachers in the state to be naturalized citizens.

According to Miss Strachan, the nonsigners gave as their reason the contention that such a petition was an insult, since it seemed to cast doubt on their loyalty to the United States.

COURIER-NEWS WANT ADS BRING QUICK RESULTS

TO THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD:

WE, the undersigned, members of the RETAIL ICE DEALERS' CREDIT ASSOCIATION, take this method of advising our patrons and the general public that beginning April 1st, 1917, we will place in operation a new system of ice delivery to replace the present card system which has proven unsatisfactory to both the consumer and merchant, because of the acknowledged frequency of errors.

The new system is not an experiment. It has been in successful operation in many of the large cities of the country and has proven to be of great benefit to consumer and merchant alike.

The Ice Association of America for the past few years has been making a careful study of the various systems of operating the retail ice business, and has reached the conclusion that the coupon system is by far the best. This system we propose to introduce here. It is generally acknowledged that in no other business is the merchant so helpless to safeguard the interests of his customers, but we do not feel that the responsibility rests with our men but with the merchant for having a faulty system. We therefore respectfully ask your co-operation. We want your confidence and wish to see that you get what you pay for.

Therefore, to keep the retail price of ice at the lowest possible figure, we will put this new plan into operation on April 1st. This method will individualize each delivery of ice and the transaction will close after the driver receives the coupons. If you do not expect to be at home when the ice man comes, leave coupons for the amount of ice desired, for no ice will be delivered unless coupons are received for same. No ice will be sold for cash.

Coupon books of denominations of 100, 500, 1,000 and 2,000 pounds will be furnished according to the amount desired by each customer. When the book is delivered the customer will be required to sign the receipt blank as evidence of its possession, and give it to the driver who will return it to the office. Credit for coupon books will be given to those customers whose credit has been established with their merchant. One hundred pound books will be sold for cash only. All unused coupons will be redeemed (if paid for) at the office of the company issuing the book. If not paid for, credit will be given your account. Remember, the driver will not sell ice for cash, but Coupons Only.

If you do not understand the system do not condemn it, but ask your dealer to explain it to you.

MRS. SPERRY IS 96 YEARS OLD

Aged Borough Woman Celebrates Event at Home of Daughter, Mrs. Stevens

Mrs. Lois Sperry, one of the best known residents in this vicinity has completed another milestone in her long and busy life, and today she is quietly celebrating the ninety-sixth anniversary of her birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edmund P. Stevens, on Grandview avenue, the borough. According to the annual custom Mrs. Sperry is receiving cards letters and telegrams of congratulation. During the day many friends and neighbors called to extend their best wishes to the aged woman and she was also the recipient of a number of floral gifts.

Although well advanced in years, Mrs. Sperry fortunately is in possession of all her faculties. One of her favorite occupations is that of hemming napkins, in which she takes special pride. She keeps in close touch with current events and reads the daily newspapers and the latest books with a keen interest.

There is nothing that seems to disturb Mrs. Sperry in following her daily routine. She is patient, always contented, and apparently able to adapt herself to every condition that arises in the household, and with it all gives evidence of a strong Christian character. Owing to uncertain weather conditions she has not been able to attend church regularly this past winter. Her last visit to Grace Methodist Church, of which she is the oldest member, was on the occasion of its twenty-fifth anniversary. She enjoyed one of the sermons with much delight and was greeted cordially by those who attended the service that day. Recently her many activities have of necessity been confined to her home.

The happy event in Mrs. Sperry's life will be marked this evening by a family dinner party. Among the guests will be Mrs. Rose Hayes, of Passaic, inventor of Miss Minnie Moore, of New York, a grand-niece, in addition to the members of her immediate family. Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Burton, son-in-law and daughter of Mrs. Stevens, who are now living at Ottsville, N. Y., will not be able to attend, owing to the distance from Plainfield. It has been their custom to join in the annual celebration, making it of double significance, inasmuch as today is Mr. Burton's birthday also.

Mrs. Sperry, whose maiden name was Lois Morton Johnson, was born at Annsville, Oneida county, N. Y., March 24, 1821. Early in life she married Anson W. Sperry at Constantia, N. Y., at which place the couple lived for a time. Later they resided at Rome and Oswego, N. Y. Her husband died many years ago, and for the past thirty years Mrs. Sperry has lived with her daughter. She is the last surviving one of thirteen children. Frequently she becomes reminiscent and delights to recall interesting events of the early days when she was a child and young woman, and she never fails to note the difference in everything since those days.

HUMAN SIDE OF TRENCH WAR

Captain Ian Hay Beith Addressed Big Audience Under National Special Aid

A most enthusiastic audience crowded the Plainfield High School auditorium last night, on the occasion of the address by Captain Ian Hay Beith, who was one of Kitchener's first hundred thousand, known as "K-1," who went from England to France in the beginning of the present war.

Captain Beith came here under the auspices of the Plainfield and North Plainfield Chapter of the National Special Aid Society. He was introduced to the audience by the vice president of the chapter, Mrs. Allan Cowperthwaite, in a most gracious manner, and with a brief address, full of the genuine spirit for service, in which she expressed the hope that all local women would do their little bit for the cause that touches the human heart so closely at this time.

The speaker told his story in a conversational way, upon the "Human Side of Trench Warfare," showing that there is a humorous side even of somber pictures of a great carnage. He has a faculty of turning his story in a way that inspires rather than depresses his hearers.

A synopsis of his address was this:

The first hundred thousand, raised by Kitchener, and known as "K-1," who poured into Belgium to check the Prussian invasion until the Allies could get ready for war. That hundred thousand was practically exterminated.

DR. STRONG TO SPEAK FOR JEWISH RELIEF

Will Address the Meeting in Columbus Auditorium on April 3d

Dr. Philip B. Strong, of the First Baptist Church, has consented to speak at the mass meeting of the Jewish Relief Committee, at which Rabbi Wise, of New York, will be the principal speaker, in Columbus Auditorium, April 3.

Judge Newcorn, chairman of the local relief committee, stated this morning that although letters soliciting subscriptions were sent out on Tuesday night, a generous response has been made by many citizens, and the hope of raising $10,000 here is now stronger than ever before.

"When one reflects upon the sad picture of men, women and children driven from their homes, deprived of their all, and compelled to become public charges in strange lands, the victims of a condition in the making of which they had no part, it is bound to appeal to every humane impulse, and to prompt the giving of arms.

"Words cannot describe the destitution that has been forced upon the Jewish refugees in Russia, France and Austria. I sincerely hope that we shall be able to make a satisfactory return from this city, whose reputation for charity and a willingness to aid a worthy cause is far famed."

Any one desiring to contribute to this worthy cause may send checks to Herman Schwed, treasurer of the committee.

PLEASING PROGRAM AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Songs of Thirty Years Ago Depicted in Tableaux and Pantomimes

A supper and entertainment was held last night under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. Church and it was a very successful affair both in attendance and socially. At the supper, held at six o'clock, 180 were at table.

The entertainment in Vincent chapel consisted of tableaux depicting the "Spirit of '76." The "Ten Little Indians" pantomime was portrayed by children, as Mrs. A. G. Wadley sang the selection. Songs of thirty years ago were rendered and illustrated in tableaux. The program closed with tableaux of "States," with the Goddess of Liberty in the background. The entire assemblage sang "America."

The vocal selections included: "My Old Kentucky Home," Mrs. McDonald; "The Whistling Regiment," Russell Huff; "In Old Madrid," Mrs. A. S. Olmsted; The Lorelei, Miss Irma Good; "The Love of Hiawatha," Mrs. Meredith, and "Rock of Ages" by Mr. Cole, of the church choir.

The committee in charge of the supper included, Mrs. Nelson Y. Hull, Mrs. Harry Gee, Mrs. Camp, Mrs. D. S. Dunavan, Mrs. A. E. Crone, Mrs. C. M. Anderson and Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Mathew Ewart was the chairman of the entertainment committee who drilled the children and otherwise arranged the program.

The society will realize a goodly sum for the affair.

C. A. STEINER DIES IN WEST

Former Local Resident Passes Away at Banning, Cal.—Funeral Here

Word of the death of Carl Albert Steiner, age 30 years, a former resident of this city, was received here yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Steiner, of Jackson avenue, North Plainfield. He died Thursday night at Banning, Cal., where he had been under treatment for the past month for throat trouble. With him at the time of his death were his wife, who was formerly Miss Emily Winant, of this city, and their little daughter.

Mr. Steiner, who had for many years been a valued employe of the Nice-Bement-Pond Tool Company in this city, went West last year to represent the firm in Los Angeles. While in the East Mr. Steiner had been subject to throat trouble and was advised to go to California. The news of his death came as a great shock to his relatives and friends in this community.

The deceased was a native of this city. Up to a few years ago he was prominently known in athletic circles, taking part in many of the Y. M. C. A. events. He was a member of the Congregational church, this city, and a young man of exemplary habits.

Besides his wife and daughter, he leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Steiner, a sister, Miss Anna M. Steiner, and a brother, C. R. Steiner. The body will be brought here for funeral and interment.

SENT APPEALS FOR JEWISH WAR RELIEF

Contributions and Letters of Sympathy Received in Support of Movement

The work of sending out appeals soliciting funds for the Jewish war relief has been finally completed, the last batch of letters having been posted yesterday. Although the first batch was not mailed until Wednesday night, the responses were being received by Herman Schwed, treasurer, Thursday morning.

With the contributions numerous letters of sympathy have been received supporting the movement to relieve the deplorable condition among the Jewish sufferers of the war, in Russia, Galicia, and Roumania.

Among the letters received this morning by Mr. Schwed was one from Father B. M. Bogan, enclosing a check in which he says:

"My dear Mr. Schwed:

"I thank you for the opportunity to contribute even a little to the relief work you have on hand, for the destitute war victims, and their children.

"Sincerely yours

"B. M. Bogan."

One from Rev. Dr. Cortlandus Schenck, pastor emeritus of Trinity Reformed church, encloses a check, with the words:

"Given in much sympathy for the sufferers. My only regret is that I am not able to make it more."

The committee is highly gratified with the liberality shown by the citizens of Plainfield, and feels encouraged in the campaign, to raise $10,000 in this city, as its share toward the $10,000,000 1917 campaign fund.

The Disposal of 85,000 Old Negatives

Parisen Photo Studio, of 107 East Front street, have announced that they will dispose of all their negatives taken by the late Mr. Langhorne for the past 40 years by the first of April. Their reason for doing this is the fact that they have no more room for further storage of negatives and in order to make room for their new plates they are forced to do away with the old ones. Any one interested and wishing to reserve any of these negatives will kindly call, write or phone. Telephone 1798.—Adv.

CHURCH SOCIETY 25 YEARS OLD

Ladies' Aid Society of Borough Church Held Birthday Party

The birthday party given last night by the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace M. E. church, North Plainfield, was a most decided success and largely attended. It was the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the society, and a very appropriate program was carried out.

A feature was the presentation of a beautiful bouquet of flowers to its first president, Mrs. Edmund Stevens, and a similar presentation to its present president, Mrs. J. S. Darby. The large birthday cake of the society, containing twenty-five candles, was sent to the home of its oldest member, Mrs. Sperry, who is today celebarting her ninety-sixth birthday.

The program last night consisted of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and readings. W. J. Conroy gave a complete history of the society's twenty-five years of existence, and there were violin solos by Mr. Shapiro, vocal solos by Miss Harris, Mr. Wallace and Mrs. Bracewell and readings by the pastor, the Rev. C. S. Gillespie. The ladies' quartet of the choir sang selections. A social hour closed the pleasant occasion.

About $50 was realized from the miniature banks contributed by the members, each giving a penny for each birthday.

Y. M. H. A. FUND GETS A BOOST

Over $500 Contributed Yesterday by Local Citizens

The building fund of the Young Men's Hebrew Association was enriched to the extent of over $500 yesterday as the result of the work of a small committee of men who called on some of the leading citizens in Plainfield. The largest contributions were from Judge William Newcorn, who contributed $100; Symon Hirsch, $100; J. Gentleman, $50; Penn & Bernstein, $50; Jacob Sklarew, $25; McDonough Bros., $25; J. H. Case, $25; Robert Heyman, $25; Louis Freger, $25; and a number of other smaller donations.

Mayor Calkins, who sent his contribution several months ago, yesterday sent a Chairman Harvey Rothberg, the following letter: "I am very glad indeed to assure you that I regard the efforts of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, to build up a community center for young men, as a very worthy endeavor and I am sure that the Jewish element in Plainfield will very generously rally to the support of such a project. Opportunities for recreation and social intercourse should be created for young men under surroundings which will stimulate honest manhood and good citizenship. I am sure that such objects are to be advanced through activities like the Young Men's Hebrew Association, Y. M. C. A. and other like agencies."

Hard work to raise the necessary funds is being done by Harry Dreier, Samuel Schwartz, Wm. Augenblick, Samuel H. Schwartz and Benjamin J. Kline, all of whom gave up all day yesterday for that purpose.

Between these engagements the Bishop, instead of resting, most generously makes a visit to Plainfield and will address two congregations at Grace church—one at 10.30 in the morning and the other at 8 o'clock in the evening. Bishop Woodcock has many friends when here a year ago, and with them other members of the community will unite in this unusual privilege. There will be seats for all.

MYSTERIOUS MANOEUVRING OFF THE MASSACHUSETTS COAST

By United Press:

New Bedford, March 24.—Mysterious manoeuvring by the water-front police, and investigations of Brandt's Island and "No-Man's Land" today, started rumors that a German submarine base had been found off the coast. Reports of strange vessels, told by fishermen, started police on the search.

PREPARATIONS FOR WAR ARE UNDER WAY

By United Press:

Washington, March 24.—With characteristic American business instinct the administration today is building up its "war corporation" to turn out a finished product designed to match the best in the world.

The Council of National Defense met here today to discuss practical handling of war measures that were discussed yesterday in the cabinet. Its experts will constitute the Government's advisory board as soon as war is announced by Congress. In the meantime the administration is sounding a warning to the people of the nation that preparations must be made for the possibility of a long and bitter war.

It is part of a "preparedness program" of the administration to "prepare" the people to a full realization of what sacrifices they must be ready to make; to impress a sober realization upon all citizens of the magnitude of the task that confronts the nation; to displace a careless optimism with a studious knowledge of what is ahead.

Part of this preparation is in advance of the demand to be made soon by the Government for men, money, labor and material, on a scale unprecedented in the nation's history.

BRAND WHITLOCK IS WITHDRAWN FROM BELGIUM

By United Press:

Washington, March 24.—Brand Whitlock has been withdrawn as minister to Belgium. This was announced today and also the statement that the United States has withdrawn from Belgian relief work, which has been turned over to Holland and other nations.

The Whitlock withdrawal was taken as a forerunner of actual war. For some time the department has debated giving up the relief work and the second sinking of several relief ships by German submarines has discouraged further attempts to carry on relief work in American channels.

MILITIA GUARDING MASSACHUSETTS SHIP PLANTS

By United Press:

Washington, March 24.—Two regiments of Massachusetts militia were called out to guard the Fore River ship-building plants at Quincy and other plants in the State under arrangements made by Secretary of War Baker and Governor McCall.

Reports came from Genera Leonard Wood, commanding the Eastern Department, covering the Massachusetts situation, and approving the guard idea. On the strength of this Secretary Baker agreed to the call.

The militiamen will guard Government arsenals, munition plants and shipyards where much Government construction is under way.

TO THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD:

WE, the undersigned, members of the RETAIL ICE DEALERS' CREDIT ASSOCIATION, take this method of advising our patrons and the general public that beginning April 1st, 1917, we will place in operation a new system of ice delivery to replace the present card system which has proven unsatisfactory to both the consumer and merchant, because of the acknowledged frequency of errors.

The new system is not an experiment. It has been in successful operation in many of the large cities of the country and has proven to be of great benefit to consumer and merchant alike.

The Ice Association of America for the past few years has been making a careful study of the various systems of operating the retail ice business, and has reached the conclusion that the coupon system is by far the best. This system we propose to introduce here. It is generally acknowledged that in no other business is the merchant so helpless to safeguard the interests of his customers, but we do not feel that the responsibility rests with our men but with the merchant for having a faulty system. We therefore respectfully ask your co-operation. We want your confidence and wish to see that you get what you pay for.

Therefore, to keep the retail price of ice at the lowest possible figure, we will put this new plan into operation on April 1st. This method will individualize each delivery of ice and the transaction will close after the driver receives the coupons. If you do not expect to be at home when the ice man comes, leave coupons for the amount of ice desired, for no ice will be delivered unless coupons are received for same. No ice will be sold for cash.

Coupon books of denominations of 100, 500, 1,000 and 2,000 pounds will be furnished according to the amount desired by each customer. When the book is delivered the customer will be required to sign the receipt blank as evidence of its possession, and give it to the driver who will return it to the office. Credit for coupon books will be given to those customers whose credit has been established with their merchant. One hundred pound books will be sold for cash only. All unused coupons will be redeemed (if paid for) at the office of the company issuing the book. If not paid for, credit will be given your account. Remember, the driver will not sell ice for cash, but Coupons Only.

If you do not understand the system do not condemn it, but ask your dealer to explain it to you.

VALVE-IN-HEAD Buick MOTOR CARS

THE BIGGEST THING ABOUT THIS FOUR

Is the Buick "Valve in Head" Motor

Very little actual argument springs from price. The most obvious, and yet the most erroneous, way to sell these new four-cylinder model Buicks would be to call attention to their low cost. In reality, it is the last reason in the world why you should buy a Buick, although a reason that has its appeal to a great many people. The best reason in the world why you should buy it is because it has a Buick Valve-in-Head Motor.

SOME GOOD ADVICE

Strengthened by Plainfield Experience.

Kidney disease is too dangerous to neglect. At the first sign of backache, headache, dizziness or urinary disorders, you should give the weakened kidneys prompt attention. Eat little meat, take things easier and use a reliable kidney tonic. There's no other kidney medicine so well recommended as Doan's Kidney Pills. Plainfield people rely on them. Here's one of the many statements from Plainfield people:

John B. Winans, 324 W. Second St., Plainfield, says: "Being exposed to all kinds of rough weather, my kidneys became disordered. I felt a constant, dull ache in the small of my back. When I stooped or tried to lift anything the least bit heavy, I got sharp pains across my kidneys. I got no relief from medicines until I took Doan's Kidney Pills. I am pleased to say that short use made a permanent cure."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Winans had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Prickitt and Ralph B. Ambo, strong for compulsory vaccination, received 157 votes to eighty cast for R. H. Milton and Robert Sherlock, who were anti-vaccination advocates. The women, who could only vote on the appropriations, attended in large numbers and worked for the vaccination candidates.

SEN. JAMES E. MARTINE HOME FOR A FEW DAYS

United States Senator James E. Martine is home for a few days but will return to Washington early next week and remain there until May. He happened to mention this morning that the house in which he resides here on Cedar Brook road, is two hundred years old this year.

Replying to a rumor that he had thought of making his future residence in another State, Mr. Martine said that such a report was not only without foundation but was absurd. His interests and friendships are bound up in New Jersey.

Asked as to the war Mr. Martine said:

"You ask me what I have to say regarding war? I hate the thought of war, but if war is to come, and it looks as though it would come, then as Americans, we must and will be a unit on the side of our country and in support of the President. There can be no middle ground in such a crisis.

"I have no doubt of the ultimate result."

Will pay for the chance to heal Catarrh

After an experience of 25 years, during which time 50 million Americans have used Kondon's Catarrhal Jelly, the manufacturers of this remedy feel so sure that it will relieve catarrh — that they offer to pay for a chance to prove its benefit to any catarrhal sufferer. They announce that any resident of this community can go to almost any drug store and get a complimentary trial can at the expense of the manufacturers. If the druggist has no gratuitous packages, the person may buy a 25 cent tube with the unqualified understanding that if that first tube does not do that person more than a dollar's worth of good, he or she can get their quarter back from either the druggist, or the Kondon Company at Minneapolis. Over 35,000 druggists know Kondon's Catarrhal Jelly is effective, harmless, clean and pleasant to apply—and they know the Kondon people will gladly live up to this offer—"quarter back if not worth a dollar." "BONE DRY" VOTE BY EAST ORANGE G. O. P.

Claiming that sentiment in East Orange exhibits a trend toward local option, and believing that the question will be a big issue in the coming campaign, twenty-three elected members of the Republican executive committee of that city have passed a resolution favoring "bone dry" prohibition for the entire State.

The Republican party, they contend, is to champion the cause and eventually be instrumental in putting through the necessary legislation. Two members of the committee were absent when the resolution was put to a vote, but it is contended that the sentiment is unanimous.

SOME BARBARISM!

The outrages committed by the retreating Prussians in the past week as they were being driven from their long-sustained battle front in France seem to indicate that the retreat is a real one and not a ruse, which was at first suggested, when news of the rout became known. That the retreat is a real one is indicated by the wanton destruction of property in every town that they passed through. All food they could lay hands on was taken, homes were laid in ruins, growing fruit destroyed by cutting the trees, gardens were ruined, shade trees cut half through, so as to fall when most expected, and as an evidence of the most vicious vandalism the wells were poisoned or defiled so that non-combatants, helpless women and children in the desolated sections are without shelter, food or water. Even supplies sent the starving people by the American and Spanish relief societies have been taken. To add to the satanic exhibition of malice toward the innocent and helpless, fifty girls of the ages from sixteen to twenty years were carried off by the retreating Teutons. Not an instance of this banditry was necessary as a war measure and was only an exhibition of barbarism that was hardly expected from a people who pride themselves on their "kultur."

What you don't know DOES hurt you—if you drink it.

The one thing you can't afford not to know about is the milk you give your children.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

The Kenyon Gardens

To the Editor of the Courier-News:

The New York Times or March 20 had a very good editorial called "Drive Like Adam," in which it said that women everywhere should give up their club meetings, suffrage and anti-suffrage movements, etc., and start planting home gardens.

I took great pride in writing to the Times and telling him about our own Kenyon Gardens' Association, which had 135 plots (8 by 12 feet each) in cultivation last year and which, in spite of the prevailing epidemic, registered 2,987 days of attendance. This is largely a commuting community and the man of the house must hurry away so early and return so late that he hasn't much time for "delving like Adam."

So in these days of peace, before the fathers are called upon to defend their homes and their country, the children should be taught to do their part in providing for the needs of the home. It is just this that we are trying to do at the Kenyon Gardens. There are plots of their very own waiting for all the children, tools to use, which would be expensive if bought; seeds, plants, etc., and skilled hands to show them how. We should be very glad to know that we are among the pioneers of such a sensible healthful movement.

PLAINFIELD YOUTH CENSURED BY COURT

Severely rebuking Frank McCarthy, a Plainfield youth arraigned in the Court of Quarter Sessions at Elizabeth yesterday afternoon for stealing thirty cents from the store of Sylvester, Sharkey, Judge Connolly threatened the youth with a State prison term. He finally imposed a six-months' jail sentence.

McCarthy has been in the State Home for Boys. His counsel stated that his mother was ill, and that bad company was responsible for his plight.

Leonce A. Texier, arraigned on a charge of desertion from his wife in Plainfield, pleaded not guilty and was admitted to bail. He will be tried during the May term.

Bail for Patrick J. Martin, charged with defrauding his partner in Plainfield, was reduced from $500 to $300.

MRS. C. W. THOMAE IS CHOSEN HISTORIAN

Discussions were had preparatory to the convening of the continental congress of the national association, which will be held in Washington from April 15 to 22.

Public Library Notes

A GROUP OF WESTERN STORIES. Part 2.

Knibbs—Overland Red; a romance of the Moonstone Canoe trail.

"The hero of this California story is a combination of tramp, cowboy, prospector and philosopher. The scene of action alternates between the ranch and the desert canon, where Red, having annexed a new partner, Billy Winthrop, from the East, prospects for gold."

Lockhart—Man from Bitter Roots.

"The scene of this story lies within the unconquered mountain and desert wilderness of the far Southwest. This is a powerful and very human story. Men will read it with keen appreciation. The author knows every detail of mining life and writes of it with a minuteness of detail and a freshness of phrase that are unusual."

Lynn—Stepdaughter of the Prairie.

"The conditions of which Miss Lynn writes have long since departed. They had their day and exercised an influence in the making of the nation that is hardly estimated at its true value. Miss Lynn knows thoroughly the details of this vanished past, and the reader will lay the book down when the closing page is finished with a murmur of thankfulness for such a delightful study of an age that is no more."

Mulford—Bar-20 Days.

"The scene is laid in the cattle country of the Southwest, and among the incidents that furnish thrills are the capture of a bandit, a fight with Indians and a filibustering ship's shanghaiing of two cowpunchers."

Mulford—Coming of Cassidy, and the Others.

"The scene is the Southwest in the seventies and eighties. The stories 'go' with vitality and vigor. They are among the best of their kind, reminding one of Lincoln's immortal dictum: 'For those who like this sort of thing, this is just the sort of thing they will like.'"

Mulford—The Orphan.

"With the plains as a habitat, clumps of chaparral to hide in, cowboys to hunt him down, and Apache bands to match his deadly aim, the Orphan, outlaw and terror of Ford's Station, is the fascinating hero of this tale."

Parker—Northern Lights.

"They are tales of Canadian life, and fall into two groups; the first five are reminiscent of 'border days and deeds,' of days the author says, 'before the great railroads were built.' The remaining stories cover the period passed since the Royal Northwest Mounted Police and the Pullman car first startled the pioneer, and sent him into the land of the farther north or drew him into the quiet circle of civic routine and humdrum occupation."

Parrish—Bob Hampton of Placer.

"The Sioux uprising in 1676 furnishes the main incidents for this story of Wyoming and Montana. It is one of the good Western stories—not especially literary, but thoroughly interesting, and excellent in plot and character."

Parrish—Feith of the Border.

"A young Confederate captain whose family and fortune have been swept away by the war turns for consolation to the life of the border, where he meets with a series of strange happenings. The life of the frontier is drawn in vivid fashion and the reader eagerly follows the gallant hero until he finally unravels the plot, slays the villain and wins the girl he loves. The Western atmosphere is well presented."

Porter—Heart of the West.

Raymond—Camp and Cabin; sketches of life and travel in the west.

Royle—Silent Call.

"A sequel to 'The Squaw man.' The hero is the squaw man's son, the child of an Englishman and an Indian woman. The author has set forth admirably the serious side of attempting to change the Indian into something non-Indian through the influence of alien environment."

Royle—Squaw man.

QUEEN WRITES PRINCE OF WALES RELIEF SOCIETY

At a business meeting held Thursday it was decided that the "United States of America and Prince of Wales Relief Commission, N. Y. Branch," should hold an extra meeting earh week in order to accomplish the amount of work which is necessary.

Beginning next Tuesday, March 27, there will be a supplementary meeting each week at Grace church parish house from 10 to 12 m. The regular Thursday meetings will continue as usual; all members are asked to attend one or both of the sessions if possible.

The American branch of this work is assuming interesting proportions and the European branch has just received a graceful letter of acknowledgment and thanks from Lady Dawson, acting honorary secretary to Her Majesty Queen Mary. A short quotation might be of interest:

"The Queen would like her special thanks to be conveyed to the 'U. S. A. and Prince of Wales Relief Committee New Jersey Branch,' who have made such splendid contributions and so many useful articles for Her Majesty's Guild. Her Majesty appreciates their help and everything is a great joy to us. Several of your cases have already gone off to the front hospitals. We always leave your tickets on the things and we so enjoy saying how wonderful it is to think that friends in America are working and thinking of us."

OLD ITALIAN MUSIC AT CRESCENT AVE. CHURCH

At the musical service tomorrow afternoon at 4.45 o'clock, selections from works of old Italian masters will be given in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. The scores have been collected from various sources. One, "Adoremus," by Rossalli, was brought from abroad by the organist, Dr. E. Mettler Davis. It is still written in the old clef.

Most of this old music was without accompaniments, but these have been added and changed from time to time, but some of the original simplicity has been preserved. The music is primarily devotional and more churchly than that of the later schools.

The numbers to be given are as follows: "Adoremus Te," 1520; "Ave Maria," by Arcadelt, 1500; "Blessed Jesus," from "Stabat Mater," Bergolese, 1730; "Like as the Hart," Palestrina, 1514-1594; "Prayer," Cherubini, 1760-1842; "O Jesus Come to Me," "Cherubini;" "O Lord, Have Mercy," Scarlatella, 1645; "Glory to God," Pergolesi, 1710-1736.

The organ recital will be also from the old Italian numbers from Scarbelli and Corelli being played.

These musical services are open to the public and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

"FARMING IN THE WEST" IN PICTURES AND STORY

"Farming in the West" was the subject of an interesting illustrated lectûre given by J. C. Evans, of this city, at the meeting of Perseverance Lodge, No. 102, Knights of Pythias, last night. Mr. Evans exhibited about fifty slides comparing the past and present methods of farming in the West. He pictured Kansas, his native State, where farming is conducted on a gigantic scale, and showed the modern methods employed.

Mr. Evans referred to prohibition conditions in Kansas, stating that in twenty-eight counties of the State there is not a single person in the poor house. This would not have been possible during former days when liquor was sold throughout the State.

Many interesting facts were given regarding the raising of alfalfa, which today is in greater demand than hay. Mr. Evans said that it is possible to raise several crops of alfalfa a year netting large incomes for the farmers of the State.

During the evening an orchestra comprising Miss Harriet Higgins, Robert Dewey, Gordon Moy and Carl Evans entertained the gathering with an attractive program of music.

Sheriff Otto and the jail authorities at Elizabeth faced a hard job Thursday when Sarah Scott, of this city, refused to dress for a trip to the Women's Home at Clinton, where Judge Connolly sentenced her because of her pleas of non visit to a serious charge in the Court of Special Sessions, last Friday. Four hours of storming, pleading, arguing, threatening, assuring were required before she would put on her clothes.

Mrs. Scott insisted, that she be permitted to see her youngest boy before she leave for the jail. Several hours of hunting by Constable Thomas J. Carey showed that the boy was at work on a farm in the southern part of the State. Assured that her boy would be brought to her at the home, Mrs. Scott finally slipped on her clothes and made the trip.

Lew Kelly and most of the members of the original cast will return to the Columbia theatre the week commencing Monday afternoon, March 26, in "Hello, New York," the two-act burlesque, written by Junie McCree, that occupied the stage of Lew's theatre which has been remodeled. Lon Hascall and James Tenbrooke will repeat their amusing performances, and Nettie Nelson will again be seen in the leading female role. The O'Brien brothers will offer their sensational acrobatic specialty and Earl and Marie Gates will offer their lively singing and dancing turn.

Others in the cast are Colle Lorella, Kitty Garner and Thomas Bell. The lavish scenic and costume equipment that since this producer's eminence above any other that has been seen in the burlesque stage has been refashioned in every detail.

At the Strand

The widely-heralded motion picture debut of George M. Cohan takes place at the Strand Theatre, "Broadway Jones," his greatest stage success, affords him his initial screen vehicle in which he is supported by an excellent cast including Marguerite Snow, Russell Bassett, Crawford Kent and Ida Darling. As a distributor of mirth and general good cheer, it is safe to say that Mr. Cohan has no equal on the stage today. He is quite the most dominant, popular and conspicuous figure we have had in the amusement field for a decade. Victor Moore, who some years ago appeared in one of Mr. Cohan's plays, is also on the Strand bill as the star of a new comedy entitled "Rough and Ready Uncle." A new chapter of Raymond L. Ditmar's "Living Book of Nature" and the Strand Topical Review will also be shown.

A musical program of exceptional strength is announced. L. Del Orio de Zarate, a Spanish tenor, who is said to be the possessor of a most beautiful voice, will make his American debut. The number selected for the occasion is "Celeste Aida" from Verdi's "Aida." Grace Hoffman, the talented Columbia soprano, will sing Strauss' "Voce Di Primavera." Other soloists to be heard are Arthur Depew and Ralph Brigham.

Chauncey Olcott to Return in "Paddy Whack"

Chauncey Olcott, a star whose popularity is so established that neither years or rival competitors seem to have the slightest effect on it, will be the attraction at the Broad Street Theatre, Newark, for one week commencing next Monday night.

Mr. Olcott will bring back the play he presented two years ago, "The Heart of Paddy Whack," a delightful romance by Rachel Crothers, the scenes of which are laid in Ireland about the year 1820.

In "The Heart of Paddy Whack" Mr. Olcott plays the role of a well-to-do Irish gentleman in a rural town, a bachelor known as "Paddy Whack," because his small ward has given him this cheerful title. But the ward has been away to college and has grown into a winsome and saucy young maid who upsets her guardian's heart and puts strange notions of love into his head, whereupon Dennis O'Malley, the guardian, straightway sets about arranging a marriage for his charge and plans to put duty before self-interest and marry her to another man. But pretty "Mona" and fate take a hand, and out of this comes a romance full of sentiment, and brimming over with humor.

Mr. Olcott's songs, as may be expected, will be one of the important features of the performance, and among the numbers he will introduce are: "A Little Bit of Heaven," "Irish Eyes of Love," "The Broth of a Boy," and "Who Knows."

PERFECTING PARTS FOR COMIC OPERA

"The Land of Mystery," the new opera, which is to be given by the Elks under the direction of the composer, Robert P. Skilling, is already assuming definite form. In spite of its vast proportions, with a cast of 400 people, the music, both for individuals and for ensemble, is thoroughly perfected, and the stage parts in the hands of various local people, are also learned. The remaining time will be devoted to the stage action of the opera, with its comedy and picturesque evolutions and startling mechanical effects.

The scene of "The Land of Mystery" is in India, and special scenery has been built and painted for it. The whole production will be costumed in all the gorgeousness of that mystical land. Many think the music of the new opera superior to that of "The Mystic Rose," which made such an impression last year, and the composer inclines to this view also.

The principals rehearsed last evening, and are called again for Monday night at 8 o'clock, and the entire company will rehearse the stage action with the singing on Tuesday night.

An interesting part of the first act of the opera is "The Dance of the Nautchee," ten girls in highly plutyesque costumes who dance according to the Hindu fashion, under the direction of the priest of the Temple of Madura. Those assigned to this are: The Misses Irma Wahdorf, Elizabeth Hilipot, Miss Nellson, Zaira Brancati, Ethel Runyon, Lillian Ball, Ethel Hillpot, Edith Mantz, Ethel Mantz, Gertrude Bowlby. The Nautch girls are to be photographed today at 4 p. m., and these pictures with many others will soon be exhibited.

Another special set, entwined into the plot of the opera, is called "The Chums." These are also young women delightfully costumed. They sing a catchy number entitled "Won't You Let Me Be Your Chum?" The chums are: Miss Anna Wiedenhaupt, Miss Gertrude Bowlby, Miss Hazel Watson, Mrs. C. G. Hunt, Miss Ethel Runyon, Miss Ruth O'Connell, Miss Ida Dealaman, Mrs. Bellis, Miss Lula Bell, Sara Watson, Miss Catherine Harding, Miss Edith Mantz, Mrs. Humpston, Mrs. Leland, Miss Edna Mantz, Miss Stella Force.

One of the catchiest musical numbers in the opera is "Everybody Loves Somebody Sometime," and this is sung by Charles Cregar and Miss Sadie Lee, and "The Sight-seers," a special company of young people, assigned to this as follows: Miss Edith Mantz, Miss Ethel Runyon, Miss Anna Wiedenhaupt, Miss Hazel Watson, Miss Irma Waldorf, Mrs. Bellis, Miss Zaira Brancati, Miss Lillian Ball, John Causbrook Herman Clug, Thomas Moore, Porter Gore, Jack Patterson, Fred Van Norden, P. H. Slawson, W. Schneyer.

as an example of preparedness, but I can only offer it as a warning. Every right-minded country can muster men enough at the first call to arms, but preparedness for using them as soldiers is quite another thing. In the first hundred thousand were men of all crafts, professions and grades, some of whom know more about how to do certain work than the officers who sent them to do it, but they were anything and everything except soldiers. When the soldiers were massed in France there was a confusion of language second only to that of the Tower of Babel."

There are two million British soldiers in France today, for whom all provisions of every kind must be shipped from England since with two armies in close contact they cannot live off the country, as in the old-time warfare. It takes quite an army to look after the supply and transportation of provisions.

The cooking is done in the trenches, except in some instances where it can be done a little distance back. Most of the provisions are canned goods.

The trenches are from 150 yards to 800 yards apart, between the opposing armies, but in some cases the two opposing forces are separated only by a parapet of sand piled over which they roll down bombs upon each other. A regiment holds about four hundred yards of trench, and sandbags are used to build the parapets. Two thousand of those bags are required each night, to replace the damage done by bombardment, and the bags cost about fifteen cents each. Some one asked how long the war was likely to last, and the reply was, "Until all France and Belgium had been dug up and put in sandbags."

The line of trenches extends from the North Sea to Switzerland, as far as from Philadelphia to Boston. The bombardment starts with the first hour of dawn as soon as it is possible to direct the aim upon the enemy, and continues sometimes for twenty-four hours. The trenches are in constant need of repair, as a result of the heavy shells thrown from points far back of the first line.

The English regard the war as a great game, and they face the problem philosophically, even in a spirit of sportsmanship, in which they fully realize the dangers, yet go forth to meet them like making raids on the Prussian trenches, well knowing they are not likely to come back. The Canadians have done some remarkable darting and successful trench-raiding, and considering his particular part of the work systematized, the object being to bring back a certain number of prisoners, as well as destroying what they can of the trench. One amusing thing about the English soldiers is that they grumble not at the bombardment of twenty fours' duration, but over their disappointment if they are served with plum jam for dessert when they expected strawberry jam.

The trenches are so near together in places that the opposing regiments can hear each other talking, and the Prussians have been very much upset when the English sing:

"We beat you at the Marne;
we beat you at the Aisne;
"At Neu-Chappelle we gave you hell, and here we are again."

The Prussians seem to regard this levity as undignified, and a breach of war etiquette as compared with their serious view of it.

On one occasion five men were seen hurrying from a Prussian trench across "No Man's Land," as the intervening space is called, toward the English trench, and three were killed by Prussian fire. Two reached safely, and the English found that they were Russians, taken prisoners by the Prussians, and brought over to be put in the front of the trench warfare, in violation of international law, which forbids using prisoners to fight against their own allies.

In a dark wet night, a soldier was called off his post and told that he has a furlough to go back to England, and he plods to some little railway station, where the Y. M. C. A. has a headquarters, and is given his transportation to visit the home he has not seen for months, since the war began. The Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scouts have done splendid work in the human side of the war.

The dead in the trenches are sewed up in their water-proof blankets, and buried in a cemetery back of the line, the graves marked for identification, so that the bodies can be taken to the home country after the war is over.

Amid the horrors of trench warfare there are periods for sleep, although no one knows when a surprise may come in a raid. To give warning of this, patrols from both sides are put out to pace "No Man's Land" and these patrols pass and repass silently, within speaking distance.

After the address Captain Beith gave opportunity for any one to ask questions. To one of the questions he replied that since the naval battle off Jutland, months ago, the German soldiers have been told that Germany now controls the seas.

The conclusion of the program was singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by a cousin of Mrs. Laurens H. Van Buren, Miss Marie Boisel, in a sweet clear voice, as she stood draped with the American flag, and with an escort of six young men in soldier uniform.

No greater or more hearty reception could have been accorded a speaker than Captain Beith received, in which also Mrs. Cowperthwaite shared on introducing him.

The New Silhouette in Suits at $29.50 to $42.50

Monday we shall begin the divulging of Spring suit models at inexpensive prices, created especially for the Wanamaker Salons of Fashion.

Not so much copies of Paris models as they are modifications and adaptations. Clothes that are different and yet thoroughly practicable and wearable.

Instead of being suits with skirts that have the tonneau line, these have coats with the most attractive little hip movement which gives the individuality of the season's silhouette, but moderately.

They have been planned for weeks. They are fresh from the workrooms. Just in time for choosing for wear on Easter—because, after all, nothing is so smart for Spring as a well-cut tailored suit.

A Satin Waistcoat Suit
A Checked One-button Cutaway
A Plain Suit Bound with Braid

Made of Poiret twill, gabardine and men's-wear serge. Black, blue, beige, trouble. $29.50, $32.50, $35 and $42.50.

The Straight Silhouette is given by an adaptation of a Lanvin tailored suit of gabardine at $42.50. The coat, closely pleated, is slashed over the hips to permit a glimpse of the skirt, and it has a buttoned-on belt.

Second floor, Old Building.

For the Home

Enameled Suits for the Bedroom

There is nothing prettier than enamel furniture for the bedroom in Spring and Summer. It permits of so much freedom in the selection of colorful chintzes and muslins and scrims for windows and alcoves.

One suit of six pieces has marble insets in tops of bureau, dressing-table and chiffonier—they make a particularly smart setting for the vanity dressing-table. The enamel is an ivory shade. The style is Marie Antoinette. The full-size bed has cane panels in head and foot boards. $205.28.

Another suit of eight pieces has borrowed from the Windsor chair style. The full size bed has arched spindle head and foot board. All pieces have arched tops. Finish is ivory, antiqued. $249.50.

Cretonnes for Slip Covers

Cretonne Shop is making a display of cretonnes at 18c, 25c and 50c yard. First-two grades are a special purchase priced a third to half less. Good material, sufficiently heavy, with white or dark grounds. Cretonnes at 50c are mostly copies of much higher priced importations. Extraordinary variety of desirable colors and patterns, majority exclusive.

Any will make delightful slip covers. No question about the long service they will give. Nor their ability to tub properly. And they will add a hundred per cent. to the charm of the rooms where they are employed.

Among our special 50c cretonnes are tapestry effects, satin damask patterns, those with big bunches of roses, stripes of exaggerated tulips in beautiful colors, black backgrounds with roses, checks with flowers, modern unconventionalities—and plenty of yellow as well as darker colors.

Third Gallery, New Building.

English Crepes, 38c

Proven so popular, we had this season's supply woven for us especially—a bit finer and lighter in weave; especially desirable patterns and colors.

Stripes in various widths and combinations; all the wanted colors; some two-color effects among them.

A fabric that wears sturdily, makes up into delightful, cool, summery looking dresses, blouses, negligees, children's wear. 38 in. wide. Main Aisle, Old Bldg.

Creations de Paris

Salon Francais, in introducing all the successful models of more than thirty-five Paris modistes, invites especial attention to the Russian influence in millinery, illustrated in a small hat by Suzanne Talbot.

This hat with a double-flaring brim in the front trimmed with a simple bow is typical of the most attractive Russian fashions. It is well adapted for both severe and semi-dress wear.

Salon Francais is a firm believer in the Russian style, and was the first millinery shop to launch it in New York.

A Foulard Frock For Madamoiselle

Everybody's eyes opened when it was taken from the box. It is an exquisite affair in navy blue foulard with large dots made up of four crescent moons.

The waist and sleeves are of crepe Georgette. Sleeves have deep cuffs of the foulard. There is a ruffling above the waist line at both sides and a peplum-like inset of crepe Georgette. Belt crosses at back and ties in sash effect front. $32.50.

$32.50. 14 to 20 years.

Paris Dresses for Wee Girls

Paquin and Lina Mouton designed them. That speaks the unusual in line and style.

Linen, piped and button-trimmed, but we doubt if pipings and buttons ever gave such novel charm. Sizes 4 to 6 years, $20 to $55. They were brought over as models.

WAR DECISION UP TO CONGRESS

President and Cabinet to Wait For Legislators.

RUSH PREPAREDNESS WORK.

Report of Sinking of American Tanker Healdton and Deaths of Twenty-one of Crew Aggravates Case Against Germany, but Cabinet Defers Action Until Extra Session Assembles.

Washington, March 24.—President Wilson and his cabinet have decided to wait for congress before making any definite move against Germany unless further submarine aggressions absolutely force the United States to act. Preparedness was made the chief duty of every department of the government after the president and his advisers reviewed the tangled international situation and looked over the preparations already ordered.

It was decided to make every endeavor to mobilize all of the resources —men, money and industry—behind the president and to back these resources ready for instant use when congress convenes.

Meantime the attitude of the administration will wait upon developments in the submarine zone, where ship after ship of the American merchant marine has gone down unwarned. Unless Germany's U-boat activities force this country into active warfare no move will be made until the direct representatives of the American people, in congress assembled after April 2, decide on the course which the nation must take.

Congress Leaders Arrive.

Congressional leaders, with Speaker Champ Clark of the house at their head, are arriving in Washington for the most momentous session in more than half a century and prepared to go to any lengths to back up the president in his fight for American rights at sea.

The administration has received the official detailed report of the deaths of twenty-one men of the tanker Healdton, sunk without warning almost within sight of the neutral shores of Holland by a submarine that made no effort to aid the crew to escape death.

Officially the only effect of the Healdton report was to accentuate the wholesale drive for complete preparedness which the administration has begun.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels laid before the cabinet meeting his report of what has been accomplished and what has been planned to make the nation's first line of defense ready for the impending struggle. It was brief and to the point, and it placed squarely before the president and his advisers the need for speed in naval construction and in the enlistment of men to man the nation's warships. Secretary Daniels left the White House with all of the authority that the executive branch of the government can give him to hasten naval preparedness. When congress convenes a week from next Monday it will find the navy ready to move at a moment's notice.

Secretary of War Baker likewise submitted his plans for army activity, and the cabinet went over in detail the need for men to guard the cities of the Atlantic coast and of the whole country not only from attacks from without, but from conspiracies which might endanger the vital points of the nation's life.

Austrian Situation Tense.

Other members of the cabinet, particularly Secretary of Commerce Redfield and Secretary of Labor Wilson, went over the matters in their departments which will aid in mobilizing the whole power of the nation for instant use. All of the president's advisers will begin work at once on estimates of needed appropriations and necessary legislative enactments, which will be asked for when the extraordinary session of congress convenes.

The cabinet went over the Austrian situation in detail, but no announcement was forthcoming as to what action was contemplated. There is a general feeling that Ambassador Penfield, at Vienna, and his staff were prepared to leave the dual monarchy at a moment's notice.

The situation of the thousand or more American refugees held up at Beirut, in Asia Minor, also agitated the administration, and it was stated that a peremptory demand for the relief of these refugees would be forwarded to Turkey. The state department has exerted every effort to relieve these refugees, and the Turkish government has so far failed to secure safe conduct through the Mediterranean barred zone for the cruiser Des Moines and the collier Caesar, loaded with supplies and ready to remove the refugees.

The navy department in a big drive to bring enlistments up to full strength and to fill the immediate need for men has dispatched orders to all recruiting stations to accept men for the marine corps as well as the reserve corps for a term limited to the "present emergency."

Men so recruited will be taken into service with the understanding that they will receive furloughs when the emergency ends and not be compelled to serve out the usual four years. To rush enlistments and broaden the campaign for new men an additional force of a hundred officers and a thousand men may be detailed for recruiting purposes.

The total enlisted strength of the navy is 61,000, it was shown by department reports. Figuring in those whose term of enlistment will expire in the near future, the navy now needs 26,456 men to bring the number up to the maximum allowed by the present law.

When the present limit is reached the president will be asked to extend it to furnish plenty of additional men for every vessel and for duty on shore. When the special session convenes legislation is expected to be pressed making it easier for enlisted men to secure commissions. The navy department needs 995 officers for immediate duty.

Added precautions to protect Atlantic and Pacific coast fortifications against spies were taken by officials. Commanders of all fortifications have been given notice that all unofficial aircraft shall keep away from such reservations. Guards about all fortifications have been enlarged to uphold regulations prohibiting all persons not attached to the military service from visiting fortifications, taking pictures or making observations either inside or outside such military posts.

Old Folks Saved From Suffering

Mrs. Mary A. Dean, Taunton, Mass., in her 87th year, says: "I thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley Kidney Pills have proven most beneficial in my case."

Mr. Sam A. Hoover, High Point, N. C., writes: "My kidney trouble was worse at night and I had to get up from five to seven times. Now I do not have to get up at night and consider myself in a truly normal condition, which I attribute to Foley Kidney Pills, as I have taken no other."

Mrs. M. A. Bridges, Robinson, Mass., says: "I suffered from kidney ailments for two years, commenced taking Foley Kidney Pills ten months ago, and though I am 69 years of age, I feel like a 16-year-old girl."

Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and up-building, and restore normal action to the kidneys and to a disordered and painful bladder. They act quickly and contain no dangerous or harmful drugs.

LORD DEVONPORT.

British Food Controller May Put Nation on Ration.

Lord Devonport has announced in the house of lords that although voluntary rationing had brought about excellent results much more in this direction was required, otherwise it might be necessary to resort to compulsory rationing. He was very desirous of avoiding this, owing to the tremendous machinery needed. This machinery, however, was ready, he declared. The controller said he intended to introduce a strong measure to prevent the hoarding of food.

PLOTTER DROPS CODE.

Waterbury, Conn., March 24.—What is believed to be an index to a map showing the factory sections of New Britain was dropped by a man as he leaped the fence in the rear of the Traut & Hine plant in New Britain, after he had been detected by a guard as he was skulking through the factory yard.

The paper bears the names of all the large factories, divided into sections, and contains letters and figures which indicate some form of code. The man who escaped is believed to be connected with some plot against the manufacturing plants.

POSED AS WOMAN SIX YEARS

"Rose Tribault," Arrested For Larceny, Is Arthur Lagasse.

Fall River, Mass., March 24.—The arrest of "Rose Thibault," a servant, on a charge of larceny disclosed that the prisoner was in reality Arthur Lagasse, who said he had posed as a woman for six years.

During that time he had been employed as a servant in a number of homes in this city. Lagasse is twenty-nine years old.

War Not to Stop Sunday.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 24.—Billy Sunday denies that he has any idea of abandoning the New York city campaign if war comes. He branded such reports as "frame-ups."

OLD FOLKS NEED "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER, BOWELS

Salts, calomel, pills act on bowels like pepper acts in nostrils

Enjoy life! Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy and constipated.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One night as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.—Adv.

FRENCH ADVANCE IN OPEN BATTLE

Nivelle's Troops Gain at Opening of Huge Fight.

London, March 24.—What looks like a general engagement in the open is beginning about St. Quentin and La Fere, where the German retreat in France has ceased. French troops are on the offensive, attacking the German positions, while the British are also facing strong resistance, but are steadily coming up.

Fighting every inch of the way, the French made much progress and are now almost in the outskirts of the two cities. The French war office announced that the Germans have all vertical the waters of the Oise into La Fere and that the city is flooded. This indicates strongly that the Germans intend to retire to the high ground some five miles beyond La Fere.

Though the French pushed ahead all along their part of the front, their most notable progress was made in a brilliant attack on a wide front within only a few miles of St. Quentin. Here they pushed back the Germans though the latter resisted stubbornly from mere than a mile to more than two miles deep.

There was hard fighting in this region along the eastern bank of the Somme-Crozat canal. The French had crossed the canal on either side of St. Simon, not quite midway between St. Quentin and La Fere. A German report says they were repulsed, with the loss of 230 prisoners, machine guns and craft. But the French rallied and drove the Germans far from their original positions.

French troops about La Fere have also gone ahead, gaining the heights north of the Oise, which overlook the valley and the city of 6,000 people. They are now within easy gun range of the forts of Vendoni and Leze. It is from this region that the Germans evidently intend withdrawing to the Mediterranean line on higher ground.

The Germans are counter attacking the British in most of their front of advance, but the attacks were driven off. The British are still some fifteen miles from Cambrai, though they made progress near Ecoust and Croisilles, where they are nearest to Cambrai.

WANTS ROAD WORK AID.

Warren County Urges Continuance on Oxford-Washington Highway.

Belvidere, March 24.—Data on the Oxford-Washington road, long in litigation, which ended with the recent dismissal of writs of certiorari by the supreme court, is being prepared by County Counsel Egbert Rosencrans and County Collector H. O. Carhart for submission to the state road department. At a special meeting of the Warren county board of freeholders counsel and collector were instructed to confer with the state authorities.

The contract for the four mile strip of road called for its completion last November, and the freeholders held to the view that the bonding company could be held liable for any default of the contractors. The board now finds itself confronted by the need of devising a way to retain the state aid. Mr. Rosencrans and Mr. Carhart are to report Wednesday.

Gives $5,000 to Club.

New Brunswick, March 24.—James W. Johnson contributed $5,000 to the Community club toward the $100,000 it is trying to raise for a clubhouse, which will be doubtless called the Y. W. C. A. He gave a similar amount to the new Y. M. C. A. last year. The Community club, of which Miss Sarah Whitlock is president, was formed by those who attended the business women's suppers and meetings at the Anderson evangelistic campaign here last month.

Georgia Moves to Bar Liquor.

Atlanta, Ga., March 24.—A bill to prohibit liquor importations into Georgia except for medicinal and sacramental purposes was passed by the state senate, 34 to 6. It now goes to the house.

INSURE BUILDINGS AGAINST SHELLS

$10,000,000 Placed With Lloyd's by U. S. Owners.

New York, March 24.—About $10,000,000 worth of "bombardment insurance" on buildings in seaboard cities has been placed with Lloyd's of London in the last two weeks. So far as could be learned, no skyscrapers are included, but the owners of some are thinking of protecting themselves against war risks.

Under the New York insurance law no companies or brokers of this state may insure a building against bombardment, the reason being that this sort of risk was not contemplated when the law was framed. That New York companies may get their share of this business the present legislature is likely to amend the law, it was said at the insurance department offices.

A rumor that bombardment insurance had been taken out for the City Investment building of 165 Broadway was contradicted by a representative of the owners.

It is possible to get through foreign companies a policy covering all sorts of war risks, including bombardment, insurrections, explosion, rioting, invasions, strikes, etc. The same companies, under a recent construction of the law, are permitted to insure against any of these possibilities except bombardment. The Lloyd's rate varies from one-half of 1 per cent to 4 per cent (that is, from 50 cents to $1 on each $100 insurance). The rate is subject to change without notice, and the term is six months.

EDGE AGAINST USELESS OFFICES

Vetoes Bill For Education Commissioner Aid.

CALLS THE JOB UNNECESSARY

Governor Also Disapproves Law Providing For Appointment of Poultry Inspectors as Uncalled For and Says Health Boards Can Condemn Unfit Poultry — Legalizing of Freeholders' Reports in Pamphlet Form Also Superfluous.

Trenton, March 24.—That Governor Edge is not in favor of useless multiplication of offices or of unnecessary expense is shown by his veto of three bills.

The first of the three to meet with disapproval was house bill 351, which provides for an additional assistant commissioner of education and was evidently a companion bill to house bill 281, providing for a course in physical training in the public schools. In giving his reasons for vetoing No. 351 the governor wrote:

"I am heartily in favor of physical training, including militaristic drills, but I do not feel it is necessary to create an additional assistant commissioner of education for that purpose. Assembly bill 281 provides that the course of study shall be prepared by the department of education in conjunction with the adjutant general, which combination I consider very wise, but the actual carrying out of this course is necessarily in charge of the district boards of education and instructors in the various schools provided by them, just as they would prepare for any new course of study adopted.

"I feel that the present department of education, with the assistance of the adjutant general, with the additional appropriation to be made, can make the necessary investigations and prepare a proper course of instruction for promulgation to the various schools of the state.

"Of course, physical training is not entirely an innovation in our public school system, but I heartily approve of making it a compulsory part of the educational course."

The governor found house bill 323 defective, and he expressed the belief that it was impracticable. The measure provides for the appointment of an inspector of live poultry in each county. Even if there were reasons for appointing such inspectors in counties where poultry shipments are considerable, he could see no justification for mandatory appointments in the smaller counties. He said the condemnation of poultry unfit for food should be under the direction of boards of health. The bill did not provide, he pointed out, for supervision of the proposed inspectors, and he questioned the constitutionality of the title.

House bill 61, which would permit boards of freeholders to publish their financial reports in pamphlet form, was vetoed for the reason that they already have this right.

FRENCH WARSHIP SUNK.

196 Lost When Danton Was Torpedoed in Mediterranean.

Paris, March 24.—The French battleship Danton was torpedoed in the Mediterranean on March 19, it was announced officially by the admiralty. Of the ship's company 296 men were lost and 806 were saved by the destroyer Massue and patrol boats. The statement says:

The cruiser Danton was torpedoed in the Mediterranean on the 19th and sank half an hour later, the victims numbering 296. The escort, the Massue and patrol boats, succeeded in saving 804 men. The Massue attacked the submarine with grenades, and it disappeared and was not seen again.

POISONER'S FATHER DEAD.

Waits Talked of Son in Death House to Last.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 24—Breathing a prayer that his son, Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, be freed from his conviction of the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. John Peck, Warren Waite, aged sixty, died here from pneumonia. In the week of his illness Waite talked incessantly of Arthur, although he requested that his son should not be notified of his condition.

In announcing the death for publication the members of the Waite family failed to include Arthur Warren Waite's name in the list of surviving relatives.

Carranza Officials Resign.

Mexico City, March 24.—General Aguilar has resigned from his post as minister of foreign relations in the Carranza cabinet. He will start a campaign for the governorship of Vera Cruz. General Diegues, also of the foreign office, has entered his connection with the government.

Noted Jersey Doctor Dead.

Camden, N. J., March 24.—Dr. Charles S. Braddock, who spent years in Siam as chief medical adviser to the government and later served as medical examiner for the interborough Rapid Transit company, is dead at his home here.

JOHN D., SR., BEST FATHER, JOHN D., JR., ASSERTS.

New York, March 24.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., acted as toastmaster at a "father and son" banquet attended by 300 parents and sons at the Tarrytown Y. M. C. A. He was roundly applauded when he said he has the best father any boy ever had. Continuing, Mr. Rockefeller said:

"I am interested in sons, for I have three of them. Every father should be a pal to his boy and should tell him everything he ought to know. He should not let him learn important truths backward."

CHINS

The chin is a one-story addition built on the lower end of man's physiognomy to keep his face from ending too abruptly. But some perverse faces end that way, anyhow. In fact, chins, like wealth, are unevenly distributed. Some of us have too many and some none at all. The Lord intended us to have one apiece, but whoever is in charge of the chin distribution department has mussed his job. This is unfortunate, as the chin is an almost indispensable adjunct to every face. It is necessary for whiskers and things. The man who wears an assortment of them ought to be ashamed of himself.

MISS BJURSTEDT NOT DISGRACED BY DEFEAT

New York, March 24.—The defeat of Miss Molla Bjurstedt by Mrs. May Sutton Bundy is one thing that should add, if anything can, to the play of the marvelous Norwegian star as tennis crack. Mrs. Bundy's style of play has held her over every other American woman for some years. She has beaten the best other countries have produced and she had twice before forced Miss Bjurstedt to love to her prowess.

The driving, smashing style of play that Mrs. Bundy always has, combined with an uncanny ability to hit the way was spots of the courts made it an uncertain match for the second champion, women before she went West to play the former American and English woman champion.

Miss Bjurstedt was helpless before the service smashes of her Pacific coast opponent. She drives hard herself but she was unable to meet her own style of play. The defeat she should be one thing to teach her that many of the teams played early in others can play the driving kind of tennis equally as well as she. It is probably will point out to her the necessity of learning to combat that kind of tennis.

The performances of Miss Bjurstedt in the past have shown that she learns quickly to meet any kind of tennis. Her next meeting with for Mrs. Bundy, if she there should be the case, should be productive of some great strategy.

BOUND BROOK BEES LOST TO SOMERVILLE

Special Correspondence.

Somerville, March 24.—Bound Brook's pride, Sandford Snyder and Peter Koechlein, were taken into camp in style a la carte last night on the local alleys when Charlie Mathews and Louis Roller, the borough's best bet, copped seven of ten games. The series is to comprise 21 games. Somerville, however, has four of the best games in which are to be staged at Bound Brook next week.

WHAT THINK YOU OF THIS, KOECHLEIN AND SNYDER?

George Gates, proprietor of the borough bowling alleys, announced last night that he and "Quaker" Vail are ready and willing to meet Koechlein and Snyder, of Bound Brook, in a home-and-home series. The Bound Brookers began another two-man series with Mathews and Roller, of Somerville, last night, and it may be possible that George's challenge will be accepted after the present series is over.

N. P. H. S. SEASON WAS A FAIR ONE

Borough Basketball Aggregation Has Completed a Year of Ups and Downs

A review of the achievements of the North Plainfield High school basketball team, while not as bright as some have been in years past, shows a fairly good season for the Canadians. Losing the city title in three straight games was a blow to Captain Smith's basketeers, as in making the third straight defeat in as many years for the borough high school representatives.

Bill Ahern landed one of the forward positions, with Vincent LaPorte holding down the other. This combination started off like world beaters, easily trimming the 1916 team in the first game and Kearny H. S. in the second, after suffering a narrow defeat at the hands of the Yale, the borough five captured a majority of the games under the position of Coach Taylor, '12, who succeeded Coach Tryman. Tryman assumed the position of coach in January on the departure of Taylor to the Colorado School of Mines. For two weeks before the Plainfield game the N. P. H. S. squad was drilling at top speed but when the first interscholastic game was staged on their home court January 19 this speed was lacking and they succumbed to a 24 to 12 defeat. The second game at P. H. S. resulted in a 24 to 23 victory, a better exhibition from Plainfield, though only poor edged out the game, and incidentally the title for the Canadian lads. The third game was just a work-out for both teams.

Most of the N. P. H. S. fellows have been taking their heavy schedule of work hard, which is a good excuse for the poor showing made this year. As many of the teams played early in the season were out of the borough's class, being made up entirely of independent teams. High school teams not being played until after the holidays.

Billy Ahern, with 94 field goals and 190 counters from the 15-foot circles of high score honors of the year. Ahern played in all the games, missing only one through illness. Vincent LaPorte was a good second with 77 field goals and 9 fouls. LaPorte participated in 20 games and he and Ahern scored a total of 351 points. Ahern with 190 and Bill Seidel and Al Willett, with 80 each, managed to get 12 and 5 counters, respectively.

The substitutes were led by Captain Ernest Force, who played both center and forward for 10 games, garnering 20 goals and 5 fouls. Barry, Stewart, Dunning and Clay all broke into the scoring line-up at various times during the season.

CUPIDS IN HOBBLE SKIRTS; UNAFRAID

Boys Keep Their Nerve Playing Against Girls' Team Last Night

The St. Mary's Social Club basketball team accepted the Cupid boys challenge last night on the St. B. court. The latter, although hampered by the latest style of hobble skirts, managed to gain the big end of a 24 to 14 score.

There were many amusing features pulled off and Benny Rosenson, umpire-in-chief, kept both sides on the jump by inaugurating many novel and interesting fouls. The girls, even though vanquished, put up a good tussle.

LE ROY FORCE ELECTED BOROUGH BALL LEADER

The North Plainfield high school baseball team held a meeting yesterday noon and elected LeRoy Force of the present Junior class to lead the borough foremen for the 1917-18 season. Force was a substitute forward on this year's team and showed up well. William Barry, '19, was the other contestant for the job.

Some good material will be back for another year, as all the subs were carried through the greater part of this season, and only the first regulars, Ahern, LaPorte, McDonough, Willett and Captain Seidel, graduate in June. Those left beside Force are Dunning, substitute centre; Clay, Stewart and Barry, guards. Clay will in all probability be shifted to the forward position as he has had experience in that capacity.

TALKSON "THE PEOPLE OF SOUTH AMERICA"

Rev. T. B. Penfield Gives Third Lecture in Series at Y. W. C. A.

"The People" was the subject of the third in the series of four talks on "South America" given by Rev. Thornton B. Penfield, of Englewood, at the Y. W. C. A., yesterday afternoon. The speaker declared that 7 per cent. or 95 per cent. of the land, showing how the aristocracy controls the country. The poor class is poor and is kept in ignorance by the men of wealth who aim to "lord it" over these people.

The speaker said that in the cities the masses are badly educated and the society people and business men are most grateful and effective in their manners. The children are quick to learn, especially art, music and painting. Mr. Penfield said that it had often been stated that there are more pianos than waterpails in South America.

Referring to athletics and sports in general, the speaker said that there is no team-work among the natives. They want to shine individually. They care nothing about football or baseball, preferring bull and cock fights. This he attributed to the fact that such a large proportion of the people are illiterate. About 40 per cent. can neither read nor write, but considerable progress is being made through the establishment of mission schools.

Mr. Penfield concluded his talk with the interesting story of the life of Sarmiento, who was known as the Abraham Lincoln of South America, a man who was in favor of the plain people. He started a training school in Argentina for which he was exiled. He then went to Chile, where he established another school. Thirty years later the people of Argentina made him President of the Republic, and he was afterward sent to the United States as an ambassador.

While in this country he met Horace Mann, the great educator from whom he gained much knowledge, and when he returned to his native country was able to carry on his educational work on even a greater scale than before. Mr. Penfield said that during the past ten years the work of educating the people had progressed under the direction of missionaries from the Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist churches, these denominations having succeeded in establishing schools and colleges.

500 Plainfielders Receive Pieces of Wire and Mysterious Message in Mail

Five hundred letters, each containing a piece of wire about two inches long and a mysterious message, which might be considered as the basis for a plot, have been received through the mail by as many Plainfielders, causing not a little excitement among some of the recipients.

The letters were dated "Plainfield, N. J., March 22, 1917," and the addresses were all apparently written in the same handwriting. The letter, which is self-explanatory, is as follows:

"Inclosed you will find a piece of wire. This wire is of no value and has no life. Just one week from today you will receive a wire that is of value to you and has life. Watch for that wire. The only signature is "Yours very truly."

Two kinds of type are used in writing the letter, the one for the date and name of person addressed being larger than the rest. Plain envelopes were used, bearing only the address. Other than that there is nothing to indicate for what purpose they were mailed.

Some of the recipients have taken the matter up with the postal authorities and a further investigation is to be made. Mayor Leighton Calkins was among those who received letters and he is much puzzled, although he frankly confesses that he is not worried. He hinted that he might request the Home Defense League to put body in an effort to discover the author of the letters if there is nothing to indicate for what purpose they were mailed.

Whether the matter will be taken up with the next wire," and no doubt the authorities will make it a point to see what happens at that time.

ANOTHER SCOUT TROOP IS BEING PLANNED

At last it looks as though Heavenly Rest is going to have a Boy Scout troop.

Thursday evening Mr. Duffy, prominent in local Boy Scout circles, explained the work of the movement before the Men's Club. John Laidlaw volunteered to take charge of the movement in the local parish.

Mr. Laidlaw, who recently returned from extensive traveling through England, is well fitted to look after the boys and get the troop started. He has called a meeting for Tuesday, March 27, at 4 o'clock, in the parish house, Clinton avenue and Sixth street, and cordially invites all boys in the West End over the age of 12 years, their parents are interested in the Boy Scout work to attend this meeting with the purpose of forming a troop. The work will be carefully outlined by some one at the head of the Boy Scouts, and a good time is waiting for all. Come out if you are interested.

MRS. FRAZER IMPROVING

Mrs. Whitney Frazer, of South avenue, who underwent a serious operation in Muhlenberg Hospital on Thursday, is rallying well and her condition is most satisfactory.

CAPT. PETERSON SEEKS RECRUITS FOR SERVICE

Capt. Charles A. Peterson, of Company K, Second Regiment, announced today that he would be at the armory Monday night to receive applicants for enlistment in the service. He will be glad to meet anyone who cares to join the service. There are a number of people who prefer not to take the Federal oath in time of peace, but who would gladly do so in case of emergency.

Captain Peterson will examine all such applicants up to the point of taking the oath, it being understood that they will participate therein in case of war. He thinks there may be many older men and even retired veterans who would like to identify themselves with the company and thus show their patriotism and love of country.

AERO CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

At the meeting last night held in the rooms in the Sebring building, West Front street, the Standard Aero Club of this city, elected the following officers: President, R. H. Sloan; vice president, J. H. Steenson; secretary, Andrew Reid; and treasurer, John Hamblin.

At the business meeting the club planned for numerous lectures on other activities to be held during the year. The organization is in a flourishing condition and includes in its membership some of the most efficient mechanics in the city.

A review of the achievements of the North Plainfield High School basketball team, while not as bright as some have been in years past, shows a fairly good season for the Canadians. Losing the city title in three straight games was a blow to Captain Seidel's basketeers, as it makes the third straight defeat in as many years for the borough high school representatives.

Bill Ahern landed one of the forward positions, with Vincent LaPorte holding down the other. This combine started off like world beaters, easily trimming the 1916 team in the first game and Kearny H. S. in the second. After suffering a narrow defeat at the hands of the Tabs, the borough five captured a majority of its games under the direction "Curly" Taylor, '12, who was then acting as coach. Hyman Abrams assumed the position of coach in January on the departure of Taylor to the Colorado School of Mines. For two weeks before the Plainfield game the N. P. H. S. squad was going at top speed, but when the first interscholastic game was staged on their home court January 10 this speed was lacking and they succumbed to a 50 to 29 defeat. The second game at the N. P. H. S. February 22 was a better exhibition from all sides, and only poor shooting lost the game and incidentally the title for the Canadian lads. The final game was just a work-out for both teams.

Some of the N. P. H. S. followers blame the heavy schedule for the poor showing made this year, as many of the teams played early in the season were out of the borough class, being made up entirely of independent teams. High school teams were not played until after the holidays.

Billy Ahern, with 98 field goals and 195 counters from the 15-foot line, carries off high score honors for the year. Ahern played in all twenty-seven games and was a dominant factor in the showing made by the borough lads. LaPorte ran second with 77 field goals and 8 fouls. LaPorte participated in 22 games, and he and Ahern scored a grand total of 553 points. Ahern with 391 and his running mate 162. Andy McDonough amassed 67 field goals in 20 games for a total of 134 points. Bill Seidel and Al Willett, the regular guards, while not considered a shooting duo, managed to cage 15 and 5 twin-counters, respectively.

The substitutes wrecked by Captain-elect Force, who, playing in both centre and forward for 20 games, garnered 20 goals and 9 fouls. Barry, Stewart, Dunning and Clay all broke into the scoring limelight at various times during the season.

CUPIDS IN HOBBLE SKIRTS; UNAFRAID

The St. Mary's Social Club basketball team accepted the Cupid boys' challenge last night on the Y. M. C. A. floor. The boys, although hampered by the latest style of hobble skirts, managed to gain the big end of a 26 to 16 score.

There were many amusing features pulled off, and Henry Isaacson, umpire-in-chief, kept both sides on the jump by inaugurating many novel and interesting fouls. The girls, even though vanquished, put up a good tussle.

RIVERSIDES TRIM THE MT. ST. MARY'S TEAM

The fast Riverside five annexed its ninth straight win of the season yesterday afternoon, the junior five of Mt. St. Mary's College lasting the small end of a 66 to 9 score. Although the score indicates otherwise, it was a good game from the blow of the whistle. Seidel and Paoli divided the scoring honors.

The Riversides will close their season next week with another game with the same team.

LE ROY FORCE ELECTED BOROUGH BALL LEADER

The North Plainfield High School basketball team held a meeting yesterday noon and elected LeRoy Force of the present Junior class to lead the borough floormen for the 1917-18 season. Force was a substitute forward on this year's team and showed up well. William Barry, '19, was the other contestant for the job.

Some good material will be back for another year, as all the subs were carried through the greater part of this season, and only the five regulars, Ahern, LaPorte, McDonough, Willett and Captain Seidel, are to graduate in June. Those left besides Force are Dunning, substitute centre; Clay, Stewart and Barry, guards. Clay will in all probability be shifted to the forward position, as he has had experience in that capacity.

TALKSON "THE PEOPLE OF SOUTH AMERICA"

Rev. T. B. Penfield Gives Third Lecture in Series at Y. W. C. A.

"The People" was the subject of the third in the series of four talks on "South America" given by Rev. Thornton B. Penfield, of Englewood, at the Y. W. C. A., yesterday afternoon. The speaker declared that 5 per cent. own 95 per cent. of the land, showing how the aristocracy controls the country. The peon class is poor and is kept in ignorance by the men of wealth who aim to "lord it" over these people.

The speaker said that in the cities the natives are highly educated and the society people and business men are most graceful and effusive in their manners. The children are quick to learn, especially art, music and painting. Mr. Penfield said that it had often been stated that there are more pianos than bathtubs in South America.

Referring to athletics and sports in general, the speaker said that there is no team-work among the natives. They want to shine individually. They care nothing about football or baseball, preferring bull and cock fights. This he attributed to the fact that such a large proportion of the people are ignorant. About 40 per cent. can neither read nor write, but considerable progress is being made through the establishment of mission schools.

Mr. Penfield concluded his talk with the interesting story of the life of Sarmiento, who was known as the Abraham Lincoln of South America, a man who was in favor of the plain people. He started a training school in Argentina for which he was exiled. He then went to Chile, where he established another school. Thirty years later the people of Argentina made him President of the Republic, and he was afterward sent to the United States as an ambassador.

While in this country he met Horace Mann, the great educator, from whom he gained much knowledge, and when he returned to his native country was able to carry on his educational work on even a greater scale than before. Mr. Penfield said that during the past ten years the work of educating the people had progressed under the direction of missionaries from the Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist churches, these denominations having succeeded in establishing schools and colleges.

VISION OF PLOT IN STRANGE LETTER

500 Plainfielders Receive Pieces of Wire and Mysterious Message in Mail

Five hundred letters, each containing a piece of wire about two inches long and a mysterious message, which might be considered as the basis for a plot, have been received through the mail by as many Plainfielders, causing not a little uneasiness among some of the recipients.

The letters were dated "Plainfield, N. J., March 22, 1917," and the addresses were all apparently written in the same handwriting. The letter, which is typewritten, is as follows:

"Inclosed you will find a piece of wire. This wire is of no value and has no life. Just one week from today you will receive a wire that is of value to you and has life. Watch for that wire."

The only signature is "Yours very truly."

Two kinds of type are used in writing the letter, the one for the date and name of person addressed being larger than the rest. Pink envelopes were used, bearing only the address. Otherwise there is nothing to indicate for what purpose they were mailed.

Some of the recipients have taken the matter up with the postal authorities and a further investigation is to be made. Mayor Leighton Calkins was among those who received letters and he is much puzzled, although he frankly confesses that he is not worried. He hinted that he might request the Home Defense League to get busy in an effort to discover the *author of the let*ter.

Friday, March 30, is the date set for the "next wire," and no doubt the authorities will make it a point to see what happens at that time.

ANOTHER SCOUT TROOP IS BEING PLANNED

At last it looks as though Heavenly Rest is going to have a Boy Scout troop.

Thursday evening Mr. Duffy, prominent in local Boy Scout circles, outlined the work of the movement before the Men's Club. John Ludgate volunteered to take charge of the movement in the local parish.

Mr. Ludgate, who recently returned from extensive traveling through England, is well fitted to look after the boys and get the troop started. He has called a meeting for Tuesday, March 27, at 8 o'clock, in the parish house, Clinton avenue and Sixth street, and cordially invites all boys in the West End over the age of twelve years, who are interested in the Boy Scout work to attend this meeting with the purpose of forming a troop. The work will be carefully outlined by some one at the head of the Boy Scouts, and a good time is waiting for all. Come out if you are interested.

MRS. FRAZEE IMPROVING

Mrs. Whitney Frazee, of South avenue, who underwent a serious operation in Muhlenberg Hospital on Thursday, is rallying well and her condition is most satisfactory.

CAPT. PETERSON SEEKS RECRUITS FOR SERVICE

Capt. Charles A. Peterson, of Company K, Second Regiment, announced today that he would be at the armory Monday night to receive applicants for enlistment in the service. He will be glad to meet any one who cares to join the service. There are a number of people who prefer not to take the Federal oath in time of peace, but who would gladly do so in case of emergency.

Captain Peterson will examine all such applicants up to the point of taking the oath, it being understood that they will obligate themselves in case of war. He thinks there may be many older men and even retired veterans who would like to identify themselves with the company and this show their patriotism and love of country.

AERO CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

At its meeting last night held in the rooms in the Sebring building, West Front street, the Standard Aero Club of this city, elected the following officers: President, R. R. Bloss; vice-president, J. H. Steenson; secretary, Andrew Reid; and treasurer, John Hamblin.

At the business meeting the club planned for numerous lectures and other activities to be held during the year. The organization is in very flourishing condition and includes in its membership some of the most efficient mechanics in the city.

HELPS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

VIRGINIA CARTER LEE

...tion with this department Miss Lee will gladly answer any inquiry relative to domestic science, a stamped envelope being necessary for a personal reply. Address care of Courier-News.

Honey, like sugar, is a fuel food and has the same general effect in supplying the body with energy. If you wish to estimate the food value of honey, you may say that one tablespoonful of honey (or one ounce) furnishes one hundred calories.

In the matter of cost, a pound of extracted honey sells usually for about the same as a section of honey comb that weighs fourteen ounces net. Inasmuch as nearly all extracted honey is pure under the pure food laws, there is no advantage in buying in the comb, except from the point of attractiveness and the slight superiority of the flavor.

Here, in America, honey has hitherto been largely used in its uncooked form. But, with the increased appreciation of it as a food and the consequent development of the bee-keeping industry, it is being utilized more and more in cookery. It will, doubtless, surprise many housekeepers to learn that American confectioners use large quantities of honey in the manufacture of cakes and sweet crackers. Our leading cracker manufacturers buy honey by the carload, for honey used in the place of sugar in such products, permits them to be kept fresh much longer.

In substituting honey for sugar, use cupful for cupful, and for each cupful of honey use one-fifth less cupful of milk, or other liquid, than the recipe calls for. Honey is especially useful in cakes without butter, and they will keep fresh for months and improve in flavor.

It is interesting to note, that in the majority of European recipes for cake, spices are used with the honey. This is natural, for it combines well with such spices as coriander and cardamom seed and with nutmeg, ginger, cinnamon and cloves.

Butter Honey Cake

Rub together one and a half cupfuls of honey and half a cupful of butter. Then add the unbeaten yolks of three eggs and beat thoroughly. Add five cupfuls of pastry flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls of ground cinnamon, half a teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of baking soda dissolved in one tablespoonful of orange flour water. Beat the mixture again, fold in the stiffly whipped egg whites and bake in shallow, greased tins.

Baked Honey Custard

Beat five eggs, add four cupfuls of scalded milk, half a cupful of honey, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of powdered cinnamon and a half teaspoonful of salt. Mix well, pour into buttered custard cups, set them in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until set.

Honey Sponge Cake

Mix half a cupful of sugar and half a cupful of honey and boil, without stirring, until the syrup will spin a thread from the tip of the spoon. Pour the syrup over the beaten yolks of four eggs that have been whipped until lemon colored. Beat the mixture until cold. Then add one cupful of sifted flour and cut and fold the stiffly beaten egg whites into the mixture. Bake forty minutes in a pan lined with buttered paper, using a slow oven.

Honey Mousse

Beat four eggs lightly and pour slowly over them one cupful of hot maple syrup. Cook until the mixture thickens, but do not allow it to boil. Cool and mix in one pint of chilled double cream, that has been whipped solid and flavored with a little vanilla extract. Turn the mixture into a mold with a water-tight cover and bury in ice and rock salt for four hours before serving.

Honey Fudge

Boil together two cupfuls of sugar, one-third of a cupful of honey and one-third of a cupful of water until the syrup spins a thread. Pour the syrup over the stiffly whipped whites of two eggs and beat continuously until the mixture crystallizes. Drop in small pieces on waxed paper.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

BY MRS. FAWALKER

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate, N. Y. City)

THE PRINCE AND THE GIANT—Part II

"I am the Fairy of Feathers," said a voice coming from the radiant figure in the doorway, "and I am come to help you in your trouble. As a child you used to scatter breadcrumbs about the garden walks for my birds to eat, and in winter you threw seed on the snow so they would not starve. Do not worry; my birds will do the work for you within an hour."

The fairy disappeared and Ivan heard the mighty rushing of millions of wings on the morning air. He looked out into the dim light and he saw the sky dark with clouds of thousands on thousands of birds of all kinds, each with a yellow feather in its beak. For about ten minutes they swarmed on the roof of the stable, then they rose and sailed away into the mountain tops. But on top of the giant's stable was a wondrous roof of gleaming gold. At least it looked like gold, but really it was a smooth surface of yellow feathers each placed so as to lap over the other, and all firmly stuck to the planks beneath. When the morning sun shone it glittered like gold.

The giant was delighted, but at eight told Ivan he must clean out the stables by dawn or be prepared to die. As he sat in the kitchen that night he saw a dwarf creeping in as if afraid.

"Prince Ivan," exclaimed the little man, "I am your friend. Do you remember that you refused to let workmen tear down the rocky cavern just back of the palace because you said it might be the home of the dwarf? It was. There I have lived for 600 years. You saved my ancient cave, and now I will reward you. By morning I and my dwarfs from all over the land will have the stable as clean as a new pin."

With these words he vanished and Ivan heard in the stable yards the sound of shovels and brooms, and the grating of tiny wheelbarrows on the ground, so he knew the work would be done. Sure enough at dawn the giant found his stables as clean as a parlor table.

"That is all very well so far," grunted the giant. "But you have not finished yet. That well must be dug by tomorrow morning."

That night as Ivan sat on his bed of shavings he saw a little mole creeping over the floor.

"Prince," said the mole, "I will help you out of your trouble. One day when you were out walking your dog tried to dig up my nest and would have eaten my children had you not prevented. I will call all the moles in the country and by dawn the well will be finished."

After breakfast the giant went out to look, and there was a big hole in the ground. As he stooped to peep down to see how deep it was, a mole bit him on his heel and he tumbled down into the well. He was hurt but not killed and Ruby heard his shouts.

"I am sorry you are in pain, father," said Ruby to the giant, "but you have been so cruel that this may teach you a lesson. Now, if you will let me marry Ivan, and if you will give back all the gold, gems, money and the crown you took away from his father, we will get you up."

The giant promised, and Ruby ran to release Ivan.

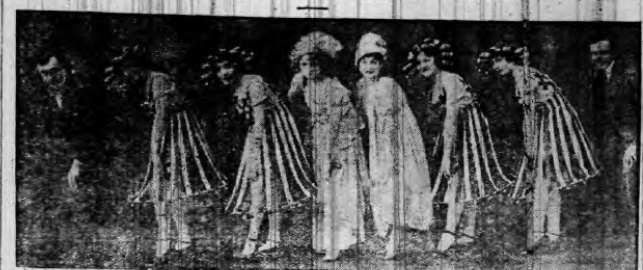
CATHOLIC WOMEN PLAN FOR BIG DEMONSTRATION

Plans were completed at a committee meeting Thursday of the Catholic department of women of the Newark Branch of the National League for Woman's Service, for the first public meeting to be held under the detachment's auspices Tuesday night in the hall of St. Patrick's Cathedral parochial school in Central avenue, Newark. Miss Grace M. O'Rourke, chairman of the committee, will preside, and Miss Frances C. Hays, chairman of the local branch of the league, will introduce Mrs. Ira A. Kip, Jr., of South Orange, chairman of the New Jersey State Branch of the National League for Woman's Service, who will make an address on "Woman's Part in Preparedness."

Monsignor Isaac P. Whelan, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral, will make the address of welcome and Rev. John A. Dillon, superintendent of the Newark parochial schools, will outline the work of preparedness already started in the parochial schools by the teachers and pupils. The cathedral chancel choir, under the direction of Rev. John E. Kiernan, will sing national anthems. Mrs. Henry M. Darcy, chairman of the meeting, will be assisted by twenty members of Miss O'Rourke's committee and among those who will assist with the registration during the evening will be two graduate nurses in uniform.

BURLESQUE MONDAY AT PLAINFIELD THEATRE



Dainty Show Girls with Ben Welch's Big Show at the Plainfield Theatre Monday, matinee and night

Burlesque and vaudeville will be seen when Ben Welch's big show comes to the Plainfield Theatre, Monday, matinee and night, March 26. The production is planned along original lines with two one-act burlesques and a program of vaudeville acts interwoven that embraces many novel features. "Love Arbor" and "The New Commander" are the title of the two principal acts and they are intensely funny in dialogue.

The company embraces a number of widely known popular performers, both men and women. There is a large chorus of girls whose work is one of the most attractive kind and the costumes and scenery are the best there is in burlesque.

"DAUGHTER OF THE GODS" THREE DAYS NEXT WEEK

Jane and Katherine Lee Famous Movie Children in The William Fox $1,000000 Picture "A Daughter Of The Gods"

At the Plainfield Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 29, 30 and 31

"A Daughter of the Gods," William Fox's $1,000,000 picture beautiful, is a coming attraction at the Plainfield Theatre March 29, 30 and 31, matinee daily, in Ghomeland, the mythical kingdom of a race of dwarfs. This particular scene, which cost a fortune to produce, even a river's course being diverted to create a mountain torrent, is one that appeals strongly to the children, for amid the bewildering tableaux may be seen the little folk carrying on their daily tasks under the leadership of a dwarf who seems hardly high enough to keep his chin off the ground. Annette Kellerman among them, is a titan of perfect physical beauty.

On account of the cost the prices will be slightly increased.

Wednesday, William Farnum will be retained in "The Price of Silence," and Gail Kane appears in "The Red Woman," a thrilling story of the West. Regular prices will prevail.

On Thursday and Friday the leading attraction will be "Skinner's Dress Suit," in five parts, directly from a successful run at the Rialto Theatre, New York City. Also on Thursday only, William Steger appears in "The Stolen Triumph," a five-part Metro picture. On Friday only Marie Dore appears in a five-part Paramount picture, "The Lash." Notwithstanding the wonderful show presented on Thursday and Friday the regular prices of admission will remain in force.

SEVEN DUSKY MAIDS AT PLAINFIELD THEATRE

With "Billy" Bilig and his "Seven Dusky Maids" leading the way, the vaudeville program at the Plainfield Theatre the last part of this week has found favor with most of the local theatre-goers. The dancing and singing of "Bill" and the girls in a Southern fantasy entitled "On the Levee," realistically brings back memories of the days before the Civil War, while the latest song hits keep the present ever in mind. Manager Shannon says it is the best headliner he has had at the local playhouse this season, and he ought to know. The remainder of the bill is in keeping with "On the Levee" in every way. Such laughable comedians as Ryan and Hazard and Rogers and Rogers cause a continual roar of laughter with their witticisms and topical songs, while Mercedes Clark & Co. offer an extremely funny comedy sketch. The last number is a novelty vehicle featuring the two Keiser. Hearst-Pathe's Weekly and Mutual and Pathe comedies conclude the program.

"THE LITTLE YANK" AT PROCTOR'S TONIGHT

WILLIAM FARNUM DIRECTION WILLIAM FOX

In "The Price of Silence" at Proctors Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday

At Proctor's tonight Dorothy Gish will be seen in a Civil War story, entitled "The Little Yank." Theodore Roberts appears in "Anton, the Terrible," and a "Happy Hooligan" cartoon comedy is added for merriment.

Monday's program consists of June Caprice in "A Child of the Wilds," Mrs. Vernon Castle in "Patria," and Hank Mann in "The Cloud Puncher."

Three big stars and three big attractions appear at Proctor's on Tuesday. By special request Mary Pickford returns in "The Poor Little Rich Girl." William Farnum is seen in the first of the Fox super de luxe productions, "The Price of Silence," and Mrs. Vernon Castle in "Patria."

MISS MARY G. PECK AT EVERGREEN SCHOOL

Will Deliver an Address on the "Moors" Next Thursday Night

Miss Mary Gray Peck, who will lecture at the Evergreen Avenue school next Thursday night, is a member of the Motion Picture Committee of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and is working in co-operation with the National Committee on Films for Young People (affiliated with the National Board of Review Motion Pictures). She has just completed a tour of the Middle Western States, under the auspices of women's clubs and other organizations, on the subjects of censorship and better films.

Miss Peck was born on a farm in western New York, which had been cleared by her great-grandfather following the Revolution. He was one of Washington's bodyguards, and distinguished himself by fainting at Andre's execution, where he was on guard.

Miss Peck's Alma Mater is Elmira College. She studied music in New York, and going West to teach it, took a post-graduate course in the University of Minnesota.

She is a very effective speaker, a clear thinker, and knows how to marshal her facts and arguments in such a way as to make her point. She has been deeply interested in the motion picture question for a long time and it is due to this fact that the General Federation of Women's Clubs have given her this important work in their nation-wide effort for the improvement of films.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink before breakfast a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of lime-stone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxines, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of lime-stone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said it will be but a little while until the rose begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly. —Adv.

CHINESE TOWER RISES ON FAR HILLS ESTATE

Far Hills, March 24.—Nearing completion, the big Chinese tower which Brad B. Schley is building on one of the highest points on his estate, Froheim Farms, is visible for miles around. The tower will have cost about $12,000 when it is completed.

The tower is seventy-eight feet high and located on a point the elevation of which is 590 feet above sea level. There are four platforms at various heights. On the top platform is a telescope through which a view for many miles may be had. Both stairs and elevator lead to the top.

Work was started on the tower last October, and has been continuing all winter. The tower was started as an objective point in the system of bridle paths being developed in this section. It was designed by George E. Jones, architect, of Newark, and the Chinese detail is said to be correct in every particular.

"The Car of the Hour"

5-Passenger Touring $985 — Elgin Six — 4-Passenger Roadster $985

Measure the Elgin Six Against $985

Your verdict will be: "Under-priced by several hundred dollars."

Note the style, size and specifications that successfully compete with high-priced cars in quality—and beat them in price.

Consider the Elgin velvet-acting clutch, that eliminates gear-shifting and enables this "Beauty of the Road" to be started on "high" under ordinary conditions, thus removing the last obstacle to the successful handling of a motor car by women.

Note the improved cantilever rear spring suspension, found only on the Elgin Six, that has set a new standard of motoring ease and comfort at high speed. You can safely and comfortably drive the Elgin Six at 35 to 50 miles per hour over roads so rough that the average car is limited to 15 to 25 miles per hour.

And as for style and beauty—no other Six selling under $1250 has the fashionable center cowl of the high-priced European models. The beautiful yacht line design of the Elgin Six was established by a famous artist, and gives this car a distinction that sets it aside from the monotony of the common designs of average cars.

NOTE: The Elgin Six, in addition to establishing a new record of 67½ hours between Chicago and Miami, Fla., has made perfect scores and won highest economy honors in some of the most gruelling endurance and economy runs of the past year.

PRICE TWO CENTS

APPLAUSE IN GRACE CHURCH

Sermon by Bishop Woodcock of Kentucky Causes a Demonstration

In a sermon ringing with patriotism, Bishop Charles E. Woodcock, of Kentucky, preached to a very large congregation yesterday morning, in Grace church, and evoked so much enthusiasm that the congregation broke out in spontaneous applause, the first time in the recollection of any who heard him, and perhaps ever, that applause has been heard in an Episcopal Church.

The Bishop was about to say still more in the same vein, but turned aside from it, in order not to stimulate a further demonstration in a house of worship.

The Bishop was comparing the little things and the great things, in human life, showing how devotion to the smaller, temporal things, obscures the greater and dwarfs the mind to things of vital and eternal import. The phrase which evoked the applause, following a treatment of the subject that held the closest interest of the large congregation was:

"We want peace if we can have it, with honor, but peace at any price—God forbid."

Spontaneous applause followed this remark. An incident that caused some consternation, to those who were aware of it, occurred at the close of the service. As the ushers were taking the offering to the altar a young man named Babcock joined them, and walked forward to the chancel steps standing with them until they had turned back to their seats. Then the young man, visibly excited, walked up to the altar where the Bishop stood and the rector was kneeling. Addressing the Bishop he said: "You want war. I want peace," and asked permission to address the congregation.

The Bishop saw that the man was excited, and taking him by the hand calmed him somewhat, then referred him to the rector, who asked him quietly to leave. Accompanied by a member of the choir he left quietly.

Those who saw the young man step forward thought he had some announcement to give the rector to be read, but when he walked up to the alter, where none but the clergy ever enter, notice was taken of it by those nearby.

Directly the choir sang "Our Father's God to Thee" and the service closed. The incident caused some consternation for a moment, and was reported outside the church afterwards with various sensational interpolations.

In his sermon last night, the Bishop addressed an even larger congregation than in the morning. All the extra available space was filled with camp chairs so the many who first were standing were able to be seated.

The rector Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, was assisted in the service by Rev. C. M. Mallery, of the Church of Heavenly Rest, who suspended his evening service in order that his congregation might hear the Bishop, and by Rev. H. C. Mesier, formerly of St. Stephen's Church, Netherwood.

The Bishop's theme in the evening, was "He who is not for me is against me." It was a stirring sermon in which some of the thoughts were these:

Apathy repudiates, and leads to indifference, which rejects. Apathy always takes the adverse side. This indifference creeps into the church, and reminds one of the Scriptural passage: "He was wounded in the house of his friends."

There are more good men and good women today than ever in the world, but there also are more of the little Christians—those who hear the name, but who are indifferent and their work is not seen, and they do not stand up to be counted.

There is no real love without a deep passion for the object of that love—the passion that the artist shows for his picture, the singer for his melody, the Christian for his God, reflecting the real soul. One real Christian in the pew is worth all the preachers that can be crowded into the pulpit. He does the real work of soul-winning; the preacher can only point the way. If pews are vacant it is the fault of pew-holders and not the preacher. The little Christian does more harm than the vicious man who knows he is vicious.

Live your life, and your profession, making sacrifice if necessary. "He who saves his life shall lose it, and he who loses his life for my sake, shall save it," says the Lord. The nineteen hundred years of the Christian era have been marked by sacrifices for Christianity, by martyrs, but there were

DEATH COMES TO MRS. WHITNEY FRAZEE

Passed Away at Muhlenberg Hospital This Afternoon Following Long Illness

Mrs. Catherine Frazee, wife of Whitney Frazee, of South avenue, died at Muhlenberg Hospital shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon following an illness which has covered a period of nearly eleven years. Recently her condition became so serious that upon the advice of physicians blood transfusion was thought to be the only possible hope for recovery. During the past week several such operations were performed and at first there was marked improvement, but last night there was a change for the worse.

Throughout her long illness Mrs. Frazee made a brave fight to regain her health, and everything known to medical science was employed in her behalf. The news of her death will be received with deep regret among a large number of friends and acquaintances.

Mrs. Frazee was born at Reaville, Somerset county. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Skillman. Her mother died several years ago. Mrs. Frazee had resided here twenty-six years. She was an active member of the Watchung Avenue Presbyterian church and was interested in all departments of the work. She leaves, beside her husband, her father, who resides at Garwood; one sister, Mrs. I. L. Tingley, of this city, and two brothers, Levi Skillman, of Bayonne, and Charles Skillman, of this city.

Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

FUNERAL OF W. E. HOYT IS LARGELY ATTENDED

The funeral of William E. Hoyt, who died at his residence on Crescent avenue on Friday, was held there yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Dr. John Sheridan Zelie, minister of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, officiating. There was an unusually large attendance of friends, including railroad officials from New York, Washington, D. C., Baltimore and other parts. These officials numbered upwards of 125. The flowers were numerous and beautiful.

The interment was made this afternoon in Erie, Pa., where a Masonic service was held. Mr. Hoyt was a thirty-second degree mason.

REV. J. W. FLYNN MAY COME TO THIS CITY

Reported He Will Succeed Dr. Randolph at Monroe Avenue M. E. Church

Rev. J. W. Flynn, who has been pastor of the Methodist Church at Bernardsville for the past three years, is expected to be transferred to the Monroe Avenue Church, this city, at the annual session of the Newark Conference which opens at Newark on Wednesday. Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph has been pastor of the local church four years, and recently asked that he might be given another charge next year, the decision being reached following the death of his wife several months ago.

In the opinion of those in close touch with conference affairs it is believed that not more than 10 per cent. of the approximately 300 ministers will be transferred. Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First Church and Rev. C. S. Gillespie, of Grace Church, the borough, will undoubtedly be returned for another year.

Rev. Dr. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, formerly of this city, it is reported will be associate pastor of the new St. Paul's Church, Newark, of which Rev. Dr. George P. Dougherty is to be the pastor.

CHRISTIAN'S DUTY TO GOD AND CHURCH

Archdeacon Bowden Sheppard, of the Trepton diocese, was greeted by a large congregation at Holy Cross Episcopal church yesterday morning when he preached an eloquent sermon from the text, "Before Abraham was, I am," from St. John's Gospel. It was a missionary discourse in which the preacher dwelt upon the importance of the incarnation and the responsibility of the church in continuing the work of the Lord.

The preacher urged all to remember their duty to God and His church, recalling His great sacrifice in sending His Son that the world might be saved. "It was when the people realized Christ's divinity that they began to persecute Him," declared the archdeacon, "and it was not until He was crucified on the cross that His mission here was fulfilled.

"This great sacrifice was the beginning of the foundation of the church," continued the preacher. "It was the sacrifice of an individual for individuals and the obligation rests heavily upon the church to continue and complete God's work, the work of the redemption of the world. The words of our text are a definite assertion of Christ's authority and God-head, which comes to us more forcibly today in the Feast of the Annunciation and the Passion Sunday."

In connection with his sermon, the Archdeacon made an announcement of considerable interest. He said that the altar formerly used at Holy Cross church, which was given to a chapel at Bradley Beach, had just been consecrated, adding that while it had been of service in the local parish so long, the fact that it was now serving another parish should encourage the donors to greater effort and be a source of much inspiration to them in their work of spreading the Gospel.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS ENTERTAIN AT "500"

Under the auspices of Plainfield Council, United Commercial Travelers, a "500" party was given Saturday night in the council's rooms in the Babcock building. There were about one hundred guests and all thoroughly enjoyed the social features. The playing of the popular game was spirited, everybody trying to secure one of the handsome prizes which comprised an electric toaster, mahogany clock, cut-glass, silk stockings, umbrella, flash light, thermos bottle, cuff buttons and a jar of tobacco.

The prize-winners for the women were Mrs. Peter Latourette, Mrs. Phillip Maguire, Mrs. T. E. Currin, Jr., Mrs. Robert Lowrie and Mrs. Frank Boos and those for the men, Matthew E. Ewart, Robert Lowrie, Louis Chevrolet, Phillip Maguire and A. H. Osmun.

At the conclusion of play refreshments were served under the direction of the general committee which consisted of John M. Lewis, chairman; H. G. Tingley, H. N. Foley and A. S. Clinard. The council planned to hold its annual meeting before the party, but this was postponed to April 23, when officers will be elected for the coming year.

WOULD REGISTER ALL ALIENS

Mayor Calkins Urges the Passage of a Law to Compel This

Mayor Calkins has recommended to Assemblyman William N. Runyon and Senator Carlton B. Pierce, of Union county the enactment of a law that will require the registration of aliens within this State, or coming into the State, and providing a penalty of not more than $1,000 for failure to do so.

The Legislature adjourned last week, except for the passage of the appropriations bill which will be disposed of at a brief session to be held on Thursday of this week.

Mr. Runyon has sent a copy of the proposed law to Governor Edge with a view to getting his support in an effort to permit the introduction and passage of the measure. The bill which is a duplicate of the one recently passed in New York State is as follows:

"Whenever a State of war shall exist or be imminent between the United States and a foreign country the Governor may, by proclamation, direct and require every subject or citizen of such foreign country in this State and coming into the same, to appear within twenty-four hours before such public authorities as the Governor may designate from time to time and personally register his or her name, residence, business, length of stay, and such other information as the Governor shall prescribe, and every such person shall also from time to time comply with such rules for personal identification as the Governor shall prescribe.

"Upon the proclamation the owner, lessee, or proprietor of every hotel, inn, boarding or rooming house, and private residence within twenty-four hours shall notify public authorities of the presence therein of every such subject or citizen, and shall each day thereafter notify such public authorities of the arrival thereat or departure therefrom of every such subject or citizen.

"Any person not being a foreign subject or citizen as aforesaid, but who to whose citizenship there is doubt, may also be required to appear at any time on notice before such public authorities so designated, and shall be in all respects subject to this act. A failure to comply with any such proclamation or order or regulations of the agents herein provided shall be a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or imprisonment for one year, or both."

GOV. EDGE ISSUES CALL TO THE COLORS

By United Press:

Trenton, March 26.—Formal proclamation for a call to the colors was issued this afternoon, by Governor Edge. This announcement was made following a conference the executive had with Adjutant General Barber and Quartermaster General, C. Edward Murray.

Enlistment in the National Guard, the Governor says is the greatest need of the State now. He says more regiments will probably be called to the colors soon.

The proclamation was given out to call attention of all organizations of the State to the imperative need of having the regiments recruited to full war strength.

While not deprecating any of the activities of the various patriotic organizations that have sent offers of help, he would have them assume more practical ministrations. In his interviews with newspaper men he said that he would have the organizations assure the young men of the State that any obligations they have will be assumed in their absence for the defense of the country, and employment on their return. He would prefer this display of patriotism by taking subscriptions for ambulances and air-craft.

Will Speak at High School Under Auspices of First Baptist C. E. Society

The Rev. Dr. William E. Biederwolf, who conducted the evangelistic campaign in Plainfield last year, will speak in the Plainfield High School Wednesday night, April 4. He will come here under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church. The evangelist was in Lawrence, Mass., last week and this time is now taken up to such an extent that in consenting to visit the city on April 4 arrangements had to be made so that he could leave here about 10 o'clock that night, so that he might reach Syracuse, N. Y., early the next day.

Under the circumstances those in charge will plan to hold the meeting early, so that Dr. Biederwolf can spend as much time here as possible. In connection with his visit here the evangelist will present the work of the Fatull Altar League which he organized some time ago. The league has a large membership in this city. Dr. Biederwolf will be accompanied here by Mr. McEwan, who, it will be remembered, had charge of the large chorus choir which sang at the evangelistic services last year, and effort will be made to have as many members of that choir as possible sing at the meeting on April 4.

STATE POLICE NOT NEEDED

"The Anderson plan of rural defense now in force in North Plainfield Township and the recently organized Home Defense League in Plainfield and other cities of the State, proves the fallacy of the arguments that have been advanced for a State constabulary," declared former Assemblyman William Desroche Anderson, of Watchung avenue, this morning.

Mr. Anderson said: "It seems to me that there is ample evidence now to justify the claim that every community can protect itself against any disturbance of the peace at any time. It is the duty of all law abiding citizens to see that the laws are upheld, and it is only by respecting the rights of others that our own rights are safeguarded.

"Whenever an element arises in any community and threatens the peace of that community, every law abiding citizen should immediately come to the aid of the authorities and put down the lawlessness.

"To create a State police force at an expense of $100,000, which would be greatly increased as time goes on, is not required. If there are interests which would have the State service, and it seems to me such is the case, they should take steps to impress upon the officials of the community in which they or their interests are located the necessity of providing protection.

"That is what they are paying taxes for and are entitled to receive. The small farming sections of the State years ago had their vigilant committees and can have them again. It should be noted that although an effort was made last week to have a State police created for the protection of the rural sections, the people of these sections made no request for such protection, and if they had they should have been told to handle the matter themselves.

"What a ridiculous thing it would be if Plainfield and North Plainfield were to ask the State to furnish police protection, thereby enabling them to do away with the expense of maintaining their own police departments. Would not such a proposal be frowned upon? The answer is obvious." The organization of defense leagues and rural police, composed of citizens of the communities where these organizations have been formed, is a good thing because it is expressive upon the people the responsibilities of citizenship, which many are prone to disregard.

WILL SPEAK IN COSTUME OF ASSAM

The anniversary of the Missionary Circle of the First Baptist church will be observed tomorrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock. LINER ST. LOUIS, FIRST ARMED PASSENGER SHIP, ARRIVES SAFELY

By United Press:

Washington, March 26.—The American liner St. Louis, the first American ship to sail for a British port with guns aboard, has arrived safely at her destination.

The St. Louis sailed from New York, March 17. She was the first American passenger vessel to traverse the submarine zone after President Wilson announced that American ships would be armed.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST GERMAN SPIES

By United Press:

Washington, March 26.—Every precaution against German spying or ruthlessness against the United States is being taken by the Government. To guard against such things is the main answer behind orders calling out the militia.

While these forces stand guard over arsenals, munition plants, shipyards, big bridge-spans, and public buildings, the navy is crowding its recruiting, raising one additional men authorized when President Wilson signs the order making the maximum navy strength 87,000 men. This strength will be increased to 100,000, if present plans are carried out by Congress.

While warlike preparations proceed, the army has completed a reorganization into six departments. The military arm of the Government proposes to take no chances with German intrigue.

The Zimmermann-Mexican-Japanese plot and others convinced the United States of the extent to which Germany could and would go. (Other preparedness news on other pages.)

U. S. DECLINES TO DISCUSS TREATY WITH GERMANY

By United Press:

Washington, March 26.—Practically accusing Germany of regarding treaties as "scraps of paper," the United States note regarding reconstruction of the 1799 treaty informed Germany that "further engagements would be useless."

The note made public today, added that the United States is seriously considering whether or not Germany's "flagrant violations" had not abrogated the 1785, 1799 and 1828 treaties.

After reciting Germany's violations of the treaty the note adds: "In view of the clear violation of the plain terms of the treaty in question, solemnly concluded on the mutual understanding that the obligations thereunder would be faithfully kept; in view further, of the disregard of the canons of international courtesy, and the comity of nations, in the treatment of innocent citizens of Germany, the government of the United States cannot perceive any advantages that would flow from further engagements, even though they were merely declaratory of international law entered into with the Imperial German government. In regard to the meaning of any of the articles of the treaties, or as supplementary to them.

"In these circumstances, therefore, the government of the United States declines to enter the special protocol proposed by the Imperial Government."

PADEREWSKI TONIGHT AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Paderewski, the world's greatest pianist, comes to the Plainfield high school tonight, under the auspices of the Plainfield Musical Club.

There is only one Paderewski. Seldom arise and say he is fad, but year after year peoples of all countries, professionals and laymen alike, throng to hear him wherever and whenever he may play. But behind the fad is the most wonderful pianist of the world knows. There have been Liszt, Rubinstein and Paderewski and now there is only Paderewski.

He is now in America for the tenth time. He will be playing upward of eighty times in as many cities and one of these cities is Plainfield.

PLAINFIELD TO AID 400 BELGIAN CHILDREN

The Plainfield Belgian Relief Society has been asked by the Hoover Commission to help towards the supplementary meal to be provided for the weakened and anaemic children of Belgium. The local society has responded by assuming the provision of this additional daily meal for a town with a child population of 400.

The payment of a dollar a month or twelve dollars a year guarantees this feeding for one child for a year, and the Society feels confident that there are 400 people in Plainfield who will gladly come forward to meet this appeal. This added amount of nourishment means all the difference between life and death to children struggling with adverse conditions of health engendered by long-sustained privation, always when sufficient nourishment is most important.

Contributions should be sent without delay, either to Boardman Tyler, treasurer of the sub-committee, or to Miss E. B. Hartridge, treasurer of the Plainfield Belgian Relief Society. All the money collected will go ultimately through the society to the Hoover Commission.

MODERN STORAGE PLANT COMPLETED

Plainfield Warehouse Company Invites Inspection of Up-to-date Structure

After many months required in building, the Plainfield Storage Warehouse Company has opened its modern fire and burglar-proof warehouse on Third street, just east of Watchung avenue, and invited inspection on the part of the public. There are larger structures of this character throughout the country, but, according to experts, there are none more complete. Here everything from foodstuffs to automobiles—in fact everything that can be stored, will be received by the company.

The building, which is 100x70, has four floors and a basement, all constructed of corn-plate and concrete, which composition in case of fire will not buckle or crack. There are 25,000 square feet of floor space in the building, and already 10,000 square feet is occupied by automobiles, gas ranges, furniture, etc. Yesterday two carloads of potatoes were received for storage, and other similar shipments are expected soon.

The third floor of the building is sub-divided into single and double rooms, seventy in all, where all kinds of goods can be stored by individuals for any length of time desired. One of the important features is the Otis elevator of 5,000 pounds capacity. This measures 8x20 and is large enough to permit the driving of a furniture van on it for the delivery of goods on any floor or in the basement. The building is so close to the railroad tracks that goods can easily be transferred back and forth.

The warehouse is equipped with all modern conveniences and the doors are hung at such an angle that in case of fire, and should it be necessary to use hose in the building, the water would quickly run front and back through apertures provided at either end. But in no case could either the fire or water reach the stored goods.

Each floor is provided with a modern lavatory, and the heating arrangement is so constructed that the temperature can be raised or lowered in any room in the building or shut off entirely if necessary. So far as known, this is the only building of the kind in this section of the country, and during the construction and since experts, from many distant points have come here to inspect it. They pronounce it to be one of the best they have seen anywhere.

Another advantageous feature is the location. The warehouse is so near the heart of the city that it is accessible at all points. Every doorway, passageway entrance and exit has a fire-proof door, not a foot of wood being used in the construction.

The building was erected by B. F. Tallamy & Bro., of this city, following the designs made by Peter Koehler, of this city. Many of the up-to-date ideas incorporated in the structure were his suggestions.

The officers of the company are: President, Clifford D. Manning; vice president, Harold E. White; secretary-treasurer, Frank J. Hubbard. Walter L. Manning is one of the directors and Harvey P. Clawson is the manager in charge of the warehouse.

PADEREWSKI'S genius is just as marked in rendering a simple folk song as it is in a rhapsody by Liszt.

Caruso confines himself to classical song, but he would be worth while hearing even if he sang a popular tune.

And by the same process of reasoning a Rothberg Suit at $15 differs from one at $30.00 only in the respect that it is a less pretentious proposition.

Like Caruso himself we are equally good at a popular tune.

LUCKY STRIKE

LUCKY STRIKE cigarette

It's toasted

THINK of a cigarette "served" to you as appetizingly as the hot, buttered toast that comes to your breakfast table.

Well, that's the idea on this new Lucky Strike cigarette: the tobacco—it's toasted. There's a thought to make your mouth water for a new cigarette flavor.

Until we discovered the toasting principle, a good ready-made cigarette from Burley tobacco wasn't possible; flavor wouldn't hold.

Yet there was the big million-man-power affection for Burley—60 million pounds poured from those green, blue and red tin boxes last year.

The old kitchen stove—the toasting fork

So we worked five years—then came the big simple idea of toasting the tobacco to hold the flavor. Now, enjoy a really delicious new cigarette flavor: Lucky Strike—the real Burley cigarette—it's toasted.

STUDENTS WILL PRESENT DRAMA

"All Of A Sudden Peggy," the production which the Boys' Athletic Association of North Plainfield High school will present on the Plainfield high school auditorium on the evening of April the third next, promises to be the best ever produced by the pupils of the borough high. The play itself is a most difficult one and was first introduced in London, England, in 1908, with a cast containing such stars as Miss Henrietta Crossman and Charles Bryant, supported by a notable cast. A year later it was produced in New York city, the part of "Peggy" being portrayed by one of the brightest present-day stars, Miss Marie Tempest.

Realizing what is to be expected of them those taking part in the play on the night of April thirteenth have been rehearsing faithfully for the last two months and those who intend to witness the play will undoubtedly have a pleasant surprise in store for them. Tickets are going fast, but as the seating capacity of the city high school will afford ample room for a large crowd, no one should miss it on that account.

Miss Marjorie Carlsalew as "Peggy" is showing surprising adaptability for the leading role in rehearsals. The other parts will be taken by the following: The Misses Madeline Blair, Marion Blair, Dorothy Lee, Lillian Spencer, Robert Daley, William Seidel, William Ahern, Alfred Wright, Andrew McDonough and Vincent La Porte.

TUMULTY URGES EDGE TO ACT ON LOCAL OPTION

Washington, March 26.—Secretary Tumulty called upon Governor Edge, of New Jersey, last week, to exercise leadership and force through the Legislature a local option measure.

Upon receiving word that the local option bill had died in the lower branch of the Legislature, Tumulty said:

"I do not feel at all chagrined by the defeat of the home rule bill; but every citizen of New Jersey must deplore the subtle methods of political manipulation by which its defeat was accomplished. Those members of the Legislature who brought this about cannot escape their responsibility.

"As William N. Runyon, Republican member from Union county, said, 'A solemn pledge of party policy has been violated.' It is now time for Governor Edge to exercise that personal leadership over his own party, to which he so eloquently adverted in his inaugural. He cannot remain indifferent in this matter without assuming full responsibility for his party's action in both Houses of the Legislature.

"Governor Edge is now privileged to play the role of party leader in a great contest."

HIGH HEELS PUT CORNS ON TOES

Tells women how to dry up a corn so it lifts out without pain.

Modern high-heeled footwear buckles the toes and produces corns, and many of the thousands of hospital cases of infection and lockjaw are the result of woman's suicidal habit of trying to cut away these painful growths.

For little cost there can be obtained at any pharmacy a quarter of an ounce of a drug called freezone, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus without the slightest danger or inconvenience.

A few drops applied directly upon the tender, aching corn stops the soreness, and shortly the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out. It is a sticky substance, which dries the moment it is applied, and thousands of men and women use it because the corn shrivels up and comes out without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Cut this out and try it if your corns bother you.—Adv.

SECOND DEFEAT FOR THE MORRIS PLAN

A bill introduced by Assemblyman Runyon, to authorize the alleged Morris Plan Industrial System of Loan Banks, was defeated in the House of Assembly on Wednesday last. Last year the "Morris Plan" was rejected by the Senate after a strenuous campaign by Mr. Morris and his associates, to place upon the statutes of New Jersey a law that would give a certain corporation the privilege of using a copyrighted method of making loans on "Three-Signature-Paper," at 6 per cent. per annum, and a fee of $1.00 on every multiple of $50.00 borrowed; consequently, if a loan of $100 was desired, all the borrower receives is $92.00 cash, which must be returned in weekly instalments of $2.00 each for fifty weeks, with a penalty attached of five cents on each payment of $1 in the event of not meeting the instalment on its exact due date, so a comparison with that system of making loans and the present "Egan Small Loan Act" which has been in operation in this State since 1914, is worthy of notice. One can borrow from an Egan Law Loan Office the sum of $100, receive the full amount in cash and the only cost as interest figured at three per cent. monthly upon actual unpaid balance; in other words, if a borrower returns the $100 to an Egan Law Loan Office in thirty days, the total cost is $3.00, whereas, under the proposed "Morris Plan" the sum of $8.00 is exacted for the same period, with a further obligation to purchase a stock certificate not maturing for fifty weeks from date of loan. From it can be seen that the public are being more advantageously served under the present Egan Law Loan office than under the "system" that has twice been defeated in the State of New Jersey. The Egan Law Loan Offices are under the supervision of the Banking Department of the State of New Jersey, and there is a State Association that co-operates with the Banking Department in seeing that all members conform to the rules and regulations that have dignified the small loan business and made it worthy of recognition from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

set. The new practices and customs following incidentally from the war will spread over here. A dispatch from London says that cigarette smoking has become so universal among women war workers, that some of the London suburban railways are establishing women's smoking compartments on certain trains. Does that mean that smoking by women will soon become general here. Among the higher-ups of this country smoking by women is a somewhat established custom. You can't argue it out that it is any worse for women than for men. But somehow it seems repugnant to the great majority of our middle class woman. The attitudes of men on such matters is wholly illogical. They are constantly condemning women for doing the things they do themselves. A great many of the men smokers would be a bit shocked to see their wives and daughters lighting up. But woman is a law unto herself, and if she sees fit to smoke up, she will and "there's an end on't."

TOO MANY LAWS

Americans are a nation of law breakers. But worse than that, we not infrequently permit our officials to become persecutors by means of the law and because of the personal gain there may be in it. For example, there are thousands of laws on the national, State and municipal statute books which are more than stringent enough if reasonably well enforced, but they become dead letters until some one sees an opportunity of making a nice little haul either through fees or through a portion of the fine which follows. Then when the opportunity of making money has passed, the whole matter is dropped. In practice the thing becomes a sort of a legal hold-up rather than a means of keeping the affairs of the nation, State or borough running along in a decent and law-abiding manner. This kind of thing gradually breeds in the minds of citizens contempt, not only for the laws, but for officials as well.

MORE MIDSHIPMEN

A provision in the naval appropriation bill provides for the appointment of one hundred enlisted men annually as midshipmen at the Naval Academy instead of 25. In speaking of this provision Secretary Daniels said: "This opens more doors of advancement, promotion and opportunity to the enlisted personnel of the navy. The men who have already entered the Naval Academy from the ranks have demonstrated the wisdom of appointing those who have had actual experience on battleships. Aspiring young men will now in great numbers enlist in the navy because of the larger opportunity for realizing their hopes to become naval officers. This incentive will powerfully attract to the service many of the ambitious and capable youth of the country."

LOYALTY AMONG FISHERMEN

The Gloucester fishermen are considered the best sailors in existence. In the old days of the whaling fleet and of the great merchant marine of the United States the Gloucester lads took important parts. Since the decadence of American maritime supremacy the fishermen have been sticking to their business of going to the banks for fares of cod. Most of the sailors of the freighters are of foreign nationality, but at this time the Gloucester fishermen are responding in force to their country's call for service. Capt. Sol Jacobs, seventy-nine years old, leads a bunch of recruits eager to join the navy when the call was issued the other day. Captain Jacobs will find plenty of work to do with the Naval Reserve.

EDITORIAL NOTES

In view of the diplomatic intrigue revelations, leakers are in more favor than they were recently.

It is quite possible that Uncle Sam is not so verdant and unsophisticated a youth as he looks in some foreign capitals.

Formerly to make money on food you had to invest several millions to corner the supply. Now you merely give out the story saying the supply is short.

The "leak" investigating committee cost $50,000, and its reports were worth it as good fireside reading.

Formerly the business man worried at night because he was not making money—now he worries for fear he didn't lock the wood shed door where the potatoes are kept.

A lunacy commission decided on Harry Thaw's case, and while about it, might have discussed the sanity of the people who wanted him let out.

The elaborate display of the inauguration exercises will be severely condemned by those who went to Washington and didn't get an office.

There is no lack of overt acts on the part of the food speculators.

About the only way the United States States can get accurate information about its military resources is to ask the foreign spies.

It is claimed the United States is drunk with gold, but there are quite a number of bone-dry localities in the country.

Of course if we have war we must be governed by the high ideals of our Pacifists friends, and not fire on the enemy until he has had plenty of time to get under cover.

It seems foolish for any foreign government to pay 100,000 spies in this country, as the metropolitan newspapers make public all the confidential information there is.

The new one dollar bills are being worked off as fivers, and it must be tough on the swindlers to have to provide a real bill instead of the customary green goods.

MRS. ALBERT L. KENNELLY CHOSEN VICE PRESIDENT

Mrs. Albert L. Kennelly, formerly of this city, was elected vice president of the Cranford branch of the National Red Cross Society at a meeting in Cranford Saturday night. The new branch starts with a membership of 400, and Albert W. IN FIVE MINUTES NO SICK STOMACH INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the Quickest and Surest Stomach Relief

You don't know what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin to neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a sick, sour, gassy, upset stomach occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened, and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops food souring and sets things straight, so gently and easily, that it is really astonishing. Your Stomach will digest your meals if you keep acids neutralized.—Adv.

DR. J. S. ZELIE TO BE A SPEAKER

The Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, has accepted an invitation from Judge Newcorn, chairman of the local Jewish War Relief Committee, to address the mass meeting to be held in Columbus Auditorium on the night of April 3, when Rabbi Wise, of New York, is to be the principal speaker.

The local committee is working industriously to raise $10,000 here for the Jewish war sufferers in all parts of Europe.

Judge Newcorn issued this statement this morning:

"The dawn of a republican form of government in Russia comes with the gladness of the morning sun to thousands of Jews in America who were forced to leave the land of their nativity because of the intolerable political conditions existing there.

"The new form of government in Russia will enable the Jew to take his place among his fellow men and to work in hearty co-operation with other citizens for the development and advancement of Russia along all lines of civil, political and economic betterment.

"It will relieve the Jews of America from the worry and suspense that they have felt for relatives left behind when they came here, and it will also relieve them of the financial burden which they have long been obliged to bear in assisting their less fortunate friends across the sea.

"In view of these facts, it is the more necessary that American Jews should display a generously transcending any previous attempts in coming to the aid of the war sufferers. They may not be asked to do it again, for with Russia under a republican form of government, the Jewish section of its population enjoying the equality of opportunity that all men should share, will henceforth be in a position to aid the suffering members of the race without aid from America.

Trenton, March 26.—The bill to permit an increase in the salary of county detectives, Senate No. 59, by Mr. Hammond, of Mercer, has just been approved by Governor Edge. It provides that in counties between 70,000 and 200,000 population, the county detectives shall receive from $1,500 to $2,000; and between 200,000 and 300,000 population, from $1,800 to $2,000. There is a proviso that no detectives shall receive any increase in salary until he shall have served five continuous years in such position, the increase to be allowed only at the rate of $100 for each year of service over five years.

BOYS' DAY IN TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH

Yesterday was observed as "Boys' Day" in the Temple Baptist church and Sunday school, and in every way it was a great day, everything throughout the day adding to the success of it. A special effort was made to get the boys and the men to all the services, and the result was most gratifying. The Bible school met at the usual time, with more than 75 per cent. of its enrollment present. After a special preliminary program the classes met for their regular study period. When this was finished, they returned to the church in a place reserved for them, practically the whole school remaining. Then without any break the school merged right into the church service. The pastor, the Rev. F. C. Conover, here took charge. A short story was told by the primary department, then they were dismissed, as many as cared to go.

The sermon of the morning was for the younger boys, and the pastor preached on "The Sailor and His Anchor."

In the evening there was another large audience. There were many fathers and sons seen sitting together. The choir was made up entirely of men, and after a spirited song service the pastor spoke on Daniel, the man who dared to do right, and whose success was due to the fact that from his earliest childhood his life was dominated by a definite purpose, and in spite of every handicap he came to the front.

SOMERVILLE NOTES

K. OF C. TO SHOW "THE GEISHA"

Somerset Council, No. 1432, Knights of Columbus, has undertaken the production of "The Geisha," a presentation that is rich in music. The show will be given practically by the same cast as was seen in "The Mocking Bird," which was so successfully produced last year by the K. of C. The exact date for the play has not yet been arranged but in all probability it will be shown during the first or second week in May at the Regent Theatre.

The cast will comprise 22 people and the chorus 75 people. It will be under the direction of Dr. John T. Leahy, of Bound Brook. Miss Dorothy Morton, of Bound Brook, who played the original role of "O Mim Mimosa San," will coach the ladies and will direct the music.

The principal female character will be Minerva Maurer, Agnes McWilliam, Agnes Cunningham, Mac Alcavy, and the Misses Caul. The principal male actors will be E. J. Shaughnessy, Andrew Hoch, Frank Bourke, Dr. J. T. Leahy, Frank McCarron, John Cahill, Edmund McWilliams.

Somerset Council will also present a minstrel show in connection with their Fair to be held in Eagles Hall on April 9, 10 and 11.
